FARMERS AS ROBBERS.

A WELLS-FARGO CAR RANSACKED BY A QUARTET OF GRANGERS.

Although Now At the Business of Holding-Up Trains, the Robbers Did Their Work Well, Only They Captured the Wrong Train and Had a Leaky Man In the Gang.

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 23.—The St. Louis and San Francisco east-bound passenger train, which left here at 10.30 last night, was held up and the Wells-Fargo Company's express car robbed by four masked men near Augusta, Butler County, about midnight. Before 9 o'clock this morning the outlaws were captured with part of their booty.

As the train slowed up at the Santa Fe crossing, a mile east of Augusta, two masked mounted the locomotive from either side and covering the engineer and fireman with guns ordered them to stop the train. When the train came to a standstill two other members of the gang, who had been in hiding, began to uncouple the express car.

As soon as this was done the engineer was forced to pull out with the car a mile distant from the rest of the train. While two of the highwaymen watched the locomotive crew, the others went to the express door and demanded admittance, and by way of emphasizing their demands, commenced shooting through the sides of the car, in which were Express Messenger Shipp and a baggageman. The imprisoned men soon gave in.

The Wells, Fargo Company has just taken hold of the 'Frisco line and their men have not yet received their complement of arms. Accordingly the express messenger had nothing with which to defend his car save a small revolver.

Shipp was forced to open his safe and the robbers ransacked it, getting between 15 and 20 packages of money. The whole thing was over in 30 minutes, and the highwaymen left the train, firing a few parting shots at the receding locomotive, which, however, hit no one.

The outlaws did not attempt to rob the passengers, and few of the latter knew anything of the situation until all was over.

How much money was secured cannot be ascertained, but the amount probably did not exceed $3000, as the train is made up at Burton, 20 miles west of here.

The robbery was committed by four farmers living in the vicinity of Douglas, Butler County, and, it seems, was expected. Sheriff Nipp of Cowley County, had been informed early in the week by a fifth man of the gang that such a scheme was on foot.

While Nipp could not discover exactly when the robbery was to take place he had posses in waiting, and as soon as he got word of the hold-up pounced on the outlaws.

The robbers are new at holding up trains, but they did their work like professionals, and the only mistake they made was in capturing the wrong train, as, had they robbed the westbound 'Frisco instead of the eastbound at so short a distance from point of departure, they would probably have secured a large amount of booty.

HUNDRED AND TEN IN THE SHADE.

The Awful Heat in Europe Continues to Count Its Victims.

VIENNA, Aug. 23.—At noon yesterday the thermometer registered 102 in the shade. Eight death attributed to the heat have been reported in the last two days. At Trieste the mercury rose to 110 in the shade, and the temperature of the sea water rose to 90. Pesth and Prague report long lists of sunstroke.

VENICE, Aug. 23.—An infantry regiment marching from Monselice suffered dreadfully from the heat. Over 100 exhausted soldiers were left lying by the roadside and 20 were put in hospitals in Dolo.

Killed By a C.P.R. Train.

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—On Friday about midnight, as a Canadian Pacific Railway train was nearing the little village of Schaw, a place just two stations east of Galt, a man named Fred Conveney, a carpenter, about 30 years of age, was walking along the track, going in the same direction as the train. Either he did not know that the train was behind him in time to get out of the road, or he knew it was coming, but misjudged the distance it was from him, for he was knocked down and run over by the advancing train. His head was completely severed from his body, and the body was literally cut to pieces. The mangled remains were gathered together and brought to the station, whence they were sent to Toronto, and arrived here on Saturday night.

They were conveyed to the house of Mrs. Armstrong, 36 Vanauley-street, a sister of the deceased. The funeral will take place to-day.

Success of the Sault Route.

OWEN SOUND, Aug. 23.—It is announced on what is considered excellent authority that the North Shore Navigation Company, having experienced remarkable success in the year's traffic on the Sault route, are now fully decided to build a magnificent new steamer during the coming winter, and only matters of detail now remain to be arranged. The steamer will be built by Captain John Simpson, the veteran ship builder. She will be larger than the City of Midland, and will be specially adapted to the passenger and excursions traffic, as her cabins will accommodate over 200 passengers.

To Hurry the Soo Canal.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Mr. Haggart informed the Associated Press Monday that he had issued orders to the contractors of the canal at the Canadian Soo to rush the work through to completion without a moment's delay. An increased number of men will be engaged and work will be maintained summer and winter until the job is finished.

Drowned at Wardsville.

WARDSVILLE, Ont., Aug. 23.—A young lad named Pitt belonging to Burtch's Pavilion show which arrived in town yesterday was drowned just below the bridge this evening while in bathing. He was about 15 years of age and said to be unable to swim. His body has been recovered.

One More Unfortunate.

WELLAND, Aug. 23.—The adjourned inquest into the death of the girl Mann, whom it was supposed died from criminal abortion, was concluded in Wellandport before Coroner Cumines on Saturday, and a verdict that the girl had died of peritonitis rendered. There was no evidence produced implicating Mr. Fred Weidman, but it was admitted by the mother of the deceased girl that she had asked $500 to keep the scandal quiet, but he refused to pay it.

HANGED THEIR LEADER.

SOLDIER IN TENNESSEE LYNCH BUD LINDSAY.

The Entire District Now Under Military Law—Commissioner Ford is Believed to Have Been a Spy—A Scheme to Smoke Out the Miners Not Yet Arrested.

COAL CREEK, Tenn., Aug. 23.—"Bud" Lindsay, Deputy United States Marshal, chief conspirator in this insurrection against law and order, the man who placed a pistol at the head of General Anderson and commanded him to surrender the fort after he had gone among the miners under a flag of truce, was hanged by the troops last night. Soldiers who were sent here to uphold the law and gather in the lawbreakers have themselves become the chief spirits in the work of wreaking vengeance in a lawless way.

There have been threats of lynching Lindsay ever since he was brought in a prisoner yesterday. He is known to have been the chief firebrand among the lawless miners. To his inflammatory speeches are due most of the acts of treason among the mountaineers who have waged war against the Commonwealth of Tennessee.

Military law, though not proclaimed, is practised here to-day. Within the circlet of the sentinels there is no individual freedom. Men come and go by sufferance of the commanding officer, and passes must be shown at every turn. Soldiers board the trains as they come into the station and subject each passenger to scrutiny. Arrests without a civil warrant are made as far away as Knoxville, 30 miles distant. The bayonet is deemed process enough, and a prick of the sword is deemed sufficient for all practical purposes.

There were no services in either of the two little churches yesterday. The Baptist Church upon the hill was locked and empty. The Methodist Church in the valley was packed by a mass of sweltering, suffering humanity, black and white, unkempt, frowsied, worn and anxious, which made one think of a stockade in war times. Two hundred and fifty prisoners are locked up here, with armed pickets on every side.

Everything was quiet in camp yesterday. There have been 25 or 30 new prisoners brought in.

Labor Commissioner Ford is still under arrest, and positive evidence has been obtained that he not only aided and abetted the miners before the trouble, but it is strongly suspected that he had been acting as a spy up to the time of his arrest. Preparations are being made for scouting parties to go out and smoke out the abandoned mines in order to run out miners who are suspected of being in hiding in them.

A Queenston Man Found Dead Under Suspicious Circumstances.

QUEENSTON, Ont., Aug. 23.—John Ryan, aged 63, was discovered dead in bed Sunday morning. Ryan, who is an old Union soldier, had been on a drunk for several days. His life had been threatened on Saturday, so rumor says, and Charles Wadsworth took him to his house, where he went to bed. He was not seen until the morning, when he was found dead.

The body was buried in great haste Sunday afternoon, so it is alleged. There is considerable mystery regarding his death.

Sir John Abbott's Health.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—One of the Conservative leader's sons, Mr. Jack Abbott, said yesterday that the Premier had taken the train for Quebec, where he intended to await the arrival of his own yacht, which had been taken down to the ancient capital by Mr. William Abbott, and from thence the promised trip to the lower St. Lawrence will be immediately undertaken. "All that I can say is," added Mr. Abbott, "that my father is completely tired out, and has been ordered away from the cares of state. I have no fear, however, of the ultimate result, for I believe that absolute rest for three or four weeks is all that is required to bring him back to the vigorous discharge of his duties at the capital."

A C.P.R. Smash.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—A smash-up occurred a few miles from Avonmore on the Ontario and Quebec division of the C.P.R. yesterday morning. It resulted in the death of a brakeman named James Woods of Smith's Falls and heavy loss to the company. A freight train going east had only passed Avonmore a couple of minutes when it crashed into another freight train coming in an opposite direction. The drivers and firemen on both engines jumped and escaped, but James Woods, brakeman, who was on the east-bound train, was between two cars when the trains met and was instantly killed.

The Borden Trial Postponed.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 23.—The courtroom was crowded yesterday at the preliminary trial of Miss Lizzie Borden. Many ladies were present. Thirty-two newspaper people, three of them ladies, were at the tables. Five of these were artists taking sketches. Bridget Sullivan and Mrs. Russell were on hand.

At the request of the Government the trial was postponed until Thursday. The postponement is generally regarded as a weakening on the part of the Government.

September 5 the Date.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Aug. 23.—It has been definitely decided that the international double scull race between Hanlan and O'Connor and Hosmer and Gaudaur will take place at Ontario Beach. The date is fixed as Sept. 5. Hanlan and O'Connor are expected to arrive here by Wednesday and go into training.

Michael Brennan Dead.

HAMILTON, Aug. 23.—Michael Brennan of the M. Brennan & Sons Manufacturing Company, died yesterday. The cause of death was cancer of the stomach, from which deceased had suffered for considerable time past. Mr. Brennan was one of Hamilton's most prosperous business men, having been in business here since 1853.

Steamer Newfield Ashore.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Mr. William Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, Monday received the following despatch from C.A. Hutchen, the acting departmental agent: "The Government steamer Newfield is ashore a quarter of mile south of North Canso light. The forehold is full of water. A northerly gale prevailing. Possibility of saving the ship."

Gabriel Blows Uncle Sam's Horn.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23.—Gabriel Dumont, who was Louis Riel's lieutenant in the late halfbreeds' rebellion, is now an immigration agent of the United States and is endeavoring to get his countrymen to emigrate from this province.

THE STRIKE AT BUFFALO.

IT IS NOW BELIEVED TO BE VIRTUALLY OVER

The Tied-Up Roads Have Loosened Their Bonds, and Cars are Moving—If the Firemen and Trainmen Don't Go Out the Strikers are Beaten.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 23.—If the switchmen are to receive the support of the trainmen, firemen, engineers or freight handlers it would be a good idea for them to get it right away. It won't be much good to them unless they do.

The Buffalo railroads were doing a humming business Monday. Vice-President H. Walter Webb of the New York Central sent out more freight than his road has handled on any day for four months. On the Lake Shore, Erie, Nickel Plate and Lehigh Valley work went on and the absence of Mr. Sweeney's switchmen was not noticed.

The incident of the day was the strike of 50 switchmen of the Western New York & Pennsylvania Railroad because required to handle freight from the New York Central and the joining in of 30 car handlers employed upon the Leigh trestles. These latter declare they will not seek re-employment until the grievances of the switchmen have been attended to.

The leaders of the various organizations connected with the railroads will meet in this city probably Thursday. All have been summoned. Grand Master Wilkinson of the Trainmen's Union is expected today.

Grand Master Sargent of the firemen, Sweeney of the switchmen and Thurston of the telegraphers are already here. Clark of the conductors will not reach here till Wednesday, and Chief Arthur of the engineers has not yet responded.

It is regarded as improbable that these men will agree to a general strike, and the situation therefore looks blue for the switchmen, as the railways are rapidly getting rid of freight accumulations, and with the present military protection are not grievously put about.

Prepared for an Emergency.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—It is understood that Superintendent Byrnes has been informed that trouble may be looked for in connection with the railroads here at any hour and that he has taken measures to cope with any disturbance that may occur. About 900 policemen were kept in the various station houses yesterday. Last night all the reserves were on duty.

Over on the Lehigh.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—Reading officers consider that the strike of the Lehigh Valley is at an end. They say that trains are moving freely, and that they apprehend no trouble from firemen and engineers.

General Manager Seargeant Takes a Look Into the Future.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—L. J. Seargeant, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, speaking yesterday at the Windsor Hotel about the strike at Buffalo, said: "The only point on our road where any dissatisfaction has been manifested is at Toronto. Some switchmen there have presented claims that practically involve an increase of wages. As soon as I return I will give the matter attention. I believe in fairly discussing the question of wages with our employes. I also believe that the men should take a reasonable view of things and in presenting their claims to consider the possibility of meeting them.

"The Grand Trunk is in a position to keep its head above water, but it is not a rich corporation. The stockholders do not favor out-goings that tend to decrease the results. I do not anticipate any demand among our employes for more wages. Living is cheaper in Canada than in the States, and therefore the same conditions do not exist there as in this country. Our men, generally, are satisfied with their wages. Labor disturbances affect the public almost as much as the people directly involved.

"Looking into the future of the relations between capital and labor I think some means will have to be adapted for the settlement, speedily and satisfactorily, of all troubles that may arise. There should be some tribunal, not of a political but of a judicial character, and composed of honest and capable men, who will act fairly and impartially on the cases presented for their adjudication. There should be legislation with this end in view."

THE BORDENS TO MOVE.

They Desert the Old Mansion, and it Will Probably be Torn Down.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 22.—Emma Borden and John V. Morse are now making preparations to leave the old house where the murder was committed. It is in the locality inhabited by many of the best people of Fall River. The old house will be offered for rental, and if not rented will be torn down.

The sentiment in the city, which was early in the week arrayed on the side of Lizzie, has during the past few days rapidly drifted around and crystalized into a general support of the police. As additional evidence is put forth each day the belief is becoming forced on the city that the Government has a strong case.

THE C.P.R'S PLAN.

It Is Arranging to Have a Share of World's Fair Trade.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—The Canadian Pacific will be the largest factor in foreign business to the World's Fair. Its plan, now nearly completed, will make it the largest railroad corporation in the world except the Santa Fe. It is well known that Canadian Pacific stockholders are advancing all the money of the so-called Wabash line between Chicago and Detroit. It will be the Canadian Pacific in everything but name, that means being deemed best to avoid international difficulties.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Queen has elevated Sir Lyon Playfair to the peerage.

A Baronetcy has been conferred on Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister at Washington, who is already a G.C.M.G., a K.C.B. and a K.C.M.G.

All On Board Lost.

CAPE TOWN, Aug. 23.—The British steamer Roma, from London for Brisbane, has been wrecked near Algoa Bay. It is feared everybody on board of her was drowned. Four bodies have already been washed ashore.

Gladstone and the Queen.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Contrary to the general rumors, an authority familiar with everything that goes on at court says there was nothing to show Gladstone was not thoroughly persona grata to the Queen and other members of the Royal Household at the time of his visit to Osborne House.

A Gentleman Speaks About a Blessing Which Canadians Have in Their Midst.

Quite recently, two well-known Montreal gentlemen were discussing some of the great advantages which the Canadians of to-day enjoy, and which were unknown in the country ten years ago. Amongst the advantages mentioned and discussed was one which makes it almost needless to call in the services of a physician. "Formerly," said one to the other, "when a man suffered from sleeplessness, dyspepsia, indigestion or poor circulation, it was necessary to remain in the hands of the doctor for quite a long period; sometimes a cure was effected; oftener the unfortunate victim lingered on in suffering, a burden to himself and friends. At the present time such sufferers have a safe and sure cure in Paine's Celery Compound at very little expense."

"I speak," said the gentleman, "from personal experience and from a knowledge of what Paine's Celery Compound has done for myself and friends; and I consider it the greatest blessing ever given to Canadians."

Can any stronger recommendation be looked for than the above? Every day experience demonstrates the truth of the assertion made. The best testimonials ever submitted to our Canadian people, come from users of Paine's Celery Compound. Those who have testified are with us and around us, and have no object in misleading their friends and the public. Every statement of cure rings with sterling honesty, and is calculated to inspire hope and courage in the hearts of the most despondent. No wonder that Paine's Celery Compound has the approval of all classes of men and women. It promises cure and never fails; it assures the sufferer of new life and never disappoints.

—Capt. E. F. Mason will organize the guard of honour from the 57th Battalion at the drill shed this evening at 8 o'clock. All desirous of joining should be on hand.

Mr. R. N. Scott, proprietor of the Chemong Park 'bus line, had to put on another carry-all on Saturday evening to accommodate the large number of passengers.

—Ex-councillor Wm. Langford has moved into his new and elegant brick residence on the corner of Water and Smith streets. It is one of the finest properties in the north ward.

—The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered in the Charlotte street church on Sunday evening by the Rev. Mr. Edwards. A member joined the church at the morning service.

—Mr. T. Rush caught a large maskinonge at Chemong Park last week. Mr. George Fitzgerald caught two on Saturday, Mr. H. H. McDonald two on Friday. Mr. Ripley also landed a 14 lb. 'lunge.

—The Kingston lacrosse club, the Whigs say, will probably take advantage of an excursion to Belleville on the steamer Hero, August 31st, and play Peterborough there. The racing committee offers $50 for a game.

—The Y.M.C.A. band has been revived again. Mr. Alfred Kent is the enthusiastic leader and no doubt under him the musical organization will peal forth its sweet notes and provide as much good music as of old.

—Some of the lively boys are beginning to talk of forming a vigorous football club this fall. Mr. Gus Hay is already hard at work scouting material for a team. It is proposed to play Norwood and Warsaw games.

—Mr. J. E. McIntyre's handsome bay gelding "Clan Alpine" has returned from Toronto where he has been training on the Woodbine track for some time under the direction of Mr. Chas. Roy. The animal is now in fine form and will give a good account of himself this fall.

—At the evening service in the Charlotte street on Sunday, Miss Annie Fawcett sang a solo entitled "Come unto Me" in fine voice and with pleasing effect. The anthem "Hail Sacred Day," in the morning, was well rendered. Mr. A. L. Davis took the solo part, and Mrs. Green and Miss Fawcett the chorus.

Miss Turner, of Merriton, who is the guest of Mrs. W. R. Turner, Water street, for a few days, was out fishing on Little Lake yesterday afternoon, and captured a prize rarely found in our beautiful sheet of water so close at hand. The catch, which was so unexpected, proved to be a good sized maskinonge weighing five pounds.

—Mr. Dickie, of Lonsdale, Ky., gave one of his inspiring addresses before the evening meeting in the Y. M. C. A rooms on Sunday evening. The afternoon meeting in the Central Park was well attended. Mr. J. C. Turnbull led the meeting and Mr. James Smith read and gave an earnest address on "Courage in the Lord's Work." The Y. M. C.A. band was in attendance and played some sacred selections in a fine manner. They were led by Mr. Alfred Kent.

"Feak and Weeble."

A friend of mine had an odd way of mixing her words. Perfectly unconscious of it, she would often make folks laugh. She would speak of feeling "feak and weeble" for weak and feeble, and "castor ill pests" for castor oil pills. But she was weak and feeble, until she took that powerful, invigorating tonic, 'Favorite Prescription," which so wonderfully imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked women, run-down women, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is unequalled. It is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms, commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and depression.

A Daring Burglary

Committed in the Hardware Store of Mr. Thomas Fraser, of Norwood, on Sunday Night—A Hundred Dollars Worth of Goods Extracted.

For some years past at periodical times petty and heavy burglaries have been committed in the village of Norwood. These have always been committed simultaneously with the advent of a gang of tramps or band of gypsies to town, in order if possible that suspicion might be directed towards these people. The authorities have always remained in doubt whether such nefarious work was done by the transitory visitors who in many instances, as is well known, are none too pious to perform, or whether some one or ones familiar with the locality and places around perpetrated these vile deeds. On Monday morning between the hours of one and four o'clock some evil disposed plunderers were around for a haul. They wended their way around to the back of ex-Reeve Thos. Fraser's large hardware store to begin the work. By the assistance of a huge jack-knife which the thieves left behind and which Mr. Fraser found in opening up his shop in the morning, a stop had been removed which held the top window sash in position and the upper portion of the window had been let down. Through this opening the robbers crawled and wended their way to the front of the shop where the work of destruction was begun. There is suspicion that a bag was used for the purpose and in to this was thrown razors, jackknives, bones, meerschaum pipes, tobacco pouches and such like, light but valuable articles, until $100 or more worth of goods was missing. There is scarcely any clue to the thieves. Two tough specimens of humanity have been lounging around the village for the past few days One of them applied on Sunday morning for a meal at Pearce's hotel but on his refusing to give his name and state the reason why he was begging Mr. Pearce ordered him out. Mrs Fraser gave one of the said characters a meal on Sunday morning when he called at Mr. Fraser's residence. These two knights of the road, but whither bound, have not been discovered. This is the third time within six years that Mr. Fraser's hardware store has been burglarized. About four years ago thieves entered and stole $400 worth of goods which however was recovered.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood diseases.

Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine is distinctly superior to any other as an appetizing tonic and fortifier. dw

Delay is Dangerous.

When the kidneys are out of order delay is dangerous. Any disease may follow and become so well established that months of suffering will follow. A gentle tonic like Dodd's Kidney Pills is always acceptable to the kidneys and protects them from disease. They are a kidney food.

Diarrhœa and Vomiting.

GENTLEMEN,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhœa and vomiting. The pain was almost unbearable and I thought I could not live till morning, but after I had taken the third dose of Fowler's Wild Strawberry the vomiting ceased, and after the sixth dose the diarrhœa stopped, and I have not had the least symptom of it since.

An Interesting Service.

The meeting in the Salvation Army barracks was largely attended last night. The army had an enthusiastic parade before the service and a short outdoor meeting on the corner of Hunter and George streets. Adjt the barracks Scribe Landers, of the Divisional office, Kingston, led the meeting in his usual forcible style. His words were vigorous and thoughtful and went straight home to his listeners. He advised all to accept the salvation of Christ and flee from the wrath to come. The scribe who is a converted Jew told of the manner of his conversion, how he had been led to a true knowledge of the Saviour and of his joining the army and how he liked the work so well in which he was now engaged. Adjt Michiel and others took part in the meeting which was one of most interesting the army have held for some time.

The Cobourg's Victorious.

Mr. Daniel McCabe, of Peterborough, the enthusiastic admirer and player of baseball, had the honor of umpiring the great game of ball played yesterday on the Cobourg grounds between the Dukes of Toronto and the Cobourgs. The Dukes were badly defeated by a score of 19 to 5. Megarry pitched for the Dukes, but 12 hits being made off his delivery, he retired in the 6th innings and the great J. H. Blakey, formerly of the Maple Leafs, Guelph, went into the box, only one hit being made off him during the remainder of the game. Fitzgerald who played with Port Hope here, caught for the Dukes. Harris was their star left fielder. Mulhall and Brown were Cobourg's battery and they did noble work, only 3 hits being made off Mulhall throughout the whole game. The Dukes were outbatted, outfielded and beaten every way by their opponents. Mr. McCabe's decision gave the very best satisfaction. Mr. Wm. Salisbury and Mr. Coty, Varsity's pitcher, also witnessed the game.

An Inventor of no Mean Order.

Mr. Wellington Bradley, a young man from Gananoque, who has almost lost the sight of his eyes, gave the Examiner a call yesterday. He is introducing his inventions to the citizens of Peterborough and they have been well received. He has an original sash screw which holds any window sash firmly in position at any desired height. It is one of the simplest and yet completest arrangements out. It consists of two small circular pieces of iron about the size of a penny, which revolve one within the other. The screw holding the arrangement to the window is set in the centre of the iron plates and hence the pressure. When the lever is unloosened the bar pressing against the sill of the window is removed one-sixteenth of an inch. Mr. Bradley is also the inventor of a patent stove polish and a liquid for cleaning mica, which contains no acids and is guaranteed not to injure the seals of the mica. He also sells a splendid French piano polish which renews all kinds of furniture. All his goods are highly recommended by those who have used them.

Gun Club Meeting.

The Peterborough Gun Club held a meeting last night over the store of Muckleston & Co., Hunter street. There was a large attendance. Capt. Tivey occupied the chair. Some discussion took place as to the best means of advancing the interests of the club. It was resolved to hold a big shoot this afternoon at Riverside Park with 25 birds each. The club will go to Port Hope on Thursday or Friday to shoot the return match with the Port Hope Gun Club. The team will be selected this afternoon after the result of the pop. The three regulation traps of the club are working to perfection.

The Home of the Rangers.

The appropriation made by the Militia Department towards blocking the drill shed of the 57th Battalion is being judiciously expended and the work is being prosecuted with vigour and care under the guidance of Capt. Langford. About two-thirds of the large shed has already been paved with cedar blocks. The Waterworks Company are putting in the system into the shed for domestic, sprinkling and other purposes. A double row of gas jets is being erected also, so that the building at night will be much better lighted than heretofore. When all the changes are fully completed, the Rangers won't know themselves in their new home.

The Charming Circle of the Lakes.

You can take this delightful tour on the Union Forester's Excursion on Thursday next. You take the train at the G. T.R. station at 7 a.m. and then embark on board the staunch and commodious steamer "Sunbeam," and palace barge "Paragon," and then your pleasure begins. You sail through Chemong Lake, rippling away to verdure crowned shores, through Deer Bay to Buckhorn Lake, through the locks to Lovesick Lake, then through the twin locks to Stony Lake, winding amongst rugged, tree studded, cottage crowned islands and then home by way of Lakefield. Excursionists will stop at Buckhorn and Burleigh for dinner. Tea, hot water and sugar provided by the committee. This is a delightful tour. Excellent music for dancing provided by Butcher's orchestra. The last and best excursion of the season. Be sure and take it in. Tickets 50 cents—at the bookstores and at the railway station. Children half price.

The Canoe Race is Now On.

The proposed and anxiously looked forward to canoe race between John Taylor, the great Indian canoeist from Chemong and Gardiner Nicholls, of Bobcaygeon, which was to have come off early in September, upon Little Lake for the championship of the county, has been indefinitely postponed at the instance of Mr. Nicholl's backing. As the race was for the championship of the county, this leaves Mr. Taylor with the title. He must be prepared to defend it at any time on being challenged, the race to come not later than 21 days after the signing of the agreement. The champion is not compelled, however, to take any notice of any other than the first bonafide challenge. It is a pity that the race did not come off, as Mr. Nicholls long ago earned the reputation of being a first class canoeist and is reckoned as one of the best handlers of a canoe in the province, being thoroughly at home in a race and it is doubtful that if the race had come off, Mr. Taylor would have been the winner by scarcely half a canoe length.

THE FINANCE MINISTER SPEAKS.

Mr. DENNISTOUN said the Finance Committee had nothing out of the ordinary to report upon or unusual to provide for in preparing the estimates of the current year. A few changes had taken place but for the better. The first item of increase was the fire department, which would show a larger increase, if street watering had been added to it. The department was now in a fine state and reflected great credit upon the Fire Water and Light Committee. The amount expended this year for the department was $3,500, for street watering $525, as against $3,339 for the fire department last year. The building on the market square cost $540 while the account for light and water remained the same as last year. The commissioners of the Town Trust demanded $2.000 more than last year paid to the Ontario Bank, but a corresponding reduction had been made in the rate of borrowing money. The amount of $1,745 asked for the Nicholls Hospital was a surprise to the committee. It was a demand that had been made and he supposed would have to be met although the council had had assurances that the hospital would be self sustaining, but such was not the case. The debts on sewerage account was very small owing to the fact of the bylaw being defeated, but it would remain with some other council to successfully finance a system of sewerage. The schools were the same as last year. The Charity and Street and Bridge were two items which the committee always expected to reduce. The charity account this year had reached a phenomenal figure, more than the town could afford, and the committee did not intend this year to exceed more than others. In the matter of the Street and Bridge account the committee regretted that a larger amount could not be put down for this department. The sum appropriated was $8 000. The speaker advised the greatest caution and care in its expenditure. It was possible for a town the size of Peterborough to expend $20 000 on their streets and yet expend it so injudiciously that the exacting demands of had the ratepayers would not be satisfied. Speaking in reference to the town's revenue, Mr. Dennistoun said the market tolls this year brought in $1720 as against $800 last year, while the dog tax had replenished the exchequer by an increase in revenue of some $450.

A BY LAW SESSION.

The speaker then moved the first reading of a by-law to authorize the levying of taxes, rates and assessments in the town of Peterborough for the year 1892, which went through its several stages and was passed. The bylaw provides that five per cent. will be added to all taxes unpaid after December 14th, 1892

Mr. DENNISTOUN introduced the first reading of a bylaw to appoint a collector of taxes for the town of Peterborough. It was read a second and third time and passed. In committee of the whole, on motion of Mr. Ferguson, seconded by Mr. Winch, Miss Bessie Cummings was reappointed tax collector for the current year at a salary of $600.

Mr. DENNISTOUN introduced the following bylaws which were read and passed:—

A bylaw to grant $500 to the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society and a bylaw to grant $200 to the Peterborough Fire Brigade Band

THE CHEESE BOARD TO USE THE CHAMBER.

The MAYOR said he had a matter to bring before the council in reference to the cheese board holding their meetings during the remainder of the season in the council chamber The market building was hard to heat in and the board had promised to keep things clean and do no harm to the chamber.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Winch, that the cheese board be granted the use of the council chamber to hold their meetings in providing they keep it in order and pay the janitress for keeping it clean—Carried.

THAT ALLEGED CARTERS' NUISANCE.

Mr. KELLY complained of the nuisance caused by the carters' stand on the corner of Hunter and George streets. The License Committee had brought in a report which had never been acted on. The merchants had petitioned the council time and time again to have the stand removed, but no action had been taken. Something must be done in the matter.

Mr. Mollwaine said some of the merchants had given the carters' liberty to stand there.

On motion of Messrs. Kelly and Young, the matter was referred to the License Committee to bring in a report.

THAT PARK STREET NUISANCE.

Mr. Cahill introduced the following motion, seconded by Mr. Winch:—That the sum of $700 set aside by the council as per report of the Street and Bridge Committee adopted by the council on the 25th of April, 1892, be applied towards the construction of the drain along Park street together with the trust which the commissioners of the Town Trust have signified their willingness to hand over to the council for drainage purposes, said sum being about $1,000, and that the Street and Bridge Committee be authorized to put this work under contract, no part of it to be expended on private property.

Mr. CAHILL, in speaking to the motion, said the matter had been before the council for the last two or three years and brought up every year, but nothing had yet been done, as it seemed difficult to do anything under the Drainage Act. No people were in a worse condition to-day than the people affected by the drain on Park street The health of residents in that locality was seriously affected and two were lying in the Nicholls hospital at present suffering from fever. Malarial fever and other diseases were prevalent in that locality as a consequence of the lack of drainage. He had brought the matter up so many times that he felt like giving it up. Let the sum be expended this year as far as it would go along the streets and next year the other portion, in reference to private parties could be expended, None of the present sum, however, was to be expended on private properties.

Mr Ferguson said the residents in that locality wanted a drain which they could use as a sewer, and in a few years the council would have another matter on their hands like the Edison drain.

After some general discussion, in which strong objection was made towards granting the sum for the construction of the drain, Mr. Cahill changed the amount to $500 and then in an earnest speech urged the matter to be attended to by the council at once. On the vote being taken the motion was lost.

Mr. CAHILL called for the yeas and nays which were taken as follows:—

YEAS—Messrs. Cahill, Winch, 2.

NAYS—Messrs. Young, Kelly, Bradburn, Dawson, Ferguson, Meldrum, Mulhern, Dennistoun, 8.

On motion Mr. Wm. Brandreth, G.T.R. agent, was heard in reference to the covered platform which the company intended to erect, outside the fire limits. He urged the council to deal with the matter as soon as possible.

The MAYOR said the matter had been referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee and they would bring in a report at the regular meeting to be held in two weeks.

Council adjourned at 10 o'clock.

WATCH REPAIRING!

This season, so far, has been a very busy one in our Watch Repairing Department. People are surprised at the excellence of our workmanship, having been under the impression that work, of such a high grade, was not possible outside of the large cities. This department is under the charge of a strictly first-class specialist, who thoroughly understands his business in all its details. Our charges are remarkably low considering the quality of the work.

Divorced and Married to a Millionairess.

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—The following story from Hamburg is interesting the newspaper readers of Berlin: Two domestic servants received a joint legacy from a wealthy uncle of 6,000,000 marks ($1,200,000). A well-known lawyer named Von Kusserow conducted the legal formalities which secured the fortune to the two girls, and was paid for his services the handsome fee of 250,000 marks. During the transaction of the business one of the young women had shown signs of a great liking for the lawyer. The latter conceived a plan to acquire riches with ease. He paid his wife a large sum to consent to a divorce, and then married the heiress who had fallen in love with him. He thus gained possession of 3,000,000 marks ($600,000). The lawyer, his new wife and his former wife then started on the honeymoon trip, the two women being apparently the best of friends.

The Kaisers Quarrel With Bismarck.

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—A serio-comic corollary to the standing quarrel between Prince Bismarck and Emperor William was supplied a few evenings ago. The Emperor and Bismarck were both invited to attend the annual banquet of the First Dragoon Guards. Both had accepted. On learning that his former Minister was to be among the guests his Majesty was embarrassed. At the last moment he resolved not to attend the feast, a sudden turn in the health of the Empress obliging His Majesty to proceed to the Marmaa Palace, which was worked as an excuse for his absence.

BELIEVED IN WITCHCRAFT.

Strange Defence of An American Charged With Murder.

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y., Aug. 22.—The trial of Joseph Heidt was finished in Monticello Saturday, and resulted in his conviction of murder in the second degree. He was charged with having murdered his uncle, George Markeret, at Jeffersonville last January. The prisoner testified as follows:

"Father and I believed Markeret was a wizard. Father has been ill, more or less, for a long time, but not confined to his bed. He often talked of his ailments, and thought that they were put on him by some one. He talked often to me about it. He thought the spell was put on him by George Markeret. He went over to Pennsylvania last fall, thinking the change might benefit him, and returned in November. He was somewhat improved for a time, and then became worse again. I made up my mind to ask my uncle to remove this spell from him.

"I remember the fatal evening I went to Markeret's. I had a pistol in my possession at the time, which I found in the barn. I did not see uncle when I went down to his home that night. Then I went over the bridge and waited awhile, and I met him at the bridge. He asked what I wanted. I asked him if he would be so kind as to take the torture back from my father. His reply was that he would take nothing back. I repeated the request, which he again refused. I told him that I would have him arrested in the morning if he did not. He said that if I said another word he would knock the life out of me.

"He then attempted to strike me. He was angry and did strike me. I grabbed the club and took it away from him. We had by this time crossed the bridge to the scene of the affray. He clinched me, took out his knife and told me I would have to die on the spot. In trying to escape I slipped and fell. Then I grabbed hold of him, pulled him down, drew the revolver and fired for his head. I cannot say how many times. When I regained my footing I again grabbed him and threw him over the bridge, and then went home. I did not know what I was doing at the time. I have had a headache since then. I was afraid to tell of the deed for fear of being lynched. After I was arrested and put in jail I concluded to tell all."

The jury was out three hours. The trial of the father, Adam Heidt, has been in progress to-day. He will probably be cleared.

Farm Labor Wanted in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22. — The weather throughout Manitoba and the Northwest continues most favorable, and harvesting is progressing rapidly. A big percentage of the wheat crop is now out.

All the immigration offices in the city are in receipts of telegrams daily from farmers asking for help during harvest and threshing. The supply does not nearly equal the demand, and but a small proportion of the requests are filled. Wages are good throughout the country, $45 a month and board being offered, but even with this inducement men are not to be found.

REV. PLINK PLUNK.

Discourses on Charges of Drunkenness in High Places.

UBLIC Drinking formed the subject of the Rev. Plink Plunk's last sermonette. It was based on Congressman Watson's charges of drunkenness among his colleagues. The Rev. philosopher said:

"A number ob tings hab happened durin' de pas' week, deah dreddern, dat had distracted my attenshun, an' I perpose goin' ober dem in a sensible, practical way, an' drawin' wotever moral may seem de bes' adopted to each perticler case.

De mos' prominent place in de paper hez been taken from de Homestead strikers, an' given ober to news an' comments on de charges made by Mr. Watson, ob Georgia, agin certain membahs ob Congress in Washington. He alleges dat he hez seen some ob his feller membahs in a "rocky" state, wile dey wuz makin' speeches on de floor ob de House of Representatives, an' fines fault wid one membah in partic'ler dat got so fuddled dat he had to say, "Mister Speaker, where wuz I at?"

Now, deah breddern, dere's sev'ral diff'rent ways ob lookin' at dis yar questiou ob drinkin'. Dere's a sensible way and a foolish way, dere's a narrow way an' a broad way, an' every one looks at it from his own standpoint. De drinkin' man tinks no man is any good dat ain't ready to git full wenever he gits a chance, wile de temperance crank tinks dat to drink anyting stronger dan ginger ale or soda water is de wust crime in de calendar. I myself believe in a happy mejum. If a man likes wiskey dere ain't no use tryin' to make him tink dat gas an' marble dust are far better for him, an' de man dat's fond ob a glass of ale or beer ud feel as if he'd been pisoned ef he wuz to drink a glass ob orange phosphate.

UNNECESSARY.

I'm inclined to fine fault wid Mr. Watson for bringin' up dis subjec so prominently, an' I think it's a pooty cheap trick to gain fame at de expense ob udder people's good name, wen all de time yo' may be laborin' under a grave mistake. Many a man is condemned as a hahd drinker, wen if de truf wuz known he's only a little eccentric. When a man wobbles in his walk, it ain't always a sign dat he's been drinkin'; he may hab de rheumatiz in de knee joints; an' rheumatiz'll often make a man walk more wobbly dan de biggest supply ob Bowery wiskey dat eber wuz swallered.

Annudder paht ob de discussion in de papers, deah breddern, is de expert opinions dat hab been expressed on de difference between a "jag," a "still," a "maudlin drunk," a "Branigan" an' sev'ral udder condishuns wich man git into after more or less drinkin'. Now I say dat dere ain't no way for an observer to know wich one ob dese condishuns an intoxicated man is in; de only reliable, easy-to-see case is when de man goes on a "howlin' drunk."

NO EXPERT NEEDED.

It doan need no expert to tell dat de "howler" hez had drinks enuff for two, for he takes good care to let de hull neighborhood into his awful secret.

Nobody in de country will be surprised to hear dat de membahs of Congress drink; it's a pooty well known fack, an' as long as dey behave all right wot's de difference? De wust case mentioned by Mr. Watson was not so bad after all. If a man is only so full dat he's able to keep enuff track ob his remarks to ask, "Where wuz I at?" wy, he deserves credit, not blame. Wen we realize dat he might hab got fightin', howlin' drunk, an' threatened to wipe up de floor wid de Speaker, instead ob askin' politely, "Where wuz I at?" we ought to feel mighty glad dat his offence can be put down in de "jag" class.

In concludin' dese remahks on drinkin' I will say, deah breddern, dat de cause ob temperance 'll nebber boom until temperance drinks are put on a level with beer as regards price. Wen a man calls for a glass ob ginger ale he nebber knows whedder it's goin' to cost him fi' cents or twenty-five, but wen he calls for beer he knows dat his pocket will only suffer to the extent ob a nickel.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, ONT., January 15, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. P. ATWELL.

MR. HAGGART TALKS.

The Minister of Canals on the Retaliation Question.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Very little except President Harrison's canal proclamation is discussed here.

The Cabinet meets to-day, but the canal dispute will likely not be discussed in the absence of the leading members of the Ministry.

"My own opinion is," said Hon. John Haggart, Minister of Railways and Canals, "that the policy of the Government will be to place the Canadian shippers on the same footing as the American shippers, even if they have to reconp them out of the public treasury."

"I have heard nothing of the proclamation beyond what I have seen in the press. I see that the President has fixed the tolls at 20 cents, the same as is now placed on the Welland, and that they will only remain in effect during the time we continue this alleged discrimination. Long before this we saw that it was in our interests to push ahead the Soo Canal so as to have a line of navigation between the great lakes and our own territory. Instructions have been given out to carry on and complete the work as soon as possible. Work will be carried on night and day, until that is accomplished. I think that by the end of next summer we will have a system of navigation of our own connecting Lake Superior far better than the American's. We will have a lock 900 feet long and 60 feet wide, which can hold a whole tow and make lockage in one half the time it can now be done on the American side.

Sir Henry Tyler Talks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—L. J. Seargeant, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, in referring to the retaliation of the American Government in the ship-toll controversy, said yesterday: "There should not be any restriction on the free transportation of commerce either way between this country and Canada. The interchange should be as free on the canals as on the railroads. The Grand Trunk road built a tunnel costing over $3,000,000 under the St. Clair River to encourage an interchange of traffic between the two countries and the project is a great success. I should be sorry to see any restrictions placed upon the free passage of goods through this tunnel, as it is of great benefit to both Canadian and American shippers."

Sir Henry Tyler of London, president of the Grand Trunk Railway, was a guest yesterday of the Windsor. He came here to make his annual inspection of the road. Spoken to with reference to the canal question he said: "I believe that the sooner the difficulty between two great countries is settled the better it will be for both."

RATTLERS KILL TWO WOMEN.

Awful Encounter With the Deadly Reptiles on a Huckleberry Mountain.

COUDERSPORT, Pa., Aug. 23.—The details of a horrible encounter with rattlesnakes in which two women were killed by the venomous reptiles has been brought here by a commercial traveler from Gold, a village of this county. Several days ago Mrs. Jacob Nevins, Mrs. Sarah Harmon and three or four other women and their husbands went upon the mountains near Gold to pick huckleberries. Mrs. Harmon sat down to pluck the fruit by the side of a rock. A large rattler unseen by her, which lay on the rock, struck the woman on the jugular vein, causing a considerable rupture. She screamed, but bled to death in half an hour. While assisting Mrs. Harmon, Mrs. Nevins was bitten twice on the leg and once on the hand by another rattlesnake and died five hours afterward. The men in the party came to the rescue from nearby, gave the women whisky, but to no purpose. They then killed seven huge rattlesnakes within a few yards of where the fated women were bitten and the whole party left the mountain in terror.

TALMAGE CAPTURES BIRMINGHAM.

Even in Brooklyn He Never Received Such an Ovation.

BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 23.—The Rev. Dr. Talmage addressed the largest assembly that ever gathered in Birmingham. The Town Hall was packed with an audience of 3000 persons an hour before the services began and outside there were 30,000 more people, whom Dr. Talmage addressed from his carriage after the services in the hall.

On the way back to his hotel Dr. Talmage was informed that 10,000 persons were still waiting on the other side of the Town Hall to hear him. Dr. Talmage immediately returned and briefly addressed them, and an immense crowd, estimated to number 20,000, then sang, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

The main doors of the hotel had to be bolted against the surging crowd which ran ahead of his carriage.

A Monument To the Unknown.

WESTVILLE, N.S., Aug. 23.—There have been deadlier explosions in Nova Scotia since the Drummond explosion of 1873, but none so terrifying to those who witnessed it. Opposite Clare Park, the seat of Mr. Charles Fergie of the Drummond colliery is Drummond Park, some eight acres in extent, the gift of the company to the people of Westville. In a corner of the park there is traced off a plot 25 feet square. In this plot are interred the bones of over 50 victims of the explosion. So dreadful was the havoc that the remains of a large number could not be identified. Failing to be recognized by friends the remains were put into one common burying ground. To mark the spot where the victims lie buried a handsome monument, probably the handsomest in the province, has been erected by the employes of the colliery assisted by the owners. The monument was unveiled on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Thomas Hale, chairman of the committee, recited the steps taken in the matter. Short addresses were delivered by Mr. John McDougald, M.P.; Mr. Roderick McDougald, cashier of the company; Mr. Charles Fergie, manager, and Mr. R. Drummond. Letters of apology from Sir John Thompson, Hon. Mr. Tupper and Mr. D. C. Fraser, regretting their absence were read and a telegram from Mr. R. Dickie, M. P., announcing that he had missed the train. The monument stands 16 feet high and has the names of all who perished engraved on it.

The Bride's Father a Little Too Late.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Aug. 23.—Miss Mill Glessner, daughter of Judge O. J. Glessner, eloped with Stephen Ellis last night. Ellis procured a marriage license and carried Miss Glessner away in a buggy to a parson's where they were married. They appeared at the depot and purchased tickets for St. Louis, but while waiting their train the judge, who had heard of the elopement, came down the street in hot pursuit. The runaways were on guard, and on his approach started east afoot, but were overtaken two blocks away. After conversing the irate father that the ceremony had been performed the twain were permitted to renew their wedding tour.

MORE MEN GO ON STRIKE

LACKAWANA SWITCHMEN REFUSE TO HANDLE FREIGHT.

Grand Master Sweeney Will Not Give Any Information as to His Intentions, But it is Evident from His Manner that He is Not So Confident as He Was—Shooting by the Military.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 24.—Throughout the recent strike history here the Lackawanna men have been avowing allegiance to the road. All their demands had been granted. Their hours and pay had been fixed to suit them, being the hours and rates for which other switchmen struck, and the Lackawanna men have affirmed that they would fight for the road and would never leave it. Yesterday a train load of western freight was shunted into the Lackawanna yards from the Lake freight yards. Soon after the men quit, about 125 in number. Superintendent Seabert of the road was asked if a strike had been inaugurated in his yards.

"There certainly is or something very much like it," was the response.

"What was the grievances?"

"None that I know of. They had none, as they told me."

"Well, why did they go?"

"The crew refused to move certain freight and we discharged them. The other men then quit."

"Was the freight from any of the struck roads?"

"No, it was common lake freight."

"Why, then, should the men refuse to handle it?"

"I don't know. The switchmen can tell you."

"How many men are affected?"

"I cannot say exactly. About 125, I think."

"Will the strike impede freight or passenger traffic?"

"No, it finds us fully prepared for it. We have men to take the places of those who quit. Trains will move as usual."

"Will you take the strikers back if they wish to resume their places?"

"It is too early to answer that."

From another railroad official it was learned that the freight to which the men objected was believed by them to be from the Lehigh Valley. This was a mistake, however, as the officials claimed it was ordinary lake freight. Trains were running as usual an hour after the strike.

All this was about 2 p.m., and two hours later for similar reasons, it is said, the switchmen in the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg road went out, adding 15 more to the idle switchmen.

Master Workman Sweeney is gaining a record for taciturnity not equalled among strike leaders. His own lieutenants are completely in the dark as to what his policy is. One of the members of his executive committee having stated as much to the state board of arbitration Tuesday Messrs. Dunovan, Purcell and Robertson attempted to learn from the Grand Master of the switchmen when, or if ever, he was going to order out the switchmen now working in the jurisdiction affected by the strike. Mr. Sweney practically refused to give the arbitrators any information. One member of the board questioned Mr. Sweney very closely, but nothing was elicited to guide the board in its action in ordering the investigation decided Tuesday. Mr. Sweney's conduct in the matter was the subject of much gossip about Fireman's Hall on that account when the news was received there. The men all express implicit confidence in the Grand Master and none had any fault to find with him. When asked if he took courage from the striking of the W.N.Y. and Pa. men yesterday and of the Lackawanna men today Mr. Sweney replied, "Well, not exactly encouraged. It does not alter the situation materially. They knew what the situation was all along, anyway. I didn't order them out," Mr. Sweney continued, "They went out of their own free will. I didn't want them to be blaming me if the strike didn't prove a success."

Joseph Heimerle is recording secretary and treasurer of Buffalo Lodge No. 39, Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association. Heimerle is one of the leaders of the switchmen. When Grand Master Sweney and Master Moriarity are engaged in other affairs Heimerle takes charge and directs the men. The Lehigh Valley Railroad officials sent word to Supt. Morgenstern that Heimerle was interfering with their passenger trains. They were advised to swear out a warrant charging him with assaulting non-union switchmen. This they did. The police were ordered to look for Heimerle. Detectives located Heimerle and arrested him. He was taken to Superintendent Morgenstern's office. Heimerle was asked if he had been assaulting anybody. He replied he had not. Superintendent Morgenstern told Detectives Jordan and Cannon to search him, and they found a 38-calibre revolver in his pocket. "Oh, yes, you are a nice lot of fellows," said Superintendent Morgenstern to Heimerle, "You are conducting a peaceable campaign, ain't you? You favor the withdrawal of the troops, yet you go around armed to the teeth." And the head of the Police Department took seven big bullets out of Hermerle's gun and carefully put them in his desk. Heimerle furnished bail and was released.

Conductors Adverse to Striking.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—E. E. Clark of Cedar Rapids, Ia., Grand Master of the Order of Railway Conductors, was here on his way to Buffalo in response to the request of Grand Master Sweney to take part in the proposed conference of the chiefs of the various organizations of railway employes. He said so far as he knew the conductors had no grievance to right, and added, "but what may develop after I have arrived on the scene I cannot predict. Unless our men have grievances to settle we will not go out, as we do not care to express any sympathy in that way. I know nothing of the trouble except what I have learned through the newspapers."

The most deplorable thing in the affair is that acts of violence were resorted to by someone at the start. This has probably been the greatest cause for prolonging the strike, as otherwise it would probably have been amicably settled.

At this point Grand Master Wilkinson of the Order of Railway Trainmen, who came in this morning from Galesburg, Ill., also en route to Buffalo on a mission similar to that of Grand Master Clark, made his appearance. Further than saying he was responding to a summons from Grand Master Sweney he declined to talk. Clark and Wilkinson left for Buffalo at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Shot By the Military.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 24.—Three attacks were made by strikers yesterday afternoon on the military pickets and non-union switchmen. An attack made on the picket lines of the 22nd Regiment of New York, stationed at the Tifft Farm by five strikers will probably result fatally to one of them, Thomas J. Manahar. About 5 o'clock Manahar, in company with Thomas O'Loughlin, Bernard Dunn, Patrick Madigan and William Cotter began throwing stones at John McGucken and Charles Gable, non-union men, who were working in the Tifft farm yard. Lieut. Austin of Company O ordered the stone-throwers to disperse. They refused to do so and were fired upon by order of Lieut. Austin. Manahar was struck by two bullets. One took effect on the left elbow, while the other passed through the abdomen to the right of the kidneys. Manahar was taken to the hospital. His condition is extremely critical.

The coroner has been notified to be in readiness to take the man's ante-mortem statement should signs of failing occur. Manahar's companions were arrested by the police of the seventh precinct, charged with rioting. The private who did the shooting was also detained by the police, the entire party being taken to the seventh precinct station house. The officer of the company to which the detained private belonged protested against the arrest of his subordinate and demanded his release. At the same time he notified General Doyle of the arrest and General Doyle ordered a company and a battalion if needed to set the soldier at liberty.

A Train On the Reading Wrecked.

READING, Pa., Aug. 24.—After the express on the Pennsylvania railroad, which was due in this city from Philadelphia at 8.30 o'clock last night, had crossed one of the large iron bridges, two miles below Reading, going 40 miles an hour, the engineer saw an obstruction ahead. He was unable to stop the train, and it dashed into four heavy timbers placed across the track. They were 15 feet long, and one man could hardly carry one of them. The rear wheels of the locomotive jumped the rails, and it was nearly 11 o'clock before the passenger train reached Reading. The passengers, numbering about 100, were badly shaken up.

The Blockade Raised.

BUFFALO, Aug. 24.—The day has witnessed a gradual improvement in the condition of those roads first demoralized by the strike. The 140 men who went out Tuesday have crippled the Lackawanna, but they are proceeding vigorously with the work of putting in new men. The Western New York and Pennsylvania, whose men went out yesterday, are badly crippled and the Rochester and Pittsburg are suffering much inconvenience. The Lehigh and Erie equaled yesterday's traffic, and the Central and West Shore with new business exceeded their movements of yesterday. The Lake Shore handled its business and the Nickel Plate was nearly normal.

Won't Handle Freight.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 24.—The 15 switchmen of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Road have struck because asked to handle freight from roads that have now switch men.

Mr. Webb's View.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—H. Walter Webb, third vice-president of the New York Central, returned from Buffalo yesterday. He said: "I do not anticipate any spread of the strike, although it is possible that Sweney may order out the switchmen in the yards at Chicago."

"Do you look for any trouble beyond that caused by the switchmen?"

"No, I do not. The firemen will not go out unless all the other unions do so. Neither the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers nor the firemen have ever been concerned in a sympathetic strike, and I have the utmost confidence in their conservatism. I think when Sweney realizes that the firemen and engineers are not going to stand by him he will order off the strike."

Disturbances At Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Aug. 24.—About 12.30 p.m. Nicholas Rattigan, who has a hut in Homestead, attempted to move his effects to a company house near the steel works. About 100 strikers gathered near the house and by jeering and throwing tins, stones, etc., frightened away the people moving and Rattigan was threatened with assault. Fifteen deputy sheriffs were called and succeeded in holding back the crowd. There is much excitement and a company of military is under arms ready to march in case of further trouble.

Failed Because of a Boycott.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 24.—The boycott instituted by Homestead strikers against tradesmen who sold to the Carnegie Steel Company has resulted in the failure of Adolph Doerr, one of the principal provision dealers in the borough.

THE HOT WAVE IN EUROPE.

A Rainstorm in Austria Gives Temporary Relief.

VIENNA, Aug. 24.—A terrific thunderstorm, preceded by choking clouds of dust, swept over this city yesterday. Although creating consternation while it lasted, the storm had a beneficial effect, as the mercury fell several degrees and the inhabitants of the city, especially those in the poorer quarters, who have been the greatest sufferers during the intense heat of the last few days, experienced marked relief.

At Agram, Hungary, during a military evolutionary march, a third of the troops dropped out of the ranks overcome by the heat. Lieut. Volman was found dead by the roadside.

The Plague in Persia.

TEHERAN, Aug. 24.—A despatch from Reshed, in the Province of Chilean, states that every day hundreds of persons are dying there from cholera. Reshed lies 16 miles from Enzelles, its port on the Caspian Sea. The population of the town is about 20,000. A new disease is ravaging Enzelles. It causes prurient swellings on the body and face, and the mortality resulting from it is very heavy. The same disease is causing many deaths at Ardabeel, a town of 12,000 inhabitants on the Karahz Soo River. Both towns have been isolated.

THE RETALIATORY TOLLS

U.S. CUSTOMS OFFICERS INSTRUCTED HOW TO IMPOSE THEM.

How the Toll Will Be Imposed and How Collected—The Cabinet at Ottawa Holds a Meeting, But Does Not Discuss President Harrison's Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—It will devolve upon the Treasury Department to carry out the provisions of the President's proclamation levying a duty of 20 cents a ton on vessels passing through the St. Mary's Falls Canal in retaliation for the duty imposed by the Canadian Government on vessels passing through the Welland Canal. Anticipating the action of the State Department, the officers of the Treasury Department drew up an order to carry out the terms of the proclamation, and this was issued to the proper customs officers some time during the day.

After reciting the law and the President's proclamation the Secretary directs as follows:

"On the passage through the canal at St. Mary's Fall's in your district, from and after the 1st prox., of any vessel with cargo you will exact tolls as provided for above. But no tolls will be charged or collected as regards freight carried to and landed at Ogdensburg or any port west of Ogdensburg and south of a line drawn from the northern boundary of the State of New York through the St. Lawrence River, the great lakes and their connecting channels to the northern boundary of the State of Minnesota.

"The master of every such vessel will be required to furnish a sworn statement substantially in the form of a manifesto showing the date, the name of the vessel, its destination, the name of the master and the number of tons and kind of merchandise carried. If the destination be such as to exempt the vessel from the tolls, you will make entry of the fact in a book with columns exhibiting the particulars specified in the master's statement, and also the amounts chargeable and the amounts paid. On the next arrival of the vessel you will exact the tolls, unless on or before that time and within one month from her passage through the canal, there shall be furnished to you proof of the actual delivery of the cargo at some port or place within the limits of the United States above specified. Such proof will consist of the certificate of the Collector of Customs at the port of destination, showing the entry of the vessel and the landing of the merchandise there.

"Should the prescribed evidence not be furnished within a period of one month after the passage of the canal by the vessel, you will report the facts to the department, to the end that measures may be taken by it for the recovery of the amounts due."

Meeting of the Cabinet.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—A meeting of the Cabinet was held at 3 o'clock yesterday. Owing to the fact of its being called together at the present time it will no doubt be said that it is for the purpose of considering the proclamation of President Harrison. One of the ministers said that, while no doubt such a matter would be formally talked over, the council was not called together for any such purpose. It met principally to transact routine business. Hon. Mr. Costigan arrived this morning from Bernard Lake to be present at the meeting.

The members who attended the council meeting were Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. John Haggart, Hon. J. A. Ouimet, Hon. John Costigan, and Hon. Edgar Dewdney. Mr. Ouimet arrives from Montreal to day to be present. It takes four members of the Cabinet to form a quorum. Sir Adolphe Caron presided.

What the Toll Will Amount to.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—It is hard to obtain figures from which to calculate the amount of extra burden which the imposition of 20 cents tax at the "Soo" would entail upon Canadian carriers, but it does not appear that it could go over $35,000 per annum. This, however, is at best not more than approximately correct, although the statistics of Canada's traffic through the "Soo" Canal indicate these as the outside figures. To compensate the carrying trade for this loss for the balance of this season, even if it reaches proportionately a slightly higher figure, would not entail a very grievous burden upon the resources of the country, and such will probably be done.

CHOLERA REACHES HAMBURG.

It Is Pronounced to Be of the Virulent Asiatic Type.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The Department of State has news of an alarming character from Europe. United States Consul Johnson, at Hamburg, reports that he is advised officially by the government health officer of that city of the presence of Asiatic cholera there, and he has accordingly refused to issue bills of health to departing vessels. Consul Williams at Havre reports an epidemic of Asiatic cholera at that place, with many deaths and advises an inspection of the fast liner La Touraine. These facts have been promptly communicated to the health officers at Staten Island, and every precaution will be taken by them in the matter, especially in view of the fact that the epidemic has now reached two of the most important ports in Europe with which the United States has direct and rapid communication.

Cholera At Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Aug. 24.—The Correspondent states that there were 120 cases of cholera here yesterday and many deaths from the disease were reported. Several of the cases were true Asiatic cholera.

Newspaper reports differ widely regarding the number of cases of cholera in this city. The Nachrichten says that so far there have been 300 cases and 120 deaths, 65 deaths occurring yesterday. Several deaths have occurred at Altona. A thunderstorm passed over the city last night, making the weather cooler.

The ambulances of the city are insufficient to meet the demands made upon them through the outbreak of cholera. Yesterday 70 ordinary carriages were utilized for the conveyance of cholera patients. Thirty-five persons have died of cholera. Some of those have died within an hour after being stricken with the disease and all the others died within six hours.

Carnegie Must Yield.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor is in this city. He says that he is confident that Carnegie will be forced to concede the demands of the men in the Pennsylvania mills. He admits that the battle will be a long and bitter one, but has no fears that the strikers will ultimately triumph.

Road Making.

Road making in rural districts has of late been receiving a good deal of attention in Canada. The attack upon the statute labor system has been renewed in Ontario, and its utter failure has been demonstrated. In many parts of the province the country roads are practically impassable during the spring season. This entails upon the farmers a heavy task in trying to reach the markets with their products. A few loose sods is the rough and ready repair that statute labor affords. It is argued, with a good deal of force, that the better way would be to employ skilled road builders and have the work systematically done. It is time Ontario got beyond the backwoods way of building roads.

A Little Fatherly Advice.

"If ever you marry," said an old gentleman to his son, "let it be a woman who has judgment enough to superintend the getting of a meal, taste enough to dress herself, pride enough to wash her face, and sense enough to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription whenever she needs it." The experience of the age has shown the Favorite Prescription to be the best for the cure of all female weaknesses and derangements. Good sense is shown by getting the remedy from your druggist, and using it whenever you feel weak and debilitated. It will invigorate and cannot possibly do harm.

A Drive Through Galway.

I hired a rig the other day,
I took a drive out through Galway,
For I had heard the people say
Grand sights were to be seen.
Through Galway's hills and valleys wide,
Of Peterborough it is the pride;
And well did I enjoy the ride
And much admire each scene.

The scenery did me impress,
With thoughts of sylvan happiness,
I envy those who do possess
Such happiness sublime.
The eye in one broad view does take,
Two scene of mountain, glen and lake,
A paradise did nature make
Here in this northern clime.

I was picturing in my mind some grand
Elysian field of fairyland,
When a loud report brought me to a stand,
My soliloquy ended here.
I had heard that from the treasurer's bills,
Three hundred dollars in bank bills,
Were granted to the Gullie's hills
By Ontario's grand premier.

Attracted northward by the shock,
I knew some men were blasting rock, inclined to see the men at work
I hurried on my steed
I soon came to the Gullie's hills,
Where men with shovels, picks, and drill
Hills levelling down and hollows fill,
I wished them all God speed.

Those Gullie's hills they number four,
They stretch a half a mile or more,
A little west from Swamp Lake shore,
They rise in terrific grandeur.
Now Gullies you must now make way,
For the wheel of the waggon, the shoe of the sleigh,
Your hardest rocks must now obey
The hammer, drill and powder.

You Gullies, what was your formation?
Did you exist since the creation?
Or did some great volcanic eruption
Pile up your heights gigantic.
The geologist here may contemplate,
The miner here may speculate,
The painter, if he can imitate,
May picture scenes romantic.

The first piece of work which I did admire,
Was the Mianie Creek hill by John McGuire,
And oftentimes did horses tire
While toiling up its steep.
Now John McGuire may look with joy,
On the Mianie Creek hill and his employ,
And John McGuire may well enjoy
The pleasure which many will reap.

The next piece of work upon this line,
Is the sandy hill by Michael O'Brien,
And oftentimes on its incline
Did horses sweat and pant.
But horses now may draw at ease,
Load light or heavy as you please,
And Michael O'Brien deserves much praise,
And next year another grant.

Two stony hills I next did meet
And Paddy O'Sullivan did me greet,
Said Paddy, "My men are working great
With shovels, picks and drills."
He said, "Mick Collins is drilling a rock
And shortly you will feel the shock,
For the strength of granite does powder mock
When blasting through these hills."

Great praise were given by all the men
To J. R. Stratton, they said, that when
The elections come round again,
They do one and all say—
We'll vote for him as we did before;
He has made roads good and opened more,
A road now passes every door—
He is the man for Galway.

When J. R. Stratton again is seat
To take his seat in parliament,
His voters here will not be content
Unless some high position he'll get.
Let Mowat appreciate the man
Who will be an honor to his van,
But Mowat will surely come under our ban
If he is not placed in the cabinet.

To be sure of having a first-class article, ask your druggist or perfumer for Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is absolutely superior to any other preparation of the kind. It restores the original color and fullness to hair which has become thin, faded, or gray. It keeps the scalp cool, moist, and free from dandruff. It heals itching humors, prevents baldness, and imparts to a silken texture and lasting fragrance. No toilet can be considered complete without this most popular and elegant of all hair-dressings.

"My hair began turning gray and falling out when I was about 25 years of age. I have lately been using Ayer's Hair Vigor, and it is causing a new growth of hair of the natural color."—R. J. Lowry, Jones Prairie, Texas.

"Over a year ago I had a severe fever, and when I recovered, my hair began to fall out, and what little remained turned gray. I tried various remedies, but without success, till at last I began to Occidental Aquatics.

Aquatics are in quite a different state in Victoria to what they are in Peterborough. The Daily News Aduertiser gives a lengthy report of the annual regatta of the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen. The first schedule event was the Peterborough canoe race, double paddles. In the senior four oar race, Mr. H. W. Kent, formerly of this town, pulled second oar at 154 lbs, his crew winning. Mr. Kent was also a member of the winning quartette in the race for four-paddle Peterborough canoes. In Peterborough we can't get a race on for love or money. "Herb" is quite an enthusiastic sportsman in the far west. He is also captain of the Vancouver Gun Club.

To Whom it may Concern

Chief of Police Rozel wishes to call the attention of all whom it may concern to the following provision of the Public Health Act:—"No person suffering from, or having very recently recovered from smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, cholera, measles, or other diseases dangerous to public health shall expose himself, nor shall any person expose any one under his charge, who is suffering, or who has recently recovered from any such disease, in any conveyance without having previously notified the owner or person in charge of such conveyance of the fact of his having, or having recently had, such disease. The owner, or person in charge of such conveyance, must not, after the entry of any so infected person into his conveyance, allow any other person to enter it without having sufficiently disinfected it under the direction of the Board of Health or the supervision of the Medical Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector." The Board of Health has given instructions that vehicles so used must be taken to the Medical Health Officer, Dr. Clarke, for disinfection. The law in this particular will be strictly enforced.

The Other Side of the Story.

The following is clipped from the Port Hope Guide on the Edison Port Hope match played here on Saturday last. As the article was written for the Guide by Captain Hamly of the Port Hope team, it needs no comment. It would be utterly useless to reply to such rubbish. Our readers can form their own opinion of the Port Hopers after reading the following:

"Our citizens will remember a game of baseball which took place here a few weeks ago between the Edison club of Peterborough and the Port Hope team. At that time the visitors asked for a practice game only, and though our local players knew, as they had only lately organized, they would likely be beaten, they were willing to accommodate the Edisons. The game took place, and the Port Hope team were badly beaten, and as is usual, when a one horse town like Peterborough accidentally wins a game, they get up a procession and paraded the streets with brooms and flags, in fact, painted the town red. Peterborough knows nothing practically of baseball. They never had a team that a club of ten year old boys couldn't defeat, and so far as the natives are concerned, never will have. So whatever little baseball element is there at present is all imported. * * Umpire O'Neill did his business, without fear or favour. He is well up in the game, and nobody can give him pointers on it. * * W. W. Andrus is a host in himself. He is now in Cobourg explaining the game to to them."

KEEP UP WITH THE PROCESSION.

Met With an Accident.

At last night's fire the eaves of Dr. George Barnham's brick barn caught fire from the intense heat, and ladders were put against the building in order to ascend to the roof and put out the fire with pails of water. Dr. Boucher was catching the pails as they were thrown down to him to be refilled. He, however, did not notice the decent of one pail, which in falling struck him square in the face with great force, inflicting an ugly ragged gash. His nose was cut and bruised as well as the upper and lower lids of his eye. The latter cut was severe enough to lay open his face under the eye. His wounds were dressed, and it will be some time before he recovers from the facial marks and bruises.

The Gun Club held one of the biggest shoots of the season last night at Riverside Park. Twenty-four rounds were shot each and some good scores made. The shoot was taken part in by 19 members and with three traps which worked to perfection. Everything passed off splendidly. It was so dark that the marksmen could not see the birds when the shooting finished.

Must Keep Out of the Way.

Chief Rutherford said to an EXAMINER reporter to-day:—"I want you to state in your paper that the firemen do not thank the outside public for interfering in their business at fires. Many outsiders think they are doing us a great help when they are only impeding the progress of the men. Some citizens received a ducking from the hose at last night's fire and started to abuse the firemen. My advice to them is to keep out of the way and then they will not get wet. We are on hand to do our duty in putting out the fire as soon as possible."

Inspected the Mechanics' Institute.

Dr. May, of Toronto, Government Inspector of Mechanics' Institutes, was in town last night on an official visit and inspected the books, library, &c., of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute. Dr. May met the president and directors and expressed to them his very great pleasure in finding the Institute, library, books and finances so well equipped in every particular. He had nothing but words of praise to bestow upon the directors and the Institute. He discussed with the board the advisability of establishing an Arts School, either in connection with the Institute or under a separate corporation. He pointed out the advantages of such an institution and how it had prospered in several cities and towns in Ontario. On fifty pupils taking the course the school gets a grant from the government of $400. No definite conclusion was arrived at. Dr. May left this morning for Lakefield and Bobcaygeon to inspect the Mechanics's Institutes in those places. The directors were well pleased with the doctor's visit and advice.

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 78 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

A Nocturnal Blaze.

The Barns and Stables of Mr. Charles Cameron Destroyed by Fire Last Night—Other Buildings Meet a Narrow Escape.

An alarm of fire was sounded at twenty minutes to twelve o'clock last night, and the firemen soon wended their way to the blaze, which was in Mr. Charles Cameron's barns and stables between Water and George streets, near McDonel. The place was all ablaze in no time, the buildings and contents being of a very inflammable material; the fire shot up in one great gush of immense flame and was burning brilliantly when the brigade arrived on the scene. The location of the fire was a very dangerous one, owing to the number of outbuildings and sheds adjoining. Four streams were soon playing on the devouring element, which was fast sweeping out of existence the barns and stables in which they caught and also upon the sheds and stables in the neighbourhood, many of which had become ignited from the intense heat of the burning building. It, however, did not take long for the firemen to extinguish the flames, which soon succumbed to the volumes of water thrown upon them and in ten or fifteen minutes there was nothing but a smokeless ruin. The barns and stables of Mr. Cameron were burned to the ground. The conflagration was on the Mockock's axe factory and later Mr. Henry Owens' old pump factory. Mr. Cameron's loss is between $500 and $600 on the barn and two adjoining sheds. The only insurance is on one of the sheds, which amount is $125. The buildings were occupied by his brother, Mr. John Cameron, who suffers a heavy loss on the contents, which were burned with not a cent of insurance. He loses a straw cutter, buggy, pair of bobsleighs, 300 barrels of ashes, which were stored in the barn, some hay and sets of harness and a saddle, besides several other minor articles. Mr. Cameron succeeded in getting out his horse, which was the only thing saved. Mrs. James Best's shed adjoining was also burned, together with the contents. The loss is about $50 with no insurance. Mrs. Leech, who with her nephew, Mr. McGregor, resides on Water street to the rear of the fire, lost a shed belonging to her and a large pile of wood. The house escaped with a slight scorching. The roof of Dr. George Burnham's barn was scorched and about $25 worth of damage. The high brick wall on the south side of the barn undoubtedly saved it from further injury. Some slight damage was done to other surrounding buildings.

"The Charming Circle of the Lakes."

The Summer Day Voyage of the "Sunbeam."

Lady Bravery in her voyage in her Sunbeam did not, it is safe to say, have a pleasanter day's sailing than the "charming circle of the lakes," made in the "Sunbeam" of Messrs. Hilliard & Elen. There are scores of persons whose affairs permit them only a one-day holiday. To such persons, and to any others who desire to pass a really delightful day, the round trip on the "Sunbeam" affords an opportunity that cannot be beaten. Leaving Peterborough, a short rail run takes the pleasure-seeker and pleasure-finder to Lakefield where the "Sunbeam" lies. This staunch, steady steamer is an excellent one for the route. She is roomy and as steady as a rock. The officers are obliging and courteous to a degree, and nothing is undone that can contribute to the pleasure of the passengers. In the interest of the travelling public, the steamer-owners complain of the manner in which the Government booms are kept. Where the channel is narrow in Lake Katchewanooka, the extra links of boom project at an angle into the channel and crowd steamers into shoal water, and there is often vexatious delay—all the more vexatious because a few minutes attention on the part of the Government employees would serve to remove at once the the superfluous links and the trouble. But on we go, through the windings of Katchewanooka, through the placid expanse of Clear Lake into the labaryntnine channels of Stony Lake, studded with islands, covered with cottages or white with tents. After a sinuous sail amongst these islands, the steamer passes through the twin locks at Burleigh, as fine a piece of work, of its kind, as there is on the continent. Then on through Lovesick Lake, Lovesick locks, Buckhorn Lake past the magnificent forest-fringed cove of Deer Bay, through Chemong Lake, and then home by rail, arriving in town at 6.30 or if a little longer day is wanted take the start by Chemong. Either way is delightful as those who have taken the trip can testify and as the hundreds will find who will go on the Foresters' union excursion to morrow. For a one-day dip into aquatic delight nothing can surpass the round trip of the lakes per steamer "Sunbeam."

A Sweepstake Race.

At the Driving Park Yesterday Afternoon the Racing Season Opens—Much Sport Among the Local Horsemen.

Between thirty and forty lovers of horse flesh hied themselves down to the Peterborough Driving Park yesterday afternoon to witness the first event in the racing line that has happened on the turf in Peterborough this season. Those who were present saw a good sweepstake race and had considerable fun. The event which attracted this small knot of enthusiastic horsemen together was a sweepstake race, gotten up on almost the spur of a moment, so short had been the notice. The race was for a sweepstake and the entrance money added. There were five starters in the event as follows:—

R. Gibbs' "General Scrigg," W. Clancy's "Mambrino Mitchell," Connor Bros. "Florence B." J. Irwin's, of Springville, "Lady Rooker," R. Cavanaugh "Lady Stanley."

The race was to be best two in three, half mile heats. The track was in a fairly good condition, although a little rough. The judges were Messrs. Martin Connors, W. McGregor and Geo. Lipsett. In the first heat the animals got away in good shape and without any hitch or delay. The race was quite a struggle and so warm did it grow that the enterers instead of stopping at the half mile post trotted the whole mile and finished in the following order:—Connor Bros. "Florence B." first, Irwin's "Lady Rooker" second, W. Clancy's "Mambrino Mitchell" third, R Cavanagh fourth and "General Spriggs" bringing up the late end. Another heat was trotted. Mr. Clancy, who entered more for sport than anything else, dropped out of the second heat, which was finished in the same order as the previous one. J. Irwin was not satisfied with "Lady Rooker" and trotted her against time around the track making the half mile in 1 38.

Mr. McIntyre had his "Clan Alpine" down and speeded her around the ring for a few times She is in fine form, showing plainly the effects of her recent training on the Woodbine track, Toronto. Another sweepstake race will be trotted in a few days. The fun is now on and it is expected that it will run fast and furious until the Central Exhibition speeding comes on.

County Police Court.

County Police Magistrate Kimton held court at the court house yesterday afternoon and tried a trespass case in which Chas. Boyd and William Boyd, both gypsies from Toronto, were charged with trespassing upon the farm of Mr. Wm. Yelland in North Monaghan. The offence was committed last May and the summons issued but owing to the departure of the trespassers they could not be served. On Monday when they were going through, the defendants camped in the same place again when the summons were served on them. The magistrate dismissed the son Wm. Boyd, but fined the father $1 00 and costs, which was paid. He also levied $1.00 damages for tearing down the plaintiff's fence.

This morning another interesting case occupied the attention of the court, in which G. Cover, of Belmont township, was charged with stealing a pair of oxen from Mr. Wm. John Melvine of the same place on 20th of June last. County Constable G. H. Whitton traced the oxen to Thos. Moore's place in Bethany township, to whom defendant had sold the oxen for $40, has had only been paid $2 on them; the buyer was to give him the remainder in two week's time. Constable Whitton arrested Cover in Havelock on July 6th, but prisoner escaped from the clutches of the law and remained at large until August 17 h. when he was arrested by Constable Whitton in Seymour West, where he was working for a farmer, and lodged in the county goal. Mr. R M. Dennistoun appeared for the prisoner this morning and Mr. R. E Weed represented the Crown. After the examination of several witnesses the magistrate found the prisoner guilty of stealing the oxen and sent him up for trial before the county judge and he is receiving his trial this afternoon.

THE HELIOGRAPH.

An Instrument With Which Long-Distance Signalling is Done.

Heliography is the name applied to the method of communicating between distant points in which usual signals are obtained by reflecting the rays of the sun from a mirror or combination of mirrors in the required direction. As a matter of course the method can only be employed to advantage where the sky is free from clouds and the atmosphere clear for considerable periods of time, and the fact that no place is free from sudden atmospheric changes makes the establishment of permanent heliographic stations unadvisable. In military signalling heliography has been found to possess great advantages over other methods, particularly on account of the portability of the apparatus, and in coast and geodetic surveys it has been found invaluable.

To those who have not studied the phenomena attending the reflection of sunlight it is quite astonishing, under favorable atmospheric conditions, at what great distance the flash can be seen, bright and distinct as a planet, which in appearance it very much resembles. Only the clouds and intervening obstacles limit the possibilities of heliography. Equipped with the proper telescope and suitable mirrors and stationed at the requisite elevation, with favorable conditions of atmospheric, and there is practically no limit to the distance at which signalling can be carried on. A little consideration of certain facts will make the truth of this statement plainly apparent. The sun's rays reach the earth after travelling 92,000,000 miles. Striking a mirror simply alters their course, but makes very little difference in their energy, and hence it does not seem remarkable that they should preserve sufficient vital force to carry them a hundred or two hundred miles further. The moon, which is not perhaps the best reflector, projects the sun's rays to us from a distance of 232,000 miles. The discovery of the principle involved in heliography is as old as the time of Alexander the Great, whose fleet is said to have been piloted along the Persian Gulf by mirrors. The aborigines of North America long ago adopted the system of sun-flashing from polished surfaces, and the Russians made use of sun-telegraphy for important signalling at the siege of Sebastopol.

The two instruments generally used in heliography are the heliograph and the heliotrope. The latter is sometimes confounded with the heliostat, but a heliostat proper is an instrument operated by clockwork in such a way as to reflect the sun's rays in a fixed direction. By the use of this instrument the mirror is so adjusted that at a particular hour of the day, arranged beforehand, the light of the sun is reflected to the surveyor's station. The heliotrope, however, is operated by hand, and it is the instrument which, in its more or less improved forms, is used by Prof. Davidson in coast survey work. Heliotropes are usually placed upon a stand or table and adjusted to the distant signal station by the sights over the uprights. The centre ring is a trifle larger than one at the end, so that when the shadow of the centre rim shows upon the rim of the outer ring the flash may be said to be in focus, and when the sun is in front of the operator that is all there is to it. When the sun is in the rear, however, it is necessary to make use of another mirror; placing it where it will reflect the sun on to the heliotropic mirror and thence through the rings.

This creates a steady light which has already been described as like a bright star, but in order to keep it continuous the operator has to adjust the mirror every moment or two with his hand to conform to the motion of the earth. In triangulation the operator usually begins work at sunrise and keep his heliotrope in focus until the day's work is practically over. The triangulator, having that bright daylight star for his basis, has by that time been able to lay out considerable drawing, and he signals the heilotropist to shut up shop by passing his hat over the rays from his own instrument a given number of times. Each party on survey work prearranges its own signals. There is no regular code made use of in this work, but in the army it is quite different.

The heliotrope had been in use nearly half a century when, in the autumn of 1869, at the Jask telegraph station in Beloochistan, Henry C. Nance, now Sir Henry, adapted the principle of the heliotrope, or heliostat, to the modern instrument since then known as the heliograph. He conceived the idea of converting the fascicle of reflected sun's rays which had previously been regarded, in a signalling sense, as entirely passive, into active speaking agents. This he accomplished by adapting to a mirror the means of imparting to the reflections the character of pulsations of varied durations, in accordance with the Morse code. Nance's heliograph, as now perfected for field signalling, is the one now used in the United States army. The mirrors are not always of the same size. The greater the mirror the more powerful the flash. There are usually two tripods, one bearing the mirror to reflect the sun to the signalling mirror when necessary. The stand for the signalling mirror has a sighting bar, by means of which a perfect alignment can be made by looking through a hole made be scraping off a little of the silver from the centre of the back of the mirror. The obstruction is obtained by giving a small angular motion to the screen mirror, or shutter, causing the reflected beam to travel through twice the angle and completely disappear from the distant point. Its working is made very similiar to that of a Morse key. Several important improvements on the heliograph have been made by Lieut. John B. Finlay, United States army, now in charge of the weather bureau in this city, all of which are in practical use in the army signal corps. Lieut. Finlay has also published a manual for the use of the heliograph, from which a portion of the material for this article has been taken.—San Francisco Chronicle.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—Mme. Apparuti, formerly owner and editor of the fashion journal published at No. 7 Rue de Lille and for some time the female Worth of Paris, is dead in St. Petersburg. She was under arrest for manifold frauds.

Soon after her arrest she poured petroleum on her nightgown and set fire to it. She was severely burned, and was sent to the Evangelical Hospital for treatment. There a few days ago she clipped with scissors veins at the root of her tongue. She died on Tuesday.

About one hundred criminal charges were pending against Mme. Apparuti, and the Paris police were awaiting only her recovery from her burns to bring her from St. Petersburg to this city for trial. The amount which she was accused of obtaining by fraud was between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 francs.

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief." ⑦

Similar Cases.

There was once a little animal no bigger than a fox,
And on five toes he scampered over tertiary rocks;
They called him Eohippus, and they called him very small,
And they thought him of no value, when they thought of him at all;
For the lumpish Dinoceras and Coryphodont so slow
Were the heavy aristocracy in days so long ago.

Said the little Eohippus, "I'm going to be a horse
And on my middle finger-nails to run my earthly course;
I'm going to have a flowing tail, I'm going to have a mane;
I'm going to stand fourteen hands high on the Pay-chozoic plain."
The Coryphodont was horrified, the Dinoceras shocked,
And they chased young Eohippus, but he skipped away and mocked.

Then they laughed enormous laughs, and they groaned enormous groans,
And they bade young Eohippus go to view his father's bones;
Said they: "You always were as low and small as now we see,
And therefore it is evident you're always going to be."

"What! be a great, tall, handsome beast with hoofs to gallop on?
Why, you'd have to change your nature!" said the Foxiohipdyn.
Then they taunted him disposed of, and retired with guilt serene;
That was the way they argued in the early Eocene.

There was once an anthropoidal ape far smarter than the rest,
And everything that they could do he always did the best;
So they naturally disliked him and they gave him shoulders cool,
And when they had to mention him they said he was a fool.

Cried this pretentious ape one day, "I'm going to be a man,
And stand upright and hunt and fight and conquer all I can!
I'm going to cut down forest trees and make my houses higher,
I'm going to kill a mastodon! I'm going to build a fire."
Loud screamed the anthropoidal apes with laughter loud and gay:
Then tried to catch that boastful one, but he always got away.

So they yelled at him in chorus, which he minded not a whit,
And they pelted him with cocoanuts, which did not seem to hit,
And then they gave him reasons, which they deemed of much avail,
To prove how his preposterous attempt was sure to fail.

Said the sages: "In the first place the thing could not be done;
And secondly, if it could be, 'twould not be any fun;
Thirdly and most conclusive, and admitting no reply,
You would have to change your nature! We should like to see you try!"
They chuckled them triumphantly, those lean and hairy shapes,
For these things passed as arguments with anthropoidal apes.

There was once a neolithic man, an enterprising wight,
Who kept his simple instruments unusually bright,
Unusually clean he was, unusually brave,
And he sketched delightful mammoths on the borders of his cave.

To his neolithic neighbors, who were startled and surprised,
Said he, "My friends, in course of time we shall be civilized!
We are going to live in cities and build churches and make laws;
We are going to eat three times a day without the natural cause;
We are going to turn life upside down about a thing called gold;
We're going to want the earth and take as much as we can hold.
We're going to wear a pile of stuff outside our proper skins:
We're going to have diseases! and accomplishments!! and sins!!!"

Then they all rose up in fury against their boastful friend,
For prehistoric patience comes quickly to an end.
Said one: "This is a chimerical, utopian, absurd!"
Said another: "What a stupid life, too dull, upon my word."
Cried all: "Before such things can come, you idiotic child,
You must alter human nature!" Then they all sat back and smiled.
Thought they: "An answer to that last it will be hard to find."
It was a clinching argument to the neolithic mind.

RUSSIA'S CHOLERA PLAGUE.

Three Thousand Deaths Yesterday—And Nearly 7000 New Cases.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent says: "Since the hot spell set in numerous cases of cholera have occurred in various parts of Germany and several persons have died of the disease in Hamburg, but no cases of Asiatic cholera have been reported."

A Paris correspondent says the heat snapped a rail at the Bourget station yesterday, causing the telescooping of a train. The driver and stoker of the engine were killed.

A Vienna dispatch states that the heat has caused numerous forest fires and has injured the yield crops, especially in Hungary, but that the vintage prospects are very fine.

A Madrid correspondent says that in the majority of the provinces of Spain the vintage prospects are very good.

A despatch from Teheran says: "Cholera is increasing rapidly at Tabris, where the number of deaths has fallen to 60 daily. The epidemic is still severe in the neighborhood of Teheran. The vice-governor and his wife died yesterday. Several Europeans have died. The only trustworthy, independent estimate is that the deaths number from 800 to 900 daily."

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 23.—Official cholera returns show 6891 new cases and 3313 deaths throughout Russia yesterday.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Continental advices report a large increase in the deaths and prostrations owing to the extensive heat. Military manœuvres have been abandoned at Vienna, and in many places business is almost at a standstill. The water famine is spreading owing to the drying up of rivers and creeks.

T. P. O'CONNOR ON THE MINISTRY.

He Thinks That, on the Whole, Gladstone Has Chosen Wisely.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—T. P. O'Connor, M.P. for the Scotland division of Liverpool, in an article in his paper, the Sunday Sun, says:

"Most people not blinded by disappointment, agree that the new ministry is a very good government. This misfortune was, that there were only 36 places for 360 applicants. It is natural though inconsistent that Mr. Gladstone should be bidden to do a certain thing, and then be abused for doing it. He has put in new blood and is now assailed for giving young men undue importance.

"Mr. Asquith's appointment (Home Secretary) is especially criticized. Nevertheless, it is one of the best appointments. Mr. Asquith is one of the finest speakers in the House of Commons—certainly the finest in the ranks of the younger Liberalism, and we want a strong Treasury bench for the great fight we are entering upon—men able to hold their own with the Chamberlains, Goschens, Balfours and Churchills. Mr. Asquith's dazzling success is bound to create for him a rich harvest of jealousy and envy.

"Mr. Acland's appointment, vice-president of the Council on Education, has given unusual satisfaction.

"Arnold Morley has a difficult heritage in the postoffice, but I little doubt that his tenure of the office will be worthy of its best traditions.

"London is well represented in the Government, and the offices outside the Cabinet are well filled. Lord Rosebery, Foreign Secretary, is one of the strongest points in the Administration.

"We must all regret the exclusion of Mr. Labouchere. No man has done harder work for Liberalism. He was too old and true a friend of Home Rule in the days of stress, darkness and isolation to desire to defeat it now. It is a fatal policy for those interested in monarchism to allow a member's action with regard to the civil list to interfere with his official prospects.

"Before many days a royal commission will be announced to enquire into the situation of evicted tenants in Ireland. It would have been announced earlier but for the opposition to the Morleys in Newcastle."

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE DORENWEND
ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only Legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an Independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SEXUAL DISEASES, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and contains the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy them; but if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment as mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. 6d4 w

THE LABOUCHERE BROIL

THE QUEEN WOULD NOT HAVE HIM IN THE MINISTRY.

The Editor of Truth Was Asked To Write a Letter To Gladstone Saying That He Would Not Accept Office, But He Refused - He Can Now Be Baron Taunton If He Wishes.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Gen. Pousonby, the Queen's Private Secretary, in conveying to Mr. Gladstone Her Majesty's command to form a ministry, stipulated that Mr. Labouchere should not be selected to fill any post in the Government. Mr. Labouchere was implored to get Gladstone out of the difficulty by writing a letter declaring he would not accept office, as he wished to remain independent. This Mr. Labouchere declined to do. Overtures have since been made to him to accept the title of Baron Taunton.

Rumors of Gladstone's Retirement.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Chronicle says: "There is a strange rumor afloat that Mr. Gladstone will retire from office in the spring; also that a Harcourt party and a Rosebery-Spencer party already exist a Lords party versus a Commons party."

Labby Speaks His Mind.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Mr. Labouchere had in yesterday's Truth a crisp account of the circumstances of his exclusion from the Government. He says he never thought of seeking office; that he never asked a minister for anything, and that he does not contemplate ever doing so. Mr. Labouchere proceeds to say: "An emissary informed me, presumably a quid pro quo, that Mr. Gladstone would always be glad to consult me on public affairs."

After asking why it should be suggested to him to write a letter renouncing office, he says: "I certainly understood that the Queen had in some way led Mr. Gladstone to arrive at the act that my joining the Government would not please her."

Assuming that the Queen had expressed such a sentiment, Mr. Labouchere says he thinks it is to be regretted that he may not have seen eye to eye with the Queen in all matters; but admits that he always regarded her as strictly constitutional.

His interpretation of the constitution is, he says, that the Queen selects the Premier and leaves him a free hand in the choice of colleagues. He (Labouchere) might or might not have accepted office if it had been offered. As the thing is gone, he thanks heaven that, come what may, his head and ears are safe under Queen Victoria. Radical approbation weighs more with him "than that of all the emperors empresses, kings, queens, lords and lickspittals in the universe, so that the good ship democracy sails prosperously into Joppa." He says: "I care not whether my berth is in the officers' quarters or in the forecastle."

Continuing, he says that although his friends urged him not to refuse office he liked his independence, and did not like the trammels of office.

With reference to the Queen's prejudice he says: "If the matter had been a purely personal one the slightest hint that a lady did not wish me to enjoy the privilege of kissing her hand would have been sufficient, but in this case I think there is something more involved."

Disestablishment in Wales.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Stuart Rendell, Gladstonian member of the House of Commons for Montgomeryshire, Wales, as chairman of the Welsh party, will introduce in parliament a bill fixing the date after which no vested interest can be created in Welsh dioceses. This measure is a forerunner to a bill disestablishing the Church in Wales.

Mr. Chaplin's Successor.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Mr. Herbert Colstoun Gardner, M.P. for the Saffron-Walden Division of Essex, has been appointed president of the Board of Agriculture, the position held by the Right Hon. Henry Chaplin in Lord Salisbury's Cabinet.

Cholera Returns.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—The official cholera returns show 6806 new cases and 3429 deaths throughout Russia yesterday. Owing to the fact that many places where the disease is prevalent are not connected with the capitals of the provinces by telegraph, it is thought that even official reports are far from giving the true condition of affairs.

Not satisfactory.

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—The Independent (Parnellite) says the assurances given yesterday by Mr. Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, to the deputation from the Cork County evicted tenants association are not sufficient. Though expressing solicitude for evicted tenants he hesitates to pronounce the order of restoration or restitution.

Offers $8 Apiece for Human Heads.

TANGIER, Aug. 24.—The negotiations between the Sultan's officials and the leader of the Angheria tribes, looking to the submission of the latter, have been broken off by order of the Sultan. The Sultan has directed that a grand attack be made upon the Angheria and to stimulate his troops he has offered $4 for every prisoner they secure and $8 for every head they bring into their camp.

A BRIDGE COLLAPSES

Twenty-Nine Persons Injured in a Railway Wreck in France.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—Further particulars regarding the railway accident on the bridge over the River Orb, between Beziers and Cessenon, show that it was due to the negligence of the railway company in not having the bridge properly inspected. It is now clear that the accident was due to the rotten condition of the sleepers, which were unable to support the weight of the train. When the decayed sleepers gave way the engine ran for a short distance and then turned on its side. The carriages piled upon each other and made a mass of wreckage from which it was impossible for the passengers to escape unaided.

The scene was a dreadful one, the cries and groans of the injured being heartrending. As soon as help arrived the work of clearing away the wreckage was proceeded with as rapidly as possible. The removal of the dead and injured was accomplished with great difficulty. Five bodies were taken from the wrecked cars, and 29 persons were found to be severely injured.

THE INVASION OF THE PAMIR.

The Ameer Calls Upon the British for Assistance.

SIMLA, Aug. 24.—The Ameer of Afghanistan is so busy endeavoring to suppress the revolt among the Hazaras that he has no time to defend the territory in the Pamirs against the Russians. Hearing that they will seize upon part of the Pamir region that belongs to Afghanistan, the Ameer has asked the Government of India to intervene to prevent Russian aggression in the Pamir country. It is believed here that the Russians mean to seize upon the Pamirs, and that the movement to take possession of the country will be timed with reference to political factors both in Central Asia and Western Europe.

Blew His Brains Out.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A youth named West, 18 years of age, residing in Kensington, wanted on a charge of robbery, fled to the roof of the house. His father and two pursuers followed him. Young West saw them coming and drawing a revolver he fired at them, but the bullets embedded themselves in the roof.

The three men had just reached the roof when young West turned his weapon against himself and blew his brains out.

Russian Exploration

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Standard's Shanghai correspondent says: "In reply to the Chinese protest, Russia declares the Russian expedition under Col. Yanoff is simply exploring and does not intend to occupy the Pamirs."

BEECHAM'S PILLS for a bad liver.

ITCHING AND BURNING

Sores All Over Her Body. Suffering Endless. Doctor Useless. Cured in 4 Weeks by Cuticura.

Your most valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES have done my little girl so much good that I feel like saying this for the benefit of those who are troubled with skin diseases. She was troubled with itching, burning sores. When I took her to the doctor the first time, he called it the Italian itch, and said he would cure her in two weeks. When the two weeks were up, he called it eczema, and in that time she was worse than before. He doctored her for three months, and she was so bad that we did not know what to do. He did not do her any good. I saw the advertisement of CUTICURA REMEDIES in the paper, and I said to my wife, "I am going to try them." Mind what I say, she was so thick with sores that we had to soak her clothes to take them off. Itch! there was no end to it. She had it all over her body, back, legs, arms, in between her fingers. She did not have it on her head. But after taking your CUTICURA REMEDIES for two weeks the itch stopped, and in four weeks the sores were all gone. I enclose her portrait. I am more than pleased with your CUTICURA REMEDIES, as they speedily cured my daughter, and if anybody asks me about your remedies, I will uphold them wherever I go. CHARLES M. GRONEL,
Conshohocken, Montgomery County, Pa.

THE STRIKE CALLED OFF

DECLARED AT AN END BY THE LEADERS.

Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Refused to Attend the Conference and the Other Chiefs Told Mr. Sweeney That They Could Not Help Him, Hence the Result.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 25.—The conference of the chiefs of the railway men's orders lasted nearly four hours, adjourning about 7 o'clock. Messrs. Sargent, Wilkinson and Clark were a unit in stating that their respective bodies could not participate in the strike without grievances of their own. Grand Master Sweeney being thus left to the resources of his own order hastened to a conference with the local leaders of the Switchmen's Union, and a conference, which lasted until midnight, resulted in the strike being officially "declared off" by Grand Master Sweeney.

Strikers Return to Work.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 25.—The striking switchmen here have returned to work on a promise from Superintendent Gould that he would endeavor to have their grievances remedied.

Delayed by the Strike.

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—The steamer Boston for Liverpool did not sail yesterday as scheduled, the strike at Buffalo having delayed the shipment of cattle, with which the steamer was to be loaded.

Another Tunnel At the Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Aug. 25.—President Edward Adams and other officials of the Cataract Construction Company, with Dr. Coleman Sellers of Philadelphia; Clemens Herschel and John Bogart of New York, George B. Burbank and Albert H. Porter of this city, constituting the Board of Engineers, have made an inspection of the tunnel and upper works. Prof. George Forbes, the electrical engineer, and Prof. W. C. Unwin, the hydraulic engineer, of London, Eng., are also on the ground.

It has been decided to develop the Canadian falls by means of another tunnel, and the electrical transmission of power to Buffalo. It will be 800 feet long. The American tunnel will be ready for use in October.

HE CAST AWAY HIS SHIP.

The Captain of the Three Brothers Held for Barratry.

HALIFAX, Aug. 25.—Several weeks ago schooner Seven Brothers, commanded by Warren Baker of Jeddore, left here for Port Hood, N.S., with a cargo consisting of flour, paints and oils and sundry packages of merchandise. A few days after leaving here word was received that the schooner had got ashore near Collins' Harbor, Whitehead, and would be a total wreck. She was insured in Canadian agencies for $600 and there was $650 on the cargo in Nova Scotia Marine Underwriters. Agent Capt. Anderson was sent to the scene of the disaster to arrange about the saving of the cargo. When he arrived at the wreck and inspected her, he found there was not more than half the quantity of flour on board that had been shipped, and on questioning the captain he could get no satisfactory explanation. Capt. Anderson had what there was on board landed and sold for the benefit of the underwriters and then returned to the city. He reported to the insurance officers that there appeared to be something crooked about the affair, but there was not sufficient grounds on which to work up a case.

Some days afterwards information was received by the underwriters from men on the eastern shore stating that parts of cargo of the Seven Brothers, principally flour, had been landed at various points on the coast between Jeddore and Whitehead, and it was rumored that the schooner had afterwards been cast away. At this point Detective Power was engaged to work up the case and bring the guilty parties to justice. After several visits down the eastern shore in company with Captain Anderson, the detective located some of the flour and arrested one of the crew, who gave the snap away, telling where the cargo had been landed and who were in the ring. After some searching, Captain Baker was finally arrested and is now in custody. It is said several respectable men on the coast are implicated and will be brought to book.

Warren Baker, captain of the Seven Brothers, was to-day before Stipendiary Griffin on a charge of breaking bulk, stealing barrels of flour and casting away the vessel. The matter stands over till Saturday next.

A Bubble Has Burst.

HAMILTON, Aug. 25.—During the past few months N. Hucker, jr., a commission merchant doing business in Buffalo, has had dealings with E. Berlowitz, a fruit merchant of Toronto, but experiencing some difficulty when the time for settling up accounts arrived, he went to Toronto to see Berlowitz. The total amount of his indebtedness to Berlowitz was $1117, but credits and payments of one kind and another brought that amount down to $450. Hucker had but $350 with him and tendered him that in payment of the account. Berlowitz wanted payment in full, however, and Hucker, finding he could arrive at no settlement with his creditor, started for home. On the way he stopped off here, and on Monday night he was arrested at the Royal Hotel on a capias order issued at the instance of Berlowitz, who thought he was going to try to evade payment of the account. Nesbitt, Bicknell & Gauld were retained by the defendant, and proceedings were begun before Judge Muir this morning to set aside the capias. The investigation of the affair was postponed until to-morrow. In the meantime Hucker is in custody of Sheriff's Officer Stewart.

Supposed to be Crude Petroleum.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—In Battleford district excitement has been created by the discovery of what is said to be crude petroleum. Prospecting parties have been out for some time and the liquid discovered has been sent east to be assayed. Should it prove of good quality a company will at once be formed with the object of developing springs. One of the curious discoveries of the prospectors was a burning coal mine emitting no smoke, but the heat of the earth being so great in the vicinity that the explorers were unable to walk on its surface. An immense cavern on the side of a hill shows where a large seam of coal has taken fire and gradually penetrated the earth.

THE AMEER SEEKS HELP

AGAINST RUSSIAN ADVANCE IN THE PAMIRS.

He Appeals To the Indian Government For Aid—The Great Northern Power Does Not Seem to Make Any Calculation of Chinese Opposition, But the Chinese Will Fight.

SIMLA, Aug. 25.—The Ameer of Afghanistan sends an appeal to the Indian Government to aid him against the Russians.

It is thought that Russia's object is to first assert her right to Shingan by occupying it and driving out the Afghans, who have taken possession of the place, and to turn the Chinese position in Kashgar. Russia for some reason seems to make no calculation upon Chinese opposition to her plans.

Professor Arminius Vambery, the well-known traveler, recently expressed the opinion that the Ameer of Afghanistan would eventually appeal to the English for assistance against Russian aggression, and his prediction has been borne out by the fact.

The Novosti of St. Petersburg, commenting upon this prediction, declared that Russia could not permit the occupation of Afghanistan by Great Britain. The paper added that if Afghanistan was merely a buffer for Great Britain it behooves Russia to see that internal affairs in Afghanistan do not threaten to interfere with the economic development of the trans-Caspian provinces.

The reply of the Indian Government to the Ameer's request is anxiously looked for.

A correspondent of The London Times says: "If Russia were to encourage Ishak Khan to come forward as a rival to Abdurrahman it would be a distinct act of hostility, which is not consistent with the friendly relations now existing between the two countries. Let us remember that Ayoob Khan found no support from Russia at the time he escaped from Teheran and attempted a coup d'etat at Herat.

"Professor Vambery, possessing, as he does, exceptional means of information and an intimate knowledge of the subject under discussion, may be right in suspecting Russian intrigues among the Chahar Aimak and the Hazaras, but if it is so, and if Russia were, while pushing her troops forward across the Pamirs toward the Hindu Kush, to at the same time encourage Ishak Khan to take advantage of the reported rising among the Usbegs of Afghan Turkestan, such conduct would be too much, perhaps, for even the tolerant policy of the coming Cabinet. It is more than doubtful if Russia is at this moment desirous of a rupture with England. At the same time, we must admit the opportuneness and relevance of M. Vambery's reference to the 'ambiguous services' that the Russians have always proved ready to render to their good friend, Mr. Gladstone.'"

Sudden Death at Seaforth.

SEAFORTH, Ont., Aug. 25.—James McClure, aged 25, son of Mr. George McClure of the township of McKellop, near this town, who had been in poor health for some time, died very suddenly yesterday of heart failure. Deceased had been in the orchard a short time, and on returning to the house sat down on the doorstep and was in the act of eating an apple when he suddenly fell over and immediately expired.

Robbers Make a Big Haul.

VAN BUREN, Ark., Aug. 25.—James S. Wilson, agent of the Kansas and Arkansas Valley railroad at Nowata, Indian Territory, and two others were held up and robbed Monday night by three men supposed to be members of the Dalton gang. About $41,000 in cash was secured, one-third of it being the personal property of Wilson, the remainder belonging to the railroad and express companies.

The Iron Hall Fraud.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 25.—Supreme Cashier Davies was yesterday ordered to make an assignment to Receiver Failey of all the funds in the custody of the local order of the Iron Hall. All branches complying with the order will be accounted in good standing. Supreme Justice Somerby disappeared last evening soon after the receiver was appointed and has not been seen since.

Broke the Record.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 25.—F. J. Berlo rode two miles on Hampden Park yesterday in 4.48 2-5, breaking the world's record of 4.48 4-5, made by Taylor last fall.

Reduced Cattle Freights.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—Cattle freights took a drop of 20 shillings yesterday, the boats going out at 30 shillings to Liverpool. This is the lowest figure ever accepted by the steamships, and is due partially to the bad state of the English market and partially to the fact that the combine between the three big steamship companies to keep up rates is broken.

Convicts to Return to the Mines.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 25.—The Board of Prison Inspectors have just decided to return the convicts to the mines at once.

FLAME SWEPT CALLAO.

A Disastrous Fire in the Peruvian City—

CALLAO, via GALVESTON, Tex., Aug. 25.—Another fire broke out early yesterday in the Hotel Italia, which is opposite the American Consulate. It was fully 45 minutes before the firemen could get water on the flames, which in the meantime had gained great headway in the old wooden structure and spread to other buildings.

After the firemen had been at work for some little time the water gave out owing, it is said, to the cutting of the hose at several points.

The building of the Chilian and English Steamship Company caught fire and was totally destroyed, as were several other stores and business places.

The valuable records in the American Consulate were carried over the roofs of buildings to a place of safety. A favorable wind saved the Consular building, with but slight damage.

The records and part of the furniture of the steamship company were carried into the street, but they were destroyed by the water and being trampled by the crowd.

A number of marines from the British war ship Garnet, which was in port, were landed and gave much help to the firemen. They used gun cotton to prevent the spread of the flames and saved some of the best houses in the block.

The loss is estimated at about 250,000 sols and is divided between about 20 firms. One fireman was fatally injured.

LABOUCHERE NOT ASKED

TO TAKE A POSITION IN GLADSTONE'S CABINET.

Farmer Atkinson Makes a Poor Run Against Sir William Vernon-Harcourt—Gladstone Re-elected by Acclamation in Midlothian — He Will Not Retire From Office.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Associated Press representative here learns that Mr. Gladstone has sent a letter to Mr. Labouchere saying that he alone is responsible for not presenting Mr. Labouchere's name, and his reasons for not appointing Mr. Labouchere in no wise reflect on Mr. Labouchere's public career or services.

The Home Rule Bill.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Chronicle yesterday gives the following as the main lines of the Home Rule bill as believed to have been agreed upon between Messrs. Gladstone, McCarthy and Dillon:

First—That the present land legislation shall not be disturbed for five years;

Second—That the police and justiciary shall be in the hands of an Irish Parliament.

Third—That the balance of the Irish Church Fund shall be at the disposal of the Irish Legislature.

Fourth—That the English Receiver-General of the bill of 1886 be dispensed with.

Fifth—That on the other hand there shall be only one customs department, and that the Irish Parliament shall not have power to levy separate duties.

Sixth—That the only veto shall be the Royal veto, to be exercised on the advice of the English Ministry.

Seventh—That thirty Irish members shall be retained at Westminster.

The Chronicle believes that Mr. Gladstone abandoned with great reluctance the idea of a Receiver-General in deference to the wishes of the McCarthyites.

The London World on Mr. Blake.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The World (Conservative) yesterday comes out with what may be termed a really denunciatory article regarding Mr. Blake and his appearance in Imperial politics.

The World, after reviewing Mr. Blake's political career in Canada, proceeds to compare his line of action with that of the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, his predecessor in the leadership of the Canadian Liberal party. As might have been expected, the comparison is much against Mr. Blake. "Hon. Alexander Mackenzie," says The World, "never deviated from his fixed principles. Mr. Blake, on the contrary, trimmed his sails in an endeavor to catch the wind of popular appreciation. Mr. Blake, though a Protestant, resembles in every way the typical Irish Catholic. Although a Canadian, Mr. Blake when active in the politics of the Dominion put more value on the Irish vote than any other. Long before he left the Canadian Parliament he had completely failed to command the confidence of his Irish fellow Protestants. His presence in the Imperial Parliament as an Irish Nationalist is designed to capture the Canadian Irish vote for the Liberal party. Mr. Blake is not especially anxious that Ireland should receive self-government. The letter to the Liberals of West Durham, which Mr. Blake addressed on the eve of last election did not indicate a high order of patriotism."

Harcourt Re-Elected.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt was re-elected by an increased majority, receiving 6308 votes, against 1619 for Farmer Atkinson. In the recent general election Sir William received 7507 votes and his Conservative opponent 5546. With the exception of Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Mr. John Morley all the new ministers have been formally re-elected without opposition. Mr. Gladstone was re-elected yesterday by acclamation.

Gladstone Will Not Retire.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—In response to inquiries as to the truth of the rumor mentioned by The Chronicle yesterday to the effect that Mr. Gladstone would retire from office in the spring, Mr. Gladstone telegraphs from Hawarden that the whole story is utterly groundless.

The Queen to Go to Balmoral.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Queen will on Monday leave Osborne House and proceed to Balmoral, her castle in the Highlands, where she will remain for three months.

THE HOT WAVE IN EUROPE.

VIENNA, Aug. 25.—Eighteen deaths were caused by the heat in this city yesterday. While a regiment was marching from Kaschan to Borsod 250 soldiers were prostrated by the heat and three died. Rain is falling in Hungary last night.

Deaths in Berlin.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—The thermometer registered 89 degrees in the shade yesterday. Many deaths from sunstroke were reported. The heat in East Prussia is more intense. The mercury rose to 95 degrees in Thorn to-day and five deaths were reported there as due to the heat. The fruit and vegetable crops have been ruined. Fifty soldiers were prostrated by the heat in Dantzic yesterday.

The Panama Canal.

PARIS, Aug. 25.—The newspaper Paris says that the liquidator of the Panama Canal Company has concluded an agreement with M. Hielard, the vice-president of the Paris Chamber of Commerce, providing for the formation of a new company with a capital of $30,000,000, to resume work on the Panama Canal. Work will be resumed immediately in order to prevent the lapsing of the concession granted to the old company by the Government of Colombia.

Suffering in Hungary.

BUDA PEST, Aug. 25.—A hot wave of tropical intensity is traversing Galicia and is causing much suffering. Notwithstanding the hot weather the military manœuvres are being held at Fuenkirchen. Yesterday while a regiment was marching in the manœuvres one-third of its members were overcome by the heat and dropped helpless by the roadside.

THURSDAY, AUGUST, 25. 1892.

Lakefield.

(From Our Own Corespondent.)

Court Lakefield, No. 43, C.O.F. meet in their hall on Thursday evening.

Major and Mrs. Leigh, former well known residents of Lakefield, were in the village on Tuesday and went up to spend a couple of weeks at Reeve Casement's cottage, Stony Lake.

In compliance with a request from the village ratepayers, the reeve has appointed Wednesday as Lakefield's civic holiday.

The village council will meet next Monday evening in the council chamber to strike the rate of taxes for the year. As it is not likely there will be any regular meeting in September, all who have business with the council should attend.

Hilliard's drive of logs passed over the dam on Tuesday, there only remains Mr. Hazlit's to finish up the season's operations above Lakefield.

Mr. Harry, Carter, a former resident, but now of Pittsburg, Pa., was in the village Monday with a friend, and like all our visitors made his way up the lakes for a week's camp.

Harvesting is well advanced in this section. The bright warm days of the past few weeks have enabled the farmers to get the bulk of their grain in, and only a few late oats are now out.

The passenger traffic up the lakes still continues large, and all the cottages are occupied. The weather has been delightful and everyone seems to enjoy themselves. The fishing is improving with the cool nights, and large strings of bass and lunge are daily reported from the different camps.

Mr. Jones is pushing operations at the quarry on Eagle Mount. A scow load of paving blocks comes down every second day by the Mary Ellen, and as soon as her passenger traffic falls off a second scow will be put on and kept up as long as navigation remains open.

Numerous complaints come from the lake in regard to camping parties. One gentleman had over an acre of the choicest part of his island destroyed by fire a few days since, which had been started by a camping party. Dead fish are left to stink out the place, trees are cut down, lumber burned up, etc. The result is that those who used to welcome campers on their islands are now putting up notices forbidding camping or trespassing. So campers can blame themselves if they are turned off in future.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. S. B. Harrison while out driving with his son, Dr. Harrison, last week had the misfortune while passing a threshing machine or rather a narrow piece of road, to be precipitated into the ditch and fracture his left arm. We trust that he will speedily recover from his injury.

Most of the farmers in this vicinity will complete harvesting during this week, providing the weather remains favourable. A number of farmers have threshed part of their crop to make room for the remainder, and report the yield to be above the average of last year's crop.

The members of the Presbyterian choir of this place purpose to hold their annual excursion and picnic on Wednesday, 31st inst. We trust that the excursion will be well patronized and prove a decided success.

According to Mrs. Grundy the probabilities are that we shall be favoured with several weddings in this neighbourhood at no distant date.

The members of the Christian Endeavour are endeavouring to do a grand work for the cause of Christ in this place. We wish them God's blessing in the noble work and trust that the young people will attend and take an interest in the meeting each Tuesday evening.

Origin of Lacrosse.

It was not until 1843 that the game was adopted by the Canadians. At first it did not attract much attention, and not until some twenty years afterwards did the young white men begin to see the advantages of the game, at which time (about 1860) Montreal introduced it as a recognized sport or pastime. From that time the rise and development of the game may be chronicled. The first properly organized club came into existence in 1860 under the name of the Montreal La Crosse Club; and this proved to be the pioneer of numerous similar organizations throughout Canadadom. Very soon afterwards a convention was called which resulted in the formation of the "National La Crosse Association of Canada," an organization to which the game owes more for its growth than to any other body.

It was not long before the game was carried over the borders, for the Americans were not slow to perceive its chief features—the skill and science necessary to play it, and the physical development attendant upon practice therein—and the "Amateur La Crosse Association of the United States" was the outcome. This body went to pieces after a lingering existence, and was succeeded by the "Eastern Association of Amateur La Crosse Players," which is at the present time in a flourishing condition, each year the clubs included in its membership playing a series of games for the championship."

A Percy Pioneer Passes Away.

Another one of Percy's oldest settlers, in the person of Mrs T. Driscoll, passed away edneaday of last week. The deceased was born in Cork, Ireland, in 1815, and with her relatives came to Canada in 1842, settling in Picton. Two years later she was married to Mr. Driscoll, the newly-wedded couple immediately removing to Percy township, where they located on lot 12, in the 8th con. and made their home. About five years ago the deceased lady was grievously afflicted by the loss of her eyesight, and from which her health became impaired, and she gradually pined away until death relieved life's sufferings. A bereaved husband and sorrowing daughter survive. The funeral took place on Thursday last to the R. C. cemetery, Asphodel, the sympathy of the entire community being evinced by the large cortege (over one hundred teams) which escorted the remains to the final home.—Hastings Star.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood diseases.

Well Done Laurier!

The Toronto News a Tory organ with glimmerings of fair play in its make-up, thus refers to Hon. Mr. Laurier's address at the St. Jean Baptist celebration in Quebec:—The speech delivered by Mr. Laurier at Quebec yesterday was, considering the circumstances, the best of his life. Surrounded by French Canadians, and in the presence of officers of the French navy, there was every temptation to appeal to the nationalism peculiar to Quebec. But the Opposition leader remembered his duty and counselled his fellow countrymen not to isolate themselves but to become one with their fellow Canadians. Well done, Laurier!

Manitoba Prohibition Majority

It was a liberal estimate that gave the prohibitionists a majority of fourteen thousand in Manitoba. All the returns are not in yet, but, so far as heard from, the plebiscite carried by 9,600. The total vote cast was 20,951. The aggregate vote polled in the political contest was 29,580. There were therefore many thousands who went to the poll, but did not mark their ballots on the subject of prohibition. If all these non-voters are counted against the plebiscite, it still has a majority, though a narrow one.

Cure for Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents package. dw

The Worst Form.

DEAR SIRS,—About three years ago I was troubled with dyspepsia in its worst form, neither food nor medicine would stay on my stomach, and it seemed impossible to get relief. "Dear me, those are the most beautiful photographs I ever saw."

"Yes, they certainly are very fine and elegantly finished, besides, they are permanent."

"Do they cost more than before."

"No, not to us, though the material is much more expensive, yet Mr. Sprouls believes in having the best obtainable. He says nothing is too good for his patrons, and these certainly bear out his statements; and his studio, is so convenient—no stairs to climb yourself, nor have you any fear about the children."

"Yes, I have heard about the ground floor studio being so convenient,—but those photographs."

"Will you come down with me to-morrow to Charlotte street? I must have some."

A Great Game is Expected.

The citizens of Peterborough will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the best games of baseball that has been played here this season, on Wednesday afternoon next. The struggle will take place on the P.A.A.A. grounds, and it is the return match of the crack "Maple Leafs" of Belleville with the Peterboroughs. The home team will put up the best local nine possible and endeavour if possible to retrieve the glory which they lost at Belleville on civic holiday.

Sentenced to Two Months in Gaol.

George Covert, of Belmont, who was charged with stealing a yoke of oxen from Mr. W. J. Melville of the same place on June 30th, was brought up before Judge Weller yesterday afternoon. The young man chose a summary trial and pleaded guilty. The judge administered some good counsel to the prisoner for the enormity of his crime and trusted that this would be his last offence. His Honor then sentenced Covert to two months imprisonment in the county gaol.

Something Worth Inspecting.

If parties looking for something to please the eye in the dry goods line, would just look at Mr. J J. Sheehy's windows, as they pass up or down George street they would be well pleased for their trouble. In one will be found, (we venture to say,) the most complete line of black goods to be had in any store in the province. The goods are just fresh from the manufacturer's loom and comprise the choicest brands of English, German, and French manufacture. As to the price, they are marked in plain figures. The other window presents a loudly effect, trimmed with the latest tints of shot silks. This class of goods are among the newest things for trimmings and for ladies' waists are, to use an every day phrase, "just the thing."

A Change of Business.

Mr. C. N. Brown, for the past two years the efficient manager of Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow's wholesale and retail flour store on Hunter street, has purchased the business and will hereafter conduct it. Mr. Brown has been an employee of Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow for a number of years and during that period while he has had charge of the wholesale and retail department of their business, he has won many friends, by his obliging disposition and strict attention to business, who will wish him every success and prosperity in his new venture. Mr. Brown trusts that the many old customers of this well-known firm will still bestow upon him a share of their patronage, and he would like to see as many new ones as possible. He will, as in the past, keep constantly on hand all the best grades of flour, pressed hay, straw, oats, peas, bran, shorts, pork, etc., and is prepared to give the best satisfaction to all those who favour him with their patronage.

The Golden Eye Raised.

The Kingston Whig says:—Mr. J. Donnelly, jr., returning from Peterborough after raising the grounded steamer, "Golden Eye," says:—"The vessel almost entirely escaped damage. The cause of the accident was her being loaded near the shore and settling on a rock which stove in one of the planks. The boat is now in the dry dock and will be out in a few days." The Golden Eye is a side wheel steamer. Mr. Donnelly made quick time in raising the vessel. The accident occurred on the Otonabee River thirteen miles from Peterborough.

Last Night's Severe Storm.

Rain fell in torrents last night. The downpour began shortly after 8 o'clock and continued until early morning almost continuously. At 8 o'clock vivid flashes of lightning shot incessantly across the heavens. This was accompanied by terrific claps of thunder. About 8 o'clock there was a wicked shot of electric fluid followed by a thunderous crash. It aroused hundreds of people from their neglige airs and stimulated the active to greater emotion. The electric flash struck the large turret on Mr. Bradburn's opera house block near the weather vane. It shivered a large slab from one of the posts and sent it whirling to the sidewalk below in a thousand pieces. A large iron brace on the inside of the tower was also twisted from its position and hurled to the ground with violent force. No other damage was done to the building, although it is a marvel that the place did not take fire. Mr. W. J. Morrow was sitting in his grocery at the time enjoying a cigar. He distinctly felt the shock and was stupified for a few seconds. When he recognized that he was not hurt he found the cigar laying in the street some twenty feet away. How it got there is a mystery. Some of the pieces of wood torn from the Bradburn tower was hurled in front of F. Feiren's billiard parlors. Mr. Feiren also picked up an iron cross bar supporting two glass tubes which had been torn from an electric light pole. Many persons on the opposite side of the street from the opera house felt the shock quite plainly and some were completely dazed for a few moments. Manager Knapman, of the Bell Telephone Company, reports that the wires and batteries of the company were in no way touched during the progress of the storm.

Plenty of Room Now for Customers.

Messrs Micklenburg and Vineberg, the two energetic proprietors of the now well known Montreal Clothing House, yesterday, in order to meet the ever growing demands of their numerous customers and to provide ample accommodation for their large and well assorted stock of ready made clothing, moved from their former place of business, 342 George street, to the handsome, large and commodious premises formerly occupied by Mr. Jas. Best, at 390 George street. Especially for the Montreal Clothing House many extensive repairs and sweeping alterations were made in their new quarters. In the front new doors have been erected together with large new sidelights and outside in front of the large plate glass fronts are two nice signs bearing those symbollic words "Montreal Clothing House." Entering the large shop the visitors are impressed with the cleanliness, brightness and roominess of the place. The premises have been handsomely papered, the woodwork renewed and stained in birch, presenting a most attractive appearance, while the place from front to rear has been newly floored. On the left handsome shelves suitable for exhibiting the immense stock of clothing upon them to its best advantage, have been erected. A new and comfortable office has been placed in the rear. It is highly ornamented with checkered glass and stained in a light colour. Two glass doors, finished in oak, and two large arced windows just put in, allow a flood of light to radiate the premises from the rear, which are one of the brightest and most inviting in town. A neat stairway, surrounded by a pretty hardwood balaster, leads to the upper flats from the southwest corner of the shop. The entire length of the Montreal Clothing House's new premises is 70 feet by 23 wide. This enterprising firm also nee the two large flats above of the same dimensions for storing their mammoth stock. The ten cherry tables along the middle of the floor are piled mountains high with ready-made clothing of the latest make, best quality and at cheapest prices. Two arc electric lights have been placed in the premises, one at the front and the other in the centre of the establishment, so that the premises and large stock are as brilliantly lighted by electricity at night as old Sol himself through the numerous windows lights it up by day. In addition to ready-made clothing Messrs. Micklenburg & Vineberg deal extensively in gentlemen's furnishings and hats and caps. The firm in its new premises will be glad to welcome their hundreds of old customers as well as scores of new ones, in their new home, and send them away happy with good value for their money.

Interred in the Douro Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Allen Talbot took place this morning from her home in Douro to the Douro cemetery and was largely attended. Her remains arrived in Peterborough yesterday morning. Mrs. Talbot, whose husband died about a year ago leaves a family of several grown up children. The balls were recovered by the Chief of Police and Mr. Cavanagh, confined in a hollow log in a woods near Keene on Saturday last. Mr. E. B. Stone appeared for the defendant and Mr. E. E. Wood represented the Crown. The evidence of several witnesses was taken and the case proved to be a lengthy one. The testimonies of some of the witnesses was quite conflicting and on the evidence given the magistrate dismissed Bell with a few words of counsel. Mr. Cavanagh was unable to identify the balls recovered by Chief Ronsel as the set lost by him.

Gough Bros. Have Got the Drop

On the Establishmentary Harness of the Rising Generation.

The clothing of young Canada is a wreck after the wear and tear—especially tear—of two months holiday, and the question of re-clothing the young scourges, is a serious question where the boys are numerous. Gough Bros. are standing, ready, with outstretched arms filled with boys clothing to fill the gap. They have got the drop on two thousand and thirty boys suits purchased at a big drop in price, and they will be sold at a corresponding drop. Never did such bargains confront young Canada in choice, well made suits. Now just note the snap—note the drop—suits for boys of all ages—from four to twelve—sized up and averaged at the tremendously low price of $2 20 per suit. Cheap as the "naked pelt." Proud mother of your fine boy, will you let him go shabby when a splendid suit can be got at Gough Bros for $2 50? Call at Gough Bros and send "the little man" to school "dressed like a little gentleman" and for only $2 50.

A Visit From the High Secretary.

The four local courts of the Canadian order of Foresters' held a union meeting last night in the Foresters' hall on Simcoe street, to extend a welcome to their High Secretary, Bro. Thos. White, of Brantford, who accompanied by his daughters, the Misses White, arrived in town last evening on a holiday tour. Bro. White, who is exceedingly popular with all the brethren all over the Dominion, gave an interesting half hours' address on Forestry, its fraternal and beneficiary effects, its growth, history and rapid development in all parts of the world. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was moved the High Secretary for his kindly visit and instructive and exhaustive address. He accompanied the Foresters' excursion around the Lakes to-day.

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the

Premises Large and Elegant

Such Fact Mr. C. B. Routley, the Enterprising George Street Business Man—New Departments Added and Improvements Made.

The finishing touches have just been made to Mr. C. B. Routley's large shop on George street. The joiner had laid down his tools, the paper-hanger removed his paste and the painter had ceased to ply a brush. Everything in the interior is now as complete and nice as anyone could desire no matter how exacting their tastes might be or how hard their dispositions to please. The entire length of Mr. Routley's enlarged and renovated premises is 114 feet, extending the whole depth of the block, by 22 feet wide. The shop has been extended just 74 feet, giving the proprietor some 1,628 square feet additional room. Mr. Routley also occupies two immense flats above the ground floor for storing goods. Their dimensions are 60x22. In order that some idea may be given the reader of the vast extent and large proportions of the rooms occupied by Mr. Routley, it may be stated that his total flooring space is no less than 5,148 square feet, and every inch of this amount is covered with stock of all kinds of goods, there being no waste room. The shelving along the sides is surmounted by a pretty design of railing and is made of finished oherry. A large and well-lighted office is situated in the middle of the premises. New fanlights have been put in at the front of the shop, as well as large oak doors, which, in addition to the two large windows in the rear, shed an abundance of clear, sparkling light within. Mr. Routley will utilize no counters in his business; large and neatly designed birch tables will replace them. The whole rooms from floor to ceiling, front to rear, have been ornately papered, handsomely painted and nicely varnished. Among the new departures which the energetic proprietor has added, is a large and carefully selected $2,000 stock of the best crockery on the market. The department is to the left on entering and occupies the place formerly used for fancy goods and toys. On the right of entrance is the large and well appointed stock of fancy goods, toys, curtain poles, carts waggons, baby carriages, trunks, valises, etc. Further back on the same side is the wall paper department, the stock of special merit in quality, quantity, design and price. On the left of the recently added accommodation is still another great stock of fancy goods. Mr. Routley wishes to direct special attention to the great department just added, viz. the crockery department of his business. He trusts that in his large and commodious quarters he may better be able to serve the public than ever.

The Opera Season

Will Open in all its Gaiety at Bradburn's Opera House on August 31st—Some First Class Companies Booked.

As the Summer season with its long days and short evenings merges into Fall and Winter with their long nights, humanity naturally looks forward to those evenings with a feeling akin to pleasure and looks for some means to which to spend "the long winter evenings" pleasantly and profitably. One mean securing this end is the attractions of the Opera, and Manager T. E. Bradburn, Proprietor of the Peterborough Opera House, is not a whit behind other first class managers in neighbouring cities and towns in having first class operas booked for the coming season, which will open on Thursday, August 31st, one week from to-night. The following well-known plays have been secured this season:—

Aug 31st.—May Smith-Robbin's Co., play, Little Tootsie the Romp Heiress.

Sept 26 27 and 28th.—Harry Lindley's Comedy Co.

Oct. 1st.—The greatest of the season, Lewis Morrison's "Faust."

Oct. 10th to 15th.—Jodie Mills Dramatic Company, Charles Haystead manager.

Oct 17th.—Guy Bros.' Minstrels.

Oct. 20th.—Reno & Ford's Comedians in "Joshua Simpkins."

Oct. 24th.—The Cruickson Lawn Co.. W. A Edwards, manager.

Oct. 27th.—Monte Cristo Company, Fred Felton, manager.

Oct. 31st.—A. H. Woodhull's "Uncle Hiram."

Nov. 3rd.—Charles Shackford in opera, "Said Pasha."

Nov. 5th.—L. J. Carter's Fast Mail Company.

Nov. 10th.—"Euchred." Harry Ettling, manager.

Nov 21st to 22nd.—Edwin Tanner Dramatic Company.

Jan. 28th.—"Good Old Times Co." Harry Bernard, manager.

March 2nd. — Gus Hill, "Vaudeville Stars."

March 13th.—Litt & Davis, "Stow-away Co."

May 19th.—Gus Thomas, Comedy Drama, "The Burglar."

In conversation this morning with an EXAMINER reporter, Manager Bradburn in answer to a question as to whether the proposed opera circuit scheme consisting of Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Cobourg, Port Hope and Peterborough and other places had been effected said: "No it has not so far. The proposed scheme was to take in Peterborough, Brockville, Kingston, Belleville, Port Hope and Cobourg, and have these high class Opera Companies while in making a tour through Canada only stop at Montreal and Toronto fix a date of an night at each of these cities and towns in the proposed circuit which were six in number and so spend a week longer in the Dominion. Under the arrangement as it was proposed Peterborough would have to take each of these troops either on Monday or Saturday nights every time, and as these are poor show nights for attracting a house I would not agree to the scheme. It would leave Peterborough in a worse position than any of the other places. I expect this season to to be one of the best Peterborough theatre-goers ever enjoyed. You will see by the schedule of attractions that I have been successful in securing that greatest of all opera attractions that ever passed through Canada in Lewis Morrison's celebrated "Faust" for October 1st. The list of events will be greatly added to within the next few weeks."

In a Fever of Excitement,

Were the Citizens of Smith Street Last Night at a Woman Attempting to Drown Herself in the Otonabee.

A few minutes after 8 o'clock last evening Chief of Police, Rorad, received a telephone message at the police station conveying the startling tidings that a woman had thrown herself into the Otonabee, at the back near the Smith street bridge and met a watery grave. The Chief judged from the information imparted that it was a case of deliberate suicide and was about to make a hasty departure for the scene of the would-be tragedy when another telephone message came in stating that she was not dead, but that she attempted to terminate her earthly existence, owing to a young man who boards at her house threatening to kill her with a revolver. The Chief, accompanied by Police Constable McGinty was soon harrying themselves to the place of the terrible embroilment and when at the corner of Dublin and George street they met a boy running for the doctor. He told the officers that the young man who had threatened the life of Mrs. Allen had gone down Water street. Policeman McGinty and the boy started off while the Chief wended his way on to Smith street. When he made his advent on the scene he discovered the drowned woman in bed in her own house, undergoing terrible pain and intense fever of excitement. The house was surrounded by sobbing women, men, boys and a queer medley of humanity generally. Some of the women thoroughly alarmed shouted that the woman would die in spite of all they could do for her, but the more cool and less excited did not form the same conclusion. The story as told to the chief afterwards by Mrs. Allen in effect was as follows:—That Radford, the young man, was charged by Mrs. Allen with being a vagrant at the police court some weeks ago. The magistrate warned the young man about leading such a reckless indolent life and supporting on the complainant's earnings, and dismissed the prisoner. Since then he has still been living with the woman and sometime ago let her have $12 of his money for safe keeping. Last night he came home and demanded all his money. Mrs. Allen refused to give it to him, but handed him $5 stating that she deserved the remaining amount for boarding him so long. Radford then grew dispondent and said that he appeared to be of no use in the world anyway and that he might as well commit suicide. There was a revolver in the house which Mrs. Allen, who was thoroughly alarmed, seized and gave to Mrs. Burns,

AFTER THE WOULD BE ASSASSIN,

A NEIGHBOUR WOMAN, TO KEEP

in order that Radford might not carry his evil intentions into effect. Mrs. Burns gave it to another woman from whom Chief Rosar received it. Mrs. Allen for some cause or other decided to take her life, and was seen going down the embankment into the river where she plunged in among the logs and in violent terror she shouted for assistance which soon arrived, two of the neighbours rescuing her from her perilous position. The woman is none the worse of her singular experience this morning. She denies point blank that Bradford said he would kill her. It appears that she did not wade into very deep water and caught hold of a floating log to take the necessary precaution of keeping her head out of the water. The male hero of the exploded sensation, it is stated, has gone to Lindsay where he secured work.

A BUSINESS FOR BOYS.

THE ELECTRICAL WORLD HAS FORTUNES FOR WILLING WORKERS.

Advice to Boys Who Determine on the Electrical Industry for Their Career in Life—Its Possible Rewards—Miracles of Modern Science.

Now, my boy readers will doubtless form in their own minds one short and simple question :

"What are the opportunities for the boy of to-day who engages in the electrical industry with the intent to make it his life work ?"

That is the question that I have asked of a dozen or more men who are leaders in the development of electricity in its several branches. They give various answers, but there was one statement that they made in common : That a boy's success, in this as in any other persuit, depends mainly on the boy and his mental and moral make-up. But they all agreed that there is no persuit that offers greater inducements to the right sort of a boy. The boy who is clever with his hands or his brain, who is willing, ambitious and persevering, and who takes up the study of electricity in good earnest, will find no reason to regret his course. He may not, to be sure, become an Edison. But he will have at his hand work that will bring to him all in the way of material compensation that a reasonable person should wish for, and he will be engaged in a field in which his mind may constantly find new delight.

THE RIGHT WAY TO START.

Mr. Edison and the other experts all agree on another point, besides, in the opinion that the boy of to-day will find the study of electricity a good thing to take up. They agreed that when a boy started in this profession he should start in at the bottom. He cannot start at the top. He may be a born inventor, but he cannot hope to vie with Edison, or even inferior men, in one year, or two, or more. He must remember that the very best of the experts are at this time but feeling their way in this profession. They are developing a great power, whose force, strength and usefulness in the future they can but imagine. Mr. Edison, whose accomplishments in this branch of science have been so many, might claim to know, but he makes no such claim. He says that he is only beginning to learn it.

This is an important time in the history of the business, for the leaders in it are working hard to make electricity a motive power, capable of supplanting steam. It cannot now. So far, even in the running of railroads, it has been found impossible to economically generate the electric currents directly. Steam and water are used for the purpose, but in most of the electrical establishments in this country steam is depended upon almost entirely. But the electrical motors, when perfected, will be far cheaper than steam motors, and the man who provides the means for bringing the former to the right point will have fame and fortune at his feet.

POSSIBLE REWARDS OF ELECTRICITY.

As to the compensation that a boy may expect in the electrical field that is a matter that cannot at this time be reduced to any reliable statistics. It is another thing that depends a great deal upon the boy himself. Inferior, or careless boys, who continue as such must expect no great rewards. Boys of the right sort may look forward to almost anything that is in reason, for at the rate this business is developing there is no telling if it will not reward those who follow it, just as the great railroads have done.

MIRACLES OF MODERN SCIENCE.

Ten years ago there was but one electrical branch that was really worthy to be classed as a great industry, and that was the science of telegraphy. Telegraphy in itself was, and is, a wonderful thing, but it was but the first of a series of scientific miracles. The result of these has been the opening up of many hundreds of companies that are engaged in the perfecting of electric forces and the manufacture of electrical machinery. The foremost experts now reckon that from $800,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 is invested in the business. There is one firm that was started some ten years ago that has a capital of $50,000,000 invested. The Western Union Telegraph Company alone has a capital of over $100,000,000. These are large figures that show clearly what great progress has been made in this now industry. Yet even now it is in a crude and in many ways unfinished state. But crude, though it may be, with a future before it that even experts hesitate to speculate upon, it is being utilized in all manner of ways for the benefit of mankind. Not only are written messages now signaled over the wires, but spoken ones as well. It is used to operate machinery in the place of steam. It runs railway cars. It is driving gas from the field as an artificial light. It supplies heat. It is the hope of the foremost experts that the time is now at hand when it will furnish the natural power to our great ocean steamships. Then there is the domestic branch that in itself is a highly important one. Electric bells, burglar alarms, and scores of other conveniences are now in thousands of business and private houses.

VARIOUS BRANCHES OF THE BUSINESS.

The average boy who reads all this may be puzzled as to what branch of the electric business will suit him best. The matter is not so complicated as it may seem. After all, there are but five branches to be considered. They carry the rest with them. Any of these branches is of sufficient importance, and holds out inducements to move anybody to take it up as his profession. But the studying of any one of these branches will lead to the study and consequent familiarity with the others. Perhaps it would be more correct to say there are four branches to the electrical industry proper. These are the telephone, the telegraph, lighting by electricity, and the development of the electrical power for the use of railroads, steamships, and those various lines of business that in the past have had to depend upon steam as a motive power. The fifth division referred to is what is known as the general electric trade. It lies in the manufacture of tools, appliances and general supplies to the other divisions of the general industry, and in its way is as important as any of them. It is growing just as rapidly, too, for the development of the great force has been such as to call for constant progress in the business of making instruments and tools.

IT OFFERS SOLID ADVANTAGES.

It is in these latter pursuits, the development of the electric light, and of the electric motive power, that the young man of to-day may find work ready to his hand. The rest depends on himself. He may become a great electrician or inventor along the line of his profession, or he may remain an inferior and poorly paid workman all his life. But if he remains the latter, he will have himself to blame, for there is no pursuit that seems to offer greater or more solid advantages to the young man or boy than does electricity in its several branches.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—W. Edward Kelly, the Simcoe barrister, implicated with John A. Chrysler, the Simcoe schoolmaster, convicted recently of swindling many school teachers by means of an advertisement in The Globe, was not arraigned in the Toronto Police Court as was expected, but the case was postponed until this morning. The delay was occasioned by the fact that another arrest had been made in connection with the case, the third person being a Testerville hotelkeeper named W. D. Vanderburg, who was brought to the city by Detective Slemin last night.

The latter's arrest was brought about by the confession of Chrysler, who has turned Queen's evidence, and will give testimony against Kelly and Vanderburg at the examination to-day.

Mrs. Lillie Hebron, 21 Widmer-street, held by the police on a charge of insanity. She was a witness in the Meichum larceny case at the Police Court yesterday, and the excitement worked upon her feelings to such an extent that she thought it necessary to take a dose of morphine. The dose was apparently too large, as the woman became very violent. Some friends took her away in a cab, but were unable to control her, so she was brought back to headquarters, where she informed the officers that she would kill herself some day.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sharkey Morris, who on May 26 last was married to William M. Morris of Seaforth and left him on Aug. 4, has issued through her lawyer a writ for alimony. In her affidavit she alleges harshness, and says her husband refused her sufficient money to clothe herself.

Carrie Hollingshead, aged 27, a domestic at 11½ Liegar-street, is somewhat of a religious monomaniac.

Periodically she imagines herself to be burdened with sins many and grievous. In seeking to atone for them she adopts methods as peculiar as they are painful.

Lately one of those acute spells has been again developing. A few days ago it reached its climax and the poor imaginary sin-burdened woman again had recourse to the carbolic acid bottle. Retiring to her room she saturated her back and hips with the terrible solution. The sense of her guilt was more acute and the application of the acid more liberal than before. But notwithstanding her horrible sufferings she bore them with fortitude for a couple of days, performing her daily duties and whispering to no one of her condition. Nature at last asserted itself and Monday night Carrie collapsed.

Yesterday morning she was taken to the hospital and last night she was reported to be doing nicely. This is the sixth time she has applied carbolic acid to purge away imaginary sins.

He himself and others will be most happy to assist at the inauguration of parliament on College Green.

An Afghan Defeat.

SIMLA, Aug. 24.—Advices from Afghanistan show that another engagement has occurred between the revolting Hazara tribesmen and a force of Afghan troops under command of the Governor of Candahar.

The Ameer's army was defeated and it is said they are now in a critical position and suffering from scarcity of food. The tribal levies made by the Ameer are not proving very successful, the so-called loyal tribesmen objecting to fighting against the Hazaras.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

The Suicide Was Insane.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—An inquest was held on the body of Colonel Henry Prince, an American, aged 82 years, who committed suicide at Morley's hotel on Friday last by shooting himself with a revolver. A number of witnesses testified that Colonel Prince had been depressed for a long time.

He left a letter addressed to his friends saying that his life had been ruined and now the burden was overwhelming him with weakness and pain to an intolerable degree. The letter concluded by saying that as his physician could not cure him he should have removed him with drugs.

The jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from a bullet wound inflicted by himself while temporarily insane.

Manitoba's Great Harvest.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—Glorious sunshine and a balmy atmosphere are making Manitobans smile. Finer harvest weather never favored this great wheat-raising country. From correspondents' reports and from local grain merchants it is learned that binders are at work in every section of the province, and thousands of acres of the finest grain ever grown in the country are falling before the harvest reapers. If the favorable conditions continue until the end of the week a large percentage of the crop will be cut. On Carberry Plain, which has been favored this year with a bountiful crop, half the crop is in shock. Similar reports have been received from other sections.

Wrecks at St. Pierre.

ST. PIERRE, Miq., Aug. 24.—A hurricane from the northeast passed over yesterday morning, accompanied by heavy rain. The French brigantine Hasparren broke from her anchorage in the roadstead and was driven ashore at the entrance to the harbor. The schooners Van and Fernand were driven to sea. Their crews got safely to shore. A lot of damage was done to shipping in the roadstead by collision. No lives were lost.

Explorers Murdered.

Have a Wife and Test a Wife.

Varied are the experiences of a Paris commissary of police. The French papers relate that just as M. Trobert, who fills that position, was about to sit down to dinner, a well dressed man burst into the room exclaiming: "My wife wishes to desert me, and I cannot survive it. My name is X, and I reside in the Rue de la Franche Comte." Thereupon the intruder drew a knife, was seen to stab himself with it, and instantly the floor was deluged with blood. His wife and a doctor were immediately sent for; and on her arrival, the former threw herself into her husband's arms, and kissing him, protested violently that she had always loved him, and that she had no thought of leaving him. "Tres bien" then replies the husband rising and wiping the blood from his clothes, "let us go home then." It seems that he had never stabbed himself at all, and that the blood which flowed so freely from him was that of a pig carefully poured into a bladder. The whole thing was, in short, a trick to bring a flighty wife to her senses. It is hoped, however, that the washing of M. le Commissaire's floor was paid for by the appeased husband. Carpets are, fortunately, not used in France.

For neuralgia make a small muslin bag and fill it with salt; heat it hot and place it against the aching spot; it will retain the heat for a long time and will greatly relieve.

It is well to remember that the dust-cloths slightly moistened and afterward shaken out of doors are much more sanitary than feather dusters, the use of which drives the dust from one location only to settle upon another.

A sensible use of alcohol is to keep the summer girl's bang in curl. The hair should be wet thoroughly with the alcohol before it is put up at night, and in the morning each curl will remain bewitching throughout the day, no matter how aggravating the weather.

Great attention should be paid to keeping the nails in good order. They should be brushed at least twice a day and the skin around the lower part should be kept down by rubbing with a soft towel. The sides of the nails need clipping about once a week. If they become stained, wash them well with soap, and after rinsing off the soap well, brush them with lemon juice.

THE BORDEN MURDERS.

A Lawyer Advances a Startling Theory.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug 25.—A bouquet of flowers—yellow, red and variegated blossoms from the woods—ornamented Lizzie Borden's prison cell yesterday. The wild flowers were placed in a basin on the window sill and passers-by in the alley could see them. Some sympathetic friend had gathered them from the fields, but whom Matron Russell, Lizzie's custodian, did not know. They had not come from the Borden house, for there were no flowers there.

There was a trend of religious thought in Lizzie's being, but her religion was never ostentatious. Now that she is here awaiting a preliminary trial for murder she passes the day reading books on religious topics.

Sister Emma and her faithful pastor, Rev. E. A. Buck, called on her, but remained only a short time. These interviews with her sister and Mr. Buck are commonplace. The talk is desultory and the subjects not pertinent to her situation. Marshal Hilliard also dropped in during the afternoon to see if she was comfortable.

Her lawyers, J. J. Jennings and Melville O. Adams, were both out of town. It was reported that they had gone to Westport to prepare their case in quiet. Mr. Jennings thinks that he scored a victory in forcing the prosecution to adjourn the hearing until they could put in all their evidence.

In the absence of District-Attorney Knowlton Marshal Hilliard declared that the assumption of the defense that the postponement was an indication of weakness is wrong.

"The experts are not ready, it is true," he said, "but I know that Mr. Knowlton is satisfied to present his case to the court, and he was yesterday. Miss Borden was arrested on strong suspicion, backed by strong circumstantial evidence. If she cannot be held on that evidence we are perfectly willing to see her released.

"It was with great reluctance that we were compelled to take her into custody. The murders were committed by some one, and the incriminating circumstances centered about her.

"The public demanded the arrest of the murderer, and because the prisoner in custody is a woman and the daughter of the persons who were killed some of the public howl. That's always the way."

"Is she in your custody now or that of the Sheriff of the county?"

"She is in mine. Until the court turns her over to the sheriff she will remain in mine. At present she is a person held upon suspicion only, not yet having had a trial."

"I notice that the warrant on which she was arrested, and which was sworn to by you, accuses her of the murder of Andrew J. Borden only and does not mention Mrs. Borden. Why was that?"

"The reason is simple. If a man had committed 20 burglaries he would be held for one at first, but on his trial all the evidence against him would be produced and the Grand Jury would indict on all the charges."

"Then, while you base your case against Lizzie on the murder of her father you expect to show also that she had killed Mrs. Borden?"

"The evidence in one case will include the other. The plain presumption is, of course, that both people were killed by the same person."

"Why was the murderer of the man selected in preference to that of the woman, who, the doctors declare, was evidently killed first?"

"You will have to ask the District-Attorney. He drew up the warrant and made the choice for his own reason."

It is apparent, however, that the daughter is charged with the murder of her father only, because she discovered his body while the blood was still trickling from his frightful wounds, and because, so far as can be found out, she was the last person to see and talk to him.

In discussing the strange affair to-day a local lawyer, who has known the Bordens since boyhood, expressed great admiration for the self-possession of Lizzie Borden in the position in which she has been placed.

"It seems hardly possible," he said, "that a woman who had committed such crimes could maintain the demeanor borne by Lizzie all along. If guilty an ordinary woman would protest her innocence and show signs of her horror of being accused. If innocent she should scarcely bear up under the weight of the outrage upon her.

"An ordinary person would appeal to some one for help Miss Borden has done none of this. She has shown no fear, she has never appeared to resent a supposed outrage, she has not appealed to her friends.

"There is some reason for her marvellous composure, for Lizzie Borden is not insane. That is, I cannot think her so. The reason must be an all-powerful one.

"The rock that sustains Lizzie Borden is her knowledge of the murderer. She knows who butchered her parents. That guilty knowledge is her strength.

"Vicarious guilt, borne with the conviction that the person's guilt cannot be proved and based on some strong personal motive for concealment, is an impregnable bulwark for a secret.

"Now, then, why should she want to conceal the slayer of her parents? There we are baffled. She was never known to have a lover, who might have done the deed to hasten his marriage and the possession of her share of the Borden wealth. But she was never a demonstrative girl, and even if she loved no one would be likely to know it. However, I am not especially partial to the lover theory.

"There remains her knowledge of the crime as an instigator. If she was an accessory only her demeanor is explained. If she procured the murder it was the result of a long considered plan, and when it was done she was satisfied. She could easily have concealed the murder in the house, sent Bridget out of the way and covered his retreat.

"There is my theory; I don't think any woman could keep up as Lizzie Borden has done if she had killed those old people with her own hands. I don't think she or any other woman could do it if she were innocent.

"Many women can keep a secret no matter how terrible when it belongs to some one in whom they have a deep interest. I believe that she has a guilty knowledge of the crime, but I do not believe that she inflicted the death blows." It was learned yesterday that Edward E. Wright of the Wright Drug Company of New Bedford, has been in consultation with District-Attorney Knowlton and has explained to him the composition and effect of prussic or hydrocyanic acid. This would indicate that the state still clings to the theory of poison being administered before the hatchet was used.

A HAMILTON BURGLARY.

Hon. R. Moreton's Residence Ransacked By Thieves.

HAMILTON, Aug. 25.—Extensive robberies have not been common in the city for a long time, but one of abnormal proportions was perpetrated last evening that makes the detectives blink. The residence of Hon. R. Moreton, 383 Main-street east, was the scene of the burglars' depredations. The Moreton family are residing at Burlington at present and the house was locked up and left in the charge of the St. John's Church caretaker.

When that person went to the Moreton residence this morning he found a very dilapidated state of affairs. Evidently busy thieves had been at work. In order to get from one room to another, the burglars had smashed in the panels and locks on no less than 11 doors, by the aid of a hammer and a chisel, which were found on the premises.

The caretaker notified Constable Bainbridge, the first officer he saw, and the latter took a description of a lot of articles that were known to have been stolen. The list is a pretty lengthy one. It includes ten suits of clothes, riding breeches, boots, a dozen shirts, socks, underwear, a watch, a silk dress, lawn tennis rackets and a lot of smaller articles.

The house was evidently well ransacked during the night, and, judging from the construction of the doors, it is surprising that none of the neighbors heard the crashing of the woodwork. The house was entered by a back window, and the footmarks discovered on the lawn at the rear of the house indicate that boys or young men had done the job.

"Give us a Lift!"

"Do send down something to help us!" "Those little Pleasant Pellets you sent before, were just what we wanted!" "They helped right where we were weakest!" "Don't send anything else!"

Nature, abused and neglected, does her best to overcome exhaustion and ward off threatening disease, but sometimes calls for help, and knows just what she's about. The system takes kindly to the mild, wholesome influence of Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and often their timely assistance corrects evils which would soon lead to serious results. With the first signal of distress, nature will thank you for remembering her request. Therefore, if languid, easily tired, bad taste in mouth, bowels irregular or constipated, give nature a lift by taking Dr. Pierce's Pellets. Best Liver Pill made. o

THE FACTS OF THE CASE.

THE CORRESPONDENCE REGARDING TOLLS AT THE SOO.

Mr. Herbert, the British Charge at Washington, Defines Canada's Position. But Secretary Foster Discards Argument in the Insistence That Rebates Should Be Abolished.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Additional correspondence with reference to tolls on vessels passing through the St. Mary's Canal, between Secretary of State Foster and Mr. Herbert, in charge of the British legation, brings information from the latter that the Canadian Government desire to point out that the United States Government may be unaware that the tolls for the Welland and St. Lawrence canals are of a temporary nature and that it is not intended to re-establish them in their present form after the expiration of the season of 1892.

Mr. Herbert goes on to say: "The Canadian Government state that grave difficulties present themselves to an alteration of the tariff of tolls during the present season. Contracts and engagements have been entered into in various parts of this country and in Great Britain, based on the continuance of this tariff during the whole of the present season. The rights which have been established under these contracts and engagements cannot be interfered with without great confusion and detriment and apparent breach of faith. They believe, therefore, that the United States Government will recognize the importance of the difficulties which stand in the way of an immediate repeal of the present tariff, and that the assurance of its termination at the end of the present season will be regarded as satisfactory evidence of the desire of the Government of the Dominion to remove any ground which has a tendency to disturb the friendly interchange of trade between the two countries."

Secretary Foster's reply to Mr. Herbert contains the following statements:

"The information which you now convey to me is that 'the features of the present tariff, giving preferential treatment to certain routes and ports and providing for transhipment at Canadian ports only, will not be re-adopted after this season,' and you add, 'this undertaking, however, would not be binding on the Canadian Government if the President of the United States should, in the meanwhile, proclaim and enforce the imposition of tolls in the Sault Ste. Marie Canal as authorized by the recent act of Congress.

"I am at a loss to understand why the Canadian Government should attach such a condition to its proposition. All that is contemplated by the President's proclamation is to establish in the American canal named the same conditions as now exist and have existed on the Canadian canals for years past. Besides, I have already given you the assurance which I now repeat, that the President's proclamation will remain in force no longer than the discriminations complained of are maintained by the Canadian Government.

"Not until the discrimination against American ports and lines of transportation became so oppressive as to call forth earnest protests from the Carriers' Association and boards of trade of the cities of Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Oswego, Ogdensburg and other lake ports did the Government of the United States take action.

"I lament that grave difficulties present themselves to an alteration of the tariff of tolls during the present season, but I beg to remind you that the Government of the United States is not responsible in any degree for these difficulties, and its citizens should not be required to suffer on that account. For several years past the attention of the Canadian Government has been called to its violation of Article 2, of the Treaty of 1871, and earnest remonstrances on the subject have been addressed to the British legation by my predecessors."

Secretary Foster expresses the hope that before the President's proclamation goes into effect the Canadian Government will take such action in the direction of treaty observance as will make the enforcement of that proclamation unnecessary.

THE CHOLERA.

Prof. Koch Pronounces It the Most Virulent Kind.

HAMBURG, Aug. 26.—Considerable excitement has been caused among the military authorities by the appearance of cholera among the troops. Three cases of the disease and one death have occurred in a regiment that was temporarily quartered here. To prevent, if possible, the spread of the disease among the soldiers the regiment has been ordered to leave Hamburg immediately. They will proceed to some point in the interior, where a close watch for the appearance of the disease will be kept on them. The weather continues intensely hot, and the sun unfortunately is favorable to the growth of the cholera germs. So many warnings have been given of the danger lurking in water that thousands of people have abandoned its use as a beverage, quenching their thirst with beer and light wines. Lime juice and lemons are also in demand. Yesterday there were 82 new cases of the disease reported and the deaths amounted to 31. The steamship service between Hamburg and the Island of Heligoland has been suspended in consequence of the cholera here.

HAMBURG, Aug. 26.—The newspapers here attack the authorities for persistently denying the presence in Hamburg of Asiatic cholera until the violence of the outbreak made concealment no longer possible. They claim if the authorities had admitted at the start that the disease was true cholera sanitary measures might have been enforced that would have prevented the spread of the disease.

The Plague at Antwerp.

ANTWERP, Aug. 26.—There is no appreciable change in the cholera situation here. It is generally believed the disease reached here from some vessel from an infected port. The first persons to fall victims to the disease were dock laborers. They were taken to the hospitals. The doctors stated that it was common cholera and that nothing was to be feared from it. Other patients were soon taken to the hospitals suffering with the same disease, and the number of cases has constantly increased since. The first victims died almost instantly on entering the hospitals. It is thought the hospital physicians were fully aware of the presence of the scourge, but that they were compelled by the authorities to deny it. One-fourth of all the patients removed to the hospitals have died. The quarantine regulations are now being enforced with great severity. This course is held to be useless, as the danger now lies in the spread of the contagion from sources inside the city.

A WIND-UP TO THE STRIKE.

Sweeney, the Buffalo Strike Leader, Assaulted.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 26.—Grand Master Sweeney of the Switchmen's Union was brutally assaulted by one of the striking switchmen at the corner of Main and Swan-streets at 11 yesterday morning. While Sweeney was talking with other switchmen a man came up behind and dealt him a blow under the left eye. Sweeney staggered and a second blow felled him to the pavement. His assailant then kicked him in the head. Probably Sweeney would have been killed had it not been for the interference of several men who were standing within arm's length of the man who assaulted him. The man who struck Sweeney was Arthur Quinn of 175 Smith-street, one of the Nickel Plate switchmen who went out on strike. As soon as Quinn was pulled away from Sweeney he started on a run down Main-street, and one man started after him. Seeing that he was pursued, Quinn turned quickly about and shouted, "Keep back there; if you follow me I'll kill you." Then Quinn disappeared in the crowd.

Mr. Sweeney walked slowly down Main-street. At Seneca-street he turned into a drug store and was fixed up. The blow from Quinn's fist seemed to have stunned him. He was dazed and acted like a man recovering from a knock-out. After he recovered he began to pour out a torrent of abuse on Quinn's head.

"It was one of the most cowardly assaults I ever heard of," Mr. Sweeney remarked.

"What cause could he have to hit you?" asked a reporter.

"Quinn is a Nickel Plate switchman and has been thrown out of a job by the strike. I suppose he blames me for the loss of his position and has taken this way to get even. It was the only course he thought he had, I suppose."

"It is the first time in the history of the order that an officer has been assaulted," Mr. Sweeney continued. "I was never hit by a striker before."

"Will you have him arrested?"

"I don't know what to do. I'll see as quick as I wash the blood from my face."

After Mr. Sweeney had his wounds dressed he went to the Genesee Hotel under police escort. While he was in the drug store having his wounds dressed a number of strikers assembled on the sidewalk in front of the place and threatened further violence to the Grand Master. Sweeney was frightened and police were called to disperse the crowd. The blow upon his nose must have been a terrible one to judge from its appearance. An intensely bitter feeling against Sweeney has developed among the late strikers, who consider that they have been duped and betrayed by him. One of them stated that Sweeney had given the men no chance to get their places back again.

Troops Withdrawn.

About 1500 troops have been ordered home. General Porter said: "I will send no more away until we are sure that they will not be needed. We have received communication from some of the railroad companies this morning complaining of trouble and danger to their property and objecting to speedy withdrawal of the troops. Our military reports this morning bear out the statement of the railroad companies. We are going to stay here until the rioting is stopped if it takes all summer."

Strikers Frozen Out.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—H. Walter Webb, vice-president of the New York Central, said yesterday: "Now that the strike has ended we have time to think. Our yards are full. We have all the men we want and there is no room for strikers. They cannot come back, for under no circumstances will we discharge a single new man for an old one. Those of the old men who were loyal to the company, though forced out, may make application in the regular way. When there is room for them they can return."

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Aug. 26.—A case recalling in almost every detail the Priestman mystery of five years ago occurred in this city last night. And what is more singular still last night's affair happened on the same day of the week and the same day of the month and within three blocks of the spot where Priestman's dead body was found in August, 1887. Like Priestman the victim of last night's affair is also a member of the Masonic Brotherhood. The only difference between the two affairs is that, while Priestman was dead when found, in the present case the victim is alive at this writing and able to give his version of the affair.

Charles McClelland, aged 42, a builder residing with his wife and several children at 159 Sorauren-avenue, arrived home last evening and reported that he had been shot by a highwayman. His wounds are very dangerous, and may result fatally. McClelland told the following story as to how he received his injuries:

About 7.30 o'clock he was crossing the common between the Mercer Reformatory and Dufferin-street, being on his way home, when he was accosted by two young men, who demanded his money. He told them he had no money, but they grappled with him and attempted to go through his pockets. He resisted their efforts, when one of them produced a revolver, and placing it against Mr. McClelland's left breast fired. The shot took effect just below the heart. The injured man says he does not remember distinctly what occurred immediately after the shot was fired, but he walked towards his home. He was in great pain and was compelled to sit down twice on the way.

Arriving at his home about 8 o'clock he sent for Dr. Ferguson, 3 Macdonnell-avenue, who, when he arrived, had the wound dressed. The doctor found that the bullet had passed almost through the body, as it could be felt in the back, opposite the wound.

When a policeman arrived the wounded man described his assailants as being short and stout, with clean-shaven and sunburnt faces and wearing dark clothes. One wore a soft felt hat, the other a stiff hat, the former being the man who fired the shot. He thought the men would be about 20 and 23 years of age, and describes them as being very slouchy in appearance.

The chapel of Loretto Abbey was thronged yesterday morning when the ceremony of the reception of the religious habit by six young ladies was conducted by Rev. Father Rooney, V.G., assisted by Rev. Father Gilroy of Stratford. Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Campbell, and among those in the chancel were Fathers Cassidy, Walsh and Coyne of Toronto and O'Sullivan of Montpelier, Vermont. Rev. Father Ryan preached an eloquent and touching sermon.

The young ladies were Miss Annie McDermott of Orillia, in religion Sister Mary Thecla; Miss Agnes Mitchell of Toronto, Sister Mary Xatorio; Miss Kate Donnelly of Orillia, Sister Mary Bernard; Miss Mamie McKenna of New York, Sister Mary Ethelrida; Miss Teresa O'Gorman of Eganville, Sister Mary Radagona, and Miss Ellen Connolly of Hamilton, Sister Mary Delecta.

LEO FAVORS GLADSTONE

AND IS GRATIFIED AT HIS RECENT SUCCESS.

Leo XIII. Likes the English Leader, and Democratic Ideas Held in Common Make the Two Nearer to Each Other Than Any Other Two Statesmen of the Present Time.

ROME, Aug. 26.—The constitution of a Gladstone Ministry in England has caused the relations between England and the Vatican to enter upon a new phase. The Conservative party and Lord Salisbury had tried to use the influence of the Holy See by promising much while giving almost nothing. Lord Salisbury had a number of agents at Rome, who tried incessantly to get on good terms with the Vatican, but who made the mistake of co-operating with the agents of the triple alliance in order to act upon the Roman Curia. The Italians were able to see how England, under Lord Salisbury, was closely bound to the triple alliance on finding how the united action of the four Powers made itself felt on common grounds. Since the affair of Malta the Pope has understood the game of the Tory Cabinet and distrusted it. Recently, when England requested the Propaganda to create in Egypt English bishoprics, with a view to consolidating English dominance there, and to form the bases of an Anglo-African empire, the Holy Father ordered all decision in the matter to be suspended until the close of the elections. He doubtless understood that Gladstone would return and that his policy would differ in its applications from that of his predecessor.

The Pope has not been deceived. At this moment the agents of the Conservative party and the representatives of the triple alliance are trying to persuade the Vatican that there is nothing to be done with Gladstone, that his policy will be anti-pontifical and that he will never forget his grievances against the Papacy. They add that he has become a revolutionary democrat and that to rely on him is to throw oneself into radical paths.

It is not believed that the Pope allows himself to be in the slightest influenced by these suggestions Leo XIII. likes Mr. Gladstone through affinity of character, age and aspirations. Gladstone has committed faults in the Pope's opinion. Two above all, the publication of "Vaticanism" and the official mission of Sir George Errington. Before 1870 Mr. Gladstone dreamed of a union of the churches. He was nearly becoming Catholic. Then he threw himself into opposition and wrote "Vaticanism." But little by little he became more just minded. In 1882 he sent Errington to Rome in connection with his Irish policy. Rome was distrustful and became more so owing to Errington's want of tact. After his fall from power he came to Florence, about the beginning of 1889, with the hope of being received at Rome by the Pope, who was desirous of conversing with the illustrious Englishman, who, on his part, wished to explain to His Holiness the Home Rule question. But Salisbury's agents imposed upon and over-reached the Vatican. They declared that to receive Gladstone would constitute an act of opposition to the Conservative Cabinet. Leo XIII., from prudential motives, gave way to these representations. Affected at the check, Gladstone revenged himself in a magazine article.

But these difficulties will not prevent the Pope from coming to an understanding with Mr. Gladstone. The Pope knows that in politics it is necessary to forget and to be able to look at history in perspective. Nobody is more impersonal than the Pope. The question of Ireland and democratic ideas held in common make the two statesmen the nearest to each other of any statesmen of the present day. Here we are in hopes that a common interest will do the rest in effecting an entente.

A Bitter Contest at Newcastle.

NEWCASTLE, Aug. 26.—The climax of the bitterest and most rancerous contest on record was a comparatively uneventful polling day. Mr. Morley drove to every corner of the constituency. Both he and Mr. Ralli, the latter being accompanied by Mr. Hammond, were cordially received. As the day advanced Mr. Morley's friends became more confident of success. The exertions of Commoness Wilson and Davitt it is believed, induced many eight-hour men to vote for Mr. Morley. The poll was unexpectedly heavy, 24,051 votes being cast, against 24,586 recorded in the general election. The result of the poll will be declared to-day.

It is reported that Mr. Ralli's face was cut with a stone that was thrown at him. In an interview to-night Mr. Morley's agent, Mr. Scott, said he could not believe that Morley was defeated, though he thought the issue doubtful. The other side admitted that the Gladstonian poll is heavier than at the general election.

It Was a Disorderly Meeting.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The meeting called by the Liberal Radical Association of Northampton to protest against the exclusion of M. Labouchere from the new Ministry, was held in the Northampton town Hall last evening, the Mayor presiding. A resolution was passed expressing regret that Mr. Labouchere had been excluded from the Cabinet. This resolution was opposed by many present and attempts were made to expel the opponents, which led to several free fights. During the uproar many chairs were smashed. The meeting broke up in the greatest disorder.

A Canadian Lady's Brave Act.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Mrs. E. W. Rowley, a Canadian lady, living in Cheyne Walk, Chelsea, has been presented with the certificate of the Royal Humane Society for courage and coolness in saving the life of a boy in the River Thames some weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Rowley were paddling their canoe below the Candoyn pier when the accident occurred, and hastened at once to the boy's rescue. He had sunk twice and was reached only just in time. With admirable coolness Mrs. Rowley seized the lad, and telling him not to touch the canoe, held his head above water until a boat arrived. The heroine of the occasion is the daughter of ex-Lieut.-Governor Richards of British Columbia.

Canada's Crops.

An Large in Quantity and Better in Quality.

The reports received from all parts of the Dominion by the grain merchants of Toronto give promise of a good harvest in every part of Canada. In some Provinces the yield is not as large as anticipated, while in others it is beyond expectation, and on the whole crops will be as large in quantity and of more satisfactory quality than those of last year. In Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces and Manitoba and the Northwest Territory the harvest will be much better in quality than last year, though the yield will not be so great. Of the which the harvest will be nowhere.

A Military Highway Through Canada.

British officers are now on their way to the Pacific coast for the purpose of inquiring into the facilities offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway for the transport of troops. Should war break out between Britain and Russia, Afghanistan will be the battle ground and Canada's trans-continental railway will be the highway by which the troops will be moved to the Mother Country.

The New Inspector of Legal Offices.

It is understood, says the Globe, that Mr. James Fleming, of Brampton, has been appointed inspector of legal offices in succession to Mr. Winchester. Mr. Fleming is a practitioner of 26 years' experience, and was formerly County Crown Attorney for the County of Peel for the years of 1882-1887. He is a popular man, and we believe that all who know him recognize his qualifications for the office to which he has been appointed.

The Cholera's Onward Stride.

Although Dr. Bryce is satisfied that the cholera epidemic will not reach Canada this year, owing to the approach of the cold weather, the most stringent sanitary measures ought to be carried out in Montreal, and with which the epidemic has moved westward within the last few weeks shows that no time should be lost in providing against it.

What Stronger Proof

Is needed of the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla than the hundreds of letters continually coming in telling of marvelous cures it has effected? Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar curative power unknown to other medicines.

Labor and Capital.

The conflict between labor and capital seems to be growing daily more intense.

The telegraphic despatches daily bring news of armed strife between the two classes, while in public interests are being jeopardized by interference with and partial suspension of railroad traffic. The trouble at Homestead is one that will be created by the World's Fair in Chicago, the present difficulties are likely to become intensified. Strikes should be deplored illegal, and courts of arbitration established with full powers for the amicable settlement of all labor disputes, with all their resulting disasters, be a thing of the past.

Sewerage From Afar.

Experiences of Other Places — Up-hill Work Generally—Water Works and Sewer go Well Together.

The people of Peterborough don't appear to want sewerage, but they will doubtless take interest in the experience of other places. A few days ago a Prescott committee was commissioned to visit and inspect the water works system, (owned by the town,) and the sewerage system of Brockville; and the following extract from their report is appended. It shows that other towns have difficulty as well as Peterborough in educating the people up to the necessity of a sewerage system. The report says:—

"It being conceded at once that a system of drainage without water works, or water works without drainage, was next to impossible, we decided to extend our enquiries to the water works system also. Their experience in educating their town up to these improvements was of an up-hill nature. By laws to authorize these improvements were defeated several times. This appears to be the experience of most towns on the start. It will be remembered that a bylaw submitted during Mayor Irwin's term of office in 1873, to raise $10,000 for drainage purposes was defeated in this town, and during this month a drainage bylaw submitted in the town of Peterborough has been defeated. Brockville, by a bold stroke, at last succeeded in getting a special act of the Ontario Legislature, authorizing them to issue 40-year debentures for drainage purposes. After consulting eminent engineering talent, associated with Willis Chipman, C.E., they proceeded to construct a main sewer 18 inches in diameter with an off-take pipe of 1,000 feet in the St. Lawrence, supplemented by a service of agricultural tile on each side of said drain for the purpose of carrying off cellar and soakage water. The above was constructed as a town work. Subsequently other drains of a smaller size, according to the requirements of the locality, some under six inches, have been constructed and connected with the main sewer. While the opinion as set forth in the beginning, that drainage without water works would be impossible, Brockville is fortunately situated for flushing her sewers from a pond in the west end of the town, which we are without. The whole cost of Brockville's drainage system up to date is something over $100,000, and the cost to her citizens is not more than 20 cents per ft. frontage, spread over a term of 40 years, that being the term of these debentures and the supposed life of their drainage system.

ON THE FRONTAGE TAX PRINCIPLE,

The Brockville waterworks are of the Holly pumping system, very complete and perfect, although Messrs. Fulford and Bowie admit other pumping systems can now be had of a simpler and less expensive character, quite as good, with the addition of a stand pipe, which they have not got.

Their experience in bringing about their waterworks was about the same as drainage, bylaws for their construction being defeated more than once. The town finally disposed of the waterworks franchise to a private company who built them, the town renting 90 hydrants from the company at $50 each. The town is now arbitrating with the waterworks company to take over the same, and from the price asked by the company over their cost, they are looked upon as good paying property. It is conceded on good authority that had Brockville met their two improvements of drainage and waterworks boldly, and built them together, 30 per cent. of their present cost would have been saved.

As waterworks are considered

A SELF SUPPORTING IMPROVEMENT,

and even yield a revenue in some towns, it is quite fair to state that the drainage system would be the only burden to the citizens, and if that could be secured at the cost of Brockville's drainage system, say 90 cents per foot foot frontage, we think we should not be paying too dear for it. Mr. Downey and myself were unable to see Mr. Chipman, under whose able supervision Brockville's work has been done, and who is now considered a first class authority on the subject.

I would add that Brockville has gone through our experience in wooden box and cedar covered drains, and had their share of trouble and litigation resulting therefrom, but all agree that notwithstanding some system bearing equitably on those benefitted is adopted, the corporation of the town is under no obligation to drain anybody's cellar, their duty being to drain the surface water on the streets only.

As a result of the conference by Mr. Downey and myself, I would recommend that the Mayor ask Mr. Chipman to pay us a visit, and that a special meeting of the council be called to discuss the subject of drainage and waterworks, and decide if they can see their way to have him report on the same.

"An Elephant on His Hands."

I heard a young lady say the other evening: "We're going to rehearse sister's wedding to night." I understand that this is generally done, but it seems awfully theoretical to me, and calculated to rather take the bloom off the whole affair. Speaking of weddings, I do think that the musicians generally engaged for the ceremony might use a little more care in their selections. I attended a wedding the other night, and after the ceremony, just as the bridegroom entered the back parlor, the orchestra struck up that Hopperian gem, "An Elephant on His Hands."—Correspondent of Philadelphia News.

An Enterprising Firm's Order.

Messrs. Pete Simons & Co., the energetic merchant tailor, has, during the past week, received orders for his famed suits of clothes from both the Canadian Northwest and the Western States. Last week he shipped $120 worth of his first class clothing in suits and overcoats to two Americans residing in Atchison, Kansas, and whose exacting tastes in regard to dress were hard to please, but they knew where their orders would be filled to the letter, and at prices that were right. Mr. Simons has also received and filled orders for goods from, Chicago, Dowel, B.C., Manitoba and Keewatin. This speaks volumes for the enterprise, thrift and business capacity of a Peterborough tailor and his goods.

Has Enlarged his Premises.

Mr. Jas. McComb, the go-ahead Hunter street glove manufacturer and gents' furnisher, has recently been making considerable additions to his premises at his own expense. His handsome shop at 130 Hunter street has been extended in length some 18 feet back owing to the removal of a partition. This will afford its proprietor nearly three hundred more square feet of room, which space, owing to his largely increasing trade and heavy additions made to his stock was sadly needed. The original flooring space of the shop before the addition, has also been enlarged, Mr. McComb having removed his large office to a neat room off the rear of his shop. Mr. McComb deals extensively in carding and wool also and occupies two good sized rooms for this department of his extensive business.

Irondale and Bancroft R.R. Extension.

As our readers will remember at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, a subsidy for ten miles of the extension of the Irondale and Bancroft railway was voted. The charter of the railway is from Kinmount to Bancroft and the subsidy is for the extension from Irondale east, the design being to ultimately extend the line to connect with the Brockville and Westport railway. This will give the people of the northern country an outlet to the Ottawa, and by way of Brockville, easy access to the American market. The charter for the bridge across the St. Lawrence from Brockville to Morristown is already obtained. This summer eight miles of the extension have been completed as to the grading and the arrival of the steel rails from the old country is awaited to complete the laying of the track. Mr. C. J. Pusey the president of the railway and the untiring promoter of the scheme, is pushing this section rapidly to completion, and it is expected that ten miles will be ready for the locomotive engine before the snow falls. The extension of this road means the development of the timber, mineral and agricultural resources of the district it serves, and will bring it in connection with Peterborough, by the Victoria line at Kinmount.

An Enlarged Sheep and Hound Case.

County Police Magistrate Edmison held court at Havelock yesterday, hearing the enlarged sheep and hound case, in which Wm. Connal charges the defendant, Absalom Brown, with keeping a vicious hound which the complainant alleges chased his sheep from which pursuit one of the fold died. Mr. R. E Wood appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. W. A. F. Campbell for the defendant. The evidence of several more witnesses was taken on behalf of the complainant. The case lasted from 2 o'clock until 4 30, when the magistrate said he would reserve judgement until Wednesday next.

Jolly Campers Homeward Bound.

A lively quartette of campers hailing from the Queen City and comprising Messrs. Geo. A. Kingston, Harry W. Parker, Wm. A. Martin and Fred C. Kingston, have, during the past few weeks, been making a canoe circuit of the inland waters. They left Lindsay on Friday afternoon last in two canoes and paddled the whole voyage of 160 miles, which they have covered in five days. The party encamped upon whatever spot night's sable mantle overtook them. The visited Sturgeon Point, Fenelon Falls, Cameron Lake, Balsam River, Burnt River, Balsam Lake, Gull River up to Cabconk, then back again to Sturgeon Point, through Sturgeon Lake to Bobcaygeon, Pigeon Lake, Gannon's Narrows, Chemong Lake Buckhorn Lakes, Katchewancooka Lake, etc., to Lakefield. They named their camp, "Kwo-ne-she." "The boys" were all delighted with their outing and voted it the best out. They were charmed with the rustic scenery and pretty sheets of water through which they passed in their protracted voyage, particularly along the banks of the Burnt River, which are the most gorgeous and picturesque that nature can bestow.

The High Secretary at Lakefield Court.

Bro. Thos. White, of Brantford, High Secretary of the Canadian Order of Foresters and his daughters, the Misses White, accompanied the Foresters' excursion yesterday around the Lakes and expressed themselves as highly pleased with the trip, scenery and waters around Peterborough. Last night at Lakefield Bro. White, in company with Bros. A. Clegg, C.R., Court Langton; H. Nesbitt, D.D.H.C.R., A. Russell, P.C.R., Court Peterborough; Dr. Yelland, physician; Dr. Rose, P.C.R., Court Rob Roy, Norwood and E. High Secretary, White, delivered an interesting and instructive address on Forestry, its beneficial effects and its growth. At the close a cordial vote of thanks was moved the speaker by Bro. Graham, R.S. and Bro. McLaren, P.C.R. Bro. White replied in felicitous terms. The Lakefield brethren drove the visitors to Peterborough late last evening. Bro. White accompanied by the Misses White left on a visit to-day at noon for Perth, Smith Falls, Ottawa and other places.

The Battalion Guard of Honour.

The guard of honour from the 57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers, which will receive the Hon. George H. Kirkpatrick, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, to Peterborough at the formal opening of the Central Exhibition here on Sept. 27th, is being vigorously organized by the popular and able captain of "A" Company, E. F. Mason. Drill will be held at the drill shed every Tuesday evening, and as the members of the battalion will have an opportunity of only getting in four drills between now and Exhibition week, it is imperative that all those desirous of identifying themselves with this guard of honour should be present at every drill. A guard of honour from a battalion consists of one captain, two lieutenants, four sergeants, four corporals, and one hundred men. The latter are supposed to be the best drilled and best equipped soldiers in a battalion—in short, the flower of the nation's manhood. A guard of honour is the highest possible respect and compliment that can be paid to a distinguished personage on a visit to a town, and therefore all members of the battalion should take an active interest in forming this body of men in order to extend a welcome to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and one of the most popular ministers in the Ontario cabinet.

Hurrah for Bobcaygeon and the Lakes! On Saturday afternoon next, August 27th, a special train will leave G.T.R. station at 1:30 o'clock for Chemong, connecting with the largest steamer on the lakes, the new $14,000 Steamer "Columbian," carrying 600 people. An orchestra will furnish music for dancing. Refreshments and lunch on board. A delightful trip. Home by moonlight, arriving at 9:30 p. m. Fare only 50 cents; Children half price. Tickets at G. T. R. station.

How They Come Upon us.

During the green-apple season, cramps come upon us like a thief in the night, and remain with us until the nearest physician is called in, or the pain is driven away by a dose or two of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, the celebrated cure for all summer complaints, from simple cramps to the most aggravated forms of Cholera morbus or dysentery. No household should be without the PAIN KILLER, unless there is a drug-store next door. Every reputable druggist sell the medicine. Only 25c. New large size.

"Little Trixie," under the management of Fred Robbins, held forth at the opera house, Monday evening, to a large and appreciative audience. It was the best entertainment ever given in this place. May Smith Robbins is the greatest little Irish comedienne that we ever saw. She delights the audience and plays her part as "Trixie" to perfection. Every feature of the entertainment is simply superb and every part played to perfection. We heartily commend May Smith Robbins' "Little Trixie" Co. to the favourable notice of the press of Michigan.—Pontiac Times. Opera house, Wednesday, Aug. 31. 47d

The Coming Horticultural Show.

The prize list of the Horticultural Show, and Fall Exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, to be held on Thursday, Sept. 8th, in the new market building, has just been issued from the EXAMINER and prize lists may be obtained from the vigilant secretary, Mr. Peter Henry. The list of prizes has been thoroughly revised, especially in the ladies department and the fair should do everything in their power to make their department, in particular and the whole exhibition in general, a success. The list of prizes in Class I Plants and Flowers; II. Fruits and Vegetables; III Florists and Market Gardeners; IV. Fine Arts; V. Mineralogy and Taxidermy; VI Ladies' Work and VII Children's Work, is large and varied and well worth making an exhibition and competing for. The date of this year's exhibition is Sept. 8th, and the doors will be open from 4 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. To avoid confusion that has been experienced in the past, positively no entries will be received on the day of the exhibition. Entries will be received by the secretary on 7th September, at the New Market building, from 2 to 6 p.m. Parties from a distance may send their entries to the secretary, P. O Drawer X to reach him not later than 5 th September. Let the citizens one and all turn in and make this year's exhibit of the society a grand success and stimulate the society into greater efforts in its work.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

The Forester's Ramble.

They Make the Circuit of the Lakes Yesterday in Good Style—Rather Unfortunate Weather.

The great Union Canadian order of Forester's excursion of Courts Langton, No. 344, and Peterborough No. 29, around the lakes yesterday was, notwithstanding the inclement weather, a great success. No less than 300 excursionists jumped on board the train at the G.T.R. station here yesterday morning, bound for pleasure in spite of the clerk of of the weather's wrath, Chemong was reached by a quick run and all embarked on board the steamer Sunbeam with palace scow "Paragon" attached. Both barks were comfortably loaded. The sail through Chemong and Buckhorn Lakes to Buckhorn was a delightful one, and the latter place was reached in safety at 11 o'clock, where a stay of one and a half hour was made. Here the picnickers enjoyed dinner but the outdoor festivities were somewhat dimmed by the sprinkling of rain. Many indulged in fishing in an almost vain endeavour to capture the largest fish caught during the day with a hook and line and so win the prize of a fine trolling line and bait, given by the committee in order to encourage the disciples of Izak Walton unto greater activity in their favorite pastime. Bro. H. Nesbitt, D.D.H.C.R., carried off the trophy with a flourish. His capture was a puny bass weighing less than a pound. Bro. Wm Robinson, C. R., Court Peterborough, captured two large bass and a black bass during the day with a silver bait, but he was ruled out of the competition by the committee on account of his not complying at at the condition stipulated in the catching of fish, viz., that it should be done with a hook and line. At one o'clock all on board sad away the steamer plies through the surging wavelets of Deer Bay, Deer Lake, Lovesick Lake and Lovesick Locks to Burleigh Falls, reached at 3 o'clock, where another stay of an hour and a quarter is spent. The pionicers return to the steamer and off they are again, wending their way through the myriads of islets in Stony Lake to Young's Point where they halt for half an hour, then on they speed out of Clear Lake into Katchewanooks, the young people in the meantime sweeping the decks of the "Paragon" with light feet to the magic music discoursed by Prof. Butcher's orchestra until Lakefield was touched at half past seven, where the care-free voyagers land and spend another enjoyable half hour in the green and picturesque grove of the Fremont House, then on board the evening train for Peterborough and home in speed and safety at precisely 9 o'clock, tired, contented and happy.

The committee who had charge of the excursion and to whom can be ascribed its success were:—Bro. Thos. Hooper, P.C.R., Court Peterborough, (chairman); Bro. A. H. Stratton, Rec. Sec., Court Langton, (secretary) and all the officers of Courts Langton and Peterborough.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, Aug 26th.

At the police court this morning there was a large crowd and a busy session of the court. James Ford, hailing from Ottawa, "faced the beak" on a charge of being drunk. The prisoner was accorded half an hour to relinquish Peterborough.

Mrs. Tyler, of Smith street, who was arrested by Chief Rozel yesterday afternoon charged by Mrs. Allen, residing on the same street with the larceny of $11 from her, appeared in court. Mr. R. E Wood represented the Crown and Mr. E. B. Stone appeared for the defendant. Mrs. Allen charged the defendant with extracting the purse which contained the money from under her while she (Mrs. Allen) was lying in bed recovering from the effects of her voluntary bath on Wednesday night. It appears that Mrs. Tyler was in the room at the time and standing at the head of the bed. Several witnesses were examined but the magistrate on the evidence submitted dismissed the case against Mrs. Tyler, there being no evidence that directly substantiated the charge.

Christian Alliance Meeting Last Night.

There was a large attendance last night in the old council chamber, opera house block, to hear the distinguished members from a distance address the meeting. Mr. Jas. Hannah presided and led in the opening devotional exercises. After several seasons of prayer and some lively hymns were sung, Mr. Hannah introduced the Rev. A. E Funk, of New York City, who is at present on a holiday tour through various parts of Canada and the States. Mr. Funk is assistant pastor of Rev A. B. Simpson, great Gospel Tabernacle in New York city and is also the hard working secretary of the Missionary Training College in the same city. He is a good speaker and delivers an address in an earnest, convincing manner. Last night he spoke from the III Chapter of Ephesians on "Confidence" or having implicit faith in God. He handled his subject well in a forty minutes interesting address and urged all to accept Christ's truths believing and taking Him to be the Great Head in all things and having an unshaken faith and firm confidence in Him and His teachings. Mr. Funk illustrated his remarks by several incidents drawn from life. Mr. Glover from Dr. Kellogg's church, St. James Square, Toronto, who is an outgoing missionary, also addressed the meeting for some minutes. His subject was consecration all that Christ requires of us and would lead us to do. He based his remarks on Christ's command to his disciples, "Go ye into the world and preach the gospel to every creature." He strongly advised the young to obey this precept and never tire of working for Him from whom cometh every good and perfect gift. Mr. Glover's address was impressive and powerful. At the close Rev. Mr. Funk asked all those who were willing to obey the Master in all things and would be led in their work by Christ whatever he might ask them to do, to stand up and about twenty-five responded. The meeting closed with the benediction.

WHY BLAKE WAS INVITED

A HIGH-CLASS REVIEW SAYS HE WAS ANGLED FOR.

His Acceptance of a Constituency Regarded as a Clever Move on the Part of the Irish Clerical Politicians.

The Saturday Review, a magazine, as all know, of lofty literary tendency, thus comments on Mr. Blake's advent in the political arena in Ireland:

The election of Mr. Edward Blake for South Longford was a very adroit proceeding on the part of the clerical Tadpoles and Tapers in Ireland. Mr. Blake is a Canadian lawyer and statesman whose reputation has passed beyond the limits of the Dominion. He has been Prime Minister of his own Province of Ontario; he has held high office in the Canadian Cabinet under Mr. Mackenzie; he has been the leader of the Liberal party in the Ottawa Parliament; he is an opponent of the clique which favors annexation to the United States; a Unionist as regards England and the colonies, an advocate of the integrity of the empire, as he understands it. He is, therefore, a capture valuable to the Separatives, who are able for which, if he fully understood them, he would decline to be employed. He is, we believe, a Protestant. Mr. Gladstone will be able to point to Mr. Blake's election for South Longford as a proof of the conscientious care with which Roman Catholic majorities keep the spheres of politics and religion apart. Talk of persecution after this!

TO USE HIM FOR PURPOSES

The Roman Catholic bishops see the importance of supplying illustrations of Mr. Gladstone's argument. They are very dexterous fishers of men. Mr. Blake is at once their prey and their bait; they have angled for him, and they purpose to angle with him. They have hooked him, and they intend by means of him to hook others. From another point of view, Mr. Blake's election strengthens the anti-Parnellites. The members of that party possess many shining and solid qualities. They are a little lacking, however, in that scarcely definable, but easily intelligible attribute which is CALLED RESPECTABILITY.

The instinct which leads men to strengthen their weak point has induced them to wrap themselves up in the innocent simplicity of Mr. Justin McCarthy. It has prompted the welcome which they gave to Mr. Blake, who is a scholar, a lawyer and a statesman of repute. He in some degree weakens the argument from Mr. Davitt and Mr. Tim Healy.

In ordinary circumstances Mr. Blake's election would be interesting and important. He is not the only instance of our time of a politician who has transferred himself from colonial to Imperial politics. Mr. Lowe, to speak of Lord Sherbrook by the name which alone has any political significance, and Mr. Childers served their apprenticeship to public life in Australia. But they were Englishmen in the colonies and not colonists in England. In a political sense they can scarcely be said to have had their domicile in New South Wales or Victoria. They had always the intention of returning.

MR. BLAKE IS A CANADIAN.

by birth, by education and by uninterrupted residence, by his professional pursuits, and by his public career. His presence, and that of men like him, is very desirable in the House of Commons, if properly introduced there. On many subjects he will be able to speak with an authority which few men possess. But he is elected, not because he knows a good deal about Canada, but because he knows nothing about Ireland. When Mr. Blake has had some experience of the House of Commons, and of his associates there, the views with which he has entered it may undergo a change. Especially he may see that the loose and elastic relations, which are healthy and natural, and which have grown up because they are healthy and natural, between and her settlements are impracticable between the several parts of the United Kingdom; that the conditions of union in the former case are the precursors of separation in the other.

THE MOTHER COUNTRY

Mr. Blake's position is in contrast with that of Mr. Naoroji, M. P. In Mr. Pitt's first speech on Parliamentary Reform he spoke of some seven or eight boroughs as belonging rather to the Nabob or Arcot than to the English people, as being more within the jurisdiction of the Carnatic than that of Great Britain. The statement that Mr. Naoroji had received pecuniary tributes to the amount of £28,000 from Indian princes delighted at his election, and a gift of £10,000 from the Maharajah of Hyderabad for the erection of some memorial of his victory in Central Finsbury, has been contradicted. But the fiction points to the possibility of the wealth of India being employed to bring about now the state of things which

PITT DENOUNCED IN 1782.

Another danger to which he pointed is more likely to be the result of home rule. Mr. Pitt thought that the venal boroughs of his time might give opportunity to a foreign potentate at enmity with England to plant its agents in the House of Commons. Members of an Irish Parliament in Dublin, and one of the Irish contingent in Westminster, may very easily become the instruments and stipendaries of foreign powers across the Atlantic to the Channel. The hands of Irish patriots are as familiar with American gold now as they were with French gold a century ago. Men like Mr. Blake, of honor and independence, would we fear, be little in favor, or in favor only as screens for less reputable associates.

The Age of Cuts.

Henry Irving, the famous actor, whose face has, through advertisement and illustration, become familiar to many people, was one day at a seaside resort, when he noticed a little girl looking at him fixedly.

"Well, my dear," said he, "do you know who I am?"

"Yes, sir," was the shy answer.

"Well, who am I, then?"

"You are one of Beecham's pills."

And, indeed, his face had figured in an advertisement of the nostrum.—Youth's Companion.

"German Syrup"

J. C. Davis, Rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Eufaula, Ala.: "My son has been badly afflicted with a fearful and threatening cough for several months, and after trying several prescriptions from physicians which failed to relieve him, he has been perfectly restored by the use of two bottles of Boschee's German Syrup. I can recommend it without hesitation." Chronic severe, deep-seated coughs like this are as severe tests as a remedy can be subjected to. It is for these long-standing cases that Boschee's German Syrup is made a specialty. Many others afflicted as this lad was, will do well to make a note of this.

HE THREATENS TO GO BACK.

An Immigrant Who Appreciates His Value to the Community.

A greasy looking tramp who had lived in City Hall Park for three years and whose feet have become as hard as rocks from the frequent rappings upon them from the clubs of the sparrow policeman, took four five cent whiskeys the other day and mustered up courage enough to march to the Mayor's office. He had a paper in his hand. The doorkeeper nabbed him and asked him what he wanted.

"I wish to see Mayor Grant," he said loftily.

"What about?"

"That's my business."

"Well, if it's your business it isn't public business; git!"

"I desire to enrich the community to the amount of $500."

"All right, hand me a check for it."

"No, that won't do, I want to give the community $1,000 and get $500 change."

"What's your scheme?"

"Read what it says in this paper." And he pointed to the following paragraph:

Reliable statisticians have circulated that every adult immigrant who comes into the country is worth $1,000 to the community.

"Well?"

"I'm an adult immigrant, ain't I?"

"I suppose so. What of it?"

"Well, I'm worth $1,000 to the community, and I propose to have some of it, or I'll get hunk."

"How?"

"Well, if the community doesn't pay me $500 I'll go back. There's a clear gain of $500 in this deal for the community. It's a plain business proposition. Here am I benefitting the city to the extent of $1,000, duly certified to by official statisticians, and I don't get a penny out of it for myself."

"Move on!"—N. Y. Press.

Shot From Ambush.

JACKSON, Ky., Aug. 25.—The mail carriers from Crockettsville report that J. S. Hamilton, United States Deputy Marshal of Owsley County, was shot from ambush on Monday on Lings Creek, near Crockettsville. Hamilton was accompanied by a young man named Riley, who was shot through the arm. They say there were four men in ambush, but they could not be identified. Hamilton lately arrested a number of moonshiners on Buffalo Creek, in Owsley County, and it was for this, doubtless, that he was shot.

Fire in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—About 8 o'clock last evening fire was discovered in Abbott & Co.'s Metropolitan Rolling Mills in Delorimiere avenue. When the firemen arrived the fire had made rapid progress, and nearly the whole building, a large wooden structure, was enveloped in flames. It was found impossible to save the building, and about 9 o'clock the roof fell in with a crash. The fire will be confined to the mills, but they will be a total loss. The firemen are still working on the building. The loss will be heavy.

Indian Laborers Excluded.

PORT TOWNSEND, Washington, Aug 25.—The Treasury Department has issued orders to immigration inspectors preventing Indians coming from British Columbia under contract to pick hops in the State of Washington. The order affects Puyallup valley, who largely depend on the foreigners to harvest the crops and usually are unable to employ white labor.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—Dr. Urquhart of Oakville came to the city yesterday with fire in his eye. He claims to be the victim of a "blackmailing" scheme by which an attempt is being made to extort $16 from him illegally. He told the following story:

"The other day a stranger came to my house and asked for an ounce of carbolic acid. I was taking a nap at the time, so my wife gave him the acid after cautioning him as to the danger in handling it. He said, 'O, that's all right, I want to use it in an ointment.' In a few minutes he came back and asked to see me. He reminded me that I had sold poisons and under the act was liable to a fine of $20, and proposed that if I would pay all the back fees—amounting to $16—he would not press his case. I told him I would not agree to that, so he took his leave.

"I do not know the fellow's name, but I intend to find it out, and I intend to see the end of this affair. That is what I came to Toronto for to-day."

A sorrowful man was A. A. Beaton of Alexander Postoffice, Inverness County, Nova Scotia, as he made his way to Police Headquarters last night. His story, as he gave it to the detectives, is as follows: He was on his way east and met on the train a very friendly personage, who, it turned out, was bound for the same destination.

While the pair were in the Union Station waiting-room a man came up to Mr. Beaton's friend and said, "I've got your freight all right, but you didn't give me enough to pay for it." The freight owner pulled out a wad of bills, but found he had not enough to cover the deficit. Turning to Beaton he asked, "Can you lend me some money for a few minutes?" Beaton was quite willing to oblige his new-found friend and brought forth a roll of bills containing $68. His friend took the pile, saying, "Never mind, I'll count it myself." He then disappeared with his confederate and Beaton finally made up his mind that he had been fleeced, and made haste to inform the police.

THE PRINCESS MAY.

Refutation of a Slander Contained in a New York Paper.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Sunday Sun published the following paragraph:

"A very sad and serious scandal is afloat in court cirles about the young Princess May, the betrothed of the late Duke of Clarence. The rumor lacks confirmation and should not be repeated, but it is beyond a doubt that she will not be affianced to the Duke of York."

A despatch from London to The World says the story of a scandal connected with the Princess May is devoid of the shadow of any foundation.

The Princess is at present on a visit to the Duke and Duchess of Westminster at Cliveden, their palatial residence on the Thames. The Duke and Duchess of Teck and her brother are also staying there, in addition to Lord Rowton, Georgina, Countess of Dudley, and others.

On Saturday the Princess with the rest of the company went for a long trip on the river in a launch. A person who saw her says that she looks very well and is apparently in good spirits.

Nothing has been officially announced as yet as to her betrothal, but it is believed that the Queen is raising obstacles to the Duke of York marrying her, as he desires to do.

The Queen is working heaven and earth to bring about an engagement between the Duke of York and Princess Victoria, daughter of Princess Christian.

The arrangement would be as unpopular as an engagement with Princess May would be popular.

The Prince of Wales is also believed to be against the Christian marriage for one reason, because they are cousins, and the chances of the succession might be imperilled.

THE CHOLERA.

The Dread Disease Makes Its Appearance in Antwerp.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Standard's Hamburg correspondent says: Cholera has broken out in all parts of the city and its suburbs, though the outbreak is worse in the harbor quarter. Yesterday 340 persons were attacked and 130 cases proved fatal. Several of the worst-infected streets have been closed by the police. Prof. Koch declares that he has found several cases of true Asiatic cholera. Twenty-nine cases were reported in Altona yesterday. The thermometer registered 97 in the shade.

Five Deaths at Antwerp.

ANTWERP, Aug. 25.—Several very bad cases of cholera have made their appearance and have created great consternation throughout the city. Five deaths are reported since yesterday. One case, it is alleged, has appeared on board a steamer from Hamburg.

Precautions at London.

LONDON, Aug 25.—The port sanitary committee has ordered that a medical inspection be made of every arrival from Russia and Hamburg. Dirty clothing and all baggage suspected of being infected with cholera will be burned.

THE FALL RIVER MURDER

A SIGNIFICANT OUTBREAK ON LIZZIE BORDEN'S PART.

She Accuses Her Sister of Having Revealed Some Secret to Her Lawyer, and, Much to the Surprise of the Prison Matron, Upbraids Her for It—Her Depressed State Afterwards.

FALL RIVER, Aug. 26.—"You gave me away, Emma, did you not?"

"No, Lizzie, I only told Mr. Jennings what he ought to know for your defence."

"That is false. You have given me away and I know it, but remember, I will not give in one inch; never, never! That is all I care to say to you."

In a voice embittered with suppressed passion Lizzie A. Borden yesterday, in the presence of her attendant, Mrs. Regan, the police matron, thus addressed her nearest and dearest relative, as with a violent wave of the hand she turned her back upon her sister, with whom the conversation just narrated had taken place.

With tears in her eyes and a voice choked with sobs Miss Emma left the room and the accused, overcome with emotion, fell prostrate on the bed.

Cast off by the sister to whom she had come with words of comfort and hope, Emma Borden returned to her home in Second-street with Lizzie's denunciation ringing in her ears.

Mrs. Regan, speechless and horrified, watched the prisoner intently. The significance of the scene she had witnessed was fully realized and the compromising words of the suspected murderess, her unstrung nerves and wretched mental condition were a revelation.

Previously she had been stoical and reserved, even in disposition and self-control. But in one brief minute, as Emma Borden was entering the room, a transformation had taken place and passion reigned within her where indifference had before been.

The circumstances that led up to this conversation between the Misses Borden are learned to be as follows: Since the time of her late arrival in this city Lizzie has been visited daily by Miss Emma, who has been solicitous for her comfort and welfare. Everything that could possibly be suggested to make the prisoner's life at the Central Station less tedious Miss Emma thought of and did.

Miss Lizzie's food was all sent from the Borden house, her favorite books were brought to her, and frequently her sister called either to bring some delicacy or to offer words of comfort and sympathy.

It appears that Mr. Jennings has also been a frequent caller at the Central Station and that his interviews with Miss Lizzie have not appearently been so satisfactory as he desired. Wishing, as counsel for Miss Borden, to be possessed of information that he did not have it is understoon that he called at the Borden house this morning and had a talk with Miss Emma.

It is asserted that he told Miss Emma the necessity of his becoming at once acquainted with such facts in the case of which she might have a direct or indirect knowledge as had not yet come to his ears.

It is understood that Miss Emma Borden told Mr. Jennings all that she knew or surmised as to the Borden murder. Becoming possessed of this information Mr. Jennings called at the Central Station and asked to see the prisoner. He was shown at once to the matron's room and was allowed the attorney's customary privilege of seeing his client alone. Upon his entrance Mrs. Regan immediately departed, and for a considerable length of time the two were together. Then Mr. Jennings came out and the attendant returned to her charge, whom she found more nervous and troubled than previously.

Mr. John Morse did not bring Miss Lizzie's luncheon down from the Borden house at noon and the bearer of it did not see the prisoner. Miss Lizzie ate sparingly and apparently had no appetite.

Soon after, however, her sister was announced. It was then that Mrs. Regan saw signs of increased nervousness in the prisoner's manner. She got up from the bed and commenced walking the floor, and when Miss Emma, with a smile, came through the door Miss Lizzie did not wait for the door to be closed before she greeted her. Her utterances then were not of the hitherto affectionate character. On the contrary, she was cold and distant, and made no move to kiss the visitor as she came towards her.

Miss Emma spoke pleasantly, saying: "Well, Lizzie, how do you feel this afternoon?"

To this question her sister made reply: "You gave me away, Emma, did you not?"

Mrs. Regan was instantly alert. Such a remark she never before heard from a prisoner charged with a serious crime.

As has been stated, Miss Emma's reply was reassuring: "No, Lizzie; I only told Mr. Jennings what he ought to know for your defence."

This seemed to exasperate the defendant and her reply was impetuously made. It was the only compromising speech that has escaped her lips, and the moment the words were uttered Miss Lizzie looked as if she would have given her inheritance to recall them. But she could not do so. In an instant her lips were sealed, and for more than an hour afterwards she kept silent.

That anger existed on Miss Lizzie's part towards her sister was manifested, and the emphatic manner in which she practically ordered her out of the room was not to be misunderstood.

After this scene on the second floor of the Central Station the newspaper men and officers below had no idea of the significance of Miss Emma's hasty departure. Neither did they realize the importance of other movements which were soon after made by the friends of the imprisoned girl.

Within half an hour the Rev. Mr. Jubb presented himself in a state of apparent anxiety and requested to see Miss Lizzie. He was allowed to do so, and after a short call left. He talked to her in a low voice and was very positive and earnest in his manner. Mrs. Regan was in the room, but did not hear much that was said.

Then came City Missionary Buck, who also appeared to be in a disturbed frame of mind, and he, too, offered consolation. Mrs. George Brigam also put in an appearance, and after her came John V. Morse. This constituted the list of the prisoner's visitors in the afternoon, and it was evident that the purpose was to cheer up the prostrate woman.

Whether their calls were the result of a request of Miss Emma and her friends or whether their presence so closely following the outbreak between the sisters was a coincidence can only be conjectured. They left, however, before supper time, when Mr. Morse returned from the Borden house, bringing Miss Lizzie her evening repast.

A Further Cut of California Fruit.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 26.—Fruit shippers and railroad men cannot get half enough cars to fill the enormous demand, and shippers being unable to place their green fruit in eastern markets many growers are drying it. Over 700 car loads of green fruit have been shipped east.

Berlin Trying to Keep the Plague Out.

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—In consequence of the facilities offered for the transmission of cholera by means of sleeping cars that service between Hamburg and Berlin has been suspended. It is feared that notwithstanding all the precautions that have been taken to prevent the introduction of the disease here it has managed to get into the city. A passenger who arrived here today from Hamburg showed symptoms of the disease. He was at once removed to an hospital, where he was isolated. The physicians are carefully watching the case. The wife of a merchant of this city died last night and it is believed her death was due to Asiatic cholera.

Ships Avoid Hamburg.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The American Packet Company has decided to discontinue the service of the ships and cabin passengers to Hamburg until the cholera has disappeared.

The steamships Fuerst Bismarck, Normannia and Augusta Victoria will ply only to Southampton until further orders, and will carry no immigrants whatever. All immigrant passengers will be brought by separate ships from Hamburg, and no cabin passengers will be taken on these ships.

The How of It.

How poor, how rich, how abject, how august, how complicated, how wonderful, is man: and it might be added, how more so is woman. With her peculiarly delicate and intense organization, she is the superlative degree of man. Even in diseases she excels him, having many that he has not. She has, however, found out a great remedial agent, for the cure of her diseases. In Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; a medicine suited to her nature, made for the express cure of those diseases which rift on her. It is especially effective in all weaknesses incidental to motherhood, while it is also a potent restorative tonic for the feeble and debilitated generally.

CHOLERA'S RAPID MARCH

THE DREAD DISEASE REPORTED AT GRAVESEND, ENG.

Passengers from an Infected Ship Permitted to Proceed to London Without Undergoing Quarantine—There Is, Consequently, Considerable Alarm in the British Capital.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Cholera has entered England. It was brought here by the steamer Gemma, which arrived at Gravesend yesterday from Hamburg. It was reported the steamer was infected, but the authorities after examining the passengers allowed them to land.

A few hours after two aliens were taken sick. They were removed to the hospital where the doctors pronounced their malady cholera. They died shortly afterward.

Alarm in London.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The officials of the Local Government Board, charged to watch the progress of cholera, was last night less confident of the metropolis escaping a visitation of the disease. The Gravesend cases are undoubtedly cases of Asiatic cholera. The medical officers who inspected the steamer Gamma, from which the cholera-stricken passengers were landed, permitted a number of passengers to proceed to London under the excuse that they had not been in contact with that part of the vessel where the infection showed itself. To assuage alarm the authorities state that precautions were taken to disinfect the passengers, but this statement, which has only been made since the character of the disease declared itself, is discredited, and with cholera at Gravesend and infected persons probably roaming about in our midst some outbreak of the disease in London is considered inevitable.

The port of London is not properly watched. The sanitary committee has applied for a vast increase of staff, otherwise it cannot undertake the surveillance of ships entering the Thames from infected continental ports. But no Thames cordon will suffice to shut out the danger of infection. A stream of arrivals from the continent comes via Harwich, Southampton and other ports by train without inspection. Railways and steamship companies, excepting the trans-Atlantic lines, show no intention of suspending their ordinary arrangements. In spite of the setting up of quarantine in foreign ports, traffic will continue, making supervision on the Thames almost valueless. The authorities expect an outbreak and are preparing to meet it. In the East End where the last epidemic, that of 1866, killed 16,000 persons in a few weeks, the water supply has been tested and found to be of doubtful quality and changes have been ordered in the filtering apparatus The people of South London have been warned that their water supply is a source of danger.

Inoculation for Cholera.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Medical men in this city are greatly interested in a new treatment of cholera discovered at the Pasteur Institute in Paris, and in case the epidemic continues to spread the treatment will be tested by New York experts. Of this treatment, which is analogous to that employed by Jenner in smallpox, and by Pasteur in hydrophobia, Dr. Hoffkine, who has been studying at the Pasteur Institute for some years, claims to be the discoverer. He is confident the inoculatory method will do for cholera what it has already done for smallpox and hydrophobia.

He has used choleric vaccine upon several animals with the result that none of them have died, while of those animals subjected to the poisonous virus and not inoculated all have died.

After his experiments with rabbits guinea pigs and pigeons had proved successful Dr. Hoffkine injected into himself some attenuated virus of cholera and stated that the resultant symptoms were a slight elevation of the temperature, pains in the head, dryness in the mouth and a swelling of the skin and ganglia at the spot where the inoculation took place. There was scarcely any intestinal derangement and the normal condition of health was restored within 24 hours.

He next experimented on himself with active virus with the same results, and concluded that inoculations of this kind could be made upon human beings with perfect safety and with the assurance that six days after the vaccination the patients would be proof against all attacks of cholera.

An Infected Ship.

ROTTERDAM, Aug. 27.—The steamer Jason, from Hamburg, which arrived Friday at Maassluis, 10 miles west of this city, had several cases of Asiatic cholera aboard and was put into quarantine. Six of the crew were ill with the disease and two were dead.

No More Steerage Passengers.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—The North German Lloyd Steamship Company has announced that its vessels will carry no steerage passengers who come from Russia during the cholera epidemic.

The German Army Bill.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—The provisions of the army bill have been settled, but it is doubtful if the bill will be presented this session. A two-years' service will not be introduced in legal form, but provision will be made to shorten the infantry service in order to bring about an increase in recruiting.

Miss Philbrick Out of Danger.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Miss Edith Philbrick, who, with Miss Hilda Wood, was murderously assaulted by one Leonard Manktelow near Chiselhurst on Aug. 3, is out of danger.

The brother of the young lady gave up skin from his own arm to be grafted upon her face in the places where the skin had been torn off by Manktelow's barbarous blows.

Action Against Pacaud and Armstrong.

QUEBEC, Aug. 27.—Mr. Drouin, Q.C., acting for Attorney-General Casgrain, has instituted an action against Mr. Ernest Pacaud and Mr. C. N. Armstrong. The writ asks for the remittance to the Provincial Treasury of a certain sum of money alleged to have been fraudulently obtained by the defendant, Pacaud, through the settlement of a Baie des Chaleurs Railway claim.

Discharged.

HAMILTON, Aug. 27.—N. Hucker, the Buffalo bucket-shop man, who was arrested here on a capias on Monday, was released from the custody of the sheriff Friday on an order of the county judge. He is a stylish-looking young man who wears gold eyeglasses and dresses well.

TRIAL OF LIZZIE BORDEN

ENQUIRY INTO THE FALL RIVER MURDERS BEGUN.

The Medical Examiner Tells of the Bloody Scene in the Borden Homestead and of the Stains Which He Found on the Prisoner's Garments and on a Hatchet.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 27.—The preliminary trial of Lizzie Borden for the murder of her parents began yesterday. A conjunction of circumstances brought about the opening on Thursday. Thursday has been the most fateful in this mysterious crime. Andrew J. Borden and his wife were murdered in their home Thursday, Aug. 4. The following Thursday the bodies were removed from their vault and the first real autopsy made. It was then that the gash in Mrs. Borden's back between the shoulder blades was discovered. On that Thursday, too, Lizzie Borden was arrested, and now her trial begins Thursday.

The proceedings began at about the same moment, it is calculated, that Mrs. Borden was chopped to death in her bedroom three weeks ago. As on Monday when the case was postponed the court house was packed and over half of the spectators were women, only a few of whom appeared to be young and unmarried.

It was 10.25 o'clock when the trial began, by District-Attorney Knowlton calling Medical Examiner Dr. William A. Dolan to the stand. Five minutes before that time the accused woman entered the room. She was preceded by her sister, Emma, leaning on the arm of Charles J. Holmes, the cashier of the bank of which Andrew Borden was President, and who looks like A. M. Palmer. Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. George Brigham, who attended Lizzie while she was being guarded in the Borden house previous to arrest, followed, and then Lizzie came in on the arm of Rev. E. A. Buck.

Her face was no longer pallid. It was suffused with the blood which mounts to the cheeks during excitement or mental tension. Even her ears were red with the feverish flush. That was all there was to show that the prisoner felt her position.

She was dressed in a blue serge dress, with a black bonnet, black clothes and carried a palm-leaf fan. Now and then she shielded her face with the fan, bowing her head and closing her eyes. Those fits of abstraction were brief, though, and throughout she held her head up and looked at the witnesses and lawyers. Once late in the afternoon, at 5 o'clock, when there was a little badinage between Lawyer Adams and Dr. Dolan. Sister Emma leaned over and with a smile whispered something in Lizzie's ear. Lizzie responded with a smile so broad that it was what might be called a noiseless laugh.

By the time Dr. Dolan took the stand the court room was jammed to the doors, and some of the tree citizens of the burgh were hanging on to the judge's bench and helping themselves to his ice-water. Judge Blaisdell is a benevolent old gentleman with a perpetual smile on his face and he did not care.

Dr. Dolan, in answer to questions from District Attorney Knowlton, said he saw the dead bodies of Andrew and Abby Borden at the house No. 92 Second-street on the forenoon of Aug. 4. He was driving by and was attracted by the crowd.

He first saw the body of Mr. Borden about 11.45 o'clock. It was lying on an old-fashioned sofa in the sitting-room, covered with a sheet. After he had been in the house three or four minutes he was told that Mrs. Borden was also murdered and was lying upstairs. He went up and viewed the body, placing his hands in the wounds upon her head.

The body of Mrs. Borden the witness described as lying on the right side. The head rested on a Prince Albert coat that had been folded under a small pillow. Both were soaked with blood that had also penetrated through the sofa and saturated the carpet. The man's feet were on the floor.

There were 11 incisive wounds on the left side of the head and face, one of which cut through the eyeball. The wounds were made by some sharp instrument, probably a hatchet. One wound back of the left ear had crushed in the skull. This was done by the blunt end of the weapon.

The body of Mrs. Borden was lying face down, with the arm twined around her head as if to protect it. An old handkerchief that looked as if she might have worn it around her head while she was dusting lay near her. It was badly torn and was covered with blood, which formed a pool about the head.

Mr. Jennings, for the defence, asked the witness if a man could not easily have climbed upon the pile of boards against the back fence and jumped over. Mr. Kiernan said he did not know. A spot thought to be blood was found on the architrave of the door leading from the sitting-room to the dining-room, but it was so small Dr. Dolan and those with him lost it and it was some time before they could locate it again. Dr. Dolan, on resuming the stand, said that later in the day he removed the stomachs of the murdered people, and took for analysis samples of the milk furnished the family that morning. He described the horrible wounds on Mr. Borden's head. There were 10 on one side of the face and head, varying from an inch and a half to four and a half inches in length.

"Now, doctor," asked the District-Attorney, "what did you decide upon as the cause of death?"

"Death was due to shock and the wounds."

"What was the condition of Mr. Borden's body and face as to blood?"

"It was covered with blood."

"Were there no wounds on the right side of the face?"

"No, none."

"Was the blood clotted?"

"No."

"Was the body cold?"

"It was not."

"What time was that?"

"I got there about a quarter to twelve. The blood was still oozing from Mr. Borden's wounds."

"Was there much blood on his clothing?"

"Very little, except on the bosom of the shirt and around the neck and shoulders."

"What is your opinion as to the length of time that the man was dead?"

"I should think not over a half hour."

Dr. Dolan then said that he had counted 86 distinct blood spots on the wall, a little above the sofa, within three or four inches of the man's head. The highest blood spot on the wall was 6 feet 1¾ inches from the floor. There were 47 on a picture hanging above the body, 58 inches from the floor. Five feet away on the parlor door there were two spots and on the jamb of the door leading to the dining-room there was a splatter that looked as if made by blood flying from the weapon as it was being swung in the air.

"What weapon was used, doctor."

"I should say a hatchet or small ax. The wounds were incisive, necessitating a sharp surface, and the force with which they were given shows that there was a leverage to the weapon."

"How thick is the skull where these wounds were?"

"It is the weakest part of the skull."

"Would these wounds require a strong person to inflict them?"

"I think an ordinary, not a robust, person with a hatchet weighing four or five pounds could have done it."

The medical examiner took up the condition of Mrs. Borden's body. There were 18 wounds in all, 14 of which were on one side of the head and four on the other. The 14 gashes were made in a space bounded by the median line on the right side from the crown of the head to the base of the skull and across over the ear to within an inch or two of the right eye. The wounds were nearly all parallel and seven or eight went through the skull to the brain. The four on the left of the median line did not go through the skull. Another wound on the left side was not a penetrating wound, the scalp having been only torn off and turned back.

There were blood spots on the bed in Mrs. Borden's room 18 inches from where the body lay. He thought the woman had been dead from an hour to an hour and a half before he saw the body.

"Was there anything in the appearance of the body or the blood inconsistent with her having been dead two hours?" asked Mr. Knowlton.

The defence objected to this question, the witness not having been qualified as an expert, but the Judge allowed it, and Dr. Dolan answered that there was not. Mrs. Borden, he said, was 65 years old, 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighed from 210 to 225 pounds. Shock and the wounds caused her death.

The District-Attorney got the witness to describe the direction of the cuts, and when he said they ran posteriorly, Mr. Knowlton fell over the word trying to repeat it. The audience laughed and there was the faintest zephyr dimpling Lizzie's face.

During all this evidence about blood and wounds and the constant mention of the names of her butchered parents, Miss Lizzie maintained her equanimity. Never once did she betray more than the interest of a casual spectator. The lines in her sister Emma's face were drawn tighter and her eyes were kept lowered. The ghastly picture in that old house where she was brought up was more than she could look upon. Yet, she was courageous, too. There were no tears, no feminine weakness of any kind.

Lizzie gazed in an unconcerned, half interested way at Dr. Dolan as he described the hatchet found in the cellar, which he judged could have made the wounds on both bodies. It was found with three axes, all of which had spots on them, either blood or rust.

The hatchet was a keen blade, and looked as if it had been ground recently. The blade had been washed or scraped, still there were spots on it and some on the handle. He had looked at them through an ordinary magnifying glass, but would not swear that they were blood. He found two hairs on the hatchet, a gray one near the top of the blade and a brown one caught in a ragged edge of the handle.

The hatchet and axes, the hairs and a dress and an underskirt of Lizzie Borden's were all given to Prof. Wood, the Harvard toxicologist, as were also a pair of shoes and stockings belonging to the accused daughter.

"Now, doctor," asked Mr. Knowlton, "how soon would one of those crushing blows that went through the skull cause death?"

"Instantly."

"If the person had been standing and received one of those blows, would he be dead by the time he reached the floor?"

"Yes; the action of the heart would instantly cease."

"Would that have any effect on the spurting or splurring of the blood?"

"Yes, it would retard it or lessen its force."

"Did you talk to Lizzie Borden that day?"

"Yes, I talked to her at about 1 o'clock. I asked her if her mother had received a note that morning. She said yes. I then asked if she had seen the note. She said no. I asked her how it came to the house, and she said she supposed a boy had brought it. She said she had not seen the boy, and she thought her mother had destroyed the note."

It was 2.50 o'clock when Dr. Dolan was turned over to the defence for cross-examination. This was conducted by Melvin O. Adams of Boston. For three hours and a quarter Mr. Adams plied the medical examiner with tantalizing questions, but failed to get him confused.

In answer to questions the witness said he thought the blow behind the left ear of Mr. Borden might have been the first delivered. It was sufficient to have caused death. On the Saturday following the murders the witness said he visited the house and Mr. Jennings gave him a blouse, a skirt and an underskirt said to have been worn by Lizzie Borden at the time the crimes were committed.

"Did you see any blood on those garments?"

"There was a spot on the white underskirt about the size of a pinhead—a good-sized pin. It looked as if the blood had dripped through another garment first, as it did not go through the underskirt."

"Was there any blood on the dress?"

"There was a smooch of some kind at the pocket. No; I could not swear it was blood."

"You also took her shoes and stockings?"

"Yes; they were given to me through Mr. Jennings."

"Was there any blood on the shoes?"

"Yes; on the sole at the ball of the foot and on the heel."

"Was it fresh blood?"

"I don't know; it might have been some left in the tanning in the leather."

"When did you find these hairs and blood spots on the hatchet? Was it on the day of the murders?"

"No; the hatchet was found that day, but I saw the hairs a day or two after."

"Were they long hairs?"

"No, they were short pieces. One was three-quarters of an inch and the other an inch and a half. Both were broken—the brown one was the longer. Both had been broken back of the fine point, or outer end."

By pinning the doctor down and hurling confusing questions, based on contradictions in his estimates of distance and the engineer's measurements, Mr. Adams had Mrs. Borden's body, that weighed over 200 pounds, reduced to occupy a space about ten inches wide.

As the lawyer reached his climax Lizzie Borden broke into laughter.

A Camper's Loss.

Messrs. Lester Conller and Fred Heap, Criminal Master in Peterborough Collegiate Institute, sustained a serious loss recently while camping at Stony Lake. THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE SUCCESS.

Every ratepayer, no matter, what his attitude towards the Collegiate Institute of this town, must be better pleased with a demonstration of its efficiency than with the reverse. That the results of the Departmental Examinations are an indication of its efficiency will be admitted. Judging by this standard, the Collegiate Institute is doing excellent work. At the recent examinations throughout the province the average of successful candidates from all the schools was forty per cent., while the average of successful candidates from the Peterborough Collegiate Institute was 60 per cent., placing the latter in respect of general efficiency twenty per cent. ahead of the average schools of the province. Further, our own Collegiate Institute was only surpassed by four others in the number of students passed, as the following table shows:

	No. Passed.
Owen Sound	100
London	80
Hamilton	78
Toronto (Parkdale)	70

When it is considered, however, that the number of pupils attending these schools is double of the attendance at our Institute, the difference in results will be seen to be more apparent than real. In fact, in proportion to attendance, Peterborough stands ahead of all of them. Only one school, Walkerton, with an equal attendance of pupils, equalled Peterborough's list of successful candidates, the numbers being identical, 53. Taking, therefore, 53 as the standard of excellence it will be interesting to note the results achieved at the Departmental examinations by schools having a larger attendance of pupils than our own school, as for instance:

	No Passed.
Lindsay	50
St. Catherines	31
Ottawa	25
Brockville	24
Brantford	39
Kingston	30
Collingwood	41
Woodstock	50
Cobourg	14

Of the above schools, which have a larger list of pupils to draw from, only Lindsay and Woodstock approached the results of Peterborough. Now a list of the schools with a like attendance will show that they have not had nearly the success of Peterborough in competing with more powerful rivals:—

	No. Passed
Napanee	19
St. Thomas	36
St. Marys	48
Guelph	32
Belleville	23
Galt	35
Chatham	41

Another interesting table may be compiled of the schools in this district, all of which, however, have a lesser attendance, except Cobourg and Lindsay, which are numerically stronger in pupils—possible candidate's—than Peterborough:—

	No. Passed.
Lindsay	50
Port Hop	26
Cobourg	14
Norwood	19
Bowmanville	27
Port Perry	12
Whitby	16
Campbellford	19
Madoc	20
Deseronto	15
Stirling	6

Thus it will be seen that Peterborough Collegiate Institute, being judged by the work done, the best possible test, holds its own with the best schools of the Province, and, in proportion to attendance, surpasses every school in the Province except Walkerton, whose record it duplicates. Not only in the number of successful candidates does Peterborough take the lead, but also in the proficiency of the candidates—standing highest on the honour roll. In the hundred and forty schools of the Province, the number of first-class honours was, altogther, twenty, an average of one-seventh per school. Of these honours Peterborough pupils appropriated three, or twenty-one times more than the average high school. The results referred to above, while they do not call for undignified exultation, are very gratifying as indicating the excellent character of the instruction imparted in our Collegiate Institute. And it may be expected that this record will be maintained if not improved upon. This year the school passed fifty-three, last year thirty-one, and the preceding year sixteen. This is progress of a very tangible character, which will serve to establish its reputation and attract a larger list of pupils, and in this respect prepare it for still better results. The Peterborough Collegiate Institute is now in every way one of the best educational schools of its class in the province. Its accommodation and equipment are excellent, and these, with a thoroughly efficient staff of teachers, commend the school in the strongest manner to all those in or outside the town who wish to secure the advantages of sound teaching in all the branches of higher education. To all the other advantages which the town of Peterborough presents, as a desirable place of residence, the possession of first-rate, liberally conducted High and Public Schools, is not the least important.

The Best Blood Purifier.

Cure for Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents package. dw

Best Cure For

All disorders of the Throat and Lungs is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has no equal as a cough-cure.

Bronchitis

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P.M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

In a few days the logs will be out of these waters.

"School's In"

The vacation term in our high and public schools ends with this week. On Monday morning the usual procession of scholars "reforms company" to the various schools of the town, and the work of another term will begin. This will undoubtedly suggest to parents and heads of families the desirability of having their boys dressed in a new suit of school clothing. During the holidays Messrs. Grafton & Co., manufacturers of clothing, have been busily preparing for the wants of the boys, and as they lead in men's clothing, so do they in boys'. They are certainly original in their ideas about how boys' clothing should be made, and dexterous in executing them—so much so, that they are absolutely certain to be imitated. But the trouble with their imitators is that they can't keep up with the excellence of Grafton's boys' suits. In the matter of price, quality, style and make, there is no boys' clothing in town to compare with Grafton & Co.'s, and if you make an inspection of the stock at 393 George street, Mr. Dack, the manager will be happy to give you his careful attention. 2d

A Peterborough Machine Did it.

The South Verulam correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent says:—The harvest is in full blast, and the farmers are rushing things lively. In look over the Bob. Ind. I came across some big cutting supposed to be done by Davidson and Corbett. Now, sir, last Monday Mr. George White knocked the stuffing out of the whole of them, for he cut sixteen acres of heavy oats in eight hours with a light pair of horses. The binder was made by Peter Hamilton, of Peterborough.

His First Visit.

As already announced in the EXAMINER, Mr. J. J. Grafton, of the firm of Grafton & Co., clothing manufacturers, Dundas, has made his first visit to the Peterborough branch since they first started to do business about four months ago. He is very much pleased to find the Peterborough branch in such a go-ahead condition. Mr. Grafton has first made a visit to the Owen Sound branch where they have been doing business for the past four years, and are now doing the trade of the town. He says from the present appearance of business in Peterborough they have the lead in the clothing line, and if new stylish goods, new designs and first class making at about half price will keep it, they are going to do it. They have already received several cases of new fall goods in suits, and when the stock is complete it will contain all the latest styles of men's, boy's and children's clothing that the home and foreign markets can produce. Mr. Grafton is a pushing energetic man, and undertakes nothing but what he carries out in first class style. He has introduced a class of trade into Peterborough such as the town never knew before. Every garment is made equal to any tailor made garment turned out in town. 1d1w

A good Samaritan came along and piloted her through the numerous avenues and many cross streets home in safety. The young lady undaunted at the idea of getting lost in any place in Canada, defiantly set out out again determined to show what she could do, but a like disaster overcame her, and now her proud spirit is humbled.

Opera House Wednesday, Aug. 31.

The "Little Trixie" company played to a good house in Turner opera house Thursday evening and gave the best of satisfaction. "Trixie" is a little whirlwind as a fun maker and can make melody with her heels as well as her voice. She sings and dances her way into the good graces of the most obdurate audience. She has excellent support.—Menominee (Mich.) Democrat.

An Assault Case Tried.

County Police Magistrate Elmison held court at Lakehurst yesterday. Albert Hunt charged Chas. Neville, both parties of Harvey Township, with assault alleged to have been committed in the Lakehurst post office on August 20th. Lakehurst bears a bad reputation for fighting and scrapping as the evidence plainly showed. The magistrate fined the defendant $5 and costs ($10.40 in all).

Died in Far off Cathay.

A telegram has been received in town from Mr. R. J. Colville, Toronto, giving the sad intelligence of the death at Shanghai, China, of Mr. Fred G. Saunders, of the China Inland Mission. Mr. Saunders is well known in town where he has relatives, and where he was, for three years, a resident. About a year and a half ago he went to China in the interest of the Inland Mission Board, full of zeal and hope, and his early death will be received with regret by the many friends he had in Peterborough. No particulars as to his death have been received.

Lacrosse Laconics.

This is certainly something new. The Kingston Whig says: "It has finally been decided by the Kingston lacrosse club to play Peterborough at Belleville on Wednesday next. The club will take advantage of the "Hero's" excursion, and the members will be given a free passage. The contesting teams share the gate receipts." The news was received here among the lacrosseists with some surprise. None of the Peterborough boys have received any official intelligence of the above match. The Whig must be drawing on its imagination. However, go ahead Kingston, and give due notice to the Peterboroughs—they are waiting and ready.

Lumbermen to Enter Suit.

A rumour current about town for some days is confirmed by the following despatch from Ottawa: Messrs. Mossom Boyd & Co., lumber merchants, of Bobcaygeon, have entered suit in the exchequer court to recover the sum of $10 000 from Mr. E T. Smith, collector of slides and booms for the public works department personally, and also take an injunction restraining him from selling lumber seized for arrearages of slide dues. The allegation made is that the lumber in question was seized for dues of the slide at Fenelon Falls, which they claim they are not entitled to pay. They also ask a petition of right to sue the department for a similar sum, and injunction to restrain the Government from selling, and to prevent further seizures. The slide dues claimed amount to $2.241, the value of lumber seized $5 000. Tate, the plaintiffs claim, was already sold. They urge that their trade has been paralysed and they have been prevented from filling orders and contracts. Lindsay Post

The Lake Street School.

Addition is Completed—Other Improvements and Changes in the Home of the Children.

The new addition to the Lake street Separate school is about completed and will be ready for occupancy on Monday, the opening day of the school. Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald had the contract for the raising of this school another story, and he has done his work in a manner that is satisfactory to the committee. A large and handsome white brick porch or entrance added to the front of the building enhances its beauty very much. This large porch, which is six feet square, continues to the top of the roof. It is well lighted and nicely painted. On the ground floor is the main entrance to the school and from the right a large broad stairway leads up to the second story, recently added to the building On the second floor of the porch is a large and comfortable cloak room. The walls of the building have been raised some fifteen feet by the addition of a second story and give the structure a much more substantial and imposing appearance. On the second flat are two large rooms about 24x18 capable of accommodating two extra teachers, which increase in both the staff and accommodation of the school were badly needed owing to the large attendance and over-crowded state of the rooms. Each of the new rooms has been provided with fine, large windows, a large platform and finely polished black boards, besides being furnished with thirty new, modern and most approved school desks. Only one of the new rooms will be occupied during this term and it is expected Miss Kennedy lately appointed by the board will have charge of the new department. The new rooms are well plastered and wainscoted all around. The school is covered by a cottage roof, shingled. Mr. P. McNamara did the brick work and Mr. J. Murty the eave troughing of the new addition.

OTHER CHANGES IN THE SCHOOLS

Under Mr. J. J. Lynch the active chairman of the Property Committee, the Murray street school and the Convent have been overhauled and renovated and now present a clean and tidy appearance. The four rooms of the Murray street school have had brush, trowel and hammer brought into use in several places. Much calcimining painting and plastering have been done where needed. Mr. T. Cronin did the work in a first class manner. The walks and fences around the school house have also been repaired. There will be one change on the teaching staff, Miss Kate Ryan taking the place of Miss O Brien, who was given permission by the board to attend the Normal School. In the convent the black boards have received a fresh coat of paint, the seats have been varnished and many other useful improvements made. The porch has received needed attention and the outside platform has been repaired. The whole structure has received a touching up generally There will be two changes in Mother St. Veronica, Sister Superior's staff of able assistants, Sisters St. Margaret and St. Clara will be succeeded by Sisters St John and St. Thomas. Everything is now in the best of order and ready for the formal opening.

IMPROVEMENTS TO OTHER TOWN SCHOOLS.

The public schools in town this year as in all previous years have received a thorough overhauling and many alterations and renewing with paint, varnish and calcimine have wrought a great change in their general appearance. Mr. J. J. McBain is the efficient chairman of the Property Committee and what was needed has been done under his supervision, judiciously and economically.

The improvements in the West Ward school and the Ashburnham public school together with the addition of a new room in the old council building on account of the ever crowded accommodation were written up in the EXAMINER some weeks ago. The North Ward school has a cedar box drain erected to carry off the superfluous water from the roofs. The cellar floor has been recemented and everything around the premises thoroughly renovated.

The South Ward School has also received like attention as well as the Central School and the Collegiate Institute. The aggregate cost was about $400 in all. The old school board room in the Institute will hereafter be used as a class room owing to the addition of a teacher to the Collegiate Institute's teaching staff on account of increased attendance. The Board of Education will hereafter hold its session in the large assembly room. Everything all along the line is ready and waiting for the formal opening of the schools on Monday.

Diarrhœa and Vomiting.

GENTLEMEN,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhœa and vomiting. The pain was almost unbearable and I thought I could not live till morning, but after I had taken the third dose of Fowler's Wild Strawberry the vomiting ceased, and after the sixth dose the diarrhœa stopped, and I have not had the least symptom of it since.

A Great Evil in Baby Feeding

The great evil in foods such as wheat flour, milk porridge, corn starch and the more common prepared artificial foods, is in the excess of starch, The starch which is undigested by the child undergoes a fermentation in the digestive canal, which gives rise to certain irritating acids, and these very frequently give rise to diarrhœa.

When the infant is daily fed with Lactated Food, every danger is removed, the child is at once placed on the great highway of health, and cannot be derailed by the numerous troubles which beset infants who do not receive proper and healthy food.

The cross, irritable and peevish baby is made bright and happy; it grows fast; it becomes a child of beauty. Lactated Food can do all this for the mother at a less cost than the common foods which are utterly condemned by our regular physicians.

A Hearty Send Off.

On Monday last the members of the Lindsay Branch of the C.M.B.A. and a number of their friends assembled in their rooms in the Post block, Lindsay, for the purpose of expressing in a tangible manner their esteem for Mr. Michael O'Brien, and of giving voice to the general regret at his impending departure for Peterborough to take a position on the staff of the Collegiate Institute of that town. Mr. George McHugh occupied the chair and a number of ladies graced the meeting by their presence. After some remarks by the chairman Dr. Lynch stepped forward and ready a kindly worded and appreciative address, Mr. P. J Hurley at the proper moment presenting Mr. O'Brien with a gold watch, suitably engraved.

Mr. O'Brien, who was deeply moved by this handsome testimony of their regard and by the words of the address, returned thanks in feeling terms

Messrs George McHugh, Dr. Lynch, John Fenery, T. Brady, M. W. Kennedy, M. Kenny and others then voiced the regret felt at Mr. O'Brien's departure, and paid deserved tributes to his worth as a citizen and his services to the society. The national anthem brought the proceedings to a close.

J. C. Davis, Rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Eufaula, Ala.: "My son has been badly afflicted with a fearful and threatening cough for several months, and after trying several prescriptions from physicians which failed to relieve him, he has been perfectly restored by the use of two bottles of Boschee's German Syrup. I can recommend it without hesitation." Chronic severe, deep-seated coughs like this are as severe tests as a remedy can be subjected to. It is for these long-standing cases that Boschee's German Syrup is made a specialty. Many others afflicted as this lad was, will do well to make a note of this.

An Immense Silver Mine.

Valuable silver has been found, the Lindsay Warder says, in North Victoria. Some time ago Mr. Robert Bradshaw of this town, and Mr. Reynolds, an experienced miner from Sudbury, began prospecting for mineral wealth in North Victoria. Finally they hit the right rock on the east side of Bass Lake, in the township of Galway. The find was nickel silver and the showing was so good that they at once located a claim and began to develop it. The vein lay between strata of limestone and of granite. It was three inches at the start and now at a depth of ten feet; it has broadened to sixteen feet in width. Solid metal is being taken out. Mr. Bradshaw arrived in town on Saturday last, having with him some splendid specimens of the nickel. A sample of thirty pounds of the ore has been forwarded to Prof. Selwyn at Ottawa, and the result of the assay which will be made will be awaited with much interest. It is sincerely hoped that the mine will turn out a bonanza to its enterprising proprietors. The value of the nickel silver taken out at the Sudbury mine last year was two million of dollars. With the development of mines in the north the country will boom.

A Terrible Trouble now Prevalent in our Dominion.

The medical profession acknowledge that melancholia is a grave disease, especially as it often leads on to self destruction and insanity. Many eminent physicians have devoted much time and attention to the study of this terrible trouble; and at the present time the subject is being investigated by a few of our leading medical men.

It is generally conceded, that melancholia proceeds from sleeplessness, nerve disorders and depression of spirits. The melancholic man or woman is the victim of terrible hallucinations fearful dreams, and a belief that life is always threatened. It is not uncommon to see melancholiacs attempt suicide and destruction.

Up to the present time no treatment has proved of greater value, or so effectual, as Paine's Celery Compound. The best medical men in our land prescribe Paine's Celery Compound regularly for cases of melancholia, and the grandest results invariably follow. No other remedy is so well adapted to reach the root of this dreaded trouble.

Paine's Celery Compound soon calms the nervous system; it gives strength to the weakened body, and brings repose and sweet sleep, which the sufferer needs more than anything else. Thousands of melancholiacs in Canada have been renewed through the agency of Paine's Celery Compound. Men and women who were almost despaired of, have been restored to friends perfectly cured. This grand medicine has no equal in the field of disease and suffering. The results achieved yearly far exceed all the efforts of ordinary physicians. It never fails in its glorious work of renewing and building up the weak and broken down. Reader, if any of your friends are inclined to be melancholic, or show any of the symptoms that lead to this dreadful trouble, strongly advise the use of Paine's Celery Compound; when you do this, you give golden and precious advice.

Duly Inducted as Pastor.

The ceremony of inducting the Rev. Mr. Bloodsworth to the pastorate of Millbrook and Garden Hill Presbyterian churches took place here on Tuesday afternoon and was attended by a large number of the people of both congregations as well as by quite a number of people belonging to other denominations. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers and presented a very beautiful appearance. The chair was occupied by the interim moderator, Rev. Mr. Bennett, of Springville. The sermon was preached by the Rev. D. P. Oswald, of Janetville, and the address on church polity was delivered by the Rev. Andrews, of Keene. The people were addressed by the Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Hastings, and the charge to the minister was delivered by Rev. Mr. Terrance, of Peterborough. At the conclusion of the ceremony, lunch was served by the ladies of the congregation. Among those present were Ven. Archdeacon Allen, Rev. W. R. Young, of Millbrook. Rev. John Ewing, of Mount Pleasant and Rev. James Drummond, of Centreville. The choir was very ably led by Prof. Pemberton.—Millbrook Reporter.

Malarial and other atmospheric influences are best counteracted by keeping the blood pure and vigorous with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A little caution in this respect may prevent serious illness at this season. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best all the year round medicine in existence.

Keep the Works in good order.

Norman, Ont., January 15, 1890.
W. H. Comstock, Brockville, Ont.
Dear Sir,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. Atwell.

Prof. Koch's Opinion.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—Prof. Koch is reported to have said that the number of cases of cholera in Hamburg is not great in proportion to the population, but that the virulent character of the disease gives ground for the greatest possible anxiety.

BIRDIE RAN AWAY.

And Her Lover is in the Lock-Up Charged With Abduction.

Hamilton, Aug. 26.—Thomas Agnew, a moulder who works in Moore's foundry, was arrested Wednesday on a charge of abducting Birdie Trudgeon, daughter of Mrs. Trudgeon, who keeps a boarding-house at 51 Catharine-street north. Agnew has been boarding at the Trudgeon house, and became enamored of Birdie, who is described as a bouncing damsel of 14 years of age, but looks more mature. On Monday Agnew and Miss Trudgeon went off to Toronto and did not return that night. The mother of the girl became very much alarmed. Chief McKinnon had messages sent out in all directions describing the pair and requesting that they be detained. When Tuesday and Wednesday passed without the girl returning Mrs. Trudgeon was quite prostrated with grief and anxiety. Mrs. Nellie Stiglets of Cleveland, an aunt of the missing girl, swore out a warrant charging Agnew with abduction, the issue of the warrant being based on the statement that she was under 16. Though the pair had been staying at a hotel in Toronto, the police there failed to get them, but that evening Constable Bleakley arrested Agnew as the pair got off the Toronto train at 8.15.

The prisoner occupied the dock at the police court yesterday, and as neither the prosecution nor defence was ready the case was adjourned. After the prisoner had been taken to the cells H. Carscallen, Q.C., appeared on Agnew's behalf to ask for bail. The counsel stated that the circumstances of the case were not of a serious nature, and hinted that Birdie had abducted the prisoner.

Sergt.-Major Smith informed the magistrate that since the warrant had been sworn out by the girl's aunt it had been found that Miss Trudgeon is under 14 years of age, and if that was the case the offence would be much more serious and the charge might be changed to seduction.

The magistrate refused to grant bail.

The Late Mr. T. H. Stinson's Will.

Hamilton, Aug. 26.—The will of the late T. H. Stinson was filed yesterday at the Surrogate Court office for probate by Mrs. Agnes Hope Stinson, widow of the deceased. The will is dated January 29, 1890, and leaves everything to Mrs. Stinson and appoints her sole executrix. It is a brief document, not occupying half a foolscap page, but devises property valued at nearly $60,000.

The estate is valued at $59,924, made up of $24,424.59 personalty and $35,500 realty. It includes $10,783 life insurance, $11,140.93 set down as "present value of half interest in remainder after life estate in mortgages and securities amounting to $60,000, valuation based on Carlisle tables." Of the real estate $5500 was owned by the deceased and $30,000 is the stipulated present value of the half interest in remainder after life estate of lands in Ontario and the United States.

The Meteor's Mishap.

London, Aug. 26.—In the Torbay regatta yesterday Emperor William's Meteor wound up with an accident her unfortunate season in English waters. In rounding the mark boat she fouled Major Murphy's cutter Lorna, and for five minutes it looked as if both boats were in for a rough time.

The Meteor tore the Lorna's mainsail to pieces and broke some of her rigging. Neither boat, however, sustained serious damage. The fault of the accident lay with the Emperor's British master. The Meteor will leave for Germany early next week.

Destitute State of Russian Jews.

Paris, Aug. 26.—The condition of many of the Jewish emigrants who pass through this city is such that should cholera break out among them it would find a fertile field for its spread. The Jewish committee here state that within a month 1000 Jews, refugees from Russia, have passed through Paris, most of whom were on their way to the United States. Those who have recently arrived here have been in a most filthy condition.

Ship Owners in Trouble.

London, Aug 26.—D. G. Pinkney & Sons, ship owners of Sunderland, have called a meeting of their creditors for Wednesday next to discuss private affairs. The directors of the Pinkney Sons Steamship Company, whose affairs are not affected by those of the private firm, have placed the management of the company and its vessels in the hands of W. & T. W. Pinkney of the Neptune Steam Navigation Company. Much gossip is current concerning other shipping firms.

Anderson, Anderson & Co., ship and insurance brokers of this city, have settled all open accounts to stop gossip.

SIR HENRY TYLER'S VISIT.

He Thinks the Canal Difficulty Should Be Settled at Once.

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 27.—Sir Henry Tyler, president of the Grand Trunk, accompanied by Mr. Hubbard, president of Great Western Railway and a director of the Grand Trunk, arrived here last evening, after inspecting the eastern division of the road. He expressed himself as highly satisfied with the condition of the road and declares that the company is in a much better position than it has been for some time He thinks that a speedy settlement of the canal dispute should be made in the interest of both countries. Sir Henry, after spending a few days in Montreal in consultation with the chief officers of the company, will proceed to inspect the other divisions and will go as far west as Chicago. He will then return to New York and leave for home about the end of September. He states that no important changes are contemplated in connection with the company.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Aug. 27.—It turns out that Charles McClelland, who reported that two men had waylaid and shot him on Thursday night, did not tell the truth. Investigations yesterday afternoon established beyond doubt that he attempted suicide and the shot which he fired failing to end his life he concocted the yarn which he told the police.

McClelland came here from the village of Cannington about seven and a half years ago. He was one of the most successful builders in the village and brought with him to the city quite a little capital. He at once launched out as a speculative builder and contractor, but after a few years' experience lost his all and had to make an assignment. Subsequently he again commenced business in his wife's name, but about a year ago his wife was also forced to make assignment when the liabilities were found to be in the neighborhood of $30,000, with assets a few hundred. Since then McClelland has eked out a precarious livelihood, as a carpenter, for him family of seven children, the eldest being about 15 and the youngest 6 months old.

A member of the Legislature made the statement yesterday that the Ontario Government was in receipt of a letter from Hon. Edward Blake recommending Professor James Loudon as President of Toronto in succession of Sir Daniel Wilson. He said further, that from the information in the hands of the ministers, gathered from graduates of the members of the University faculty, the heads of affiliated colleges and the high school teachers throughout the province, he was confident that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues would act on the recommendation of Mr. Blake.

About 2.30 o'clock yesterday morning fire was discovered in the finishing room of the American Rattan Company's big factory on the southeast corner of Major and Tecumseth-streets.

The alarm was given and the brigade promptly responded, but upon arrival the two upper storys were in flames, which spread quickly to all parts of the building. The firemen were at first handicapped by low pressure, but this was soon rendered and in a few hours they managed by hard work to confine the blaze to the three upper flats, which was packed with manufactured goods, was considerably damaged by water.

The loss is estimated at $40,000, $15,000 of which is on stock and plant. The insurance is in the following companies: Eastern, $2250; Union, $1000; British North America, $1000; Phœnix of Hartford, $7000; Lancashire, $1500, and Hartford, $1750.

Choked by a Piece of Meat.

ORANGEVILLE, Aug. 27.—Last night John Foregrave, formerly of Marsville, and a farmer, who lives near Grand Valley, left the latter place to go home. When they arrived at the farmer's they took a lunch and a piece of meat lodged in Foregrave's throat and choked him to death. It is said he remained sitting in a chair all night, the farmer not discovering he was dead until the morning. He leaves a wife and several small children.

Suicide of the Reeve of Lobo.

The Manitoba Harvest.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27. — By to-night fully 80 per cent. of Manitoba's wheat crop will have been harvested. Weather throughout the province continues most favorable.

A Philosopher's Opinion.

Voltaire said to a beautiful young lady with whom he was dining, "Your rivals are the perfection of art, you are the perfection of nature." This could not have been said if the young lady was suffering from disease, and positively left its signs on the features. Women who want to keep beautiful, and be the "perfection of nature," should use Favorite Prescription to assist Nature when required, to correct irregularities, aid circulation and digestion and thereby clear up the skin, rendering it soft and beautiful. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine for women's peculiar ills, sold through druggists, and guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded.

THE C.P.R.'S NEW LINE.

The Parry Sound Branch to be Pushed Through at Once.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company have commenced operations at Renfrew on the proposed extension to Parry Sound. The work is being carried on by day labor, but this will not be continued for any length of time, as the company have called for tenders and will shortly award the contract. About 50 men are now employed, and it is said the company are experiencing a little trouble in enlarging their staff in consequence of other railway projects going on in the vicinity. It is intended to reach Douglas in the course of five weeks and to complete the work if possible as far as Eganville, which is about 22 miles from Arnprior, by Christmas.

Died of Lockjaw.

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 27.—A week or so ago Mr. George Ford, who was employed at Mayor Telfer's new residence, stepped on a rusty nail, which pierced his foot. Nothing serious was noticed till Monday, when the wound began to cause pain. On Tuesday Mr. Ford resumed work but had to quit on account of the pain caused by the wound. Medical assistance was called in when he returned home. Symptoms of lockjaw were at once detected and proper remedies were applied, but the patient gradually sank till his death, which took place on Wednesday morning.

The Tennessee Disturbance.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. Aug. 27.—All remains quiet at Coal Creek. A detachment of troops was sent to Oliver Springs yesterday to aid the authorities in making arrests. The trial of the arrested miners began yesterday before a justice of the peace at Clinton. Assistant Labor Commissioner Allemen appeared at Coal Creek yesterday and surrendered. He was released on bonds. It is expected the convicts will be sent back to the mines early next week.

A Steamer Capsized.

CALCUTTA, Aug. 26.—The British steamer Angelia, bound hence for England, capsized in the Hoogly River yesterday. Thirty-two of her crew were saved, but 15 are missing. It has not yet been ascertained how the accident occurred.

The Dahomeyans Fled.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—An official despatch from Porto Novo states that Col. Dodds, in command of French forces, yesterday advanced against Sakelo. When the Dahomeyans became aware of the advance of the French their entire fighting force fled northwest.

BEECHAM'S PILLS for a bad liver.

ITCHING AND BURNING

Sores All Over Her Body. Suffering Endless. Doctor Useless. Cured in 4 Weeks by Cuticura.

Your most valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES have done my little girl so much good that I feel like saying this for the benefit of those who are troubled with skin diseases. She was troubled with itching, burning sores. When I took her to the doctor the first time, he called it the Italian itch, and said he would cure her in two weeks. When the two weeks were up, he called it eczema, and in that time she was worse than before. He doctored her for three months, and she was so bad that we did not know what to do. He did not do her any good. I saw the advertisement of CUTICURA REMEDIES in the paper, and I said to my wife, "I am going to try them." Mind what I say, she was so thick with sores that we had to soak her clothes to take them off. Itch! there was no end to it. She had it all over her body, back, legs, arms, in between her fingers. She did not have it on her head. But after taking your CUTICURA REMEDIES for two weeks the itch stopped, and in four weeks the sores were all gone. I enclose her portrait. I am more than pleased with your CUTICURA REMEDIES, as they speedily cured my daughter, and if anybody asks me about your remedies, I will uphold them wherever I go. CHARLES M. GRONEL, Conshohocken, Montgomery County, Pa.

GRAFTON & CO.

Behold, Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before Them!

The most astonishing event in the store of Grafton & Co. is the wonderful low prices they are clearing out the balance of their Summer Clothing at. A few weeks more it will find our store filled with the finest and best assorted stock of Ready-Made Clothing ever displayed in the Town of Peterborough. This Clothing is all hand cut by the best and most stylish cutters that the country can produce, but this is not all; it has the right workmanship on it. We always give customers good goods for little money, and, when we turn the goods out we know that the buyer will come back again.

TRIAL OF LIZZIE BORDEN

THE SERVANT GIRL GIVES IMPOTANT TESTIMONY.

Bridget Sullivan Tells What Occurred on the Eventful Morning—The Prisoner's Movements Previous to the Discovery of the Bodies.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 29.—The reasons of the police for arresting Lizzie Borden for the murder of her gray-haired parents are being made clear. The second day of her preliminary trial has brought out the most sensational evidence.

Bridget Sullivan, the Borden family servant girl, has told enough of the occurences of that fatal morning to weave a strong chain of circumstantial evidence against the accused daughter. According to Bridget's story it seems impossible for anyone to have committed the murders but Lizzie Borden.

Under the lead of District-Attorney Knowlton this Irish girl traced minute by minute the happenings in the Borden house that morning. Her dreadful story was told in a straightforward, honest way that bore the impression of truth. There was no hesitancy in her speech, no awkwardness and no contradiction.

Bridget's testimony is vital. Unless the defense can show what Lizzie was engaged in at the time the murders were committed, there can be scarcely any doubt of the hand that dealt the blows. During all of Bridget's damning evidence Lizzie maintained that imperturbability that has characterized her all along. With her black-gloved hand resting on her cheek she looked steadily at the pale-faced girl recounting the details that preceded the commission of the crimes and never winced.

The demeanor of her sister Emma was about the same. She heard all with bowed head. Her face seemed to speak regret and resignation.

The Fateful Moments.

After describing her movements that morning, and telling how she passed in and out while washing the windows, she tells about meeting Lizzie in the dining room, where she was ironing. The examination proceeded:

Q. Did Lizzie say anything to you then?—A. She asked me if I was going out that afternoon. I told her I did not know. She then said that Mrs. Borden had either gone out or was going. I don't know which. She told me if I were going out to be sure and lock the door.

Q. What did you do after that?—A. I went upstairs and lay down on the bed in my room.

Q. Have you told me all Lizzie said to you when she was ironing the handkerchiefs?—A. She said something about a sale of dress goods for eight cents that day.

Q. What time was it when you went upstairs?—A. Four or five minutes to 11. I know that because I had just laid down when the clock struck 11.

Q. What happened next?—A. I heard Lizzie call me and I jumped up. I knew something was the matter the way she hallooed.

Q. What did she say?—A. She said her father was dead.

Q. What time was that?—A. Ten or fifteen minutes after I lay down. She told me to run quick for Dr. Bowen. She was leaning against the back door. I started to look into the sitting-room and she told me to hurry to Dr. Bowen. I went across the street to the doctor's and Mrs. Bowen told me he was out. I went back and told Lizzie, who said to go for Mrs. Russell on Borden-street. She was still standing against the door. I did not see anything in her hands. I went to Mrs. Russell's, and when I got back Dr. Bowen and Mrs. Churchill were in the house.

Q. Did anybody say anything then?—A. Yes, Mrs. Churchill said Mrs. Borden ought to be sent for and Lizzie said, "I think I heard her come in." Mrs. Churchill said I'd better look for her, and when I said I was afraid to go upstairs she offered to go with me. We went up and saw Mrs. Borden's body lying on the floor near the bureau. Then Mrs. Churchill came down with me and told Dr. Bowen that Mrs. Borden was murdered, too.

Q. Did you see any axes in the cellar that day?—A. Yes, I saw them in a box where Mr. Borden kept the firewood.

Q. Was that the first time you had ever seen them?—A. Yes, it was.

Q. You had never seen them before that day?—A. No, never.

Q. And you went into the cellar every day?—A. Yes, ever since I had been at the house.

Q. How did you happen to see them?—A. I went down when the officers were there and they found them.

Q. You had never seen any axes there before that?—A. I had not.

Q. Was the cellar door open then?—A. It was shut.

Q. Did you see Lizzie afterwards and say anything to her?—A. I asked her where she had been, and she said in the backyard.

Q. Did she say what she had been doing?—A. No.

Q. Had Mrs. Borden said anything to you about going out?—A. She had not.

Q. The only person you heard from that Mrs. Borden was going was Lizzie?—A. That was all Saturday's Proceedings.

FALL RIVER, Mass. Aug. 29.—The examination of Bridget Sullivan in the Borden case was resumed Saturday. Witness said somebody was sick at the house Tuesday night. Mrs. Borden said she and Mr. Borden were sick all night. They had been vomiting and looked sick. When Lizzie came down she said she had been sick, but witness did not notice that she looked unwell. She had never seen Lizzie in the barn.

When witness came down stairs Lizzie told her she heard her father graning while she was in the back yard. When she came in she said the back door was open.

The witness was then subjected to a rigid cross-examination by Mr. Adams and adhered very closely to her previous story.

She went out Wednesday night, had a key for the rear door and returned alone about 10 o'clock; never had any man from Fall River visiting her at the Borden house; two or three months ago an out-of-town man called upon her; the lamp was lit when she returned Wednesday night; there was no gas in the house. Miss Lizzie said she was sick, but did not appear to have been sick. Witness then described what the family had to eat Wednesday. Emma and Lizzie went away the Thursday before the murder, and Lizzie came back the following Tuesday. Witness didn't think Lizzie left the house on the Saturday after the murder. The day before they were sick they had fried fish for dinner, and warmed over for supper. Wednesday they had the mutton soup warmed over that they had the day before. It was the next day that they complained of feeling ill. The night before I ate some of the mutton soup and the next morning I felt a little sick and went out in the back yard to vomit.

Witness went several times to the barn to get water for the windows. All the windows outside were washed before witness went inside. She had finished washing the windows nearest the hall when she heard someone at the front door; could not say that doorbell rang. When Mrs. Borden was in the house she answered the bell. When Mr. Borden was in he always answered it. When witness went in to wash the inside of the windows she could not say that Miss Lizzie was ironing down stairs. She began to iron when the witness was at work washing the windows inside the dining-room. All the locks of the front door were fastened when she went to open it. Miss Lizzie asked her if she was going out, and if so to be sure and fasten the door, as her father had been called to see a sick friend. The defence took unusual notice of this statement.

It was 10.55 o'clock when witness went upstairs. She was there about 10 or 15 minutes when Lizzie shouted to her. Lizzie was standing near the screen door leading into the yard when the witness went down stairs, and was not giving any signs of great grief. Witness then detailed her trips to Dr. Bowen's, Mrs. Churchill's, and Miss Russell's house. She remembered the piece of board in the yard. Never saw Emma or Lizzie go to the barn at any time, but they might have gone 20 times and she not notice it. Witness went downstairs shortly after the tragedy. The axes were found in a starch box back of the furnace. Could not tell what kind of a dress Lizzie had on. Saw no blood except that already spoken of.

Expressions of Opinion.

Since the close of the forenoon's testimony there has been a great deal of talk about the effect of the evidence put in thus far. The only new fact developed beyond the time of Bridget Sullivan's going and coming was that Miss Lizzie Borden was in the upper part of the house, near her mother's room, when Mr. Borden returned home and entered. It has been proved beyond question that the Borden home life was not all that would be expected in a family whose debts were paid, and whose means were more than $500,000. Warmed over mutton frequently served, and a daughter who did not dine with her father and mother, and who thus far has not been shown to have asked about her mother's health after a dangerous sickness, girls who for the most part lived in their rooms and said nothing of their going and coming—all these things are being discussed and are being commented on as giving strength to the Government's suspicions.

An official who stands high in the Government counsels was asked by a United Press reporter his opinion concerning the guilt or innocence of Lizzie Borden. He said in substance, "I have no hesitation in saying that I believe her guilty of the crime."

Being pressed for the ground on which his judgment was based, the official said it was largely founded on the evidence of Bridget Sullivan, although developments at the private examination which resulted in Lizzie's arrest were strongly condemnatory.

THE MINE EXPLOSION.

Forty-Seven of the Imprisoned Miners Rescued.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—All night long volunteer rescuing parties kept up their work at Park Slip pit, the scene of the disastrous explosion at Bridgend, Wales, yesterday. They worked with a will, and removed enormous quantities of debris from the mine. At 6 o'clock Saturday they had penetrated several yards into the main shafts. In all this distance not a sign of life was discovered, but here and there the body of a miner was found, its attitude showing how suddenly death had come to them. Some of the men had died in the act of using their picks. Ten bodies were recovered of men who did not have a second's warning of the fate hanging over them. All who were killed in this locality, however, had not met with instant death. The bodies of two miners were found who had apparently made frantic efforts to escape from the pit. They had been frustrated by the falling of the roof of the mine, and their bodies were terribly mutilated. Crushed to death, they were swept over by a raging fire that burned out many timber supports and their arms, legs and heads, that had not been protected by the fallen earth, were horribly burned. The rescuers are divided into relays. It is impossible for any of the volunteers to work for any length of time, as the mine is filled with afterdamp. It is thought that the bodies of the men who were working in the inner recesses of the mine will never be recovered.

The Dead Numbers 107.

LONDON, Aug 29.—Mr. Asquith, Home Secretary, Saturday visited the Parkslip pit at Bridgale, Wales, the scene of the disastrous explosion of Friday last. Mr. Arquith examined the mine machinery, conferred with the officers and questioned survivors. A despatch received last night says that only 41 miners have been rescued from the pit and that two have since died. Exploring parties are still searching the mine, though all hope of finding further survivors has been abandoned. The number of the dead is therefore placed at 107.

India's Reply to the Ameer.

SIMLA, Aug. 29.—The Indian Government, replying to the letter of the Ameer of Afghanistan declaring that the administration of the external affairs is in the hands of the British, and asking what he will do in regard to the Russian aggressions, has written expressing the hope that a cessation of the troubles between the Ameer and the Hazaras will enable the British Mission headed by General Roberts to visit the Ameer earlier than was expected. The letter of the Government also dwells upon the disturbances on the Indian frontier caused by Afghan agents, and demands the immediate removal of these agents.

A Body Refused Burial.

KINGSTON, Aug. 29.—The body of a young woman named Minnie Kemp was brought here the other day from Gouverneur, N.Y., and the usual service was held at St. Mary's Cathedral. The funeral party then started for Railton, a country parish, intending to have the remains buried in the Roman Catholic cemetery there. When about half way out they met the clergyman, who was coming in on the stage. He is stated that he refused the burial rites of his church, and informed the mourners that the interment would have to take place in the Protestant burying ground, where it accordingly did occur.

His Neck Was Broken.

KINGTON, Aug. 29.—On Thursday noon Secord Vanalstine, an old and well-known resident of Richmond, near Napanee, fell from a milk wagon, which he was driving and his neck was broken, killing him instantly. He was over 70 years of age and was once a prominent farmer. He was a veteran of 1837 and also a pensioner of the American Government. He has several children living in Napanee.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 29.—An attempt was made to wreck the east-bound Chicago and New York limited express on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Enon, Pa., yesterday. Several ties and pieces of iron were found tied to the track by a farmer, who set to work to remove them and while engaged in doing so he was shot twice. He succeeded in clearing the track and the train passed in safety.

CHOLERA'S GRIM RECORD.

ITS VISIT TO LONDON CONSIDERED INEVITABLE.

Another Death at the Gravesend Hospital—The Medical Officers Keeping a Strict Watch for the Gamma's Passengers—The Plague Makes Its Appearance at Rotterdam.

LONDON, Aug 29.—It was announced yesterday that another passenger who arrived at Gravesend on the steamer Gamma, which arrived Thursday from Hamburg, had died from cholera at the Gravesend Hospital. Considerable uneasiness has been created by the knowledge that some of the Gamma's passengers are in London. The whereabout of all of them are not known to the authorities, but a strict watch will be kept by all the medical and sanitary officials for the first appearance of the disease. It is considered that an outbreak is inevitable.

Fighting the Plague on the Continent.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Delegates from all the Federal States held a conference at the Home Office Saturday on the subject of the cholera. The president of the police reported that not a single case of Asiatic cholera had yet been certified to in Berlin. Statements were read from Dr. Koch and Councillor Rants with a general report covering the whole health condition of Germany. Both the statements and the report were reassuring, although Prof. Koch thinks that the worst period of the epidemic in Hamburg and Altona has not yet passed.

The authorities of Hamburg and Altona are blamed for concealing the presence of the disease. The first outbreak occurred in Hamburg as far back as August 14, and at Altona August 19. During a whole week vessels left Hamburg under clear bills of health, although the authorities knew the epidemic was steadily growing worse. The Imperial health office, recognizing the value of the utmost publicity, is making arrangements to publish daily a health record of Berlin and other centres, reporting all cases of cholera and the kindred disease. Diarrhœal disorders and dysentery, which are rather rife there and which are apt to alarm people, will have the especial attention of the doctors.

Mr. Edwards, the American Consul General here, has taken the necessary steps to keep the State Department at Washington informed of the situation throughout Germany. The health officer promises to furnish him with all the information he receives. Mr. Charles F. Johnson, the consul at Hamburg, was visiting Berlin with his family, when he learned that Hamburg had been attacked. He at once returned to his post. Scrupulous care is now taken at Hamburg. The inspection is extending not to emigrants alone, but to the crews of vessels and all passengers. To-night's advices leave every populous place in Germany free from Asiatic cholera, except Hamburg, where Prof. Koch's predictions regarding the spread of the disease are being fulfilled. The plague has now spread over the whole city and to the suburbs. A doctor with a number of assistants has left Berlin to assist the Hamburg physicians. The ambulance service and the means for the rapid burial of the victims have been greatly augmented. The exodus of the wealthier Hamburg families is now proceeding on a large scale. Many merchants would close their shops, but are prevented through fear of adding to the public depression, which wants but little to become absolute panic. While many have fled other prosperous citizens are doing much personally and through agents to relieve families who have been stricken, or who are menaced through want of nourishing food. Donations of food, disinfectables and medicaments are plentiful. Brandy, in which the mass of the people believe, despite the doctors' opinions to the contrary, is supplied gratuitously, though in small doses, at many places. Never in the history of Hamburg has the hand of charity been so open.

The people of Berlin talk of forming an absolute cordon around Hamburg, Altona and the mouths of the Elbe. This is a cowardly and panicky idea and would be a merciless restriction upon those within the cholera sphere, while in official opinion it would be ineffective.

A sharp watch is kept upon cases occurring in Hungary and Austria. A number of cholera cases have been reported at Wienerneustadt, at Bolleman in Austria and even in Vienna itself, where the rapidity of the deaths is suggestive of Asiatic cholera. The health officer here relies implicitly upon the official communications regarding the disease received from Vienna.

Two Cases in Glasgow.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The St. James Gazette says two cases of Asiatic cholera have occurred at Glasgow. The patients were German immigrants on their way from Hamburg to the United States.

Cholera in Hungary.

BUDA PESTH, Aug. 29.—Hungarian newspapers declare that a number of cases of Asiatic cholera have occurred at the Iron Gates of the Danube.

Seventy-Eight Deaths at Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Aug. 29.—The official cholera statistics show that up to noon Saturday there were 183 new cases and 78 deaths. These figures indicate a large increase in both the new cases and the deaths. All the schools are closed.

Returns From Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—The official returns show that throughout Russia yesterday there were 6930 new cases of cholera and 3203 deaths. In St. Petersburg 108 new cases were reported and 29 deaths.

Five New Cases at Antwerp.

ANTWERP, Aug. 29.—Five new cases of cholera and one death have been reported here since yesterday morning.

Falling Off in Travel.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The outgoing trans-Atlantic steamships Saturday carried very small passenger list, which is due to the prevalence of cholera in Europe.

The steamer Russia arrived from Hamburg this afternoon and is detained at quarantine. An inspection of her passengers has been made, but no indications of cholera have been secured.

Died in a Carriage.

KINGSTON, Aug. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goodwin and family started in their conveyance from there residence, near Northport, to attend church at Picton. When about four miles from Picton, Mrs. Goodwin was suddenly taken ill, complaining first of a feeling of chilliness and then been becoming unconscious. When taken from the carriage she was dead

More Severe Exams.

In the Future the Test will be More Strict.

The Minister of Education is considering the propriety of raising the standard of the high school entrance examinations to that prescribed to the public school leaving examinations, and, with the view of so doing, has addressed a circular to the school inspectors of the Province. The Minister says in has been represented to him such a step would prove of advantage to both high and public schools, by doing away with the present overlapping of the courses of study, and by enabling pupils to begin the high school course at the age to all cases where that of the elementary schools end.

It is held that the present standard has the effect of doing away with the fifth form work in many rural schools, and compelling children to attend high schools before they are ready to enter upon the course of study. The Minister says in his opinion the present limits of fourth form. It is moreover contended that in cities, towns and villages what is now taken up in the high schools during the first year might be taken up in the public schools.

A GRADUAL CHANGE.

The pupils who pass the entrance examinations are generally under fifteen years of age to be too immature in age and attainments to take up the full course required by the High School primary and matriculation examinations, and would be benefited by a longer drill in purely Public school matter.

It is proposed, therefore, that the standard for admission to the High Schools be raised gradually, so as to be reached in 1894, and one will be taken not to have the test too severe at the first examinations.

The extraordinary number of students preparing themselves for junior matriculation will no doubt be greatly reduced, and the public will find more difficult papers being submitted to the pupils.

AN INSPECTOR'S OPINION.

An inspector in speaking on the subject said he considered the plan a good one if it was not adopted too hurriedly or at too great advance. The cost of education in the public school was much lower than that in the high schools, and if the public schools could be done in the public schools at less cost so that from a point of economy it would be better to raise the standard and keep the scholar in the public school some time longer. On the other hand pupils should not early in life and the sooner they enter the high school for that purpose the better for them. However, he added owing to the advanced methods of imparting knowledge and the better class of teachers now employed, children could pass through earlier than in former years, and this would equalize the other views were made gradually he believed it would result in good.

AFLOAT ON THE COLUMBIAN

A Happy Party Voyage to Bobcaygeon and Return.

Delightful Trip—Beautiful Scenery and Fresh Water—The New Boat in the Finest Sailing—A Description of Her Build and Machinery—Jolly ups on the Outing.

Scarcely could there be found a more light-hearted throng than that numbering 230 in all which boarded the Chemong train at 1 30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon bound for Bobcaygeon as their destination. Chemong wharf was reached at five minutes after two o'clock by a quick run, and here in waiting was the new palace steamer "Columbian," the queen of the inland lakes' floating craft, ready to carry the party through some of the finest waters and picturesque scenery to the well known village of Bobcaygeon. It did not take long for the hustling excursionists to clamber eagerly on board their vessel and soon the whistle blew a sharp shrill, the gangway plank is drawn, the huge side-wheels begin to propel and the vessel has shifted her moorings and those who are bent on an outing are safely off on their route. The new steamer "Columbian" is undoubtedly one of that plies or will ply the circuit of the inland waters. The first business of the excursionists on board is to make a thorough examination of the new ship. The new steamer was built this spring, the first work on her beginning on March 18th last. She was modelled by the well-know Capt. Pierce, of Kingston, and built in Lindsay under his instructions and supervision by Mr. Alphaus Turcott, of Kingston. Messrs. Saddler, Dundas & Co., of Lindsay, supplied nearly all the lumber utilized in her construction.

The Columbia is 113 feet in her entire length, 31 feet 6 inches in width over the guards, and 19 feet 6 inches across the hull. Under the new steamboat regulations she is registered for the transport of 375 passengers, which she can carry both comfortably and easily. This steady, staunch and safe steamer is owned by W. McCamus & Co., of Bobcaygeon. Her crew for the remainder of the navigation season will be Dr. McCamus, proprietor; T. McCamus, purser; Ed. Smith, Lindsay, captain; A. Turcotte, mate; Alex. McRae, Toronto, engineer; David Tetran, fireman. The Columbia can easily steam 12 knots an hour. On Thursday week she first kissed the ruffled waters, in a cruise making her maiden voyage. The machinery for this new sidewheeler was supplied by the celebrated firm of John Ingalls, of Toronto. Her engines are cross compound, and work diagonally. Her cylinders carry 15 and 30 pounds pressure, by 36 inch stroke. The steam passes from the high pressure cylinder into the low pressure cylinder, then into the condenser, where it is condensed and partly passed back into the boiler again. There is consequently no exhaust. No other boat plying the inland waters is supplied with condensing engines. She draws about 3½ feet keel and is easily steered. The motion of the steamer is steady

THERE BEING NOT THE SLIGHTEST

vibration or jerking noticeable. The Columbia from fore to aft is painted a pure white while her cornice is nicely trimmed in variegated hues. Inside she is excellently fitted and all her appointments and accommodations are first class. There are fore and aft gangways on either side supplied inside with folding glass doors, used in cold weather. In the hull are set the cylinders toward the stern and the boiler toward the bow; both of these are housed, the immense shaft which work the huge sidewheels is open on the main deck. The bow on the main deck is large and roomy while on either side the passages leading to the stern and cabin are situated all the staterooms, closets for the public, deck hands, etc. The kitchen is situated near the cabin, which is large, convenient and well lighted. Its interior appearance will be greatly enhanced as soon as Dr. McCamus carries out his intention of carpeting and upholstering it in the most approved style. Numerous fine paintings will hang gracefully from its walls. On account of the few upright posts erected in the cabin it affords an elegant place for tripping the labyrinthine dance. A fine piano will be placed in the cabin and will be at the disposal of passengers and excursionists. Entrance to the promenade deck is gained by a large, broad stairway afterwards. The height between the decks is seven feet both from the main to the promenade, and from the promenade to the hurricane. One feature distinguishable about the provided for excursionists in the stern. There is very little space taken up on the hurricane deck there being only the wheelhouse, the captain's stateroom and a smoking apartment. Forward of the wheelhouse the promenade deck is open. The pilot house is not situated on the hurricane but occupies an elevated position on the promenade deck. The latter deck is covered with canvas, painted, while the former is sheeted with tin, painted. The railing is brought in near the sidewheels some six feet and for a length of about fifteen feet. According to the rules of the steamer no person is allowed outside the railing. The Columbian has a strong array of fenders on both sides to protect her against the docks and through the locks which she passes through quite easily, although her beam is wider than the other boats. She is provided with 375 life preservers, 200 cork jackets, and the remainder in wooden floats. There are two large life boats on the promenade deck with davits. The total cost of the vessel when completed was a trifle over $12 000. She will probably ply between Bobcaygeon and Chemong, but as yet the Columbian has selected no regular route for next season. She will be principally used for excursions, and will always be open for charter.

The route, scenery and waters on Saturday were entirely new to many of the happy excursionists on board. The waters were clear and invigorating, and the scenery along the wooded shores and high embankments grand and picturesque. The whole sail of 18 miles from Chemong to Bobcaygeon was a delightful hour and a half's run, and one of constant beauty and ever-shifting scenes. From Chemong Lake the steamer passes into Buckhorn Lake, on past Oak Orchard, the summer residence of Messrs. Judge Weller, G. W. Hatton, R. E. Wood, on past Harper's ferry and Chase's saw mill to Garmon's Narrows where the vessel winds her sinuous course amidst numerous islands and many streams. Still further on the summer residence of the late Adam Hudspith, ex-M.P. Victoria county, is reached and here a brief call is made, then onward, still onward the prow parts the placid waters and the steamer leaves a wave of rushing, raging waters behind, whose writhing surface and angry foam are soon lost to view. Pigeon Lake with her sloping shores and verdant islets is reached. The Columbian now passes the large and stately island of Jacobs, then the Indian village nestling on the distant shore, then the inviting lodge of Mr. John E. Belcher, C.E., which occupies an imposing site, and after a steam of two or three knots more Bobcaygeon comes in sight. A sharp and unforseen turn takes the party into the Bobcaygeon river, whose lofty, rocky banks on one side and flat shores on the other are lovely and indescribable. Then the palatial mansion of Museum Boyd looms up in view and beyond the party from the upper decks behold Sturgeon Lake and the Bobcaygeon locks and they know that their destination is reached and all prepare to disembark, and the steamer is tied up for three hours until seven o'clock, and the party's lacustrine trip is for the present ended.

PENCILLINGS OF THE TRIP.

The committee who ran the excursion and made it a success were Messrs. T. Barrie, H. B. Dunsford, W. A. Brundrette and R. E. Layfield.

As the Columbian was pulling out of the Chemong wharf with all on board, Mr. R.M. Roy took an excellent photograph of her.

A few got off and remained over at the late Mr. Hudspeth's, M.P., lodge until the boat returned.

The return trip was made in safety and Peterborough reached at 10 o'clock. All returned pleased and contented and were unanimous in voting it the trip of the season. Dr. McCamus proved himself a genial host and pleased all on board.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood diseases.

AFLOAT ON THE COLUMBIAN

A Happy Party Voyage to Bobcaygeon and Return.

A Delightful Trip—Beautiful Scenery and Fresh Water—The New Boat in the Finest Sailing—A Description of Her Build and Machinery—Jottings on the Outing.

Scarcely could there be found a more light-hearted throng than that numbering 230 in all which boarded the Chemong train at 1 30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon bound for Bobcaygeon as their destination. Chemong wharf was reached at five minutes after two o'clock by a quick run, and here in waiting was the new palace steamer "Columbian," the queen of the inland lakes' floating craft, ready to carry the party through some of the finest waters and picturesque scenery to the well known village of Bobcaygeon. It did not take long for the hustling excursionists to clamber eagerly on board their vessel and soon the whistle blew a sharp shrill, the gangway plank is drawn, the large side-wheels begin to propel and the vessel has shifted her moorings and those who are bent on an outing are safely off on their route. The new steamer "Columbian" is undoubtedly one of that plies or will ply the circuit of the inland waters. The first business of the excursionists on board is to make a thorough examination of the new ship. The new steamer was built this spring, the first work on her beginning on March 18th last. She was modelled by the well-know Capt. Pierce, of Kingston, and built in Lindsay under his instructions and supervision by Mr. Alphaus Turcott, of Kingston. Messrs. Saddler, Dundas & Co., of Lindsay, supplied nearly all the lumber utilized in her construction.

The Columbia is 113 feet in her entire length, 31 feet 6 inches in width over the guards, and 19 feet 6 inches across the hull. Under the new steamboat regulations she is registered for the transport of 375 passengers, which she can carry both comfortably and easily. This steady, staunch and safe steamer is owned by W. McCamus & Co., of Bobcaygeon. Her crew for the remainder of the navigation season will be Dr. McCamus, proprietor; T. McCamus, purser; Eli Smith, Lindsay, captain; A. Tarcotte, mate; Alex. McRae, Toronto, engineer; David Tenan, fireman. The Columbia can easily steam 12 knots an hour. On Thursday week she first kissed the ruffled waters, in a cruise making her maiden voyage. The machinery for this new sidewheeler was supplied by the celebrated firm of John Ingalis, of Toronto. Her engines are cross compound, and work diagonally. Her cylinders carry 15 and 30 pounds pressure, by 36 inch stroke. The steam passes from the high pressure cylinder into the low pressure cylinder, then into the condenser, where it is condensed and partly passed back into the boiler again. There is consequently no exhaust. No other boat plying the inland waters is supplied with condensing engines. She draws about 3½ feet keel and is easily steered. The motion of the steamer is steady vibration or jerking noticeable. The Columbia from fore to aft is painted a pure white while her cornice is nicely trimmed in variegated hues. Inside she is excellently fitted and all her appointments and accommodations are first class. There are fore and aft gangways on either side supplied inside with folding glass doors, used in cold weather. In the hull are set the cylinders toward the stern and the boiler toward the bow; both of these are housed, the immense shaft which work the huge sidewheels is open on the main deck. The bow on the main deck is large and roomy while on either side the passages leading to the stern and cabin are situated all the staterooms, closets for the public, deck hands, etc. The kitchen is situated near the cabin, which is large, convenient and well lighted. Its interior appearance will be greatly enhanced as soon as Dr. McCamus carries out his intention of carpeting and upholstering it in the most approved style. Numerous fine paintings will hang gracefully from its walls. On account of the few upright posts erected in the cabin it affords an elegant place for tripping the labyrinthine dance. A fine piano will be place in the cabin and will be at the disposal of passengers and excursionists. Entrance to the promenade deck is gained by a large, broad stairway afterside. The height between the decks is seven feet both from the main to the promenade, and from the promenade to the hurricane. One feature distinguishable about the provided for excursionists in the stern. There is very little space taken up on the hurricane deck there being only the wheelhouse, the captain's stateroom and a smoking apartment. Forward of the wheelhouse the promenade deck is open. The pilot house is not situated on the hurricane but occupies an elevated position on the promenade deck. The latter deck is covered with canvas, painted, while the former is sheeted with tin, painted. The railing is brought in near the sidewheels some six feet and for a length of about fifteen feet. According to the rules of the steamer no person is allowed outside the railing. The Columbian has a strong array of fenders on both sides to protect her against the docks and through the locks which she passes through quite easily, although her beam is wider than the other boats. She is provided with 375 life preservers, 200 cork jackets, and the remainder in wooden floats. There are two large life boats on the promenade deck with davits. The total cost of the vessel when completed was a trifle over $12 000. She will probably ply between Bobcaygeon and Chemong, but as yet the Columbian has selected no regular route for next season. She will be principally used for excursions, and will always be open for charter.

The route, scenery and waters on Saturday were entirely new to many of the happy excursionists on board. The waters were clear and invigorating, and the scenery along the wooded shores and high embankments grand and picturesque. The whole sail of 18 miles from Chemong to Bobcaygeon was a delightful hour and a half's run, and one of constant beauty and ever-shifting scenes. From Chemong Lake the steamer passes into Buckhorn Lake, on past Oak Orchard, the summer residence of Messrs. Judge Weller, G. W. Hatton, R. E. Wood, on past Harper's ferry and Chase's saw mill to Garmon's Narrows where the vessel winds her sinuous course amidst numerous islands and many streams. Still farther on the summer residence of the late Adam Hudspith, ex-M.P. Victoria county, is reached and here a brief call is made, then onward, still onward the prow parts the placid waters and the steamer leaves a wave of rushing, raging waters behind, whose writhing surfaces and angry foam are soon lost to view. Pigeon Lake with her sloping shores and verdant islets is reached. The Columbian now passes the large and stately island of Jacoby, then the Indian village nestling on the distant shore, then the inviting lodge of Mr. John E. Belcher, C.E., which occupies an imposing site, and after a steam of two or three knots more Bobcaygeon comes in sight. A sharp and unforseen turn takes the party into the Bobcaygeon river, whose lofty, rocky banks on one side and flat shores on the other are lovely and indescribable. Then the palatial mansion of Museum Boyd looms up in view and beyond the party from the upper decks behold Sturgeon Lake and the Bobcaygeon locks and they know that their destination is reached and all prepare to disembark, and the steamer is tied up for three hours until seven o'clock, and the party's locustine trip is for the present ended.

The return trip was made in safety and Peterborough reached at 10 o'clock. All returned pleased and contented and were unanimous in voting it the trip of the season. Dr. McCamus proved himself a genial host and pleased all on board.

"School's In"

The vacation term in our high and public schools ends with this week. On Monday morning the usual procession of scholars "reforms company" to the various schools of the town, and the work of another term will begin. This will undoubtedly suggest to parents and heads of families the desirability of having their boys dressed in a new suit of school clothing. During the holidays Messrs. Grafton & Co., manufacturers of clothing, have been busily preparing for the wants of the boys, and as they lead in men's clothing, so do they in boys'. They are certainly original in their ideas about how boys' clothing should be made, and dexterous in executing them—so much so, that they are absolutely certain to be imitated. But the trouble with their imitators is that they can't keep up with the excellence of Grafton's boys' suits. In the matter of price, quality, style and make, there is no boys' clothing in town to compare with Grafton & Co.'s, and if you make an inspection of the stock at 393 George street, Mr. Dacke, the manager will be happy to give you his careful attention. 2d

KEEP UP WITH THE PROCESSION.

T. DOLAN & CO. are selling English, Scotch, and Irish Suitings four and five dollars less than they can be had in Canada, during this month Take warning. The big bankrupt stock.

Opera House Wednesday, Aug. 31.

The "Little Trixie" company played to a good house in Turner opera house Thursday evening and gave the best of satisfaction. "Trixie" is a little whirlwind as a fun maker and can make melody with her heels as well as her voice. She sings and dances her way into the good graces of the most obdurate audience. She has excellent support.—Menominee (Mich.) Democrat.

Keogh, citizens of Rochester, who, the Port Hope Guide says, have been spending a month in the back lakes, returned to the Flower City this morning on the "North King." No doubt an account of their outing will soon appear in Jury, as the editor of that paper was one of the party.

Stony Lake Ripples.

Campers continue to arrive daily at this delightful summer resort, each incoming steamer contributing its quota of jovial pleasure-seekers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walter, of Montreal, have been enjoying a pleasant outing at Pompadour Island. They returned home this morning.

Miss Gertie Edwards, is spending a few weeks with friends up the lake.

Among those who have returned to their homes recently are Mr. Best and family, Peterborough; Mr. Moore and family, Peterborough; Mr. Hardinge, Toronto; and Miss Ettie Cook and Miss Nellie Mosorip, Peterborough.

The Record is Still Better.

In the comparison of the number of pupils who had passed the departmental and matriculation examinations from the Peterborough Collegiate Institute with reference to other Collegiate Institutes throughout the province, published in Saturday's EXAMINER, mention was not made of the fact that in the list of matriculants there were four whose names were omitted: Messrs T. Ferguson and P. Goldsmith, who matriculated in medicine for McGill University, B. H. Brooks, who matriculated in electrical engineering for Cornell University, and Walter English, the examination of the Royal Military College, Kingston. Mr. W. J. Ritchie wrote at Brighton and also passed the general departmental examinations. He was prepared at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

A Prize for Every Pupil.

Every pupil or parent of the first five hundred, who purchases school books or school supplies at the Peterborough Bookstore, to the value of 25 cents, will be presented with a serviceable school bag, and for smaller purchases a proportionate present will be given. The above offer includes the best of goods at the lowest prices. Come then to the Peterborough Bookstore and secure your prize and the best of goods at the lowest prices, including Public and High School Books, Exercise Books, Scribblers, Slates, Slate and Lead Pencils, Scholars' Companions, &c., &c. The Juniors Victorious

In the Lacrosse Match on Saturday Afternoon with the Senior Shamrocks—A Good Game and Plenty of Excitement.

The game on the P.A.A.A. Grounds on Saturday afternoon between the Junior Peterboroughs and Senior Shamrocks evoked no small interest and excitement. The rivalry between these two clubs for some time past has been keen, and many were led to believe that the Shamrocks would down their opponents, the so far invincible Juniors, in a fair and square game. An enthusiastic crowd, numbering 200, witnessed the game, which proved to be keen and exciting. The teams formed up in the following order before Referee McCullough @ 3.20 o'clock:

Junior Peterboroughs.		Senior Shamrocks.
F Dobbin	goal	T White
J Mein	point	F Borland

The game ended 2 goals to 0 in favour of the Peterboroughs, Dumble and Galley scoring the games.

Comfort for the Aged.

Food Better Than Medicine Desired.

"The old folks do not need medicine so much as they do pure and nourishing food," said a physician yesterday.

"In three or four score years of life, a great many tons of food have been digested and this wear and tear results in weakness of the digestive organs. Stimulate them with medicine," he continued, "and the effect is speedy destruction. Nourish them with an easily digested and strengthening food, and strength will return."

The best physicians in the world endorse this theory. They have found that Lactated Food, the perfect food for infants, whose digestive organs are of the weakest, gives the same happy success when prepared for the aged.

The Opening of the Schools.

A Large Muster of the Rising Generation—A Gratifying Increase in Institute, Public and Separate School Attendance.

This morning at nine o'clock two thousand youths and children left their homes and wended their ways to their various schools. Then was a full school all round the town, and the face of pupils is remarkable.

At the Collegiate Institute, the opening attendance was about 180, with all the teaching staff in readiness for work. Included in the attendance there were about eighteen of the twenty-five who passed the primary examination but have returned for higher instruction. This term for the first time at the Institute the work for first-class non-professional certificate candidates will be taken up.

At the central school the attendance this morning totalled the large number of 587. The promotions as decided by the recent examinations were arranged, the pupils classified, and the work for the day following outlined. This is the general course pursued at all the ward schools.

At the south ward school the attendance opened with 300 pupils present, which means an overcrowding in one room, which has at present 76 pupils; it was hoped that relief could be secured by drafting some of the West Ward promotions to the Central, but with the big attendance that loomed up at the latter place this morning it is not probable that that method of relieving the pressure will be practicable.

At the West Ward school the attendance this morning totalled 208.

The total at the North Ward was 135 The total attendance at the Ward schools this morning was 1,230 Messrs. McBain and Hamilton, of the Property Committee, were on hand to look after the material interest of the several schools.

THE SEPARATE SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

The attendance at the several departments of the Separate Schools also showed a gratifying attendance, and one which, with the registrations not at all complete, taxes the available capacity to the utmost.

At the Murray street school the number in attendance was 205.

At the Convent school the attendance totalled 171.

The Lake street school had an attendance of 139, which is a pleasant surprise to the friends of the school. The addition of two new rooms to the school was a wise precaution, and though only one of the new rooms is at present occupied, it is thought that with the increasing attendance from day to day that is expected, there will have to be provided another teacher. Rev. Father Rudkins, the energetic Superintendent, was present at all the schools personally supervising the necessary arrangements, and launching the educational craft for the term just begun. Altogether the Separate School interests are in a very flourishing condition.

RECAPITULATION.

The following is the total of the pupils who were on hand this morning to begin work at the several schools:

Collegiate Institute	180
Central School	587
South Ward School	300
West Ward School	208
North Ward School	135
Murray Street Separate School	205
Convent do	171
Lake Street do	139

My Grand Resolvent Views.

Many scenes this earth contains, one panoramic view,
Since first it was launched into open space,
Its many scenes went through.
The bloody scenes of battle fields, of war's internal strife,
The peaceful scenes, the blessings, of our intellectual life,
The horrid scenes of intemperance, the darkest of them all,
Has filled this world with misery and draped the funeral pall;
These have been duly chronicled by time's historic muse,
But the Galway scenes shall be the theme of my Grand Resolvent Views.

The first grand scene we introduce in competition's list,
The scenery we will produce by which Galway is blest;
The beauty of its verdant fields, its hills and valleys fair,
All richly dressed in nature's green, its balmy sunlit air;
And if you wish the scene to change, another view to take,
A pleasure trip will take you to the scenery of Swamp Lake.
These have been duly chronicled by time's historic muse,
Kind friends, assist what nature blest, my Grand Resolvent Views.

The next grand scene we introduce defying competitions,
Tary people here are noted for their generous dispositions,
The people here are temperate, morality does prevail,
The people here are racy of the soil of Lanisfall.
The people here are blessed with health, with a rich and fertile soil,
Which, aided by art and industry, reward the farmers' toil;
These have been duly chronicled by time's historic muse,
Then form a ring with me and sing my grand resolvent views.

The next great scene we introduce is nature's own production,
The wealth that is hidden in the earth is receiving some attention;
And miners say a little change in the big house at Ottawa,
The Sudbury mines will be eclipsed by the mineral wealth of Galway.
For miners all in search of wealth you need for them no pity,
They find a friend in miner Tom, the mayor of Nickle City;
This scene is being chronicled by time's historic muse,
Kind friends don't miss to profit by these my Grand Resolvent Views.

The next grand scene we introduce, the best of our selection,
A merry lot of boys and girls in this Swamp Lake school section,
Pandora's box contains the gem, she guards it as a treasure,
But from the bottom of that box we snatch the fabled charmer;
And hope to see some future day when worth shall be the rule,
That the rulers of Ontario may come from Swamp Lake school.
This scene may yet be chronicled by time's historic muse,
Then you will sing that joyful song, my Grand Resolvent Views.

Another scene we yet must paint which in futurity lies,
And view a town at Swamp Lake astir with enterprise,
When it shall vie with other towns in gallant rivalry,
And be proclaimed through Canada the home of suivelry;
When lofty towers and minarets shall glitter in the sun's ray,
And our dark nights with electric lights shall shine more bright than day;
When telegraph or telephone shall view the city news.
Then I will add another verse to my Grand Resolvent Views.

For Impoverished Blood.

B. Jardine, North Sidney, C.B., writes:—"I suffered from weakness and impoverished blood, and only found relief in Pink Pills. I heartily recommend them." All dealers or by mail 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2 50. Dr. Williams Med. Co., Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y. Beware of imitations.

The Father Mathew Remedy is the most powerful and wholesome tonic ever used. Besides being a radical cure for intemperance and alcoholism at all stages, and destroying all appetite for alcoholic liquors, it also cures Dyspepsia. It relieves the torpidity of the stomach and of the liver, and is a preventive of malaria fever. 1d

The Railroad Sandwich.

The man looked at them heaped up on a plate as he sat at the lunch counter, and finally queried:

"Are those sandwiches?"

"Yes, sir."

"Railroad sandwiches?"

"Yes, sir."

"I've read of 'em. When were they made?"

"In 1880, sir."

"Twelve years ago, eh? What kind of meat?"

"Ham, sir—ham about ten years old when we put it in."

"Was, eh? Warranted to produce——"

"Death sir, and that within twenty-four hours."

"I see. I'll be petrified by this time?"

"Perfectly so."

"Well, I think I'll try one."

"They are not for sale sir."

"What! Don't you sell sandwiches here?"

"Sometimes, sir, but we pick our customers. Have you a card with you?"

"Of course I have. There it is, and I'd like to know——"

"Sorry, sir, but I can't accommodate you. You are the marine editor of a newspaper all right enough, but that won't go here. We sell only to the funny man, and never two to the same man. Better try the fried cakes and custard pie, sir. Sorry sir, very sorry, but you ought to have been the funny man and written five or six columns on the railroad sandwich."

Interested People

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

The Gaudiness Friend.

MINING DISASTER IN WALES.

An Explosion in a Mine Causes Great Loss of Life.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—A fearful mining accident occurred yesterday at the Park Slip coal pit near Bridge-end, a mining town in Glamorganshire. The day shift of miners had not been long in the mine before a most terrific explosion was heard. The ground trembled with the force of the explosion, and the people in the vicinity knew immediately that an accident had happened.

The day shift comprised 150 men, and their relatives and friends rushed to the pit mouth to learn the extent of the disaster. The explosion had caused the earth and rock to fall, and the mouth of the pit was closed. Not a single man of the 150 in the mine had made his escape and it is feared there has been great loss of life. Hundreds of the miners in the vicinity have volunteered their services for the work of clearing the pit mouth, and it is being pushed as rapidly as circumstances will permit. All around the pit are gathered women and children, hoping for the best, yet expecting the worst.

The officials hold out all the hope possible, but it can easily be seen that they fail to make the mothers and wives believe that there is much hope.

At 6 o'clock last evening a rescuing party ascended to the surface bearing with them two men whom they had found near the bottom of the pit. Both the men were badly burned and unconscious. They had evidently inhaled fire and will die. Shortly after these men were brought up the flames from the burning pit ascended and set fire to the structures at the pit head. When the huge tongues of fire were seen leaping up from the pit cries of horror and despair arose from the throng. Many women fainted, while the screams of others were heartrending. When the flames issued from the pit all hope was abandoned. Those who escaped death in the explosion have certainly been suffocated or burned to death.

A despatch from Bridge-end this evening says: "Though the volunteers have been working with desperate energy since morning it is still impossible to reach the imprisoned miners. From the indications it is believed the whole interior of the pit was set on fire by the explosion, and that the flames are still raging. It is feared every man in the mine at the time of the explosion perished.

To Be Extradited.

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—It was learned at the Justice Department yesterday that a requisition has been made by the United States Government for the surrender of Frank La Fortune, wanted in Michigan for the crime of perjury. The prisoner was committed for extradition on Aug. 4 at Sarnia. Jacob Bernetz is the officer appointed to receive the prisoner.

Proffered Aid to Malietoa.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Aug. 27.—News has been received from Samoa that England, America and Germany have notified Malietoa that their men-of-war will be placed at his disposal to enforce the payment of taxation, and thus bring the rebels to submission.

Not in the Soup.

They had a dozen or more kinds of soup at the hotel and the guest an experienced hotel food sampler looked over the menu.

"Bring me some chicken soup," he said to the waiter.

It was brought and he sent it away after tasting it.

"Bring me beef soup," he commanded.

It was brought, tasted and sent away and so on with all of them.

"Bring me some water soup," he requested finally.

"What kind of soup is that, sir? asked the startled waiter.

"It's the kind I want," explained the guest, "if it is made as the others are. There's no chicken in your chicken soup, no beef in your beef soup, no vegetables in your vegetable soup, no beans in your bean soup, and on the same principle, I suppose there's no water in your water soup. Do you understand?

A few moments later the landlord came in and heard a few incongruous remarks on the subject of soups and their constituent elements.

NEWCASTLE'S HOT FIGHT

THE LABORISTS MUCH OFFENDED AT DAVITT.

He Said That If They Opposed Mr. Morley Their Demands in Parliament Would Be Foiled—The Incident Will Probably React Against Mr. Gladstone's Government.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Mr. Morley's return for Newcastle is an immense relief to the Liberals, who have been watching for the result with breathless anxiety. The party never expended money and energies so profusely to secure a local election. While the Unionist candidate relied solely on local influence, the Liberals imported to strengthen Mr. Morley 14 members of the House of Commons, 8 ex-members and 15 preachers—Episcopal, Catholic, Methodist—and all were in the field daily. The contest became one of national importance, when some adherents of the Labor party joined the ranks of the Unionists. It was only the 8-hour section of the Laborists, but this is now a strong political factor in the country. Mr. Morley's repute as a high-minded and honest politician never shone brighter than when he declared that he was ready to risk his seat and his office rather than submit to the demands of the Laborists. But apart from his success the leading outcome of the contest is the definite rupture of the Laborists with the Home Rulers.

The Laborists throughout the country resent Mr. Davitt's threat that the members would foil the labor demands in the House of Commons if the Laborists opposed Mr. Morley. The labor leader, Mr. Champion, replies that they have power to destroy all chance of Home Rule. As Mr. Morley has triumpled, Mr. Davitt may now seek to reconcile the Laborists, otherwise the feud will bring disaster to the Gladstone Government.

Mr. Morley's short visit to Dublin has confirmed the Nationalist confidence in him. It soon became known that he had selected as private adviser and probably Under-Secretary for Ireland George Fottrel, a man whose influence in Irish affairs has long been recognized by both English and Irish leaders. Mr. Fottrel stands so well with the Nationalists that his reported appointment as Under-Secretary was hailed with general delight, as the advent of a genuine Irish administration—sealing the end of the obnoxious Castle domination. The Irish leaders will be satisfied if Mr. Fottrel is appointed.

Regarding the Home Rule bill, The London Chronicle's travesty of the result of the negotiations between Mr. Gladstone and the McCarthyites is not deemed worthy of notice by the Irish party. Mr. Dillon's statement that the retention of the whole of the Irish members in the Imperial Parliament is an essential feature of the bill has acceptance among all of the new ministerial circle.

Mr. Gladstone's nominees for the great court offices are criticized in a friendly spirit on all sides. Lord Breadalbane is a genuine Gladstonian, but is at the same time "persona grata" with the Queen, having already been Lord in Waiting and Treasurer of the Household. Lord Carrington will make a good Lord Chamberlain.

An Increased Majority for Morley.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—John Morley has been re-elected to Parliament. The figures afford much satisfaction to the Liberals. In the general election Morley received 10,905 votes, but his poll yesterday was increased by 2078 votes, the official figures showing he received 12,983 votes. Ralli received 11,244, making Morley's majority 1739.

France Will Protest Against Manitoba's School Legislation.

ROME, Aug. 27.—The Congregation of the Propaganda has requested the French Government to protest to Great Britain against the closing of Catholic schools in Manitoba. The request is made on the ground of the rights guaranteed to the French Catholics of Canada when that country was annexed by Great Britain, the Roman Catholics of Manitoba being largely of French descent.

Closed By the McKinley Bill.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—A meeting of the shareholders of the great Bradford manufacturing concern of Sir Titus Salt son & Co. (limited) has been called to consider a proposition to wind up the company. The English plush trade, in which the company is largely engaged, has fallen to about one-tenth of what it was before the McKinley tariff went into force.

Quarrelsome Miners.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The troubles between the French and Belgian miners employed at Lievin culminated Friday in a very serious disturbance. The Frenchmen in a body attacked the dwellings occupied by the Belgians. The Belgians appealed to the gendarmes for help. When the officers attempted to disperse the rioters the latter showed such an ugly disposition that it was found necessary to call upon the troops to suppress the disorder.

GENTLEMEN,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhœa and vomiting. Rumor of Cholera in Cuba.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 29.—It is rumored in Vera Cruz that there is cholera in Havana.

Close Inspection at New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The steamship Servia from Liverpool, Lydian Monarch from London and Sorrento from Hamburg arrived here Saturday and were subjected to rigid inspection. No cholera nor suspicious cases were found and after being thoroughly fumigated the vessels were permitted to dock.

Another Infected Ship.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The steamer Talavera arrived at Grimsby from Hamburg with two sailors suffering from cholera symptoms. They were removed to the floating hospital and the Talavera was towed to the quarantine station.

As no further cases of cholera have appeared among the passengers of the steamship Gamma at Gravesend from Hamburg, the immigrants have been allowed to disembark. However as a further precaution they will be obliged to remain three days more under canvas on the grounds of the Gravesend Hospital.

A Case at Middlesborough.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The steamer Gerona arrived at Middlesborough Saturday from Hamburg and as there was no sickness aboard the crew was allowed to disembark, but subsequently one of the seamen was seized with cholera, and the Gerona was then placed in quarantine. The stricken seaman died to-night.

Latest Returns from Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Aug. 29.—The official returns show that on Friday there were reported in this city 416 new cases of cholera and 150 deaths. Up to noon yesterday 128 new cases and 55 deaths were reported, but the returns are not complete. Prayers were offered in all the churches to-day for a cessation of the scourge. Whole households have been sent to the cholera hospital. Relief committees have been formed and appeals for subscriptions have been issued throughout the city.

SIR HENRY TYLER'S VISIT.

He Does Not Think the Bonding Privilege Will Be Withdrawn.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—Callers detained Sir Henry Tyler in his rooms at the Windsor until 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon. All found the President of the Grand Trunk Railway as genial and approachable as ever and looking not a bit the worse for the year that had passed over his head since he last visited his great railway system.

Of course, Sir Henry was asked in what condition he found the road. He replied that its condition was first-class. "Physically," he said, "the road is about perfect. What we wish is to see Canada prosper, for we know that our road will prosper with it."

He wished to know what other enterprise had done more for Canada during the past forty years than the Grand Trunk, and the little pause he made at the conclusion of that remark seemed to imply that none could be named.

The threat of a withdrawal by the Americans of the bonding privilege appears to be no bugaboo to Sir Henry. He did not fear its being done. Chicago and the American west, as well as all of New England, were too deeply interested in the traffic of the Grand Trunk to quietly stand by and permit the American Government to injure their own people by such action. At least it would have to be a remarkably strong Government that would carry.

"Probably all this retaliation talk," observed Sir Henry, "will gain Mr. Harrison a few more votes; that is all. Judging from past events, we know what all these things mean, especially on the eve of an election."

Once again Sir Henry stated that the rumor of amalgamation with the C. P. R. was unfounded and altogether out of the question.

His attention was called to the discussion of some time ago respecting the advisability of transferring the head office of the G.T.R. from England to Canada. Sir Henry remarked that it must be borne in mind that the Grand Trunk was almost wholly owned in England, and surely the owners would wish to have control of their property. The change suggested would be unfair to them.

He spoke of the beautiful township country through which he passed in coming up from Portland and he thought that in time it would contain many fine residential places.

Sir Henry Tyler appears to be in the best of health and spirits. He does not expect to sail for England until Oct. 8.

If the public are fairly and faithfully dealt with they will come to appreciate it sooner or later. This fact is well illustrated in the experience of Messrs Tuckett & Son with their well known "Myrtle Navy" Tobacco. Throughout the manufacturers of T. & B. have stood firmly by their original idea to give the public the best article possible, at the lowest possible price, and in the large demand for their tobacco the public have manifested their appreciation.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN NEW YORK.

The Metropolitan, in New York, Very Badly Damaged.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Metropolitan Opera House, one of the most magnificent and expensive of modern play houses, occupying the entire block bounded by Broadway and Seventh-avenue, 39th and 40th streets, was ruined by fire Saturday. The Broadway front was saved by the firemen, but fully three-quarters of the structure was made havoc of by the flames. Just where the fire started is unknown, but it must have been in the vicinity of the stage, which backs on Seventh-avenue. How the flames managed to get such a headway without being discovered is also a problem which puzzles Fire Chief Bonner and his men.

During the summer the house has been chiefly used for amusements and was just used for a ball. The pine flooring had not been removed, and this, once ignited carried the fire to the main entrance. The interior of the theatre had been overhauled and was thoroughly fitted for the opening of the season which would have taken place in a short time.

Before 10 o'clock the roof had been burned through and the flames and smoke shot high into the air. This assisted the firemen materially in saving the Broadway front. Half an hour later, the flames having in the meantime eaten up everything before them, had literally burned themselves out and the fire was reported under control.

A $400,000 Fire.

AUGUSTA, Aug. 29.—A destructive fire broke out here at 2.30 yesterday morning. The Alander Drug and Seed Co., Fleming & Bowle's furniture warehouse, E. D. Smith's crockery store, and The Cronicle office were totally destroyed. Augusta Davis' clothing house was damaged. The loss is estimated at $400,000; insurance $300,000. The entire morning edition of The Chhronicle was worked off while the building was in flames. All the type and machinery was burned.

A Fire at Hull.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—A fire in E. B Eddy's lumber drying house at Hull Saturday did damage to the extent of $4000. The damage is covered by insurance.

Behold, Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before Them!

The most astonishing event in the store of Grafton & Co. is the wonderful low prices they are clearing out the balance of their Summer Clothing at. THE CHOLERA SPREADING

MANY DEATHS IN ENGLAND, SCOTLAND AND WALES.

London in a State of Alarm Because of Other Cases of the Post—An Ever-Growing Mortality List—Precautionary Measures in England.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—If all the deaths that are being reported from Asiatic cholera are true there is no doubt of Great Britain's having a visitation of the dread scourge. From Gravesend, Swansea, Glasgow and Dundee, towns in England, Scotland and Wales, reports come of deaths from the disease, showing that all the efforts of the health officials to keep it out of the country have proved fruitless.

This afternoon it was reported that a person had died from Asiatic cholera in Bolton, the large manufacturing town which lies 12 miles northwest of Manchester. The place is one of the principal seats of the English cotton manufactures and thousands of mill employes live there.

The permission given by the health officials at Middlesborough for the landing of the crew of the steamer Gama from Hamburg promises to have most serious results. The vessel was placed in quarantine after one of the crew had been attacked by cholera but in the meantime a number of the ship's company had departed for their homes. Six of them went to Dundee, among others Walker, the engineer of the Gama. Shortly after his arrival there he was taken sick and died in a few hours. The physician who attended him says there is no doubt that his death was due to cholera.

Steps were at once taken by the health officers to isolate the other five of the crew in Dundee and the rest in Aberdeen.

Another member of the Gama's crew who went to South Shields to-day was found to be suffering from cholera.

A sailor arrived at Swansea from Cork to-day. He was found to be suffering from cholera and was immediately removed to the cholera hospital.

The Local Government Board to-night issued regulations requiring ship owners under heavy penalties to retain aboard ship all foreign immigrants who are unable to inform the port medical officer to watch them until all danger of cholera is passed. No immigrant in a dirty condition will be allowed to land until all the sanitary regulations are complied with. The order will be rigidly executed. It will not interfere with emigrants in transit across England en route for America.

Gravesend Excited.

A steamer belonging to the same company as the Perita has been in quarantine at Cuxhaven on the Elbe, for a week, owing to two deaths from cholera having occurred on board of her. This steamer is expected to arrive at Gravesend to-night with a large number of poor immigrants. The inhabitants of Gravesend are awaiting her arrival with much apprehension.

Gravesend is 20 miles from London and is a holiday resort. Immense crowds of excursionists from London visit the place. The sanitary system of the town is antiquated and will prove an excellent factor in spreading the disease.

Cholera has spread to a number of suburbs of Hamburg. Eight cases were reported at Bremen, two at Hall in Prussian Saxony, and several cases at Ferver, near Magdeburg.

Cholera has also reached Merv, in Turkestan, and a panic prevails there.

Sixty new cases and 24 deaths were reported at Havre yesterday.

A stoker belonging to the steamer Urania from Hamburg has died from cholera at Amsterdam.

At Cronstadt, Russia, three cases and one death were reported.

Seven cholera patients are in the hospital at Antwerp, some of them are in a serious condition. Only two new cases have been reported since Friday.

The official cholera returns from all infected districts in Russia show that on Friday 4767 new cases and 3234 deaths were reported. In St. Petersburg yesterday 125 new cases were reported, while the deaths numbered 15.

Complaints are being made at Southampton that in view of the danger of infection to trans-Atlantic and other steamers as well as to the ports the authorities are not taking adequate precautions to guard against cholera. Fishing vessels arriving from infected ports such as Havre enter Southampton without inspection.

Thirteen cholera patients have been admitted to the hospital at Bremen. Five of the cases were certified to as Asiatic cholera. One patient died.

The official cholera statistics of Hamburg place the number of new cases on Saturday at 435 and the number of deaths at 145. On Sunday and up to noon to-day 148 new cases had developed, with 67 deaths.

A dispatch from Vladikavkas, capital of the Government of Terek, Russia, says that every town and village in the Government is affected with cholera.

In Altona 77 new cases and 33 deaths were reported from noon Saturday to noon to-day.

The decrease of the disease in Hamburg and Altona has been most noticeable since midnight last night. Isolated cases have been reported from the various suburbs of Hamburg.

At Wandsbeck, a summer resort of merchants, there were nine cases and five deaths up to Saturday evening.

Eight cases of true Asiatic cholera have been certified to in the hospital at Bremen.

Two fresh cases of cholera and two deaths from the disease were reported at Antwerp to-day.

Precautions in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Several steamships arrived here to-day and were detained at quarantine. All the passengers were submitted to a searching investigation and the vessels' baggage and mails disinfected. No evidences of cholera were found. The vessels were released and proceeded to their docks.

The report that cholera has broken out in Havana, although not believed, has decided the quarantine officials to be more careful about the steamships coming from that port.

The United States consuls at Glasgow and Liverpool have advised the State Department of the presence of cholera at these points.

THE CHOLERA IN CANADA.

Precautionary Measures Adopted in Toronto—The Previous Epidemic.

In view of the probability of an outbreak of cholera on this continent the Executive of the International Conference of State Health Boards will meet in Toronto to-morrow. The commission which begins its work at Toronto was appointed to inspect all quarantine stations of the United States, Canada and Mexico, with instructions to report to the international board. The following is the committee of experts who will do this work: Dr. J. N. McCormack, Bowling Green, Ky.; Dr. B. H. Baker, Lansing, Mich.; Dr. Irving Watson, Concord, N. H.; Dr. P. H. Bryce, Toronto, Ont.; Dr. Joseph Holt, New Orleans; J. H. Laine, Sacramento; Dr. Domingo Orvanos, City of Mexico. The first five named will inspect the quarantine stations from Quebec to Galveston, Tex. Dr. Laine will look after the stations along the Gulf and Dr. Orvanos those on the Pacific slope.

This is an opportune time to review the ravages of cholera, especially in connection with Canada and Toronto.

Some Former Epidemics.

The principal cholera outbreaks during the present century were in the years 1817-19, 1829-31, 1841-43, 1853-55, 1865-67. India is the chief seat of the outbreaks which generally coincided with the holding of the great Hindoo pilgrimages.

In 1826 cholera broke out in India at Hurdwar, the great centre of the pilgrimage, at which several millions of souls assemble every twelfth year. The pilgrims again carried it through the country, and it took the great northwest central Asiatic caravan route, reaching Orenburg in Russia, Aug 26, 1829. It reached Moscow and spread throughout the north and west. At Riga, on the Baltic, it took passage upon 60 or 70 British coal vessels, which bore it to Sunderland and Newcastle. It was also conveyed by Russian troops, then engaged with the Polish revolution of 1830-31, to Warsaw and thence to Posen, Berlin, Hamburg and London, afflicting each member of the United Kingdom. Irish emigrants brought it to Quebec in 1832, whence it spread throughout the country up to Detroit, rendering incapable the entire force of soldiers going by way of the lakes to the Black Hawk War, one regiment losing over 200 men in a week. It was carried west and south, reaching New Orleans, where some 6000 deaths took place out of a population of 55,000.

The epidemic of 1841 began in lower Bengal, over-ran India, visited Afghanistan in 1844, Persia and Meshed in 1843, Teheran in 1846 and visited Astrakhan in Russia, July 30, 1847. It also visited Trebizond and Poti, Constantinople and Odessa, passing up the Danube to Germany and thence to Holland and England.

Carried by Immigrants.

In 1848 German immigrants carried it to Havre and thence to New Orleans, from which it spread as far west as San Francisco.

Another great epidemic commenced in India in April, 1865, and by railroads and steamboats traveled widely, reaching Italy, England and France, and passing from Havre to America, where it preyed upon the population in almost every quarter of the United States.

Since that time the plague has been kept off this continent by strict quarantine. The climax of another duodecennial period came about 1889-90 and cholera has been active in Asia and Europe, especially during the past year. It has found Russia a famine tried country and ready prey for its devastations and it has reached several ports from which easy communication is to be had with this continent.

Cholera At Toronto In '32.

The exigencies of Canada called into existence laws for protecting the public health. The emigration which came in by way of the St. Lawrence created an ever-present danger to the health of the colony. The long ocean passage, principally by sailing vessels, and the wretched condition of many of the immigrants occasioned the frequent introduction of pestilential diseases, amongst which typhus, or ship fever, and cholera were the most common.

This is illustrated in the report to the Legislature of the York (Toronto) Hospital and Dispensary, dated York, Nov. 19, 1832, which is as follows:

The great increase in the population of this town and its vicinity, and the misery and wretchedness of the lower classes of emigrants could not fail to disseminate amongst them disease in its various forms. * * * Typhus fever, in its most malignant form, raged to a most alarming extent; many of the fatal cases above reported upon have been of this malady brought into hospitals from the steamboats or from the confined and filthy parts of the town. * * * It is worthy of remark that most of the lower orders have such an aversion to an hospital, that they will not submit to be removed until they are conveyed hither in a state of insensibility.

In this same year cholera was introduced into Canada by way of the St. Lawrence, and though it disappeared in the early autumn, its ravages were of an extended and most fatal description. It was a mysterious disease to the medical profession in Canada, and here, as elsewhere, the knowledge of its causation and method of propagation were the subject of constant speculation. Many supposed that winds of some peculiar and special character spread the disease from country to country, and the reports which had reached Canada on its westward march from India in 1827 to Russia in 1829 and later to Britain had created serious misgivings lest it should be transported to these western shores.

The first Sanitary Commission instituted in Canada to deal with cholera was appointed in Quebec in February, 1832.

Though not appearing in epidemic form until June, the first cases of cholera arrived in the St. Lawrence on April 28, 1832, and were landed at Grosse Isle from the ship Constantia, from Limerick, having 170 emigrants, of whom 39 had died on the voyage.

On May 14 the ship Robert, from Cork, arrived and had 10 deaths on the voyage.

On May 28 the ship Elizabeth, from Dublin, arrived with 145 emigrants and 43 deaths.

But the weather by June had grown warmer, and on June 3 the ship Carrick, from Dublin, arrived, having had 145 emigrants of whom 42 had died on the voyage.

No Proper Precautions.

This may be said to have been the beginning of the epidemic in Canada. The Grosse Isle Station, having only been opened that spring, there were no conveniences and no proper quarantine precautions. All who seemed well were allowed to pass up the St. Lawrence, disinfection was unknown, and hence all the soiled clothing of the emigrants was forwarded unwashed. Further, there was constant intercourse between sailing and steam vessels westward to Montreal. It ascended the Richelieu and thence reached Lake Champlain and the Hudson.

By June 10 the disease had reached Montreal and spread rapidly to different parts of Lower and Upper Canada. It had disappeared by the middle of October, having lasted four months.

The discontent and famine in Ireland had caused an extensive emigration to American shores, and by September nearly 30,000 emigrants had come up the St. Lawrence.

Nearly 5000 Deaths.

Deaths amongst these people were so common from every cause that no special record was kept of those from cholera, but it is stated that in Quebec there occurred during this fatal summer 2208 deaths from cholera alone, and that in Montreal 800 deaths occurred in the first fortnight and by September 1848 had been slain by the disease.

Returning, however, to Upper Canada it will be seen that the epidemic of 1832 soon passed westward from Montreal, appearing in Prescott on June 14.

That the province was alive to the danger of cholera is learned from the fact of an act being passed by the Legislature in 1833 entitled "An Act to establish Boards of Health and to guard against the introduction of malignant, contagious and infectious diseases in this province, and for the formation of local boards."

Only in Warm Weather.

In a specially prepared report by Dr. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, are these words: "As those of us of the present generation know nothing of cholera, except as telegraphic reports bring us news of its ravages in far-off India and Persia, or occasionally from the shores of the Mediterranean, it is of interest to learn something of the ravages it has been capable of creating even in this northern climate during the warm weather of summer, which alone makes its ravages possible."

Its next appearance in serious proportions was in 1849, and regarding this epidemic in this Province the newspapers of the time give very full accounts. In these it is most curious to note how, as in more recent times, local commercial interests have minimized the danger with the result of creating at a later stage evils of an extent impossible had prompt measures at the outset been taken for its limitation.

At this time, as even in later times, the doctrine was taught by many that cholera was not contagious. Thus it was stated: "It is no doubt true that when one person takes the cholera another may take it. The atmospheric conditions which produce the one may produce the other. But as to any direct communicability of air from one person to another it is no more likely in the case of cholera than in the case of a broken leg. This was the doctrine taught in November, 1848.

In 1488 It Came From Hamburg.

Cholera had then, in October, reached England via Hamburg in the person of sailors, which resulted in the city of London voting an allowance for its first medical health officer, Dr. Sutherland, at £500 per annum to superintend the health of the metropolis and for recommending means for the public safety. The Government sent Drs. Grainger and Ayres to Hamburg to investigate the disease.

On June 1, 1849, The British American Journal says: "Cholera has appeared in New York, Cincinnati and Chicago. A great deal requires to be done, and this is not the time for doing it, when the disease has broken out and is daily numbering its victims. Let the Board of Health issue their directions. Let the cities be cleaned, and this one particularly, for we believe it requires it more, and if the cholera arrives we will be prepared for it. Two cases of sporadic cholera, presenting a number of the features of the Algide variety, and terminating fatally, the one in 24 hours and the other in 8 hours, having occurred during the last week in Montreal."

Another Outbreak in Toronto.

On July 12 cholera was reported present in Toronto. The Globe of July 14 said: "The malady has appeared in our midst, but not to an alarming extent. We believe the best way is in all cases to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. As far as we have been able to learn the first case occurred on Friday of last week, and during the intermediate days the following cases occurred:

	Cases.	Deaths.
On Scott-street 1 resident, 4 emigrants	5	3
On King-street east, an emigrant	1	1
On March-street, an emigrant family	5	3
On Queen-street west, a carter	1	1

449 Deaths in Toronto.

The cholera was abating in Montreal by Sept. 5. Sept. 11 there are still a few cases of cholera in Toronto. To date there have been 745 cases and 449 deaths.

By Sept. 22 cholera had disappeared from Quebec, there having been 1047 deaths there during the epidemic. The deaths in New York per 1000 in the three epidemics are given below: 1832, 15.7 per 1000; 1834, 3.6 per 1000; 1849, 11.35 per 1000.

With the advent of the autumn cholera disappeared from the province and did not reappear until 1854. Its prevalence along the valley of the Mississippi and in Great Britain in 1848 made its reappearance in 1849 to be feared, and the province seems to have been fairly well prepared for it.

A proclamation establishing under the act of 1849 a central board of health is dated Quebec, July 20, 1854, declaring said act of 1849 to be in force in the province and to continue in force for and during the period of six calendar months.

In Other Places in Canada.

The city of Hamilton suffered, however, severely, a very notable number of deaths having occurred. On the 19th of July 93 deaths occurred in Hamilton, while about the same time 56 deaths occurred daily in Montreal, while by 1st August 832 deaths had occurred in Montreal. Domiciliary visits were then carried out regularly, and people under penalty were required to report cases. Cholera was very prevalent this year in St. John, New Brunswick. On August 26th 23 deaths occurred in Hamilton hospital alone.

The following are some newspaper comments of the time:

"If a judicious expenditure of £1000 had been made last spring by the Toronto corporation in removing nuisances it is probable that one-half the persons who have fallen victims to cholera in this city would now be living.

"Some of our civic rulers persisted in ignoring the existence of cholera for a whole month after its appearance, and the grossest and most inhuman neglect of the suffering and dying took place. No place was provided for the patients for weeks."

The Last Outbreak in Ontario.

The epidemic of 1845 was practically the last outbreak of cholera in Ontario.

Cholera having appeared in Europe in 1865 created apprehensions lest it should reach Canada in 1866.

The regulations provided that the mail steamers be boarded at Father Point and inspected, and if free from infection given pratique up the river. All infected vessels had to stop at Grosse Isle or in the St. Charles at Quebec.

The disease prevailed to some extent in New York all summer, ten fresh cases being reported as late as Sept. 13, but while cholera ships occasionally reached Canadian ports as Halifax and Grosse Isle, the disease does not seem to have reached Ontario farther than one fatal case in Toronto.

The last cholera scare comes within the period 1884 and 1885, but no cases of the disease reached Canada. Only once in the last ten years, viz., September, 1887, has cholera reached New York, and that in the steamer Alesia.

Dr. Bryce has prepared details of the cholera outbreak in Toronto, from which he deduces: That after three or four days of increased heat the number of cases increased and continue to increase for several days of a succeeding cooler term; every cool term ended with a decline in the number of cases; excessive humidity without increased heat was not sufficient to cause an increase of cases. The moment the temperature falls below 70° there is an associated decrease in the number of cases; and when it rises above this there is an increase in the number of cases. Apparently the cholera microbe requires a temperature above 70° for its free development, which development is aided by increased temperature up to at least as high as 90 per cent. That successive humidity, with heat, is favorable to its free development; that it requires several days of favorable conditions to develop an abundant crop of microbes; that high temperatures, with excessive humidity, are the conditions favorable for all organic decomposition, and abundant bacterial life; that, apparently, from the mortality during the first two weeks of September [illegible] makes the cases more fatal; and [illegible] anomaly in the last week simply indicates that with the wearing out of the disease the cases became more like severely developed

Dr. F. Montizambert, the [illegible] of the Dominion Quarantine [illegible] St. Lawrence, says that [illegible] 390 cases of cholera—with immigrants at Grosse Isle and 159 deaths. In 1849 there were 56 fatal cases; [illegible] been no deaths from cholera [illegible] at the quarantine [illegible]

THE CHOLERA.

Some time ago the EXAMINER felt it its duty to point out that owing to the facility of communication there was danger of the cholera reaching this continent. Since that time this scourge has developed in Europe, especially Germany and France, and it is also said to have gained a footing in England—at Gravesend, a few miles from London. Only the other day a vessel cleared from Hamburg for Quebec. Now in Hamburg the cholera is sweeping off citizens by the score and it is not difficult to see how the dreaded pestilence can easily be transplanted to our shores. In France and Germany the reckless spirit which characterizes the presence of a plague seems to have seized upon the people, and instead of taking dietary precautions they are plunging into the very course of eating and drinking which favours the destructive effects of the plague, as is graphically shown in Lytton's "Rienzi." They are forsaking the drinking of water and consuming beer and spirits instead, the very worst thing that can be done by those wishing to escape from the cholera. The strictest dietary precautions should be taken. Water, pure as possible—the boiled is the best—should be drunk. The personal habits should be conformed to the necessities of the occasion. Careful diet should be adopted. Substantial meals, especially the morning meals, should be taken, the body should be clothed in flannels and kept as dry as possible. Everything about a town or house should be kept as clean as possible and no single sanitary precaution should be neglected. Sensitive and imaginative persons should keep cool, and not gloat over the horrid details of the ravages of the cholera where it exists. Fear opens the door to disease. There is a possibility of the cholera reaching these shores, but there is a great probability that it will not reach us this summer. Of course the strictest quarantine will be exercised, both at European and Canadian and American ports. The season is so far advanced that we may not be visited this year to any serious extent, the cold weather being fatal to the spread of cholera, but at the same time there should be no relaxation of energetic action in the direction of bringing about the best possible national, civic and domestic sanitary conditions, for the immunity which winter brings will vanish with the advent of warm weather.

A Disinfectant.

A correspondent writes to the Globe:—It may not be amiss at the present time, when the public mind is so aroused with the fears of cholera, typhoid, etc., to lay before the people a recipe for making one of the best if not the very best disinfectant known to science, and which can be made by anyone and at a cost so trifling (less than ten cents) that certainly places it within the reach of all. Moreover, this disinfectant is so very unlike many disinfectants, it leaves no offensive odor after its use:—½ oz. nitrate of lead, ½ oz. rock salt (common salt will do), dissolve the nitrate of lead with two gallons of rain water and mix both together—the disinfectant is then ready for use. Pour half a gallon down sinks and closets, sprinkle a quart round the corners of cellars and a little, say a teacupful, round bedrooms and under the beds; stables and outhouses according to size. A sponge well saturated and hung up in a room will disinfect it in a few minutes.

It is a Very Sad Thing

'TWAS A PUBLIC NUISANCE

And the Board of Health Order its Removal Forthwith.

The Evidence Taken—Mr. Geo. Carton's Pork Packing Establishment a Menace to Health and Business—No More Using the Creek and George Street Drain for Sewerage—The Board are the Custodians of Public Health and Will do Their Duty.

TORONTO, Aug. 28th, 1892.

John R. Cobb, Secretary Local Board of Health, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—I have received a petition from a number of business men doing business in the neighbourhood of George and Charlotte streets, Peterborough, with regard to the existence of a serious nuisance on the premises kept as a pork packing establishment. From my experience of these places elsewhere, I can readily understand that the nuisance complained of is of a real character, and I would direct your attention to the provision of Sec 56, etc, of the Public Health Act, and request that you take action as you are required to do under Section 59. In case you find any difficulty then after hearing the evidence in deciding upon the character of the nuisance, I shall be glad to receive a copy of the report and to aid you in the matter of coming to a conclusion. Please inform me at an early date of the action taken, and oblige

Your obedient servant,
PETER H. BRYCE,
Secretary.

In consequence of the letter, and to enquire into the alleged public nuisance, a special meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the town clerk's office. There were present:—Messrs. Edg. Pearse (chairman), Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer, Chief Ronel, Sanitary Inspector, John R. Cobb, secretary of the Board, B. Shortly, Wm. Loch, H. Deane, Dr. Fife, Mayor Kendry and E. H. D. Hall.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

HEARING EVIDENCE.

Mr. PEARSE said the meeting had been called owing to a letter received from Dr. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health stating that he had been informed of complaints of the nuisance existing at the corner of George and Charlotte streets, in the premises kept as a pork packing factory, and asking for an investigation of the alleged public nuisance. Mr. Pearse, speaking personally, said he had heard many complaints of the stench arising from Mr. Geo. Carton's pork packing establishment. He knew nothing of the matter himself — only what he had heard. They had witnesses there and were ready to go on with the investigation at once.

Mr. COBB told Mr. Pearse that under sections 56 and 59 of the Public Health Act, he had the power of swearing and examining witnesses as a Justice of the Peace or a magistrate on the bench.

The evidence into the character of the nuisance was then proceeded with.

HE FOUND IT A NUISANCE.

Mr. JOS. MCCLELLAND, sworn, said:—His place of business was just north of Mr. Carton's. He knew the premises, and found the smell arising from the establishment disgusting. Persons entering his store had made many and frequent complaints from the sickening odour. It was certainly a positive nuisance and passers-by were compelled to take the other side of the street very often. There was also a leakage in a water closet at the rear of Mr. Carton's premises from which a smell had arisen, but that had been repaired and the closet disinfected.

Mr. PEARSE—Can you tell us what is the cause of the smell?

Witness—I think it arises from the pork. I do not know from what else. The smell has existed about two years. It is not as bad in winter as in the summer time.

Dr. FIFE—Do you attribute the smell to a defective cesspool which broke out some weeks ago?

Witness—I do not. That nuisance was repaired, but the smell from the establishment has not abated any.

Mr. R. W. EMERITT, sworn, said a piece of bacon on a barrel in a grocer's shop would offer smell at this time of the year. The smell was doubtless due to curing such large quantities of pork in too confined a space without proper evaporation and curing process. Whatever impurities are taken off by the brine will remain in the cell of the cellar upon which it is spilled. It may not be injurious to the health, but the stench was very disagreeable to bear.

Mr. GEORGE B SPROULE was the next witness examined. He said the nuisance was more offensive this year than in other years. It was certainly hurting business on the corner. He believed Mr. Carton had done all in his power to abate the nuisance, but had not succeeded. The only way was to remove the place of Mr. Carton's business somewhere else.

Mr. SHORTLY—Has any one been sick from the nuisance?

WITNESS—Yes, I have been sick from the smell produced. Tenants are threatening to leave on account of the offensive stench.

THEY ALSO FIND IT A NUISANCE.

Mr. G. D. LOWE, sworn said—I occupy a store west of Mr. Carton's with an archway between us. I think it is injuring business as our sales have dropped off. I think Mr. Carton has used all disinfectants possible, but without avail. People coming into my store complain of it loudly.

Mr. GEO. DAVIDSON said he could endorse what had been said. Witness felt sick from stench in the morning cause by smell which was very bad during the day.

Mr. McClelland was re-called.

MR. HALL—Is the pork packing business carried on there, "offensive trade."

WITNESS—Yes! I think so. It is offensive.

Messrs. Everitt, Sproule, Lowe and Davidson all answered the same question in the affirmative.

THE OWNER GIVES HIS TESTIMONY.

Mr. GEO. CARTON, gave a statement as follows—I spoke to some of the witnesses after cellar was fixed and some told me they could detect no odour. The water closet at the rear of the premises had broken out some time ago and the stench was disgusting but this had been repaired. Even yet there was a smell from this corner. He hired two bricklayers to prevent brine from going through into cellar but they did their work poorly. If there was a proper flow to the cellar I am satisfied that there would be no smell at all. There is no blood in our pork. I don't intend to carry on the pork packing there this winter, I intend to remove it as soon as I can find other quarters which I am looking for now.

Mr PEARSE—How long before you are going to remove your premises?

Mr. CARTON—As soon as possible. Sawdust stood in the cellar in the winter and brine running on that may have caused a smell. As soon as we put down this floor and deodorize the smell, all the nuisance, if any, will be abated, as nearly all our pork has been shipped away. I had men at work last week cleaning away the sawdust and I propose to remove the vats. It is certainly my intention to remove the pork business to new and larger premises.

A doubt existed among the members as to whether Mr. Carton had the right to give evidence under oath or not, but on the opinion of the secretary of the Board and Mr. Hall, under sections 56 and 59 of Public Health Act, Mr. Carton was allowed to put in sworn evidence. He took oath to the statements already made.

WHAT THE BOARD THINK.

All the witnesses then retired while the Board discussed the matter.

MR HALL said, I think the right thing to do with this is to serve a notice on Mr. Carton stating that he must remove the nuisance and disinfect the place.

Mr. Cobb was instructed to draw up a resolution, according to Section 60.

USING THE SEWER AND CREEK.

While the Secretary was doing this, Mr. PEARSE called attention to the fact of the resolution passed by the Board some time ago that if the sewerage bylaw was not carried the Board would take action against all using the town drain, creek and Ellice sewer. The cholera was approaching fast and Peterborough was in a beautiful state to receive it. "Let us as custodians of the public health do our duty," said Mr. Pearse. Something must certainly be done and that at once." He read a letter from Dr. Bryce in reference to the matter. Statistics as taken by the assessors last year showed that from two to one per cent died in the two south wards to the number who died in the two north wards. A large number of these diseases were caused by nothing else than stagnant water.

Mr. PEARSE.—Are we going to allow people to dispose of their sewage into the creek and then pay men to take it away?

Dr. FIFE said that the drain on George street was one of the strongest elements that helped to defeat the bylaw. Many were using it as a sewer when it was not suitable for such either by its terminus or construction. The Board had to persuade the people that it was necessary to have sewerage. The speaker advised proceedings against certain men for disposing of their sewerage into the George street drain. This would be the most effective means to bring about sewerage. Then would the business men come to the conclusion that the sewerage bylaw submitted to the council was about the thing wanted after all.

Mr. LOCH said the bylaw had not been put before the people properly. People wanted to know what they got for their money. He could not agree with the remarks of Dr. Fife.

THE PORK PACKING ESTABLISHMENT GOES.

After the conclusion of the evidence and a general consideration of the matter the following motion was moved by Mr. Benj. Shortly, seconded by Dr. Fife:—That this Board is of the opinion, from the evidence produced, before it that the nuisance complained of on the premises of George Cartee, at the corner of George and Charlotte streets in the town of Peterborough, is of such a nature that in the interest of public health the same should be at once removed. This Board, therefore, directs that a notice be served upon the said George Carton requiring him to remove the nuisance within ten days from the date of service; that the premises complained of be at once disinfected; the pork packing or curing therein prohibited from this date; the vats and brine removed therefrom, and also any pork therein from which an unwholesome smell arises; otherwise this Board will take such action as it is empowered to take under the Public Health Act, to cause the removal thereof.

The motion was carried.

DON'T USE THE SEWERS ANY MORE.

The following resolutions was then moved by Dr. Fife and seconded by Mr. Wm. Loch:—That the motion carried by this Board on July 9th, 1892, that those persons who use the George street drain and creek as a sewer be enforced and that inspector be instructed to prosecute them pursuant to the provisions of the Public Health Act.

The motion was carried and the Board adjourned at five o'clock.

LITTLE TRIXIE.—Last night a fair sized audience greeted May Smith Robbins and her company, at the Opera House, when the musical comedy, "Little Trixie," was presented. Miss Robbins as Trixie was remarkably clever, and specialty of the old Irish woman received several encores. Harry Winchell as Socrates Winterpippin, was very funny, and his "Game of Baseball" made a decided hit. All the specialties were encored, Mr. Ellis, the musician, rendered catchy solos on the piano between acts. The piece on the whole seemed to please the audience. They return to Port Hope next Tuesday. A large house should certainly greet this admirable company. If the citizens of Port Hope miss seeing Trixie next Tuesday night they will miss a great treat. At the Opera House to-morrow evening. Tickets on sale at Greatrex's drug store, plan now open.

The Army's Harvest Home Service.

A successful annual harvest home service was held in the Salvation Army barracks last night and was well attended. The decorations were tasteful and nicely arranged. The whole of the Simcoe street barracks was a blooming flower garden and a miniature farm. The platforms, walls and windows were strewn with clusters of wheat, oats, rye and grain of all kinds as well as quantities of cabbages, apples, beets, potatoes, turnips, peas, onions, etc. The edifice was a whole farm and forest in itself. The meeting was ably led by Adjt. Michael, the gallant commander, and Mrs. Michael. Prof. Payton in the absence of Prof. Pennington, filled the position of bandmaster. The evening's proceedings, after a large street parade with torch, drum and tambourine, opened with a fine selection by the band, after which a short testimony service was held in which many of the soldiers took part, thanking the Father for his bountiful harvest and his many blessings to all during the past year. Miss Morey, of Toronto, sang a solo very acceptably, after which Mark Spenceley was called upon for a song but he pleaded that his voice was hoarse and instead Mark told a humorous story which pleased the audience. Adjt. Michael then delivered the thanksgiving service selecting appropriate passages of Scripture, referring to the harvest and the time of reaping. The commanders address was a thoughtful and grateful one which was listened to with marked attention. After the service the produce was auctioneered off by Mark Spenceley and Prof Payton and sold rapidly, the soldiers bidding fast it did not take long to dispose of nature's catables.

A New Industry.

Mr. D. Knox, manufacturer of aerated waters, ginger beer and ginger ale, is preparing to add another branch to his industry. He has put in at 26 Queen street new and improved machinery for the manufacture of apple cider, and has advertised, as will be seen by referring elsewhere in this issue, for 10 000 bushels of apples, which will be manufactured by the most improved processes into cider of the finest quality, suitable for hotel and domestic purposes. The cider will be thoroughly clarified, and will be the best of its kind to be found in the market. This new industry will be a boon to the farmers, who will find a profitable market for their surplus stock of apples.

J. R. STRATTON.

An Unoccupied Dwelling Destroyed.

An alarm of fire was sounded at 12 30 o'clock last night and the brigade responded in one of the quickest runs made this season. The scene of the blaze was in a one story brick cottage situated on King street between Aylmer and Louis streets, near the Montreal House. The residence, which has been unoccupied for some time, burned brilliantly for nearly two hours. Owing to the number of layers of shingles on the roof the fire lurked among the shingles and it was difficult to extinguish the blaze. The firemen had to cut the roof loose in many places in order to get at the smouldering embers. It was nearly two o'clock when the brigade returned to the station. This morning the firemen were called out again to extinguish the blaze which had sprung up and was still burning around the roof. The walls of the house are still standing. It belongs to the Chamberlain estate and is uninsured. The loss is slight. The fire was no doubt of incendiary origin.

A Rather Exciting Runaway.

A lively runaway occurred on George street yesterday afternoon. A young lady left a horse and phaeton standing in front of Mr. H. Lang's restaurant while she entered. The horse suddenly turned and started with the vehicle down George street at full speed, and for a few brief seconds everything was aglow with excitement. The animal came within an ace of running over an old lady on the corner of George and Hunter streets. Pursuing its onward way, the vehicle next collided with a phaeton belonging to Mr. Geo. W. Hatton, standing in front of his office, in which were seated three children. No damage was done except the hub of one of the wheels on Mr. Hatton's vehicle uncapped. The animal nearly had a collision with a buggy in which was seated Miss Delaney and another lady, and finally collided the phaeton against a telegraph post in front of Mr. Benj. Shortly's shop, where it left the conveyance and pursued its onward career to the stables. The horse and buggy belonged to Mr. T. Fitzgerald. The vehicle was badly smashed about the shafts and one of the wheels was demolished.

A Winnipeg Opinion.

The Winnipeg Free Press, of July 14th last says: "McMahon's circus arrived yesterday from the south and gave afternoon and evening performances at the corner of Portage Avenue and Kennedy street, both of which were well attended. While the proprietors do not profess to give a gorgeous street parade or make very great outside pretensions, their inside performance is of the very best, and distances anything that has visited Winnipeg of recent years. The whole show from the beginning to the end is marked with a snap and a go. The horses are well trained, the acrobats are clever, the clowns funny, and what is really remarkable the after concert embraces some good features. The bareback riding of W. Bennett and Mollie Bennett was exceptionally good and the Roman horseback riding also elicited considerable applause. The trapeze work of Seguat and Selcon marked them as stars and they merited all the applause they received. Every act of the ring performance was good. A somewhat amusing incident occurred at the afternoon performance. When Mr. Bennett made his appearance as the ring side disguised as a drunken farmer, preparatory to doing his 'Peter Jenkins' act, one of the members of the police force did not recognize this time honored 'business,' and proceeded to remove Mr. Bennett as a disorderly character. After considerable explanation from the management on the outside of the canvas that things were all right the performer was allowed to return to the ring, when he finished that feature on the programme with credit to himself." One day only at Peterborough, Friday Sept. 2nd, afternoon and evening 1d

Baseball Briefs.

The Maple Leafs, of Belleville, and the Peterboroughs will play here on Wednesday.

The Princess street baseball club, Kingston, will play Watertown at that place on Monday.

A baseball team from Peterborough will go to Fairmont on Saturday to play the Lifford baseball club a game.

The Peterboroughs will put up the following nine to-morrow afternoon to play against the Maple Leafs of Belleville. A tight game is expected. D. McCabe p., J. Landers c., A. Barlow 1b., P. LePage 2b., W. Evans 3b., S. Rayner s., W. O'Brien l.f., M. Lyle r.f., R. Hay c.f.

Mr. W. W. Powers, of the Queen's hotel, the Belleville Ontario says when he received word from Cobourg that they would play the Princess street nine of Kingston at Belleville on Wednesday, at once telegraphed to have the match postponed on account of of the horse races here on the same date. Cobourg replied that it was the only day that Kingston would play and they were compelled to accept that date.

The Kingston Whig says: A letter received to-day from Cobourg states that the Independents desire to meet the Princess street boys at Belleville next Wednesday. They suggest Charles Maddock, of Toronto, and Dan McCabe, of Peterborough, as the right men for umpires, and say that the old scheme of two umpires is no good. The Princess street club will be given a free passage on the steamer Hero.

A baseball match is on tapis which is arousing some interest among the local sports. A nine composed of the bartenders of the town are ready and anxious—yes waiting—to play a team from the barbers next Tuesday or Thursday afternoon on the Riverside Park. One or two enthusiasts have gone into the matter with a vengeance and it is likely the game will come off all O.K. These local matches between different professions in a town arouse a lot of fun.

—Mr. Wm. S. Yates, an old and respected resident of Belleville, while proceeding home on Saturday afternoon dropped dead on the sidewalk of heart disease. Deceased lived for years in Sidney and was at one time extensively engaged in farming and the cheese industry.

Sweeter than Honey is the Honeycomb.

"What is life if half so sweet,
As in the hour when lovers meet."

Nothing is sweeter to the youthful and robust in health, but, alas! too many "Court in poetry, and live in prose" after marriage. This is especially true of the wives whose changed relations bring on weaknesses and derangements peculiar to married women, so that their lives become "prosy." To all such Dr. Pearce's Favourite Prescription is a great boon. It cures weak backs, headache, neuralgia and bearing down pains, displacements and irregularities of the female organs. It is likewise a restorative and invigorating tonic, strengthening the nerves, and imparting new life to the tired and debilitated, bringing back the "rose to the cheek," and the "rainbows to the eyes." Sold by all druggists under guarantee from its makers of satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded. b

For any case of nervousness, sleeplessness, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Relief is sure. The only nerve medicine for the price in the market, d

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

THE GRAND UNION CLOTHING HALL

Has been asked a question, why we can sell our Own-Make Clothing for less money than others sell their factory make? The reason is that we have the latest system to work on. First, the factory clothing has to go through a number of money makers, while the Grand Union Clothing Hall can avoid all this. The second, why our clothing fits better than the factory make; because we do our own cutting for the benefit of the public and to increase our good name.

We beg to notify those who did not come to town and who did not know about our great bargains that were given on the opening day, (Saturday, August) 27th) that we will continue the same bargains until Saturday, Sept. 3rd, in order to give everyone a chance to get the same bargains in our Own-Make Clothing.

Don't forget we will always keep in stock a fine selection of Tweeds and Worsteds which we will make to order in the latest styles.

A fine stock of Gents' Furnishings is always kept on hand.

For Business Men.

Life in Every Drop

In these days of competition and rushing ahead, men are inclined to forget the needs of the body, and keep constantly on the racetrack of work, commerce and science, until the constitution is broken down. Men may continue for years in this rush after riches and fame without apparent detriment to health; but the day of reckoning comes as surely as night follows day. The laws of nature have been severely transgressed; the ordinary rules of sensible living have been neglected or cast aside. The body has been overworked, the brain has been overtaxed and subjected to too great a strain, sleep and rest have been neglected and improperly used.

What do we find as the result of this mad and suicidal course of living? Human wrecks on the great sea of life! Men left helpless, broken up, and many of them just approaching the grave.

It is for such subjects as these that we honestly and strongly recommend the use of Paine's Celery Compound, a remedy specially adapted to meet such terrible conditions. Experience in our land has amply proved the value of the agent so earnestly recommended. Its works speak louder than columns of newspaper matter; its wonderful cures are sufficient evidence of its priceless worth.

Hundreds of business men in Canada today owe their present good health to the marvellous power of Paine's Celery Compound; they candidly acknowledge its honesty and curative properties.

Our object is simply to bring to the notice of all who are in danger, the fact that there is an unfailing agent they may use, and by which they may obtain a new life and extended years.

Paine's Celery Compound has no equal; no other medicine can take its place and do its work; it is the only one of its kind in the world. Try it, sufferers; one bottle will convince you that you have found truth and honesty; in every drop there is new life.

Ladies Attention.

Ladies needing sewing done should apply promptly to secure prompt filling of orders.

Reduced Cattle Freights.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—Cattle freights took a drop of 20 shillings yesterday, the boats going out at 30 shillings to Liverpool. This is the lowest figure ever accepted by the steamships, and is due partially to the bad state of the English market and partially to the fact that the combine between the three big steamship companies to keep up rates is broken.

Convicts to Return to the Mines.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 25.—The Board of Prison Inspectors have just decided to return the convicts to the mines at once.

A Good Demand for American Fruit.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Cable advices this morning from Liverpool say there is a great demand for American fruit. The first shipment of this season's apples was sent over last week. They arrived in good shape, and sold rapidly from 11s. 6d. to 15s. a barrel. California Bartlett pears are in great demand in England.

Fire in Dublin.

DUBLIN, Aug. 29.—The South Dublin market was burned yesterday. Adjoining the market stood Warren's Hotel, which was crowded with guests. The fire communicated to the hotel and in a short time the whole structure was wiped in flames. The guests were panic stricken and fled in every direction. Many narrowly escaped with their lives. Loss £120,000.

Not Chargeable to Fanaticism.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 29.—The Porte recently ordered an investigation to be made into the burning of the house of the Rev. Mr. Bartlett, an American missionary at Bourdom, Asia Minor, and a report has been received showing that the destruction of the dwelling was due to the carelessness of an American servant and not to the fanaticism of the natives.

TWO DRESSES FOR GIRLS.

Both of Them Are Inexpensive and Very Easily Made.

The sailor frock is always popular for general wear and the make is exceedingly simple. Made of good serge, it is useful in all weathers and stands both sun and shower. The skirt is pleated or gathered to a long-waisted bodice lining, cut in three parts only. The front is faced to form a singlet, or separate singlets to button on are more useful, as they quickly soil. Where there is a fair-sized opening the blouse is usually joined up and the wearer slips the head through the neck opening, but most of the better blouses have a box-pleat down the front and hooks or buttons concealed beneath. The collar is cut in one piece and attached to the blouse.

Plain full skirts are always pretty for girls and the model shown in No. 2 is equally suitable for woollen or washing goods. The design is specially intended for terra-cotta crepon, with vest of cream washing silk or merino. The sash ends and folded belt may be of the same material.—N. Y. World.

"German Syrup"

Croup. We have selected two or three lines from letters freshly received from parents who have given German Syrup to their children in the emergencies of Croup. You will credit these, because they come from good, substantial people, happy in finding what so many families lack—a medicine containing no evil drug, which mother can administer with confidence to the little ones in their most critical hours, safe and sure that it will carry them through.

ED. L. WILLITS, of Alma, Neb. I give it to my children when troubled with Croup and never saw any preparation act like it. It is simply miraculous.

MRS. JAS. W. KIRK, Daughters' College, Harrodsburg, Ky. I have depended upon it in attacks of Croup with my little daughter, and find it an invaluable remedy.

Fully one-half of our customers are mothers who use Boschee's German Syrup among their children. A medicine to be successful with the little folks must be a treatment for the sudden and terrible foes of childhood, whooping cough, croup, diphtheria and the dangerous inflammations of delicate throats and lungs. ●

RIVALS FOR LEADERSHIP

ROSEBERY AND HARCOURT WANT THE HONOR.

The Russians in the Pamirs—A Report That Prince Esterhazy Was a Sufferer From Cholera—Harvest Prospects Not Bright and Hard Times for Agriculturists are Expected.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Mr. Lucy's London despatch to The Tribune contains the following: With that charming freedom from prejudice which marks an enterprising news agency one has telegraphed to Hawarden with the genial inquiry as to whether it is true that Mr. Gladstone intends retiring from the Premiership in the spring. The Premier gravely replies that the rumor is entirely groundless. There are, nevertheless, a considerable number of people, chiefly on the Conservative side, who comfort themselves with the assurance that such conclusion is inevitable. With grim particularity they fix Easter as the date of Mr. Gladstone's breakdown, and ask each other what will happen as to the leadership of the party and the destinies of Home Rule. It is foreseen that a struggle for Elijah's mantle will take place between Lord Rosebery and Sir William Harcourt. Lord Rosebery is heavily handicapped by his peerage. The Radicals determined never again to have a premier in the House of Lords. Mr. Labouchere has already openly declared in favor of Sir William Harcourt.

The Cloud in the East.

There is a cloud in the East no bigger just now than a man's hand, but which has uncomfortable reminiscences of what was known as the Penjdeh incident. The restless Russians, ever creeping on toward Central Asia, have pushed forward into the Pamirs, and there encountered the Afghan troops. The Ameer has reported the incident to the Indian Government and claimed assistance. It may be all a mistake. It probably will be so described and dealt with upon receipt of the representations from the British Government, but it may drag on as the Penjdeh incident did. At best it is an uncomfortable inauguration of Lord Rosebery's Foreign Secretaryship.

The Cholera Scare.

Cholera, after hovering round all the ports on the east and southern coasts, has at last uplifted its head in London. According to the earliest report, it struck high, Prince Esterhazy, military attache to the Austro-Hungarian Embassy, being said to be down with the plague. This unpleasant and embarrassing rumor was subsequently contradicted. The Prince is said to be ill of something quite different. There is no doubt about the nature of the attack on a woman named Hurley, living in New-Cut, Lambeth, one of the most densely crowded quarters in the metropolis. The local authorities everywhere are on the alert. To-day an extraordinary meeting of the Metropolitan Asylums Board was held to consider the situation and take steps for protecting London. At all the ports the sanitary authorities are on the watch night and day. Every ship is boarded on arrival, and the passengers and crew thoroughly examined. Where, as at Lynn last night, vessels are found with choleraic symptoms on board, they are ordered back to sea. What becomes of them then, heaven only knows. No port will take them in. They become pariahs of the ocean, cruising up and down till all are dead or some are better. For London, the magnet of attraction for all Continental nations, the danger of infection is peculiarly great. The journey between the infected districts and Charing Cross is so short that travelers passed at the port of arrival as healthy may sicken on their arrival at their hotel and so plant contagion in the midst of a teeming population.

A Bad Harvest.

The fine weather, occasionally varied by thunderstorms, now prevalent, improves the harvest prospects, though coming too late to greatly vary the general conclusions. These point to bad times for agriculturists. The barley crop is considerably above the average, but wheat is sadly below. As for hay, the harvest is the worst for many years, both in quantity and quality. It clear that the necessity for large importations of wheat will weigh upon the country. Fortunately it happens that the imports of last year were above the average, 22,000,000 quarters being imported, with the result that the country enters upon the new season with 2,000,000 quarters of supply above the normal stock. The consequence of this accident will be that the imports for the coming year, estimated not to exceed 20,000,000 quarters, will be 2,000,000 less than was needed last year.

Don't buy a blood-purifier because it is "cheap." The best—the Superior Medicine—Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is, in the end, the cheapest blood purifier in the market. The ingredients of which it is composed are the most expensive and medicinally efficacious that can be obtained.

The Head Surgeon

Of the Luben Medical Company is now at Toronto, Canada, and may be consulted either in person or by letter on all chronic diseases peculiar to men. Men, young, old or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, itching or peculiar sensations about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with leaden circle, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension, every function wanes in consequences. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all diseases peculiar to man. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flashes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the heart with beats strong, rapid and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc., can positively be cured. No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LUBON, 24 Macdonell ave., Toronto, Canada

Good Roads Benefit the Farmers.

The farmers would receive the greater portion of the benefit which might be derived from the use of good stone roads, consequently the farmer should do all in his power to make the movement a success. Because people in country towns do not live within speaking distances, and on streets travelled every 10 minutes, is no reason why they should put up with poor roads. The country must be fed by the farmers, who should have suitable roads on which to travel. Especially is this needful in the spring, when dirt roads are almost impassable on account of mud or dangerous holes. I think much money is lost by farmers by their not being able to take advantage of the highest markets. Considering the facts that in the few Western States and in Canada, where roads are macadamized, the adjoining land has increased greatly in value, that the expense of keeping these roads in repair is a mere trifle, and that they give greater satisfaction, is it not time that better roads should be adopted here in New England?

The New English Parliament.

There are some interesting figures in the new House. Sir Charles Dilke is one of them. He is called by the cynical members of the Carlton Club "one of Gladstone's moral victories." One of the youngest men in the House is J. A. Chamberlain, son of the Honorable Joseph Chamberlain, a youth of twenty four, brilliant, popular, and full of promise. He wears an eye-glass, something very few smart young men do in England nowadays, and looks like his father.

THE SPEAKER.

There are lots of curious and quaint people in the new House. The most interesting man is probably Mr. Naoroji, a Hindoo, who travels under the name of "Lord Salisbury's black man." He isn't black—only he isn't white—but his election is the outcome of Lord Salisbury's speech in which he spoke of him as a "black man," and thereby enraged all the people with whom we are acquainted through Mr. Kipling.

JOHN BURNS.

Mr. Naoroji won in Central Finsbury, and all the dignitaries of the empire have been simply delighted with the victory, enriching the telegraph company by deluging the Hindoo member with congratulations. There are two representatives of labor among the members—John Burns, the agitator of Hyde Park, and Kier Hardie. This latter person came to Parliament dressed as a laborer and driving a four-in-hand, accompanied by a howling crowd and a brass band that played the "Marseillaise." Mr. Burns walked, attired in suitable garments, and produced a better effect upon the crowd. Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley, who watched the proceedings, seemed tired and weary—as they undoubtedly were after their late experience. Michael Davitt was among the new ones that came to the opening, but it is a question whether he stays a member because the Conservatives think his involuntary service as a convict disqualifies the gentleman from a seat in the great English Parliament. He took the seat Parnell used to occupy, which seemed in the eyes of the other Irish members as being presumptuous and promising trouble.

KIER HARDIE.

Sure Signs of Death.

About eighteen months ago the public read with consternation the reports of the interment of a man who was afterwards found to have been buried alive, and various suggestions were made public at that time of means by which the extinction or existence of life in the human being could be determined. One of the simplest and best of tests proposed was the holding of the hand of the supposed corpse in front of a candle flame. A sure evidence of life would be a tinge of red at the side of the fingers. Dr. Martinot now asserts that an unfailing test may be made by holding a candle to the skin of the hand or foot until a blister is formed, which will always soon occur. The presence of any fluid in the blister is a certain evidence of life; but if, on the contrary, the blister contains only steam, it may be taken for granted that life is extinct. Dr. Martinot shows that these phenomena are simply the result of natural laws, and that the proof is as conclusive as the test is simple.

Diarrhœa and Vomiting.

GENTLEMEN,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhœa and vomiting. The pain was almost unbearable and I thought I could not live till morning, but after I had taken the third dose of Fowler's Wild Strawberry the vomiting ceased, and after the sixth dose the diarrhœa stopped, and I have not had the least symptom of it since.
dw MRS. ALICE HOPKINS, Hamilton, Ont.

Ladies appreciate Anti Dandruff from the fact that it not only thoroughly removes Dandruff with three applications, but stops falling of the hair, restores fading hair to its original color, and makes it soft and pliable without leaving any indication of a dressing being used. Clear as Crystal, clean to use, it is a valuable toilet preparation. dw

The Children's Friend.

GENTLEMEN,—Last summer our children were very bad with summer complaint, and the only remedy that did them any good was Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. We used twelve bottles during the warm weather and would not be without it at five times the cost.

TORONTO'S FATALITIES 15

THE TROLLEY SUPPLANTS THE BAY AS A LIFE-TAKER.

Two Fatal Accidents Resulting From Horses Taking Fright at Trolley Cars —A Decrease in the Assessment of the Queen City.

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—Joseph Swallow, aged 39, a groom, living at 47 George-street, was riding a spirited colt down Church-street at 6.45 last night, when the animal took fright and shied at a passing trolley car. Swallow lost control of the animal and was thrown violently to the ground, alighting on his head.

On arriving at the hospital he was able to walk out of the ambulance, but within a few minutes was seized with vomiting and within an hour after admission he was dead. The cause of death was concussion of the brain. The poor fellow's wife was with him when he died. Deceased was an Englishman and was employed at the Clyde Hotel, and had a good reputation for steadiness, attention and sobriety.

Died From Her Injuries.

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Ann Troyer, the wife of a Woodbridge farmer, injured by being thrown from her husband's wagon Saturday in Bloor-street through the horse being frightened by a trolley car, died at the General Hospital shortly before noon yesterday. The cause of death was inflammation and hemorrage of the brain. The unfortunate woman never regained consciousness. Deceased was 53, and leaves a husband and 11 children.

TORONTO'S TUMBLE.

The Assessment This Year Shows a Falling Off For the Boom Town.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—The assessors are nearing the completion of their annual work and the unusual fact has developed that the total assessment this year will be a decrease on that of a year ago. This is due entirely to the larger amount of exemption on income owing to recent provincial legislation, and also to the operation of the city bylaw exempting manufacturers' plants and machinery from taxation. The exact figures of the assessment will not be known for a couple of weeks.

FROST IN MANITOBA.

The Weather Very Cold—Three-Fourths of the Wheat Harvested.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 30.—The weather here has been constantly growing colder during the past 24 hours and the farmers fear they will have a frost. Early this morning the mercury had fallen to 42 degrees. To-day it is cold, with a strong north wind blowing.

The wheat harvesting is about three-fourths over. It is expected that harvesting will be over this week.

About 30,000,000 bushels of wheat, it is calculated, will be available for export This tallies with the immense yield of last year.

THE TOLLS AT THE SAULT.

The United States Treasury Department Issues Another Circular.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—It having been stated that the Canadians with a view of evading the 20 cent tolls to be imposed in accordance with the terms of the President's proclamation were proposing to evade the requirements of the proclamation by shipping in Canadian bottoms from Duluth to Port Huron to be transhipped from that point by the Grand Trunk line through Canada, Assistant-Secretary S. Spaulding sent a telegram to the solicitor of the Grand Trunk Railroad Company at Detroit to the effect that neither Manitoba nor domestic wheat can be carried in Canadian bottoms from Duluth to Port Huron, as it would be in violation of the United States coasting laws, but if carried in American bottoms it is not subject to tolls. If carried through the canal from Duluth to Sarnia for consumption in or export from Canada via Montreal or any other port it would be."

Her Apron Took Fire.

ALGOMA MILLS, Ont., Aug. 30.—The apron of Edith Murphy, aged 8 years, took fire yesterday in front of the kitchen stove and she was so frightfully burned that death ensued.

Drowned at Brockville.

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 30.—The body of a man known as Patrick Johnston, a cabinet maker, aged 65 years, was found floating at the C.P.R. dock yesterday. The supposition is that he was intoxicated and fell in.

The Borden Trial.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 30.—Court came in on the Borden case at 10.45 sharp. Lizzie Borden passed a fairly restful night, and at an early hour this morning was visited by her sister Emma. Among those who were present was Mrs. Fish of Hartford, a sister of the murdered woman.

The Daily News says to-night: "New and important evidence for the defence, somewhat corroborative of Dr. Handy's story in locating a strange man at the Bordens an hour before the tragedy, has been found. It is eminently reliable." What it is no one at police headquarters seems to know.

Facts that Need Explaining.

How does the case now stand? The prosecution has settled the primary facts about the murders. The position of the bodies, the shocking nature of the wounds, the absence from the house of all its inmates except Lizzie Borden and Bridget Sullivan. These things are admitted. It has further shown by medical testimony—and this is important—that Mrs. Borden came to her death fully an hour and a half or two hours before her husband. It has shown that at the moment of the attack on Mrs. Borden Lizzie Borden was on the same floor, if not in the next room; that an ax stained with what looked like blood, and bearing evidences of recent scraping and washing, was found in the cellar; that certain articles of Lizzie Borden's attire were found to be slightly spotted with blood, or what looked like blood.

All this of course is not enough to condemn her. They have now to establish that the stains on the ax and clothing were blood, and then to connect the blood with the bodies of the murdered couple. This is what Prof. Wood is expected to do when he takes the stand to-morrow. Public expectation, baffled of the promised sensation in the testimony of Bridget Sullivan, looks to him to furnish the conclusive evidence in the case which is still lacking. He has also had the stomachs for analysis, and possibly he may say something which will hook together the mysterious sickness of the family and Lizzie's attempt to buy poison.

If Lizzie Borden is innocent some fiend must have stolen into the house, killed Mrs. Borden, concealed himself for an hour and a half, murdered Mr Borden and escaped so silently and secretly that nobody saw or heard him. If Lizzie Borden is guilty she must have killed her step-mother, hidden the evidence of the crime, laughed when the servant let her father in and a few minutes afterwards have sunk the same hatchet into his head.

Either conclusion is something at which credulity revolts. Yet neither is so very much stranger than the conduct of this extraordinary woman since her arrest or the other features of the story that have made it something beyond the wildest calculations of fiction.

THE CHOLERA.

English Authorities Accused of Belittling the Situation.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—It is a significant fact that the two deaths from cholera which have occurred at Glasgow as well as the three deaths at Gravesend all took place in the ranks of bodies of emigrants who were on their way to the United States.

While steerage passengers on board ships on which actual outbreaks of cholera have taken place have been detained by the English authorities, many shiploads coming from infected parts, including Hamburg, have been allowed to proceed to their ultimate destination, which in nearly every case means the United States.

That the English medical authorities are making a grave error in belittling the danger of cholera infection by communication is the opinion held by several army surgeons who were interviewed to day, and whose vast experiences in India render them peculiarly able to speak on the subject of cholera with authority.

"The appearance of the disease at Hamburg," said one of these, "means a positive danger, not only to England, but to the United States, whither at this season of the year continental emigrants are swarming.

"Supervision or any modified form of quarantine is a worse than useless precaution to take in these cases, as it lulls to a fancied security and leaves the danger as imminent as ever.

"Nothing short of an absolute prohibition of immigration to England and the United States will serve to save these countries from running a tremendous risk."

Already the indirect outcome of the cholera scare is seen in France. London is full of American travelers who have cut short their continental journeys, in many cases at a day's notice, and who have arrived here in order to take passage home.

Unfortunately the principal Atlantic liners are always on their return trip crowded at this season of the year, and they find it impossible to make room for would-be voyagers.

In consequence scores are obliged to wait over here until room can be found for them, while others are taking passage by less popular lines, or even traveling second class on fast steamers in order to reach home at all hazards.

A Suspicious Case in London.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The first suspicious case of cholera in London developed Monday: The detention of a couple of Russian Jews, who arrived from Hamburg on Saturday at the hospital, suffering with symptoms of Asiatic cholera.

Extensive measures have been taken by the East End hospitals to meet any demand in the event of an extensive outbreak. The strictest rules have been formulated to keep both the patients and the attendants isolated.

The sanitary authorities have in no wise relaxed their vigilance. Every day the lodging houses are subjected to a rigid inspection.

Considerable uneasiness is felt here because of the knowledge that cholera has certainly obtained a footing in London, and in one of the worst places in which it could appear. Notwithstanding the quarantine that has been established people from Hamburg are allowed to land and the result of this is shown by the fact that two new cases of cholera have occurred in the City-road, London. The victims arrived yesterday on the steamship Peregrine from Hamburg. They showed no symptoms of the disease and were permitted to land. They proceeded to their homes, and to day the disease appeared. The district is filled with small houses and is densely populated.

Hamburgers Treated Like Lepers.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Berlin correspondent of The News says: The export case of Asiatic cholera in this city did not create a panic. The Sanitary Committee has decided to stop the gratuitous distribution of disinfectants in order to prevent their waste, and to avoid an unwarranted feeling of safety. At the same time the largest powers of inspection will begin, and ample provisions for doctors and nurses will be made in event of a contingency. Prof. Koch has issued a warning against over-much watering of the streets, the humidity, he claims, favoring the spread of bacilli and the rapid consumption of water preventing effective filtration of the waterworks.

The most conflicting reports as to the extent of the epidemic in Hamburg have been published. Hamburgers are treated like lepers elsewhere in Germany. Hotel doors are shut in their faces, and it is impossible for them to obtain lodging. Many have been known to alight from railroad trains a few stations before reaching Berlin and to come into the city by local trains to avoid inspection. The authorities are endeavoring to stop this practice, but find it difficult to do so. Suspected cases of cholera are reported at Halle and Leipzic, but the presence of the disease in these places has not been officially confirmed.

Sanitary Cordon in France.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The Minister of the Interior will to-day sign an order embodying advice from the Board of Health for the establishment of a sanitary cordon along the eastern frontier from Dunkirk to Delle and for the maintenance of cholera sanitary stations in all the ports of France.

A stevedore working at Havre yesterday died suddenly after drinking a glass of water, presumably from cholera. The British and American officials at Havre do not regard the situation as alarming. As a matter of precaution the American consul appointed a commission of physicians to inspect all out-going Atlantic steamers. The Minister of the Interior has ordered every possible facility to be extended to the foreign consuls in the matter of the abode and extent of the disease and its progress. The weather appears to have no effect on the epidemic. Sunday the weather at Havre was cold and windy; yesterday both the cases of cholera and the deaths were more numerous than ever.

Ten New Cases in Antwerp.

ANTWERP, Aug. 31.—Ten persons suffering from cholera were admitted to the hospital yesterday. One of the patients subsequently died.

One Death in Brussels.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 31.—One death from a doubtful case of Asiatic cholera occurred here yesterday.

Twenty Deaths a Day.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Times' St Petersburg correspondent says the average daily cholera record is 100 new cases and 20 deaths. It is the greatest mistake to say the epidemic is a mild one. The best authorities affirm the contrary. In some cases the victims succumb in two or three hours. The correspondent of The News at Odessa says the cholera mortality begins to show marked fluctuations, contrasting with the previous increase.

A Newspaper Seized.

VIENNA, Aug. 31.—The police yesterday seized The Fagebhatt of the city for announcing that a train crowded to its utmost limits with fugitives from Hamburg had passed the Bodenback station and entered Austria without having to undergo a medical inspection or fumigation.

Three Distinct Cases in Berlin.

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—It is officially announced that cholera is prevalent in 166 places in Schleswig and in three places in the district of Luenoberg. At Leipsic one case of the disease has occurred and one case is reported in Neustadt, Mecklenburg. The patients at Leipsic and Neustadt both came from Hamburg. The National Zeitung states that there are three distinct cases of Asiatic cholera at the Moabit Hospital in Berlin. Two of the patients, it says, came from Hamburg, while the third is a Berlin wharf laborer. During the past 24 hours 17 new suspects have been taken to the hospital.

Three children who were traveling as passengers, and the conductor of a sleeping car attached to a Hamburg train, were seized with cholera during their journey to-day and were removed to a hospital at Ludwigslust, a town of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. The conductor's wife had died from the disease on Sunday.

A traveler from Hamburg was stricken with Asiatic cholera at Darmstadt yesterday and the authorities at once ordered that the train be covered with placards containing special sanitary regulations.

The congress of master builders which has been in session at Kiel was dissolved by the police yesterday as a precaution against the possible spread of cholera.

The price of disinfectants, especially of carbolic acid, has risen 100 per cent., thus placing the purchase of disinfecting articles beyond the reach of the poor. The newspapers advocate the gratuitous distribution of disinfectants.

Deaths at Altona.

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—There is a slight abatement in the severity of the cholera at Altona. From Sunday to midnight Monday the record there shows 20 new cases and eight deaths. At Wandsbeck for the same period the record shows 17 new cases and nine deaths.

On the Canadian Frontier.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 31.—Surgeon-General Wyman has appointed Dr. Mulhern a special inspector at Detroit to assist the local authorities in examining immigrants and baggage from Canada. The collector of customs at Ogdensburg, N.Y., has been requested to appoint assistant inspectors if necessary. The immigration stations on the north include Rouse's Point, Cape Vincent, Clayton, Morristown, Ogdensburg, Waddington, Fort Covington, Morris Junction, Buffalo, Charlotte and Niagara Falls. At many of these points medical inspection will be stationed to assist the regular immigrant inspector.

Four Cases at Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 3.—Four Russian emigrants who were to sail from this port yesterday for America were stricken with cholera. They were at once removed to an hospital.

A Case at The Hague.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 31.—It has transpired that the man who was attacked with cholera here last night is a Jew who came from Vilna, traveling by way of Hamburg.

The municipal authorities have voted the sum of 36,000 florins, which will be expended in protective measures.

Strict Inspection at New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The steamship Yucatan from Vera Cruz and Havana, which arrived yesterday, was permitted to leave quarantine this afternoon and come to her dock, a rigid inspection showing that there was no sickness aboard her.

Afflicted Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Aug. 31.—The official returns of the Imperial Board of Health of Berlin, which give yesterday's total number of new cases of cholera and deaths from the disease in this city as 447 and 173 respectively, differ from the returns of the health office here, as the former returns include the new cases and deaths which occurred in the suburbs, where the epidemic is as severe as in the city itself. Many cases of the disease were reported yesterday in Barmbeck, a village three miles northeast of Hamburg. The place contains a number of distilleries, an asylum for the insane, a hospital for the poor, a workhouse and other institutions.

BUFFALONIANS CRY MURDER.

They Demand Punishment of the Shooter of Broderick.

BUFFALO, Aug. 31.—One thousand people last night attended a mass meeting called to petition the District Attorney and coroner to prosecute the Twenty-second Regiment militiaman who shot Michael Broderick Thursday night. The wigwam rang with angry speeches.

Among the orators were: City Auditor Ansel M. J. Smith, Dr. Crowe, who first gained prominence as an agitator against the plans to do away with the railway crossing at grade; T. Griffin, a hatter, and Lawyer Hynes, who acted as counsel for the strikers.

The speakers demanded that the soldier who fired the fatal shot be brought to justice. It was declared as the sense of the meeting that the coroner and district-attorney leave nothing undone to learn the name of the soldier and punish him.

It was announced that Coroner Ransom would begin his inquest to-morrow morning, that he had testimony enough to show that the shooting was a deliberate murder, and that the dead boy was not over a dozen feet away from his pursuer when the shots which killed him were fired. Everybody in the neighborhood where the shooting occurred has been subpœnaed.

Hatred of the Pinkertons.

HOMESTEAD, Aug. 31.—All the members of the Advisory Committee stand ready to give their evidence on the charge of conspiracy preferred by Secretary Lovejoy of the Carnegie Steel Co., but if arrests are made by Pinkertons trouble will certainly ensue. The people of Homestead are convinced that in the last week or two a number of the detectives have been sworn in by Sheriff McCleary as deputies.

Dead at 89.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Jacob Fox, a wealthy and prominent resident of Little Falls died yesterday, aged 89 years. He was a nephew of Capt. George L. Eaker of New York, who killed Philip, son of Alexander Hamilton, in a duel on the Jersey shore on nearly the same spot where, three years later, his father fell before Aaron Burr.

TRIAL OF LIZZIE BORDEN

THE ANALYST GIVES HIS EVIDENCE IN THE CASE.

He Examined the Stomachs of the Murdered Persons and Found No Trace of Poison—He Also Examined the Ax But Could Find No Blood Stains on It.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 31.—The court came in at 10.30 precisely, and the first witness called was Prof. Edward S. Wood, the man for whom everybody has been looking for days. He said he had received a package containing two stomachs on Aug. 5, and two jars containing milk used on Aug. 4 and 5. All were properly labeled. The stomachs were labeled "Mr." and "Mrs. Borden." The stomachs appeared to be perfectly natural. Mrs. Borden's stomach contained about 11 ounces of solid food. The food was partly digested and showed wheat, starch and meat. The contents were chiefly meat, and there were vegetable pulp cells, which might be bread or apples. The digestion seemed to be advanced about two and a half hours. The stomach was tested for prussic acid, but without any results. The stomach of Mr. Borden contained only six ounces, chiefly water. In Mr. Borden's stomach there was only a small portion of starch. The digestion in his case, the contents being nearly all water, was much further advanced than in the case of Mrs. Borden. There were a few shreads of vegetable tissue in his stomach which might have been apple.

Q. "Could they have been pears?"—A. "Yes."

Witness had not yet analyzed the milk and could not report on that.

On Aug. 10 witness received from Dr. Dolan a hatchet, two axes, a blue dress skirt, dress waist, white starched skirt, lounge cover and three small envelopes in which were hair taken from Mr. and Mrs. Borden, and hair taken from the hatchet. On Aug. 16 he received a pair of black stockings. The hatchet contained a number of suspicious-looking spots, but careful examination showed no traces of blood. Every spot which looked like blood was examined, but no traces of blood were seen.

SHOT DOWN IN HIS YARD.

A Prominent Politician of Fresno, Cal., Assassinated.

FRESNO, Cal., Aug. 31.—L. C. McWharter, a prominent lawyer and politician, was killed early yesterday morning by parties unknown.

He heard a noise about the house and told his wife he would go out into the yard to ascertain the cause. He armed himself with a revolver and left the house by the front door, going to the back yard on a side path. About 50 feet from the rear of the house he must have seen men, as an exchange of shots took place, and McWharter fell in the path with a bullet in his heart.

Examination of the premises and McWharter's revolver shows that six shots were fired, three by each side. It is supposed that there were two trespassers, because two clubs were found on the ground besides a revolver and masks of red flannel.

Many believe that burglars did the deed, but the majority are of the opinion that the tragedy is the culmination of the political turmoil in this county.

McWharter came to California about eight years ago from Tennessee. He was Deputy Commissioner from Tennessee for the New Orleans Fair, and was a popular Nashville lawyer. In Fresno he divided his time between law and journalism. His editorials against corrupt politicians in Fresno were very bitter, and two years ago he exposed delinquencies of several county officers, but the grand jury refused to indict. McWharter then organized the Cleveland men in the county and beat the Hill forces in the last Democratic State Convention held in Fresno.

To Superior Court Judge Harris, who spoke disparagingly of him, McWharter recently sent a letter characterizing him as a coward and offering the satisfaction of a gentleman, but Harris failed to accept the challenge.

About three months ago McWharter had his life insured for about $50,000, and he said frequently that he believed his political enemies would not hesitate to have him put out of the way. He went armed, but said he did not expect to be attacked openly.

JOHN L. IN NEW YORK.

He Will Go Thence to the New Orleans Training Ground.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—In a quiet part of Brooklyn there is a sporting house kept by Philip Casey, who has trained John L. Sullivan for his battle with Corbett. An airy, bright sleeping room at the head of the stairs is the one assigned to Sullivan during his wait for the start to New Orleans.

Early yesterday morning Casey and Sullivan tramped several miles around the racquet court in the rear of Casey's house. Then Sullivan was showered with cold water, rubbed down, dressed and breakfasted. His food until his fight will be of chops, steaks, chicken and fish.

About 11 o'clock Sullivan and Casey drove to the Star Theatre, in Brooklyn, where Sullivan was left to rehearse his new play, "Captain Harcourt, or the Man from Boston." Two hours he trod the boards and then was driven back to Casey's. An hour after dinner he took further exercise in the racquet court. To see the champion hopping up and down while a rope was swished under his feet was a curious spectacle. Philip Casey this morning talked with an Associated Press reporter about Sullivan's weight. "We don't care to have people think Sullivan is any lighter than he is," said Casey: "I have said his weight is 204, and if anybody thinks he is heavier or that he is too fat to fight, why there's a good deal of money waiting for any man who will come up and lick our man, thin or fat. That is all I have to say of his weight."

Police as Sanitary Officers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Board of Health, continuing its efforts to prevent the cholera from entering the city, has decided to retain the services of the summer corps of physicians during September. All police captains have been ordered to have the men at their command act each as a sanitary officer, and look well to the duties of his post. The board has issued a circular descriptive of the precautionary measures in detail. People are cautioned against the eating of uncooked articles of any kind and are urged to regard cleanliness above all else.

Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST, 31, 1892.

A GOVERNMENT organ says that "an increase of 16 per cent. in wages all round is one of the features of the census which the Grit papers are too busy to notice. Perhaps the "Grit" papers do not feel themselves to be sufficiently expert in gastronomics to criticise census cookery.

THE Empire is bound to be an optimist in the interest of booming the N. P. It berates the Woodstock Sentinel-Review as flying in the face of Providence and belittling the beneficent boon of "protection" when it mentions the statement that the crops in Oxford county were injured by the rain. The Empire remarks that "the inconsistency of this kind of grumbling is painful," and adds that at the time of the rain the crops in Ontario were all housed. What the Empire doesn't know about farming would go far towards making matter for an encyclopædia of agricultural ignorance. During the recent rain there were thousands of acres of oats yet unhoused. In fact, we know of one crop of 50 acres that was destroyed by the rain. The Tory organ evidently thinks that the Dominion Government is responsible for the weather by the anxiety it shows to minimise the effects of the rain. But the real dread is that the truth should be told in anything that will discount the absurd claims of the beneficence of the "N.P."

Churches in the United States.

During the past forty years the churches in the United States have grown in numbers at a much greater rate than the population. In 1850 there were 38,183 churches or buildings devoted to purposes of worship. In 1890 there were 142,256. The gain in forty years was 104 073, or 272 per cent. In the same period the population of the United States increased from 23 191,876 to 62,622,250. This shows a gain of 39 430,374 or 170 per cent. In the face of these facts the disturbances and civil wars that broke out periodically in the United States are all the more difficult to understand.

The U S. Presidential Campaign.

The Presidential campaign in the United States, which some people may think has been going on all the time, was only really started on Saturday. Gen. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee for the Vice-Presidency, began the strife by a speech in Bloomington, Illinois. The Republicans will strain every nerve to carry New York, as they believe that the winning of that state ensures a continuance of Republican rule at the White House. There will in consequence be rousing meetings held at all centres of population in that state.

It is a Very Sad Thing

To see young and beautiful people die when they might just well live and enjoy health and strength. Many who suffer with coughs, colds and lung troubles, leading to consumption, imagine there is no hope for them, when in reality there is every hope if Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is taken regularly. Spread the news everywhere that this great emulsion will make flesh and blood, cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and lung troubles tending to consumption. Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Toronto's Health.

The moral altitude of Toronto doesn't save it from reaping the benefit of sanitary sins:—Notwithstanding the assurances that the health of the city is in a satisfactory condition, there were thirty-five cases of infectious diseases last week. Toronto being a large city must expect the Mail says, to get the lion's share of the bad as well as the good things good going, but it is clear the Health department is not making the headway it should against diphtheria and typhoid fever. The city of Quebec has got rid of diphtheria. Why cannot we?

TWO PRETTY WINDOWS.

The expense of putting in a bay window is considerable after a house is once built. Here is a suggestion for obtaining more light and air beside beauty for a room if one can't afford to have a bay window put in. The double window is copied exactly from one of a big stone studio buildings on the grounds of an artist's country home (Fig. 1)

FIG. 1.

The little windows above open out horizontally, the lower ones swing outward like the old fashioned lattices. A broad window seat holds whatever one may wish to put there, and the couch below is raised at the center into a sort of table for books, etc. A thin scarf curtain draped lengthwise over the top of the window relieves the squareness.

If one can't have even the double window to change a room, perhaps it will be possible to lower the old window so that its broad sill be about a foot from the floor. (Figure 2.) Curtain the window with a thin veil of Florida moss, over which hangs a scant deep frill of silk which will harmonize with it. Several pots with plants, one an ivy which is trained about the window, are set on brackets. The broad sill, with its cushions, will make a comfortable seat. Tiny window baskets may be made by hanging egg-shells in little bags of knitted silk to the sash. The seeds of very fine vines or anything small enough, as hemp seed, will grow in the earth with which the shells are filled.

The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is not accidental but is the result of careful study and experiment by educated pharmacists.

Best Cure For

All disorders of the Throat and Lungs is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has no equal as a cough-cure.

Bronchitis

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P.M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. Belleville 'Prentice Boys' Excursion.

The 'Prentice Boys of Belleville excursion to Peterborough and Chemong Park to-day was not largely patronized, only about a hundred availing themselves of the trip. The party arrived by a special train of six coaches at the G.T.R. station this morning at 10:40 o'clock. Half of the pioniocrs got off at Peterborough where they all remained during the day, while the rest went on to Chemong Park. Among those who stayed in Peterborough were Mr. John Row, Mr. S. A. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. VanBlaricom, Miss Stella VanBlaricom and others. The cause of such a meagre attendance was the number of attractions at home, [the great baseball match between Cobourg and Kingston and the fall horse races occurring at Belleville to-day.

A Fine Show it is.

LITTLE TRIXIE.—Last night a fair sized audience greeted May Smith Robbins and her company, at the Opera House, when the musical comedy, "Little Trixie," was presented. Miss Robbins as Trixie was remarkably clever, and specialty of the old Irish woman received several encores. Harry Winchell as Socrates Winterpippin, was very funny, and his "Game of Baseball" made a decided hit. All the specialties were encored, Mr. Ellis, the musician, rendered catchy solos on the piano between acts. The piece on the whole seemed to please the audience. They return to Port Hope next Tuesday. A large house should certainly greet this admirable company. If the citizens of Port Hope miss seeing Trixie next Tuesday night they will miss a great treat. At the Opera House to-morrow evening. Tickets on sale at Greatrex's drug store, plan now open.

Back From the Lakes Again.

Day by day as the first of September approaches, parties who have been enjoying the breezes of our back lakes are returning to town. Yesterday George street presented a rather lively and business like appearance. Mr. J. J. Sheehy informs us that the invitation which he issued through the columns of this paper to the public found a ready response. The ladies are already commencing to admire what is nice and new for fall wearing apparel. Mr. Sheehy, as usual is bound to be in the front rank of merchants who are catering for fall trade. He has already placed on his counters over 100 different patterns of dresses of the celebrated Stanley cloths and in this immense variety no two patterns are alike. Black Chene cloth and Irish Wool Poplins are also among the leading fabrics for fall wear. At Sheehy's a woman can get a nice dress of woolen material in any of ten different shades, with "linings, buttons and all" for the small sum of $2 50 His advertisement in another column is worth reading.

"Clear Havana Cigars."

Admission, including refreshments, 20 cents. The Fourth Line Brass Band will be in attendance and a good programme of music, etc., is being arranged. All are invited. Refreshments served at seven o'clock.

A Musical Outing.

The Hastings Star says:—The band had an outing a few days ago, in the shape of a berry party termed the North River Expedition. They serenaded Norwood, Havelock, Rush Point, Con's Mills and several other points en route In the evening an open air concert was given in camp, on the rocky hills of Methuen. They astonished the natives, who turned out en masse, men, women and children. Notwithstanding the unfavourable weather the expedition was a success. The boys went out for a good time and they had it.

The License Committee Meet.

The License Committee held a meeting last night and transacted some important business. They decided to make the following recommendations to the council at its next meeting: To remove the carters' stand from its present site on the corner of Hunter and George streets to the stand allowed them by the old council on the corner of Water and Hunter streets. They also decided to license the peddling of milk in town and to charge each vendor $2 license fee per year. Teamsters as well as carters are to be licensed and pay $5 per year license fee. The committee also agreed to impose a license upon all the tobacconists, and charge them $3 a year for the privilege of selling their goods.

The schools are now in full running order. There is a great rush of pupils, as the Peterborough Bookstore knows. Its shops have been thronged with eager purchasers of school books and school supplies. The Peterborough Bookstore does the school book business of the town, simply because it has the largest and most complete stock of School Books and School Supplies in the town or district, and at the lowest prices, and possesses the best facilities for supplying the wants of the public. Remember these facts when you require School Books or School Requisites, and come direct to the Peterborough Bookstore.

J. R. STRATTON.

Baseball Bats.

Belleville defeated Newburgh at baseball by a score of 27 to 1.

The Belleville baseball club arrived in town this morning on the Prentice Boys excursion and registered at the Grand Central Hotel. They are a strong aggregation and go under the name of the "Maple Leaf's." They placed the following nine in the field in the the struggle with Peterborough:—Geo. Bradford, p; J. Gibson, c; Geo. Gibson, 2b; Ed. Gibson, lf; J. Downs, 1b; C. Thompson, 3b; F. Le Palm, cf; D. Crobright, ss; B. Howe, rf; R. E. Colling, manager.

Great interest is being taken in the grand baseball match at Belleville to day between the Cobourgs and Princess street nine of Kingston, and it will undoubtedly be the game of the season. The Cobourg club will run an excursion on the Grand Trunk, a 75 cent rate having been obtained, and all of Cobourg will be there, while hundreds of Kingstonians will come up with their favourites on the Hero's cheap excursion. It will be a great game and there will be a great crowd present.

The Lindsay Band Excursion.

The new steamer "Columbian" ran an excursion from Lindsay to Chemong Park yesterday. It was the annual outing of the Citizen's Band, Lindsay, and was attended by a crowd of 300 people. When the steamer reached thedraw bridge at Chemong she was unable to proceed through it and reach the park owing to the narrowness of the opening. Most of the excursionists disembarked at this point and about half of them succeeded in wending their way to the Park, which is about a mile distant. Mr. Alex. Elliott, proprietor of Chemong Park, stated to an EXAMINER reporter to-day that he intended to enter suit against the county to recover damages for losses sustained in the excursion not being able to reach the Park and also on the ground that the draw bridge is an obstruction to navigation. Mr. Elliott stated the same fate befell the steamer "Crandella," of Lindsay last year, with an excursion. When she reached the bridge she could not proceed any further, her beam being several feet wider than the draw opening.

Military Matters.

Lieut. Kirkpatrick and Lieut. Walkem, 14th P.W.O. Rifles, Kingston, have been awarded second-class certificates at the Royal school of infantry, Toronto.

The guard of honour from the 57th Battalion to receive the Lieutenant-Governor at his forthcoming visit to Peterborough, were unable to drill at the drill shed last evening owing to the gas not being in working order. Two rows of gas jets are being put in the building at present and the gas was turned off last night owing to the alterations.

The work of paving the drill shed with cedar blocks will be completed in four or five days. A fine job has been made of the work.

The guard of honor will drill on Thursday night. A large attendance of the men is requested by Capt. E. F. Mason.

Capt. E. F. Mason, "A" Company, will leave on Monday next to pursue a two months course in the Royal School of Infantry, Toronto. Capt. Mason will try the examination for first-class "A" certificate. This is the highest mark of efficiency that it is possible for a captain of infantry to obtain.

Peterborough's Rate of Taxation.

The Chatham Planet says: "Peterborough's rate of taxation has been fixed at sixteen mills. Sixteen mills being good enough for a live and progressive town like Peterborough, twenty mills is too high for a live and progressive town like Chatham, the two places being about equal in population. The low rate is a great advertisement for Peterborough; the higher rate is a correspondingly bad one for Chatham."

The Myers Cave Syndicate.

A prominent citizen who is identified with the Myers Cave syndicate stated to an EXAMINER reporter to-day that steps would soon be taken to develop this wonderful and hidden mine. A son of Sir Chas. Lawson, a prominent member of the late Premier Disraeli's cabinet and who is a celebrated mineralogist says that there is a mine of untold wealth lurking there. Mr. Lawson is not a man who speaks unadvisedly when he declares that the syndicate are not wise if they do not begin operations at once.

County Police Court.

County Police Magistrate Edmison adjudicated in the case of Annie Kelly vs. Thomas Castle, both of Ashburnham, yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff charged the defendant with throwing a stone at her door between 8 and 9 o'clock on Sunday night. Mrs. Kelly swore as to the identity of Castle, but defendant proved an alibi, showing that he was not near the house on Sunday evening at that time. The magistrate ruled that it was a case of mistaken identity on the part of the plaintiff and dismissed the information with costs on the complainant. Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q. C., appeared for the defence.

County Police Magistrate Edmison delivered judgment to-day in the case of Wm. Cornell vs. Absalom Brown, which was tried at Havelock some two weeks ago. The plaintiff charged the defendant with keeping a vicious dog which chased his sheep, and wanted an order from the magistrate compelling the owner to destroy the dog. A doubt existed in the mind of the magistrate according to the evidence rendered whether the dog in question was the same one which chased plaintiffs' sheep, and he dismissed the case, each party to pay their own costs.

Mrs. Mary E. THE GRAND UNION CLOTHING HALL

Has been asked a question, why we can sell our Own-Make Clothing for less money than others sell their factory make? The reason is that we have the latest system to work on. First, the factory clothing has to go through a number of money makers, while the Grand Union Clothing Hall can avoid all this. The second, why our clothing fits better than the factory make; because we do our own cutting for the benefit of the public and to increase our good name.

We beg to notify those who did not come to town and who did not know about our great bargains that were given on the opening day, (Saturday, August) 27th) that we will continue the same bargains until Saturday, Sept. 3rd, in order to give everyone a chance to get the same bargains in our Own-Make Clothing.

Don't forget we will always keep in stock a fine selection of Tweeds and Worsteds which we will make to order in the latest styles.

Railway Matters.

Evidences of Mr. C. J. Pusey's Tireless Activity.

The Brockville Times has the following:—In the Montreal Star of Saturday there appears the following despatch from Peterborough: "Work is being rapidly pushed on the extension of the Irondale & Bancroft Railway to connect with the Brockville & Westport Railway, for which a subsidy was voted at the last session of the Legislature. This summer eight miles of grading have been completed, ready for the rails as soon as they arrive from the Old Country. Mr. C J. Pusey, the promoter of the scheme, is pushing the work rapidly, and it is expected that ten miles of track will be laid by snow fall. The completion of this extension will give the district it serves access to Ottawa, and, by the way of Brockville, easy access to the American market and will promote the development of the large timber and mineral resources of this section." Mr. Pusey referred to above was in last week and left on Saturday evening. Overtures have been made between the B. & W and Irondale & Bancroft companies, but so far there is nothing of a definite character. Mr. Pusey is said to have lots of capital at his back and has both the ability and energy necessary to push through in satisfactory manner anything he undertakes The connection with Mr. Pusey's road would make a direct line of connection between here and the district around Peterborough and Lindsay. Irondale is in the township of Snowdon, County of Haliburton, and has already a line in operation connecting with the G. T. R. not far from Lindsay (the Victoria branch of the Midland).

A Suggestion.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—Would it not be a capital idea for one of our musical instructors to have a thousand of our school children drilled for the reception of the Lieutenant-Governor at the Peterborough Central Exhibition? An amphitheatre erected on the ground and filled with musical children would prove a great attraction to the Exhibition and be a good drawing card.

The local officers of Court Lakefield on Monday handed Mrs. Wm. Cox a cheque for $1000 due by the High Court on the death of her son, and at the same time presented a letter of condolence and $20 funeral benefit from Court Lakefield, of which he had been an esteemed member.

As will be noticed by the council reports, the taxes for the current year have been fixed at 14 mills—one mill less than last year. Mr. Hall's report shows the village to be out of debt, and that we will after providing for everything, have a balance on hand at the end of the year. Such management speaks well for the council, and in contrast with some of our neighbouring villages with a rate of 18, 20, and even 23 mills to be met by the ratepayers.

The regular meeting of the village council was held in the town hall on Monday evening, 29th inst. W. H. Casemeat, Reeve, in the chair, all members of the council present. Minutes of last and special meeting read and adopted.

Moved by Mr. Hall, seconded by Mr. Moore, that the clerk see Mr. Sherin, and if he can ascertain where Mr. Jos. Hamilton be instructed to sue him for amount of his bill and interest.—Carried.

The Finance Committee presented a report as follows:

To the Reeve and Council of the Village of Lakefield:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Finance Committee beg to present a report of the amount required to meet the current expenditure and debenture rate of the village for the current year:—

Borrowed money	$1353 50
School balance due	1093 50
Debenture rate	802 50
County rate	502 10
Electric light	137 00
Street watering	50 00
Balance due on salaries	232 50

14 mills on assessment of $296 450 gives $4150 30 with a balance of $747 00 in the treasurer's hands. $4397 30 being $76.20 balance over estimate.

The Crops of the District.

Peterborough, Victoria and Durham.

Mr. W. H. Wrighton has just completed a tour as cheese inspector of the counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and, as might be well known, noted particularly the condition of the crops in both counties. In this county all the crops are fairly good, better than the neighbouring county to the west. The only exception is spring wheat which will do well if it yields on an average ten bushels to the acre. The fall wheat crop was fairly good and oats and peas make a good shewing. In Victoria the spring crops, with the exception of oats, are very much below the standard. The oat crop is the only one that can be spoken of favourably. Considerable two rowed barley was sown, but the crop is a poor one, the grain being light in weight and off colour. In Durham county reliable advices state that all kinds of grain are turning out disappointingly. Spring wheat yields as low as 6 bushels per acre, and fall wheat is yielding about 18 bushels per acre, and peas as low as 12 The barley crop, particularly the two-rowed, is poor, the average yield being about 15 bushels to the acre.

THE SULTAN'S TROOPS DEFEAT THE REBELS.

And Many Heads Are Brought into Tangier for the Sultanship - The Marquis De Mores on Trial for Manslaughter - Killed by Her Performing Bears.

TANGIER, Aug. 30.—The Sultan's cavalry and infantry met the main body of insurgent Angheras yesterday. A brisk exchange of musketry shots followed and in a short time a majority of the rebels fled. Many of the fugitives made their way to the shore, whence they escaped in fishing boats.

A few of the insurgents fought desperately until Haman, their leader, seeing that the battle was lost, mounted his horse and fled.

The troops then returned to Tangiers with the heads of the rebels they had killed, for which they will receive $8 per head from the Sultan's treasury.

In the encounter 80 of the Sultan's troops and several officers were killed or wounded.

THE MARQUIS' TRIAL.

He Harangues the Court with a Story of His Speculations.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—At the trial of the Marquis De Mores for manslaughter in killing in a duel on June 23 Capt. Mayers of the Engineer Corps the Marquis De Mores arose in the dock, and standing with folded arms harangued the court for half an hour on his meat speculations in the United States and his colonizing enterprises in Tonquin.

The four seconds in the duel were arraigned with De Mores.

KILLED BY BEARS.

Mme. Mars Torn to Pieces and Her Husband Badly Hurt.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Mme. Mars, a bear tamer, while performing at a show in this city yesterday slipped and fell upon the floor of a cage. The bears, which she had been holding in check, at once sprang upon the prostrate woman and tore her to pieces.

Her husband, who was near by, made a desperate effort to save her life, but in vain. He killed one of the bears, but before the others could be subdued his wife was dead. The husband was severely wounded in the struggle with the beasts.

Dashed to Death on the Rocks.

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—News was received here to-day that a banker of this city named Broks, and two guides who were accompanying him, fell over a precipice while ascending Mont Grivola, in the Aosta Valley, Italy, and that all three were dashed to death on the rocks below.

The Queen Off For Balmoral.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Queen started from Osborne House, Isle of Wight, for Balmoral this evening, crossing to Portsmouth. The old custom of saluting, which had been dispensed with since the death of Prince Consort, was revived on this occasion. All the warships at Portsmouth and the guardship stationed at Cannes saluted Her Majesty by firing 21 guns each. The yards of the different men-of-war were manned, the vessels were covered with flags and streamers from stem to stern and their bands played the National Anthem.

Relief for the Distressed.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Parkalip Mining Company has given £500; Colonel North, the chairman of the board of directors of the company, £250 and three of the directors £100 each, to form the nucleus of a fund to be started under the auspices of the Lord Mayor of London for the purpose of relieving the distress caused by the disaster. The death roll now numbers 110.

Major Weston Shot.

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—At the revolver ranges of the Rifle Association yesterday, Captain Stevens of the 66th Halifax had a self-cocking 38-calibre revolver which, while he was waiting his turn to fire, went off and struck Major Weston, also of the 66th, on the fleshy part of the left calf. The bullet traveled down the leg and finally lodged in the ankle.

Sweeter than Honey in the Honeycomb.

"What in life is half so sweet,
As in the hour when lovers meet."

Nothing is sweeter to the youthful and robust in health, but, alas! too many "Court in poetry, and live in prose" after marriage. This is especially true of the wives whose unhinged relations bring on weaknesses and derangements peculiar to married women, so that their lives become "prosy." To all such Dr. Pearce's Favorite Prescription is a great boon. It cures weak backs, headaches, neuralgia and bearing down pains, displacements and irregularities of the female organs. It is likewise a restorative and invigorating tonic, strengthening the nerves, and imparting new life to the tired and debilitated, bringing back the "roses to the cheek," and the "rainbows to the eyes." Sold by all druggists under guarantee from the makers of satisfaction in every case, or price ($1 00) refunded. b

Gored to Death By a Bull

GOD. BAY, Ont., Aug. 30.—William Bellon of the township of Campbell was leading a bull to water when the animal broke the ring by which he was led and attacked Bellon. The horn of the bull entered his side just below the ribs and with an upward toss laid the side open almost to his arm. He only lived five minutes.

Both Were Carried.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., Aug. 30.—The voting on the bylaw of the Town of Leamington for the purpose of providing the deficiency of $3000 due from the municipality, and the purchase of an electric light plant, took place yesterday with the following result: Majority for electric light 21; majority for indebtedness 33.

Taschereau is Doubtful.

QUEBEC, Aug. 29.—Cardinal Taschereau does not believe the report cabled from Rome to this country to the effect that the Congregation of the Propaganda has requested the French Government to protest to Great Britain against the closing of the Catholic schools in Manitoba is true.

The request is said to have been made on the ground of the right guaranteed to the French Catholics of Canada when that country was annexed by Great Britain. The Roman Catholics of Manitoba are largely of French descent.

"August Flower"

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations with beneficial results, I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDERICK, Saugerties, New York.

Most men who do not own houses would become owners if they could do so at a moderate cost.

It is my business to build houses, the cost of which is within the reach of people in fair circumstances.

DIPLOMATIC TOMMY.

How He Avoided Punishment by Skilful Diversion.

"Tommy," said Mr. Fosdick, severely, "your mamma says you have been naughty, and I must punish you. Come with me."

"What are you going to punish me with, pa?" asked Tommy, as he accompanied his papa to an upper room.

"With this strap," replied Mr. Fosdick, producing a gad which Tommy remembered very distinctly, having seen and felt it on former occasions.

"The strap is made of leather, isn't it, papa?"

"Yes."

"They make leather out of the skins of cows, don't they, papa?"

"Yes, and the process is called tanning, which makes the tanning I am about to give you with this strap particularly appropriate."

"I saw a cow to-day, papa?"

"That's strange," Mr. Fosdick answered sarcastically.

It had its skin on yet, and when it came down the street a woman was afraid and came inside our gate till the cow went by. I don't know what makes women afraid of cows, do you?"

"No."

"You ain't afraid of cows, are you, papa?"

"No."

"You are a brave man and ain't afraid of anything, are you, papa? I told Rats Robinson yesterday you could thrash any man on the street, and Rats said his papa could wallop daylight out of you. He couldn't, could he, papa?"

"Well, I should think not."

"Of course not. That's what I told him."

"It was quite right of you to stand up for your father."

"Oh, I always do. Do you know what Rats Robinson's real name is?"

"No. What is it?"

"It's Nicodemus. I don't think much of a father who would name his boy Nicodemus, do you?"

"No, I don't."

"Where do names come from, papa?"

"Oh, from different places. Some are found in the Bible."

"Thomas is a Bible name, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"Did you hunt it in the Bible to give it to me when I was born?"

"I knew it was there."

"Is it in that big Bible in the parlor?"

"Yes."

"Do you ever read the Bible, papa?"

"Why do you ask me that?"

"Because my Sunday school teacher says that everybody ought to read some in the Bible every day, and——"

"There, that will do. Go and see if your mamma doesn't want you."

And Fosdick hung up the strap and put on his hat and went downtown.—Detroit Free Press.

PREMIER OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

The above is a picture of Sir George Dibbs, Premier of New South Wales, who has just visited Canada. He was disappointed in not seeing Premier Abbott, with whom he was anxious to discuss the part which Canada would be likely to take in the joint laying of a cable across the Pacific Ocean to connect British Columbia with the Australian colonies. He said that New South Wales had voted £2,000 and Queensland £4,000 for the construction of a cable from Queensland to New Caledonia, which might be made to serve as the first link in a chain of cable communication between Australia and Canada. An advantage which there would be in the joint construction of the Pacific cable by Canada and Australia would be that the enterprise would thus be removed from French influence, as it was French capital which made the beginning of constructing the first link. Sir George Dibbs was also anxious to talk over with Sir John Abbott the prospects for joint action, between Canada and Australia, for the establishment of steamship communication between Australia and British Columbia. He was careful to declare that he had no desire to promote any scheme that would be to the disadvantage of the present steamship service from San Francisco, which, he said, was giving every satisfaction. There was ample sufficiency of trade, however, for another line to British Columbia, the establishment of which would, moreover, give a great impetus to commerce across the Pacific Ocean.

Trolleys and Storage Batteries.

In referring to the effort to secure the privilege of adopting the trolley system of the electric propulsion of cars in the streets of New York attention was called to the fact that this system was dangerous to life, and involved an unsightly obstruction of the streets. Attention was called to the further fact that the trolley electric system was only temporary at best, and would surely be superseded after a while by the storage-battery system. Electrical engineers who advocated the adoption of the cheap trolley system have always candidly acknowledged that it would sooner or later have to give place to the storage system, when that had been so perfected as to be as cheap a method of applying motive power as the clumsy trolley. Being aware of the rapid strides that are making in the methods of applying electricity, we had confidence that this storage problem would be so soon solved that even apart from the danger to life and the obstruction to ordinary street traffic, we counselled delay in granting permission to use trolleys in the streets of New York or any other crowded city.

Now, while the trolley concession is still pending before the Board of Aldermen, news comes from Milford, Massachusetts, that electrical engineers who have been experimenting with a storage-battery system for many years have perfected one, and that a line has been in successful operation there since April, 1891. During that time not an accident has happened on the line, nor has there been any breakdown whatever in the service. The cars are a ton lighter in weight than the trolley cars, with the same seating capacity. They run without that whizzing sound that is so disagreeable a feature of the trolleys. They go over eight-per-cent. grades without any appreciable diminution of speed, which is at the rate of ten miles an hour. This rate is quite as fast as would be safe on any city surface road. Further than this, the operators of the Milford road say that this method as now developed furnishes a motive power as cheap as if not actually cheaper than the trolley. If this information is trustworthy, it is unlikely that the company seeking the trolley concession will have any further use for it, for a cheap motive power was the consideration in view. That the trolley system may soon be abolished in favor of this better and safer method of propelling cars in the streets is a matter for general congratulation.—Harper's Weekly.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood diseases.

Diarrhœa and Vomiting.

GENTLEMEN,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhœa and vomiting. The pain was almost unbearable and I thought I could not live till morning, but after I had taken the third dose of Fowler's Wild Strawberry the vomiting ceased, and after the sixth dose the diarrhœa stopped, and I have not had the least symptom of it since.

dw MRS ALICE HOPKINS, Hamilton, Ont.

Ladies appreciate Anti Dandruff from the fact that it not only thoroughly removes Dandruff with three applications, but stops falling of the hair, restores fading hair to its original color, and makes it soft and pliable without leaving any indication of a dressing being used. Clear as Crystal, clean to use, it is a valuable toilet preparation. dw

The Cauldron's Friend.

GENTLEMEN,—Last summer our children were very bad with summer complaint, and the only remedy that did them any good was Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. We used twelve bottles during the warm weather and would not be without it at five times the cost.

THE BLONDE IN TROUSERS

STRANGE ACTIONS OF LIZZIE BENDORF OF NEW YORK.

She Is Found In the Streets Dressed In Man's Garb and Says She Was Looking For Work—There is a Suspicion That She Is Insane and the Doctors Have Her In Hand.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A startling flight of fancy was indulged in by Lizzie Bendorf in the hours verging on Sunday morning last. What she did seems to have constituted prima facie evidence of insanity, for the authorities have given her a place in Bellevue Insanity Pavilion, pending the verdict of specialists as to the exact quality of her wits.

The woman was first brought to the attention of the public by Officer Tinney of the Twenty-second-street squad. While patrolling his beat on First-avenue late Saturday night he was attracted by a curious-looking biped in masculine garb, but decidedly feminine in face and form. It wore baggy seersucker trousers that flapped in the breeze and a jumper of the 'long-shoreman stamp. Outside was a threadbare alpaca coat that threatened to go tobogganing down the delicate sloping shoulders.

On the woman's feet were big cowhide brogans that went flippity flop and awakened noisy reverberations along the deserted pavements. Her hat was a dilapidated species of the derby, and rested unnaturally upon the wearer's shoulders. The attire was striking, but not becoming. The woman herself—what was to be seen of her—appeared to be a good-looking blonde, apparently about 30 years old. She bore evidences of belonging to the hard-working class. Her hands were hard and muscular and her figure spare and short.

When asked to account for herself the woman replied that she "was out looking for work." When taken before Justice Tainter, at the Yorkville Police Court, she said that her husband had come home drunk and abused her. When he went out later she had put on his working clothes and left the house in search of employment.

The fair masquerader was remanded to Supt. Blake of the Society of Charieties and Correction. According to that officer she was a pitiable object. There was a suspicion of the inebriating cup about her voice and manner. She wore her hair "dressed high," according to Supt. Blake, and appeared willing to divulge more to him than she had previously told. She stated that she was a Baltimorean and had lived out as a domestic. She had been out of work for two weeks. A week ago, while walking in Central Park, a man had offered her a home with him until she got another position. She went to live with him, and further than that she would not commit herself.

The woman was detained for examination as to her sanity. At Bellevue Hospital, where she was then taken, she was uncommunicative Apparently she was rational, quiet and well-behaved. It was only to Dr. Stuart Douglas that she would speak of herself at all. When the subject of her conduct Saturday night was broached she suddenly affected a befogged expression and seemed to be all at sea. She did not know where she had lived, nor could she recall the name of the man she lived with. She had forgotten whether or not she kept house for him, and did not know whether he had done the cooking or whether the meals had been brought in from a restaurant. The doctor believed all this was affected.

The woman was examined at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Dr. Allen Fitch and Dr. Matthew D. Field. Their decision has not yet been arrived at owing to their doubt of the woman's veracity and her seemingly sane conduct.

The man involved has not yet put in an appearance in quest of his clothes.

CAST INTO A THRESHER.

A Weird Tale Which Comes From Cayuga County, New York.

SAVANNAH, N.Y., Aug. 31.—Meagre details of a peculiar tragedy in Cayuga County have just been received here.

A boy while cutting bundles for a threshing machine near Cato in that county accidentally cut the feeder's hand, which so infuriated the latter that he caught the lad up and threw him into the rapidly revolving cylinder, where he was ground to death before any one present could raise a hand to rescue him.

The brother of the unfortunate lad immediately felled the murderer with a blow from a pitchfork and then repeatedly plunged the tines of the fork through his body until he was dead.

All the threshing hands stood by and witnessed the terrible affair, apparently paralyzed by horror and unable to interfere.

THE MONTREAL SCANDAL

FATHER GUIPOT'S CRIME CAUSES A SENSATION.

He Was the Spiritual Adviser of Many of the Leading Families—It is Understood That He Has Been Warned and Will Not Return to the City—Letters Incriminating Him.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—The scandal caused by the escapade of Father Guipot, a Sulpician priest of this city, caused a tremendous sensation in French-Canadian society, as the priest was the spiritual adviser of many of the leading families. He is not expected to return to Montreal. It is understood that he was a passenger on board one of the French ships to New York, but he has been warned to keep out of the way. The husband of the woman whom he betrayed has a large number of letters proving his guilt.

RUSSIA IN THE PAMIRS.

The Exploring Party a Force of Conquest and Occupation.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—There seems to be much mystery about British operations in India. The Foreign Office and India Office appear to have entered into a conspiracy of silence and it is impossible to get information from either. It is noticed, however, that the troopships are being furnished up, troops are being concentrated ready for departure at short notice and several line-of-battle ships are keeping within ready distance for orders. The attitude of the Government, so far as can be inferred from these and similar facts, is one of preparation for war. England, it is stated on excellent authority, will sustain the Ameer should Russia continue her aggressive course toward Afghanistan.

The Government is said to be in possession of reliable information that the so-called Russian exploring party in the Pamirs actually amounts to several thousand men, and that it has forcibly occupied territory that is undoubtedly Afghan.

The Mining Disaster.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Thirty-one bodies have been recovered from the Parks Slip pit. Their features were so terribly burned that they were unrecognizable. In every case, however, the fire had not destroyed all their clothing, and they were identified by this and by articles found in their pockets. The other bodies are still in the shaft. In spite of the many obstacles and dangers which confront the searching parties the work of rescue is being steadily kept up, and thus far 85 bodies have been brought to the surface.

SCROFULA 12 YEARS

Always Sore. Burned Like Fire. Ashamed to be Seen. Got Worse Under Four Doctors. Cured by Cuticura.

For about ten or twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula. My head was always sore, my face was dry and scaly, and burned like fire most of the time. My body had big red spots on it, and I did not know what to do. I went to four different doctors and they helped me at first. In the fall I got worse again; then I tried other remedies, but they did me no good. I was ashamed to go into public. I was a sight to look at. Every one would say, "What is the matter, why don't you take something?" Even at my daily labor I had to wear a sort of cap to keep the dirt from getting into the sores. After I would wash, I would be covered with big red pimples all over my neck and face. Some two or three people advised me to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I did try them, and am glad I have done so. Glad to say I am a well man, and in the best of health since. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too highly. I enclose my portrait.

GRAFTON & CO.

Behold, Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before Them!

The most astonishing event in the store of Grafton & Co. is the wonderful low prices they are clearing out the balance of their Summer Clothing at. A few weeks more it will find our store filled with the finest and best assorted stock of Ready-Made Clothing ever displayed in the Town of Peterborough. This Clothing is all hand cut by the best and most stylish cutters that the country can produce, but this is not all; it has the right workmanship on it. Our Clothing is not stuck together to sell—we study our own interests and the interests of the public. We always give customers good goods for little money, and, when we turn the goods out we know that the buyer will come back again.

Now do you want to get a summer suit to wind up the season with and lay it away for another season. It will pay you to buy now. See our special $7.95 Suit. It will wear a lifetime, providing you don't live too long and wear the suit too often. Just think, we are selling Boys' Suits at 99c., $1.30, 1.50 $1.75, $1.95, $2; Youths' Suits at $2.75, $3.25, $3.50, $3.90, $4.25 and up. See them. CHOLERA AT NEW YORK.

AN INFECTED VESSEL COMES INTO PORT.

Twenty-two of Her Passengers Died on the Voyage From Hamburg—The Ship Ordered to the Lower Bay and the Passengers Detained at the Quarantine Station—The Outbreak in Europe.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The steamship Moravia of the Hamburg-American line from Hamburg had 22 deaths during the passage, which the ship's doctors say were from cholerine. Twenty of the victims were children and two adults; 13 were natives of Holland, five of Prussia, one of Austria and three of Hesse. All were buried at sea. The first death took place Aug. 19 and the last Aug. 29.

The Moravia has been ordered down to the lower bay. The steerage passengers were carefully inspected and were found to be in good health, except that three children are ill with measles. There are 358 immigrants on board the Moravia.

The Situation At New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1—The following is a synopsis of the events which transpired at quarantine yesterday: The passengers of the steamer Circassia were transferred to Hoffman Island this morning for observation and also for disinfection of their clothing, and for the purpose of giving each passenger a bath and change of clothing.

The steamer Veendam still remains at anchor. Her steerage passengers will also be removed to Hoffman Island to-morrow forenoon to undergo the same process as the Circassia.

The steamer Teutonic, from Liverpool, arrived this morning with 499 cabin and 996 steerage passengers. All the latter were found thoroughly healthy and no sickness whatever, and recent residents of the British Isles, none being from infected parts. The saloon and cabin passengers, with their baggage, were transferred to the city this afternoon and the ship will probably be allowed to proceed thither to-morrow morning, there being evidently not the slightest danger of infection or contagion to be apprehended from the landing of her passengers.

Health Officer Jenkins, with Deputy E. B. Sanborn and Dr. Lyron, a well-known bacteriologist inspector, appointed to take charge of Swinburne Island, visited all the steamers in the offing this afternoon. They also visited Hoffman and Swinburne Islands and the Hamburg Line steamer Moravia from Hamburg.

The Moravia has over 200 steerage passengers, a full cargo, but no cabin passengers. On being boarded last night by the Associated Press representative her captain and purser reported all well aboard, but when she was boarded this morning by Deputy Health Officers Sanborn and Tallmadge her captain and surgeon reported that 22 of her passengers had died during the voyage from Cholerine. A very close inspection of the 266 steerage passengers was made and all found perfectly healthy. Two women were stricken with the cholera during the passage, but recovered. They were found quite convalescent this morning, but are isolated in the after-steerage at the extreme end of the ship.

Reports From Hamburg.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Standard's Hamburg correspondent telegraph: "Wednesday evening—During the past 24 hours 395 burials have taken place. Most of the cholera victims, it is now claimed, are in quarters near the suburbs. The governor of the Lohmuhlen hospital and two physicians succumbed to-day. Four deaths from Asiatic cholera are repored from Tublic.

The Moravia Will Be Detained.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 1.—The arrival of the steamer Moravia at New York from Hamburg to-day, after having had 22 deaths on board from cholerine, was a fruitful topic of discussion this afternoon among the officials of the Government charged with guarding the nation's health. When shown the despatch Assistant Secretary Spaulding said it showed how necessary and timely were the quarantine precautions taken. He said there was no doubt that the vessel would be held in quarantine until the physicians should be satisfied that all danger shall have been passed.

Koch to Return to Hamburg.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Prof. Koch is to return to Hamburg. He will be accompanied by military and civil surgeons. He intends to further investigate as to the origin of the epidemic.

A petition that the Boerse be closed at 2 p.m. daily has been put in circulation and is being signed.

A choleraic outbreak has occurred in the village of Ruda, near Posen, among a number of Hamburg refugees, and cases of a similar character are reported from Spandau, Benthen, Stuttgarth and other towns, while there are three cholera suspects at Chatlottenburg. The Imperial despatch boat Greif is quarantined at Kiel, having aboard a case of sickness supposed to be cholera.

It Was Asiatic Cholera.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—There is no doubt that the 22 persons who died on the SS. Moravia were victims of the dreaded disease Asiatic cholera. Health Officer Jenkins practically made that admission to-night when he returned to quarantine after having spent the afternoon on board the plague-stricken vessel.

Prepared to Fight Cholera.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—President Wilson of the Health Board remarked that he was not surprised that cholera had arrived, and that the city officials were prepared to fight it.

Death of George W. Curtis.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—George William Curtis died about 2 yesterday morning at his home in Livingston, Staten Island.

Deaths In Germany.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—In Berlin yesterday there were three new cases of cholera and one death; in Magdeburg two new cases and one death and two cases in the Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and the Duchy of Saxe-Altenburg.

One Death at Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 1.—One of the cholera patients here is dead and two others are in a critical condition.

Two Cases at Swansea.

SWANSEA, Sept. 1.—Two seamen belonging to the steamship Harrington were removed to the hospital yesterday suffering from what is supposed to be an attack of cholera.

Steerage Passengers Inspection.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 1.—The Marine Hospital service to day received the following cablegram from the U.S. Consul at Liverpool:

"All steerage passengers sailing to-day were efficiently quarantined before embarking and all clothing and baggage were thoroughly disinfected by the sulphur process. The passengers already embarked were pronounced perfectly safe by the local authorities, who are thoroughly alive to the danger and are taking vigorous measures to prevent any outbreak."

With regard to the statement made by the agents of the International Navigation Co. that U. S. Consul Sherman at Liverpool is cabling to Washington that there is no cholera in Liverpool the Department of State says that no such despatches have been received from the consul.

Spreading In Belgium.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 1.—Nine cases of cholera have been reported in Malines, a city 14 miles from Antwerp.

Malines is the central station for the railways which traverse Belgium in all directions.

Cholera Reaches Morocco.

TANGIER, Sept. 1.—Quarantine has been ordered at all the ports of Morocco of the same character as that which is imposed at Gibraltar and elsewhere in Spain.

A steamer from Hamburg which arrived at this port to-day was found to be infected with the plague. Two persons on board had died from the cholera and several others were suffering from the disease. The vessel was refused a poratique.

Stopped at Grosse Isle.

QUEBEC, Sept. 1.—The S.S. Cremon from Hamburg arrived at Grosse Isle to-pay and was duly quarantined there. The Cremon left Hamburg just a day after the breaking out of cholera at that place. The process of fumigating the Cremon will be a long one, as the blasts ordered are not yet ready to go into service. There is no disease on the vessel whatever.

The passengers will be landed on the island where a bath will be given them, and their effects and luggage will be disinfected.

There are 338 bales of rags from Hamburg on board of the Cremon. These rags will be landed and burned.

A MILE IN 2.05¼.

Nancy Hanks Lowers Her Own Record Two Seconds.

She not only lowered her mark but chopped two whole seconds off, making the mile in 2.05¼. The times by quarters were 30, 1.01, 1.34, 2.05¼.

SARATOGA, Sept. 1.—The surprise Tuesday was Melonic's landing the fourth race at 10 to 1. Versatile was poorly backed in the first and ran third. Pat Oakley was unplaced in the steeplechase. Results:

STRATFORD, Sept. 1.—The weather was somewhat against the success of the first annual races of the Stratford Bicycle Clubs to-day. Toward the end of the five-mile dash Hyslop was thrown from his wheel by a collision which destroyed his chances in that event and also prevents his running off a dead heat with Smith in the mile open. Summary:

Half mile dash, three heats—Wells, Wanderers, 1; Smith, Toronto 2. Time 1.16 4-5.

Bitten By a Policeman.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 1.—Patrick F. Keegan of North Andover, who a few days ago was assaulted and severely bitten on the face by Police Officer Hinman of that town, is in great danger of losing his life. Blood-poisoning has set in, and Keegan has been obliged to give up work and take to his bed.

The side of Keegan's face where he was bitten has become terribly swollen, one eye being closed, his head is abnormally large and the glands of his neck puffed up. The wounds have been re-opened by Dr. Well, and everything done to render Keegan's condition more easy, but he still suffers from intense pain.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—There was received here yesterday a copy of the letter sent by Acting Secretary Spaulding of the U.S. Treasury Department to Deputy U.S. Consul Toobey of Montreal with respect to the alleged carriage of Chinamen by C.P.R. trainmen.

It appears from the letter that an Inspector has been located in Toronto for some weeks. A few days ago he saw six Chinese enter a Canadian Pacific train at Toronto. He got into the train and enquired of the conductor as to where the Chinamen were going. He was told that they were ticketed for West Toronto Junction. This reply did not satisfy the inspector, and he decided to remain on the train until West Toronto Junction was reached. Just before the train arrived at the Junction the conductor (finding that the inspector was still on the train) came to him and said "Chinamen have tickets for West Toronto Junction, but their fare is paid to Windsor."

Yesterday afternoon there was a pretty wedding celebrated at the Church of the Ascension, Grace Stewart, a traveler for Wyld, Grassett & Darling, was married to Miss Isabella Wynn, daughter of Mrs. Wynn, of 35 Peter-street. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Wynn, Miss Jennie Smith and Miss Stewart, sister of the groom. Alfred and James Stewart, brothers of the groom, were the groomsmen. About 60 guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs Stewart left for New York and Boston during the afternoon.

The employes of Wyld, Grassett & Darling presented Mr. Stewart with a valuable clock last evening. The presentation was made by Mr. Thomas McQuillan.

About 10.15 last evening John H. Johnston, private watchman for the wholesale houses in Front-st. east, discovered a fire in the Toronto Mill Stock and Metal Co.'s factory in the rear of Watson's spice mills, Esplanade-street west, at the corner of Bay-street. The firemen promptly responded to the call and in a few minutes the fire was extinguished. The material destroyed consisted of a number of bales of rags and the damage will not be considerable. The building is owned by Mr. Thomas Macdonald.

Charles Davidson, aged 15, a son of Mr. Davidson of the Toronto Customs, went out shooting yesterday in a boat along the Longueil shore, near Montreal. In due course game was sighted, and Charles, incautiously, it is supposed, reached up his gun from the bottom of the boat by the wrong end of the barrel. The trigger caught and the charge exploded. The shots passed close to his wrists, entered his arm in various places, and some eventually lodged in his breast under the arm. He was badly wounded.

Judge Church, whose death at Montreal was announced yesterday, has for some time past been staying at Lorne Park and became very ill last Friday, when he at once left for home.

The judge was Attorney-General of the first DeBoucherville Government and was appointed judge in 1887, continuing in the position until December last.

A writ was issued yesterday by Millar & Co. on behalf of Eva Powers of McCaul-street, who sues William Hocking, foreman for R. H. Gray & Co., this city, for the return of $1000 advanced to him. Miss Powers says she was engaged to be married to the defendant, but the marriage was delayed. Hocking's reply is that he used the money to furnish a house and that the fair plaintiff can have the furniture whenever she wants it.

Hon. John Beverley Robinson, ex-Lieut.-Governor of this province, returned to the city last night from England. The honorable gentleman looks all the better for his trip, and like some other old-timers his years sit lightly upon him. He registered at the Queen's last night.

Rev. A. N. Spragge at Cobourg last evening pronounced the words that made one Mr. J. Lonsdale Capreol, assistant clerk of the Ontario Executive Council, and Mima, daughter of Barrister Dumble of Cobourg. Mr. George E. Evans of this city was groomsman, and Miss Hilda Dumble bridesmaid.

According to arrangements made at the executive meeting in Indianapolis the International Conference Commission of Quarantine met for organization at the Rossin House, this city, yesterday evening. Those present were Dr. Bryce, Toronto, Dr. J. H. McCormack of Kentucky and Dr. H. Baker of Michigan. Last night they left by the G.T.R. for Montreal, where they will be joined by Dr. J. A. Watson of New Hampshire. From there they will go to Quebec and the seaboard. The object of the commission is to make a minute inspection of existing quarantine arrangements at different ports and to report thereon the details to the general conference, which will meet subsequently.

By obtaining this information and giving it publicity it is hoped that the public may be given confidence of protection against cholera entering at the ports of the Dominion and United States. Then the pressure of public opinion, it is hoped, will have such an effect that defective quarantines will be improved before another season, when the warm weather will give the disease renewed vigor. Should the report of the commission make positive recommendations as to the best methods to be adopted, it is expected that the conference will press for their general enforcement at all ports of entry by federal legislation in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

PITTSBURG PHIL'S HARD LUCK.

An Official Blunder Costs George Smith About $30,000 at Sheepshead Bay.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, Sept. 1.—A mistake in the publication of weights yesterday at Sheepshead Bay cost Pittsburg Phil about $30,000. In the fourth race Dagonet had but 112 pounds, whereas it was discovered he should have 122 pounds on his back. His colt Parvenu was one of the contestants and was to be the medium of one of his owner's characteristic plunges. When the betting opened his money was judiciously placed at 30, 25, 20 and 15 to 1, both in the ring and the pool rooms and when his commissioners had executed their business it was estimated that the plunger stood to win from $50,000 to $60,000. No sooner, however, had the stack of tickets been carefully packed than a large white canopy was hoisted on the numbers board announcing "All bets off; 20 minutes for a new book." At the last moment the officials had awakened to the fact that Dagonet was starting with 10 pounds less impost than he was entitled to. Pittsburg Phil's commissioners commenced their attack in the betting afresh, but under far different circumstances. The "cat had been let out," and instead of the bookmakers each accepting two and three hundred dollars at 30 to 1 they were loath to take a hundred at 10 to 1. All transactions in the pool rooms were off, so that at the second attempt $20,000 was all Parvenu's owner stood to win in place of the $50,000 or $60,000 which was the amount prior to Dagonet's alteration of weight. Parvenu won comfortably by a length and a half. St. Felix was second, five lengths before Lord Motley, who nipped both Dagonet and White Rose on the post. In addition to his owner winning $20,000, H. Clay Ditmas netted $10,000 over Parvenu's success.

A New Comet Discovered.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—Mr. W. R. Brooks of Smith's Observatory, Geneva, N.Y., announces to Harvard College Observatory the discovery of a new comet, found by him on Aug. 28, and the discovery verified on the morning of Aug. 30.

The following are the two positions secured by Mr. Brooks: August 28, 13h. right ascension, 5h. 50m. north declination, 31 deg. 52 min.; Aug. 30, right ascension, 5h. 2m. north declination, 31 deg. 48 min.

Although this comet is quite close to Denning's, the two are not identical.

Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER, 1, 1892.

When the farmers of Ontario "tackle" Mr. Carling, armed with his census statistics showing that the profits of the manufacturers and the wages of those employed in factories have increased under his trade policy while farm values and the prices of every sort of farm produce have declined, what explanation will he give? Is it the business of a "Minister of Agriculture" to build up manufacturing combines at the expense of the farmers of the country? By sending out padded statistics designed to show that those engaged in manufacturing are making big profits and big wages, Mr. Carling, the Ottawa Free Press says, has placed a whip in the hand of every farmer, lumberman and fisherman in the country. Will the farmers be satisfied with the argument that their business is unworthy to be classed as an "industry?" Or will Mr. Carling repudiate responsibility for his industries and wages statistics by pointing out that they were obtained from men interested in padding and distorting them?

Struck Dead at Prayer.

Mr John A. Karney Killed by Lightning While Praying Beside his Bed.

A sad event remains to be chronicled as the result of Friday night's terrific storm in the village of Hastings and vicinity. Mr. John A. Karney is a respected and well-to-do farmer living in Asphodel township, about six miles from Hastings. He had come in the house and was preparing for bed at nine o'clock, when in compliance with his usual habit, he knelt beside his bed to perform his devotions, and while in the attitude of prayer a sharp flash of lightning accompanied by a perfect cannonade of the heavens shot through the window and struck the prayer dead. Deceased was about fifty years of age, and leaves a wife and three daughters to mourn his untimely and most unfortunate death. Deceased was well known throughout the section in which he lived, and was greatly revered for his many noble qualities and redeeming traits of character. A few years ago Mr. Karney rented his farm and removed to Hasting to live, but subsequently resumed possession. His sudden demise is regretted by hundreds of friends, and his family have the sympathy of the entire community in their sudden and awful bereavement.

Wages and the N. P.

A Ministerial paper argues that wages are higher in the United States than in Canada because the McKinley tariff is higher than the Foster tariff If so our Dominion ministers are shamefully negligent as well as unpatriotic. What punishment is too severe for men who, professing to have the power to increase wages in Canada and stop the exodus, yet obstinately refuse to exercise that same? If Mr. Foster can raise the rate of wages by increasing the customs tariff, he should not delay his beneficence. Does he imagine that wages are high enough because he draws $8 000 a year for desperately small service? And will the ministerial organs tell us why wages are so much higher in free trade England than in the high tariff countries of Europe?

The Tariff a Tax.

A candid but rash tariff orator the other day said that all the tariff taxes in the United States would not impose more than a cent a day on each inhabitant of the United States. The inexorable statistician has pointed out that to a man with a family of five that would mean an annual contribution of $25.55 to the national treasury.

The Crops of the District.

Peterborough, Victoria and Durham.

Mr. W. H. Wrighton has just completed a tour as cheese inspector of the counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and, as might be well known, noted particularly the condition of the crops in both counties. In this county all the crops are fairly good, better than the neighbouring county to the west. The only exception is spring wheat which will do well if it yields on an average ten bushels to the acre. The fall wheat crop was fairly good and oats and peas make a good showing. In Victoria the spring crops, with the exception of oats, are very much below the standard, The oat crop is the only one that can be spoken of favourably. Considerable two rowed barley was sown, but the crop is a poor one, the grain being light in weight and off colour. In Durham county reliable advices state that all kinds of grain are turning out disappointingly. Spring wheat yields as low as 6 bushels per acre, and fall wheat is yielding about 18 bushels per acre, and peas as low as 12. The barley crop, particularly the two-rowed, is poor, the average yield being about 15 bushels to the acre.

The Old Mosaic Law and Modern Living.

The practical teachings of the old Mosaic law were of immense benefit to the ancient Jews; and, owing to their fairly rigid observance by the Jews of the present day certain diseases and ailments common to Christians are almost unknown in Jewish families.

Modern science cannot but admire the wisdom of the old law-giver in the days of old, who enjoined strict observance of the best sanitary rules ever heard of by men.

Owing to wise customs and laws our Jewish friends avoid that tormentor dyspepsia; they know little of liver and kidney troubles; they know nothing of the terrors of sleeplessness which often lead to insanity.

Christians, however, who boast of their many advantages of civilization and their ascendancy in the arts and sciences, are the afflicted and tormented. With them dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, weak nerves, imperfect circulation and sleeplessness are very common ailments; thousands suffer occasionally and thousands die from these causes. We do not give the care to health and strength that nature demands and expects; therefore we suffer.

Fortunate it is, that a great mind and genius has given to the world a healer and renovator for the diseased and afflicted. The great Professor Phelps has given to suffering men and women a scientific prescription, now known as Paine's Celery Compound which eradicates all the troubles just referred to.

By using Paine's Celery Compound the dyspeptic gets rid of his agonies and pains, and his digestion is made perfect. The sleepless one is enabled to obtain rest and sleep, so that mind and body are recuperated. The unfortunate sufferer whose blood is impure and sluggish, by using the great remedy, is soon blessed with pure blood and and a free and natural circulation. In short, life is renewed and lengthened, and made happy and joyous.

The great wonder is, that so many go on suffering from day to day, while such a remedy is so near them.

A Big Windfall.

H. McClelland, who has been teaching in Rusk county, Texas, at $40 per month has been informed by English attorneys that he is the only heir of his uncle, the late Lord William Moore of England, and is the possessor of that title as well as an estate of $2,600,000.

You can never have a really good complexion until the impurity is cleansed from your blood. What you need is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is absolutely free from all harmful ingredients, and therefore, perfectly safe.

The Worst Form.

DEAR SIRS,—About three years ago I was troubled with dyspepsia in its worst form, neither food nor medicine would stay on my stomach, and it seemed impossible to get relief. Finally I took one bottle of B B B and one Box of Burdock Pills, and they cured me completely.

dw MRS. S. B. SMITH, Rosedale, O.

The Eleventh Man.

We stopped at a flag station to take up a couple of men, and as they came into the smoker all saw that they were handcuffed together. It was easy enough to identify the prisoner. He was a gaunt-faced, long-haired man of dejected demeanor, and he seemed embarassed at the sight of so many of us.

"I reckon yo' can't run from me now," said the officer as he removed the irons. "Sorry to hev put 'em on you at all, Jim, but I'm lame and cant' take chances."

"Is the man going to prison?" was the natural inquiry of one of the passengers.

"A little wus nor that, sah—he's goin' to the convict camp," answered the officer.

"For what crime?"

"It wasn't much of a crime. I believe he stole co'n to feed his starvin' family on.

"And what is his sentence?"

"Well, the jedge fined him $50 or two years. He couldn't pay, of course, and so he'll serve out his two years, if he don't die. He's feelin' powerful poor, and I reckon six months will put him under the sod. Say, Jim, 'you sot yere by yo'self while I go into the fur kyar to see Tom Jackson a minit."

He had no sooner departed than our spokesman stood up and said:

"Gentlemen, this is an outrageous shame. Here is a man being sent to a chain gang because he stole a bushel or so of corn to keep life in the bodies of wife and children! I'll give $10 toward paying his fine."

"So'll I!"

"So'll I!"

There were eleven of us in the car. Ten of the crowd finally chipped in $7 a piece, figuring to give the man a show after his fine was paid. The eleventh man brusquely refused to give a shilling. The officer soon returned, $50 of the purse was given him, and at the next station the pair got off. The prisoner thanked us over and over, and all felt amply repaid. The attitude of the eleventh man nettled us. He sat reading and paid no attention to the sly digs given him, but after a while, when something pretty harsh was flung out, he closed the book, stood up to face us, and calmly said:

"Gentlemen, I feel that I owe you all an apology. Every one but me sympathized with that poor man; every one but me contributed to the purse. My apology and my excuse is that I've met the same pair five different times this week in five different trains going in five different directions, and I thought they were making a big divide without my dollars."—New York Sun.

A Trifle Inconsistent.

"You know that young Mr. Beausome who was here at the seashore last week?"

"Yes, dear."

"You remember he proposed to all us girls in the politest way imaginable?"

"Twice to me, you remember."

"Yes, and three times to me. Well, here's a poem of his in this magazine on 'Unchanging Love.'"—Chicago News Record.

An Artistic Triumph.

The triumph of art over nature is illustrated in the fact that an artist recently made a painting of some beech trees in an old pasture that he sold for $280. The owner of the pasture parted company with his property at about the same time for $150, and called it a good sale at that.

The Accomplishment Will be Needed.

"Can you swim?" asked Miss Munn of Hojack, who had been calling twice a week for about six months.

"Why, no, I can't."

"Then I would advise you to learn."

"Why?"

"Because I am going to throw you overboard.'

Joseph Raby, of Columbia, Pa., suffered from birth with scrofula humor, till he was perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P.M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

It was a Signal Failure.

The Main City Lodge's No. 13, Prentice Boys, Belleville, annual excursion to Peterborough and Chemong Park was not a success and the management it is reported will drop $50 by their venture. This is unfortunate as the excursion was a cheap one, and to a popular and booming town and delightful pleasure spot. Mr. R. H. Ketchison is the Master and Mr. Ryerson Gill, the Deputy Master of the Lodge. The picnicers returned home by a special at 5 30 o'clock last night well pleased with the day and its pleasures. All expressed themselves in love with Peterborough and Chemong Park. The Prentice Boys of Belleville are giving the most monster celebration ever known on Aug 12th of next year, the 204th anniversary of the relief of Derry's Walls. It is expected thousands upon thousands of Orangemen, Prentice Boys and True Blues will unite in making the day one of the biggest and greatest ever known. The Peterborough Lodges of Prentice Boys, True Blues and Orangemen have been invited to take part.

Proposed Day of Sports.

A meeting of all the male students of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, is being held this afternoon to discuss and consider the advisability and feasibility of holding a day of sports this fall. A day of sports is an annual and pleasant affair in connection with many high schools and collegiate institutes throughout the Province, and there is not the slightest reason why Peterborough should be wanting in this line. The beneficial effects of such a day of sports cannot be overestimated. It stimulates a desire for athletic exercise in the young student and puts the training received in the gymnasium to a practical and useful test. In other places the merchants are canvassed by a vigilant committee appointed for the purpose, and asked to donate goods to be given as prizes in the different events of the day. No business man would refuse to lend assistance to the scheme, and it remains with the students alone to make "a day of sports" an established institution in Peterborough.

Amusement, Jokes and Commonalities Galore.

The May Smith Robbins Company of New York produced the musical comedy "Little Trixie," at Bradburn's Opera House last night and fairly re-opened the theatrical season in Peterborough. A larger house was never known to greet a company here in months, the opera house accommodation being severely tested. The play abounds in comical specialities, refined wit, catchy songs, high class comedies and mirthful situations. Of course Little Trixie is the central figure, and everything develops and, as it were, hangs upon her. Her impersonations are natural and true, and whether in the uncontrollable romp heiress, or the pretty and innocent little Irish maid, or as the clever and youthful boy clerk to Lawyer Sharp, she is versatile, acute and innocently clever. Trixie is also a fine dancer and was frequently recalled. Harry Winchell in the role of "Socrates Winterpippen," is as grave and wise as an owl, yet possessing enough of the spirit of fun to baffle and dope with all his tormentors in their efforts to annoy him. Mr. Nat. Franklin, as "Peter Persimmons," enacted his part well and furnished the house much amusement. The frequent clashes between servant Pete and master Winterpippen were comical in the extreme and evoked spontaneous bandits. Pete proved himself an inimitable and accomplished musician by his renditions on the banjo, mandolin and concertina. W. E. Owens, as the sporty artist, "Bob Lauveau," possesses a well-trained voice, as evinced in his songs. The production on the whole immensely gratified the bumper house which greeted it, and this is no doubt a precursor of the fine opera house treats awaiting Peterboroughians this season.

Ball; Story of Byzantine Empire, Oman; The Hope of the Gospel, G. McDonald.

A Cobourg Bridal.

Yesterday at Cobourg at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. H. Dumble, barrister, his daughter Mima was united in marriage by Rev. A. N. Sprague to Mr. J. L. Capreol, clerk of the Ontario Executive Council. Miss Hilda Dumble was bridesmaid and Mr. G. E Evans, Toronto, best man. The fair bride, who is well known in town, will receive hearty congratulations.

Saturday's Baseball Match.

The Cobourgs will play the return match here with the Edisons on Saturday afternoon next on the P. A. A. A. grounds. The Cobourg nine were expected last Saturday, but will be here for a foot on Saturday. As the Cobourgs are the undoubted champions of eastern Ontario and one of the few first-class and successful baseball teams in the province, doubtless there will be a large number of spectators to witness their match with the Edisons. Game called at 3 o'clock.

Had His Leg Broken.

Mr. Richard Morrisey, of Driscoll Terrace, Ashburnham, an employee of the Dickson Company's mill Harwood, was descending a pair of stairs in the mill on Monday when he slipped and falling to the foot of the stairway he sustained a broken leg and was badly shaken up. He was removed to the boarding house of the mill where medical aid was summoned and the limb dressed. Mr. Morrisey was brought home yesterday, and under the care of his daughter is getting along well.

Terrible Accident at Port Hope.

Mr. Wm. Hutchinson, who is employed in Craig's Tannery, Port Hope, says the Guide, met with a shocking accident Tuesday afternoon. While removing a cask of vitriol, which had been standing on the ground for some time, the bottom suddenly fell out, the contents filling both boots of the unfortunate young man. Dr. Clemsha was immediately summoned and the young man's injuries attended to. Upon examination it was found that the vitriol had eaten away the flesh to the bone on the left foot, and had severely burned the right one.

Met with an Accident.

A rather serious accident happened in the arcade of the market square last evening, Mr. Davis, a young man of Montreal, who is in town, was endeavouring to hide from some of his friends on the market square last night, and ran into the maket arcade. He stepped under the archway of the northern stairway, against some doors which open into the cellarway. The door not being securely fastened at the top a small bolt gave way, letting Mr. David backwards down the stairs. He was severely shaken up, and had his leg badly sprained. Mr. Davis was taken to the Belmoral hotel.

A Newspaper Suspended.

During the past few years two attempts have been made to run a second newspaper in Campbellford, but both have proved utter failures. The Canadian Press, published by Mr. Geo. H. Newton has suspended publication and the plant removed. The journalistic field in Campbellford seems to be satisfactorily filled by the Herald, which has been in successful and creditable issue for nearly a score of years. A successful newspaper must be the practical supply of a distinct demand and the existence of a newspaper or newspapers that meets the wants of the public, practically closes the field to all competitors.

A Long Drive in Quick Time.

Mr. Wm. Croft, proprietor of the Croft House, reached Peterborough at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon having driven all the way from Toronto. Mr. Croft returned with his fine trotting mare "Hazel Mack" which has been in training during the past ten weeks on the Woodbine track Toronto, under the able horsemanship of Mr. Chas. Roy. Mr. Croft left Toronto at 10 o'clock on Tuesday and reached Bowmanville the first night where he lodged. Yesterday morning he resumed his journey with "Hazel Mack" reaching Peterborough in safety. He covered the whole distance from Toronto to Peterborough which is 90 miles in the creditably quick time of 13 hours and 15 minutes. Mr. Croft's mare is now in excellent training for the fall races.

Schools are Open.

The schools are now in full running order. There is a great rush of pupils, as the Peterborough Bookstore knows. Its shops have been thronged with eager purchasers of school books and school supplies. The Peterborough Bookstore does the school book business of the town, simply because it has the largest and most complete stock of School Books and School Supplies in the town or district, and at the lowest prices, and possesses the best facilities for supplying the wants of the public. Remember these facts when you require School Books or School Requisites, and come direct to the Peterborough Bookstore.

—All those interested in the formation of an Association football club for the coming season should attend the meeting to be held at Mr. Sam Ray's tobacco store, Hunter street, Friday evening. Simply Awful

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores. I

Has been asked a question, why we can sell our Own-Make Clothing for less money than others sell their factory make? The reason is that we have the latest system to work on. First, the factory clothing has to go through a number of money makers, while the Grand Union Clothing Hall can avoid all this. The second, why our clothing fits better than the factory make; because we do our own cutting for the benefit of the public and to increase our good name.

Peterborough Riflemen's Fine Record.

They Capture Much Spoil at the Capital

The members of the 57th Rangers who visited the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association are to be heartily congratulated upon the excellent record they have made and upon the substantial honours carried off. Day by day the EXAMINER has recorded with pleasure the sharp shooting of individual members of the team, and to-day it is a pleasure to record the success of the team in yesterday's shooting. The Walker match for battalion teams involves the winning of a prize, two challenge cups for individual winners and a badge for each member of the winning teams and also the sum of $198 cash to be divided among winning teams. There was strong competition from the crack militia corps that entered but the team from the Fifty-Seventh Battalion carried off the second prize, $42 cash and the second challenge cup, which fell to Private F. Bartlett, the highest score in the team. Below is the score of the 57th team:

Capt. Hill	87
Private Cameron	77
Private Fitzgerald	75
Private Bartlett	88
Private Pentland	64
Private Curtis	83
	474

According to the figures furnished, the the Rangers were only one mark behind the winners of the first prize. Among these there were only two who got into the eighties—one 88 and the other 86, while of the Peterborough team three made better figures, Bartlett 88 Hill 87 and Curtis 83. Private Bartlett also won a $4 prize, the Soldier aggregate, and another $4 prize in the Ridean match. The Peterborough boys will return home with no small showing of scalps at their belts. They will receive hearty congratulations, and many may think will be justified in "modestly ushers," as Dick Swiveller hath it, of the article represented by the battalion prize.

A Great Game of Ball.

Belleville Defeats Peterborough in a Seven Innings Match by a Score of 6 runs to 5—Lots of Excitement and Many Good Plays—Full Account of the Game.

The Maple Leafs of Belleville played the return baseball match with the Peterboroughs on the P.A.A.A. grounds yesterday afternoon. Only a small crowd of 150 witnessed the game, the small attendance no doubt being due to the threatening weather. The struggle was a keen one throughout the whole seven innings and some good playing was done on both sides. It is to be regretted that a larger number of baseball admirers did not turn out to witness the match as they missed one of the best and closest games of the season.

The Bellevilles went to bat first and scored 1 run, Thompson was hit by a pitched ball and scored on the first baseman's error. In the third the visitors scored another, Thompson again running the circuit of the bases. He reached first on the third baseman's error and crossed the home plate on Cronkright's hit. In the fifth innings Thompson once more scored, securing 1st on a two bagger he scored on centre fielder's wild throw to third. In the sixth Belleville practically won the game by scoring three more runs. Cronkright struck out, Le Palm secured first on 2nd baseman's error. Bradford reached first on 3rd error, Downs stepped to the bat and pounded the leather for a magnificent three bagger driving Bradford and LePalm home. T. Gibson fanned the breeze. Howe hit to short stop, and short instead of throwing to first, which would have retreated the side and left the score a tie, threw wildly to the home plate, allowing Downs to score the winning run. J. Gibson had three strikes called on him. Belleville did not add anything to their credit in the seventh.

For the home boys one run was scored in the second by Lunders on errors made by Howe, r.f., and Gibson, 2b.

Two more runs were rolled up in the fourth innings on good batting LePage made a hit. Lunders was retired on a long fly to centre. Hay was hit by a pitched ball and both galloped home on Lipsett's single.

In the sixth by phenomenal hard hitting off Bradford, LePage scored two more runs. LePage led off with a two bagger. Lunders again landed a long fly to centre field. Hay put it over left fielder's head for a two bagger, and LePage scored. Hay came home on "General" Tighe's great hit to right, for which he received loud applause.

In the seventh Dumble reached third, but could not get home, leaving Belleville victors by 6 runs to 5

SUMMARY—2 base hits, LePage, Hay; 3 base hits, Downs. Struck out, Bradford 10, McCabe 10.

BATS, BALLS AND STRIKES.

Peterborough put up one of the best games she has played this season. McCabe pitched in grand form, only four hits being made off his delivery. Lunders caught "Dan" in a first class manner.

Lipsett, LePage and Evans won fresh laurels by their clever plays.

Dumble, although out of practice, did nicely, and will prove a valuable factor in the Peterborough ranks in future.

The batting and base running of Hay and LePage were among the redeeming features of the game.

Downs on first for Belleville is a star. He is also a hard hitter.

Bradford pitched a good game, keeping his hits well scattered.

The Belleville boys are a gentlemanly set of fellows and it is a pleasure to meet them both on and off the field.

Mr. Wm. Watson umpired the game in a satisfactory manner.

A nine of Peterborough will visit Fairmount on Saturday to play the Lifford baseball club a game.

Rain interferred with the game two or three times and play had to be stopped.

The Bellevilles could not stay to play nine innings as they had to catch the train at 5 30 o'clock.

The Cobourg baseball club yesterday defeated the Asylum nine, of Kingston, at Belleville yesterday by a score of 11 to 3. The Princess street nine backed out of going at the last minute and the Asylum boys took their place, assisted by a couple of Princess street players.

CHAPTER I.

GOOD-BYE Terry, and for the sake of the Godess Love don't you travel too far into the backwoods. Write me from all points, for I am feeling— Well, Terry, old boy, would it not be safer for you to marry?"

The deep, rollicking voice ceased because it had to. The two friends clasped hands but neither spoke. This was their first parting. Terry Denver and Jack Boyd had been at school together, fought for the same girl, pitted tops, swapped alleys, done everything, in fact, but part. After they had grown up they went to Montreal to live. Slowly at first, more rapidly in after years, they climbed the social slope. One more step then the erstwhile country boys would have reached the summit and gained wealth. They were lawyers. To such wealth comes readily. Not so, though, with Terry and Jack. They had toiled honestly for all they had gathered. Now, at the least wished time, a legacy had been left Terry by a relative in Peterboro. But—all legacies seem to have that mischief making "but." Terry smiled when the one who read the will paused after the word "but."

"You need not read further if there is a but, a beauty or an old maid. I will not marry any of them, not for a million."

"Wait. The clause reads thus: 'To Terry Denver, my cousin's son. I leave $500,000, but he will have to walk, ride or paddle, or combine the three, two hundred miles north, beginning at Peterboro, quite alone. That is alone, but for the casual traveler, whom he may meet. One day to be given him to consider whether he will accept or refuse. He is to be given two thousand dollars over and above the legacy for traveling expenses.'"

"I will tell you in one hour."

Terry leisurely sought his friend Jack. No one but Jack could have told anything unusual had happened. All that betrayed him was a semi-attempt to put the right hand into the trousers pocket. Not much, eh! Jack knew nothing but strong emotion of some kind caused that little trick to show.

"Well, Terry boy, what's in your pocket now? A big client?"

"Five hundred thousand dollars, Jack, if I can leave you for six months."

"Say, Terry, you have been working too hard and it is after your brain. Did you ever hear of insanity being in your evolutionary process—anywhere, away back?"

"Never until to-day. Nutsford, of Peterboro, has just conveyed to me the information that I had a cousin crazy as they make them. She left me $500,000 clear—but—"

"Spend it all in locating her after-existence?"

"No, but—"

"Marry the poodle?"

"No, but—"

"Now, I have it."

"Jack, will you cease your bubbling for the space of five minutes, and I will tell you the "but"—$500,000, but I will have to travel by my own exertion two hundred miles north, beginning at Peterboro."

"Sure, then, it is to be hoped your exertion is in proportion with your physical structure, or you will never need your $500,000. Was it in the asylum she thought that will out?"

"No."

"Was she mild or ferocious? Great heaven, Terry, I do hope the freak is not in you or you will take the trip sure. Come, old boy, quiet yourself, do."

"I surely will accept but for one thing. How can I leave you?"

"Faith, you will have to leave me anyway if the disease continues developing. You had better go. The denizens of three miles, let alone two hundred miles back of Peterboro, would not know a lunatic if they saw him; they are so used to ravening wolves and other wild animals. The place can't get populated, bless you, for the wildness of the woods. Go, by all means; it may cure you of your lunacy and legacy, too."

"All right, Jack, you will see me off. I start this evening."

"Yes, and I will see you every blessed minute between times. The office of Denver & Boyd is off for a holiday."

Jolly Jack Boyd crowded his soft hat on his blonde curls, and followed his friend to the street. Arm in arm they walked to the hotel. Three minutes before the expiration of the hour, Terry paused at the door of the room where waited Nutsford, of Peterboro.

"Shall I accept, Jack, not too late yet?"

"On my word, Terry, look at it in whatever light I will, I see symptoms of the malady your cousin died of. Throw up $500,000 rather than part from me is softening of the brain sure as sure. Yet if you undertake that trip through the wilderness alone, of your own free will, ossification of the brain is far advanced."

"Time is up Jack, go or stay?"

Jack lifted his azure eyes, looked into the calm, impenetrable ones of Terry half a minute. Neither wavered. As in a dream Jack said go. Afterwards he told himself 'twas the devil who said it, and not he. Terry passed into the room one minute before the time was up, placed his hat methodically on a table, introduced Jack, and just as the hour struck said, in his usual low voice:

"I will accept."

"Let me congratulate you, Mr. Denver. You will receive, in addition to the $500,000 cash, that amount of property in Germany without condition of any kind."

Jack started to his feet, twirled his hat in the air, shied it into the corner, then grasped Terry's hand.

"A millionaire, old boy, all in a day. Oh, say! can't you enthuse just this once; you miss so much. Kick up your heels, do, by way of experiment. Say, you take it as cool as when your mother gave you a copper to buy a candy, Terry, to relieve me, say gosh."

Terry smiled slowly.

"You do it for us both, my Jack. Then I am sorry to leave you."

"Mr. Denver, you are fortunate, not only in your large inheritance, but for your exuberant supply of sense."

"He got it for us both. He is my ballast. I will turn into an inflated gasbag, or, worse still, fall in love, if he goes, and just so sure as I fall in love, I will get married. Then, what will the ballast be?"

"A wife," said Terry, and his brown eyes were a trifle moist as he lay his large, shapely hand over Jack's mouth.

"Hush, Mr. Nutsford leaves to-day, and he would talk business."

"Yes, here is the $2,000. If you need more I will send it to whatever address you send me. Good-bye, Mr. Denver, you are a noble fellow."

"German Syrup"

The majority of well-read physicians now believe that Consumption is a germ disease. In other words, instead of being in the constitution itself it is caused by innumerable small creatures living in the lungs having no business there and eating them away as caterpillars do the leaves of trees. The phlegm that is coughed up is those parts of the lungs which have been gnawed off and destroyed. These little bacilli, as the germs are called, are too small to be seen with the naked eye, but they are very much alive just the same, and enter the body in our food, in the air we breathe, and through the pores of the skin. Thence they get into the blood and finally arrive at the lungs where they fasten and increase with frightful rapidity. Then German Syrup comes in, loosens them, kills them, expells them, heals the places they leave, and so nourish and soothe that, in a short time consumptives become germ-proof and well.

SOME THOUGHTS ON HAMMOCKS.

Poetic and Other Reflections on One of the Season's Necessities.

Though nice within the hammock's close embrace
To while away the livelong summer day,
You wished you were in any other place
Each time a bug drops on you as you lay.

Don't sling your hammock too high. In the event of falling out an extra foot or two may break your neck.

By the time you learn to get in and out of it you will find your vacation is over.

As far as the summer girl is concerned, the hammock could be appropriately referred to as Cupid's meshes.

It is nice to watch the expression on the face of the small boy who has coaxed the fat man to enter the hammock after he has cut the cord half through and then finds he hasn't cut it enough.

As you rub both your elbow and shin,
You are tempted to swear some, no doubt;
For just when you think you are in
Is the time when you find you are out.

One would imagine that the hammock was known to the ancients by the way the ancient girls at the summer hotel monopolize it.

The man who went to sleep in a hammock and woke up to find that some one had tied the sides together, must have come to the conclusion that he was roped in.

If hammocks are not getting cheaper every year, at least they are coming down all the time.—New York Evening Sun.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Aug. 31.—Mr. Bryan Lynch, President of the local branch of the National League, telegraphed Hon. Edward Blake on Monday asking him to receive a reception at the hands of the Home Rulers of Ontario. Yesterday Mr. Lynch received this reply:

Have written you. In the meantime see letter to Frank Yeigh. Will arrive to-morrow.

At a late hour last night Mr. Yeigh had not received the letter referred to, and so both the Young Liberals and the Home Rulers are as much in the dark as ever. Mr. Yeigh thought that perhaps the letter suggested a union of the two interests to honor Mr. Blake.

Herbert H. Booth, Commandant of the Salvation Army, has issued his promised explanation with reference to the resignation of Mr. Philpott, and answers the latter's charges. Replying to Philpott's charges of extravagant salaries paid to the Headquarters Staff, the Commandant says that this statement is absolutely unfounded. The best proof of this is the fact that there are working at Headquarters 22 persons, 11 of whom are married. The total amount drawn for salary, divided among these 22 persons, gives an average of only $4.81 per head. Among the most expensive men on Headquarters Staff was Mr. Philpott himself, who, when he left, was costing the Army, including his house rent, as much as myself, my house rent not being chargeable to the funds.

The testimonial as to his loyalty which Philpott says he received from Commissioner Rees, the Commandant says, was merely a license to marry under the Salvation Army Marriage Act, and the official legal document giving him this license was commenced in the customary way with the words which he quotes. His assertion that he was compelled to resign is absolutely unfounded, says the Commandant, and is proved by his own written resignation, in which he admits that I was expecting another interview with him."

Don't buy a blood purifier because it is "cheap." The best—the Superior Medicine—Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is, in the end, the cheapest blood purifier in the market. The ingredients of which it is composed are the most expensive and medicinally efficacious that can be obtained.

Lieut. Totten of End of the World Fame Deeds His Property.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 31.—Lieut. G. A. L. Totten has filed with the town clerk a document which takes the place of a will and which is styled a deed of gift. According to the provisions of the paper he conveys to his wife, Mary Totten, all his personal effects and assets of every character. The closing sentence reads as follows: "Should, therefore, any of the accidents of life overtake me, or should I apparently disappear, all persons to whom this comes will know that what we have my wife alone owns, and may God bless her and reunite us in His own good time."

In referring to the last clause, Lieut. Totten said: "Disappearances will become common, and no one can explain them. It is just as sure to come as anything in the world, and is merely the fulfilment of the prophesies that are laid down in the Bible."

Five hundred men are effected by the strike.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 30.—Sir W. P. Howland of Toronto, President of the Ontario Bank, accompanied by his son and his private secretary, J. B. Wadsworth, arrived Tuesday from the east. Sir William is up here on his annual trip to inspect and report on the crops of the Northwest.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood diseases.

Diarrhœa and Vomiting.

GENTLEMEN,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhœa and vomiting. The pain was almost unbearable and I thought I could not live till morning, but after I had taken the third dose of Fowler's Wild Strawberry the vomiting ceased, and after the sixth dose the diarrhœa stopped, and I have not had the least symptom of it since.

dw MRS. ALICE HOPKINS, Hamilton, Ont.

Ladies appreciate Anti-Dandruff from the fact that it not only thoroughly removes Dandruff with three applications, but stops falling of the hair, restores fading hair to its original color, and makes it soft and pliable without leaving any indication of a dressing being used. Clear as Crystal, clean to use, it is a valuable toilet preparation. dw

The Childrens' Friend.

GENTLEMEN,—Last summer our children were very bad with summer complaint, and the only remedy that did them any good was Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. We used twelve bottles during the warm weather and would not be without it at five times the cost.

dw JAS HEALEY, New Edinburgh, Ont.

Baby was sick.

DEAR SIRS,—My baby was very sick with diarrhœa and everything we tried failed. But on trying Dr. Fowlers Extract of Wild Strawberry we found it gave prompt relief and very soon cured him completely.

w MRS. JOHN CLARK, Bloomfield, Ont.

Ask your neighbors if they use Dodds Kidney Pills? They strengthen the nerves, tone the system, and the most stubborn cases of kidney disease yield to their influence. They are especially appreciated by the old. Ask your neighbors about them. dw

GOSSIP!

"Dear me, those are the most beautiful photographs I ever saw."

"Yes, they certainly are very fine and elegantly finished, besides, they are permanent."

"Do they cost more than before."

"No, not to us, though the material is much more expensive, yet Mr. Sproule believes in having the best obtainable. He says nothing is too good for his patrons, and these certainly bear out his statements; and his studio, is so convenient—no stairs to climb yourself, nor have you any fear about the children."

"Yes, I have heard about the ground floor studio being so convenient,—but those photographs."

"Will you come down with me to-morrow to Charlotte street? I must have some."

"Yes, that is the only place where such work is made."

O'DONNELL SURRENDERS

THE LEADER OF THE STRIKE TO BE PROSECUTED.

Informations Have Been Laid Against 108 of the Homestead Strikers—The Carnegie Company Determined to Make an Example of Those Who Caused the Trouble.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 1.—One hundred and eight informations have been sworn out by Secretary Lovejoy of the Carnegie Steel Company, against Homestead men, charging them with murder, riot and conspiracy. No arrests were made to-day, but several of the accused gave themselves up. Among them was Chairman Hugh O'Donnell, who appeared at Alderman McMaster's to give bail. He was accompanied by several other strikers, who saved the constables the trouble of bringing them in.

The Pinkerton guards continued their search for their rifles and ammunition yesterday, but did not succeed in finding anything. They will renew the search to-morrow, and they promise some sensational developments.

Thomas Ackerman and William Bonser were arrested yesterday for interfering with non-union men. Police Officer Joseph Wall, who assaulted a cook of one of the companies of the Sixteenth Regiment, was also arrested.

John Abbey, the roller of the twenty-three inch mill, was discharged for drunkenness. The company is now in a position that it can dictate to the new men.

Two more mills have broken away from the Amalgamated Association and will run non-union. They are the Clinton Iron and Steel Company and Shoenberger, Speer & Co.'s. The former say all their competitors are running non-union and they will have to do the same. At Shoenberger's all the scales had been signed except that of the Bessemr steel department. The men came out yesterday and the mill is now idle. The firm say they will never employ an Amalgamated man again.

Carnegies Twenty-ninth-street city mill is idle to-night on account of the machinery in many departments being broken. It will take some days to fix it. At the Thirty-third-street mill the company has more than enough men. About a dozen were discharged yesterday. Four of the strikers applied for their old positions, which were refused them.

THE QUEEN'S MOVEMENTS.

She Goes to Balmoral For a Stay of Three Months.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Queen is to arrive at Balmoral this afternoon for a stay of three months, accompanied by Princess Beatrice and Prince Henry of Battenberg, and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught will join the party at the castle for a few days.

The Queen has rather suffered in health from the extreme heat, but will, no doubt, be soon put right by the bracing air of the upper Deeside. 'Tis said that the Queen is much disposed to discontinue the practice of having a Cabinet Minister constantly in attendance at Balmoral. During the last two years communication between Balmoral and London has been much facilitated, and documents which leave Whitehall at 2 o'clock on Monday are in the hands of the Queen early the next morning and back in London before the public offices open on Wednesday. Her Majesty has also a private telegraph wire, which runs direct from the castle to London, so that her residence in the Highlands causes no interruption to the transaction of public business. There is now really no practical object in having a minister in attendance on the Sovereign, unless of course there is a crisis in public affairs. The great offices and all the household posts have practically been filled up by the Queen's self, as Mr. Gladstone placed them entirely at Her Majesty's disposal and requested that she deal with them exactly as she pleased. A well-known peer was suggested by Mr. Gladstone for one of the great offices, but his appointment was vetoed by the Queen, which was awkward for the Prime Minister, who had already intimated to the nobleman in question that his high post would be offered him.

The Price of Coal.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—The wholesale sales agents will meet in this city to-morrow to fix the price of coal to the local retail trade for September. The price outside of Philadelphia has been advanced 25 cents a ton, and as the output of coal for September has already been limited to 3,000,000 tons, a similar raise will go into effect here. This will make the retail price $6 per ton for all sizes except pea, which will probably remained unchanged.

Three Times a Mother of Triplet.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Edward McManaman of Salt Springs, Cumberland, N.S., has given birth to triplets, two boys and a girl. This is the third time in succession that this lady has thus distinguished herself.

Don't delay upon the order of buying, but buy at once.

PIRACY IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

Moorish Corsairs Attack and Plunder a Vessel.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A dispatch received here says that Moorish Corsairs boarded and robbed the Spanish ship Jacob, trading between Cape Suby and Rio Daro, and captured 11 of the 16 members of the crew. Afters securing the cargo, consisting of 400 bales of wool, the pirates deserted the ship. When the trader was boarded by the corsairs five of the crew made their escape in a boat, which was subsequently picked up at sea by the Spanish schooner Venganza. After rescuing the five men the Venganza proceeded to the spot where the Jacob was attacked, a distance of 45 [illegible] and found that the vessel had been set adrift by the pirates.

A Sequel to the De Mores' Duel.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—Captain Cremieux Foa, a Hebrew who engaged to fight a duel with the Marquis De Mores, after the latter had killed Capt. Mayer, the Hebrews' champion, to-day figured in a violent scene with fellow officers. Capt. Foa, being offended because of some statement Lieut. Trochu, his second, made at the recent trial, of Marquis De Mores, had challenged the latter to a duel. Trochus' colonel, however, forbade the duel. This greatly enraged Capt. Foa, who to-day went to the officers' mess and threw a glove in Trochus' face. The other officers present thereupon forcibly expelled him from the room.

Successful Medical Treatment.

VIENNA, Sept. 1.—The Neue Freie Presse contains the important announcement that the mortality among the cholera patients at Hamburg has been reduced fully 50 per cent. by the treatment prescribed by Professors Northnagel and Kahler, namely, injections of warm salt water. The effect is immediate and marvelous, and many patients whose pulse is so feeble as to be undiscernable often recover after this simple treatment. In many cases, however, the effect is so short that a relapse follows.

Victory For the Ameer.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A despatch from India says that the forces of the Ameer of Afghanistan have won an important success over the Hazaras. The latter, after a severe conflict in which 460 of the Afghan troops were killed, were compelled to evacuate Kamsan, which place was at once occupied by the Afghans. Much discontent prevails among the Ameers' troops, owing to lack of supplies and many are deserted.

A Suspected Russian Spy.

BRISBANE, Queensland, Sept. 1.—A suspected Russian spy has been arrested for taking photographs of the forts at Townsville, a seaport town on the northeast coast of Cleveland Bay.

O, this dull, depressing headache,
That won't wear off;
This hawking and this spitting.
And this hawking cough
I've lost my sense of smelling,
And taste's going, too,
I know catarrh's what ails me,
But—what shall I do?
My hacking and my hawking
Keeps up a steady din;
I'm haunted by the fear that
Consumption may set in.
I feel supremely wretched;
No wonder, I'm blue,
I know my health's falling,
But—what can I do?

Do? I'll tell you what to do, my friend, if you'll lend me your ear a minute. Go down to the drug store and buy Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and take it according to directions giver, and you'll soon find that this headache is a thing of the past; the hacking, hawking and spitting, so disagreeable to others as well as well as yourself, will come to an end, and in a short time you will feel like a new man. A new man—think of that—and all for fifty cents, which is the price of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, the unfailing cure for this terrible disease.

NEW YORK FREE FROM IT

NO CASES OF CHOLERA YET REPORTED THERE.

There was no Outbreak Among the Passengers of the Moravia, and all Vessels Are Thoroughly Fumigated—The Patients at Gravesend Progressing Favorably.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—At present everything at the quarantine station is very quiet. The Lahn, Veendam and Gallia are lying off the upper anchorage, and the Moravia is down at Hoffman Island. Dr. Jenkins at a late hour last night stated that there were no fresh cases on board the Moravia, and that the convalescents were progressing very satisfactorily.

The search for bacteria in the foul linen which had been worn by the cholera victims has up to the present been fruitless, and further experiments will be carried on to-morrow.

The Veendam and Lahn will go up to New York to-day, but the Cunard steamer Gallia will not leave quarantine until Saturday, as it will take all to-day to bathe and disinfect the immigrants on board, who number amongst them 275 Russians and 150 Poles. The strictest guard is being kept on board the Moravia, and orders have been given to her captain to fire at anyone endeavoring to go alongside the steamer unless a health representative. Dr. Jenkins states that there is no need for alarm on the adjoining land, and there should be no danger from infection at Coney Island and South Beach, as all the refuse and such things will be thoroughly disinfected before being thrown overboard.

The health authorities expect livelier times to-morrow and the following day, as several ships are expected from infected ports.

Quarantine Inspection.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 2.—The International Quarantine Inspection Commission, composed of Dr. Irving A. Watson of Concord, N.H., secretary of the American Public Health Association; Dr. H. B. Baker of Lansing, Mich.; Dr. P. H. Bryce of Toronto and Dr. J. N. McCormick of Kentucky, arrived in Montreal yesterday and began an organization which includes the State and Provincial Boards of Health of the continent. Their purpose is to inspect and report on the condition and methods of the administration of every quarantine station on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts. The commission held a conference with the civic health authorities and the railway and steamship representatives in regard to precautions being taken to prevent cholera.

The commissioners left for Quebec tonight. They will visit and inspect the Grosse Isle quarantine station, returning to Montreal on Saturday, leaving the same evening for New York, where they will inspect the quarantine arrangements, and then proceed to Boston, Portland and Halifax.

An Outbreak Expected.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The health officials at quarantine are enjoying some rest after their hard work of yesterday. They do not expect any more cases of cholera to arrive here for a day or two, when the steamer Normannia is due from Southampton with 400 immigrants transferred from Hamburg to the latter port. As these immigrants left Hamburg several days before the epidemic had broken out there is some danger of the disease having broken out on board.

Colonel Weber, superintendent of immigration, said yesterday he believed the cholera would undoubtedly get into this city. He said he believed there is as great danger of its being brought here by the cabin as the steerage passengers. He said the cabin passengers should be quarantined as well as the steerage in order to protect the country from the plague. He thought there was much damage also from merchandise coming from Europe and especially from infected ports. The colonel says the authorities on Ellis Island will use extra precautions to discover any cases of cholera that may escape quarantine.

They May Fumigate Canadian Mails.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The Postmaster-General has issued the following order: The superintendent of foreign mails is hereby instructed to immediately take such steps as may be necessary and practicable to thoroughly disinfect the mails reaching the United States from foreign ports at which contagious diseases are said to be prevailing and to facilitate safe mail communication between vessels undergoing quarantine and the nearest United States postoffice. Measures have accordingly been taken to procure the thorough disinfection of incoming mails from infected ports.

Telegrams have also been sent by direction of Postmaster-General Wanamaker to the postmasters at Detroit, Buffalo, Cleveland, Port Huron, Suspension Bridge, Burlington, Vt., and all other important points on the Canadian frontier, directing them to consult with the local health officers and ascertain whether there is any necessity existing at present for the fumigation of Canadian mails crossing the border into the United States.

Inspection at Port Huron.

PORT HURON, Mich., Sept. 2.—The inspection of immigrants which was inaugurated last Monday has been carried on here by three physicians and the customs officials under the direction of the Treasury Department. All immigrants who left European or Asiatic ports since Aug. 17 are detained. Investigation of the health of each immigrant is made, and any cases of sickness are held until the full nature of the trouble is ascertained. All immigrants' baggage which does not bear a seal of disinfection at New York is disinfected before being allowed to proceed. So far nothing suspicious has developed.

Decrease in Deaths in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 3.—The official cholera returns show a gratifying decrease in the ravages of the pestilence. The latest returns show a total of 4859 new cases and 2529 deaths. Compared with the last returns these figures show a decrease of 1283 in the new cases reported and a decrease of 219 in the number of deaths. It will be observed, however, that the death rate continues excessively high. The official statistics for St. Petersburg also show a decrease in both new cases and deaths. Yesterday there were 123 new cases and 40 deaths; Tuesday 125 new cases and 51 deaths.

Twenty Days' Quarantine Ordered.

Gov. Flower on the Alert.

ALBANY, N.Y., Sept. 2.—Gov. Flower is keeping close watch of the efforts which are being made for the prevention of cholera and will employ all the powers of his office to see that necessary precautions are promptly and vigorously taken.

Through his private secretary, Col. Williams, he has instructed the state Board of Health to exercise the full limit of its powers, if necessary, for the prevention of the disease, and Secretary Balch has assured him that prompt measures have already been taken to guard against the entrance of the disease by way of Canada.

No Cases in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—No cases of cholera have yet developed in New York city.

Victims Die in Two Hours.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Standard's Hamburg correspondent says that although the cholera is reported to be abating the number of victims is again very heavy. The disease rages with the most virulence in the suburbs of Horn and Hammerbrook, where hundreds were attacked and many died within two hours. The interments since last night number 313. It is reported that the people of Hamburg have carried the infection to 23 towns in Germany alone.

Quarantined at the Soo.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 2.—Sixteen immigrants on the Canadian Pacific were stopped yesterday by the United States health officers and sent into quarantine before they crossed the bridge into Michigan. One was from Hamburg, several from Russia, and the rest from Scandinavian ports.

Liverpool Free From the Disease.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 2.—The health committee officers report that the general health of Russian emigrants is excellent, that Liverpool is entirely free from cholera, with the exception of the cases reported and that there is no danger of the scourge spreading.

LAWLESSNESS AT HOMESTEAD.

A Non-Union Man Assaulted and Robbed and Left Insensible.

HOMESTEAD, Sept. 2.—Patrick Moran, a non-union beater, was assaulted and robbed early yesterday and his condition now is such as to excite alarm. Moran was decoyed into the woods on the hill behind Homestead by about a dozen men he met in a saloon and there knocked down. Then the men held him, took off his hat and shoes, which they appropriated, with $25 they found in his pockets. The gang then fell upon Moran and beat him into a state of insensibility.

Superintendent Potter said yesterday that for the first time every department in the mill is running and the work is satisfactory to the firm.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—Word has been received here that H. C. Aitken, banker of Tottenham, is missing and the bank is in possession of the Bank of Hamilton, which is understood to be the heaviest creditor.

Aitken, who is a son of the late Dr. Aitken of Hamilton, went to Tottenham about six years ago, succeeding W. P. Roberts as manager of the branch of the Bank of Hamilton. A couple of years ago the branch was closed, but Mr. Aitken remained in the village and opened a private bank. He enjoyed the utmost confidence, and his sudden exit created the utmost surprise.

It is not thought that depositors will lose much.

Mr. G. A. Karwiess, an engineer of Chicago, writes the Mayor enquiring as to the possibility of organizing a large corporation to utilize the water power from above Niagara Falls, the great power from Lake Erie along the canal, and the water for power and transportation from the Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario, discharging close to Toronto. It is a mystery to him, he says, why Canada is so slow in taking advantage of the abundance granted by nature.

A despatch was received in the city yesterday announcing that William Givens, late of Toronto, had been suffocated to death in a hotel fire at Blaine, B.C. Givens was a boarder at the hotel and rushed into the burning building with the intention of saving his effects.

A familiar figure in the Horticultural Gardens during the past two or three years has been that of Squire William Jones, a retired farmer of Simcoe County, who removed to this city in 1889. Mr. Jones, who resided at 334 Seaton-street, had been feeling poorly for a day or two, and after dinner yesterday started, accompanied by his son, for Dr. Pyne's surgery in Gerrard-street. He had only gone a few yards when he dropped to the sidewalk. His son stooped to pick him up, but before he could do so the old gentleman died in his arms. Deceased was aged 70 and leaves a widow and large family.

A runaway accident occurred last evening in Richmond-street west. Mr. R. W. Phipps, a well-known citizen, was driving eastward, when his horse became frightened by a barking cur and ran away. On turning the corner at John-street Mr. Phipps was thrown out against the brick wall surrounding Mr. Christopher Robinson's grounds and seriously injured. Mr. Phipps was carried to his home and medical aid summoned. The horse was caught before it reached Queen-street.

The anticipated advance in sugar has materialized. Canadian refiners yesterday put both granulated and yellows up ½c a pound, and the market is strong and likely to be still higher. The wholesale prices on the local market were advanced correspondingly, granulated being quoted at 4¼d to 4⅝c and yellows at 3⅝c to 3¾c. There was also an advance of ⅛c on the New York market.

LOST ON LAKE SUPERIOR

A STEAMER BREAKS IN TWO AND SINKS.

The Western Reserve, One of the Largest Vessels in the Upper Lake Trade, Goes to Pieces—Her Owner and His Family and Twenty Other Persons Drowned.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 2.—The fish tug E.M.B.A. arrived down last night, having as a passenger Henry Stewart of Algonac, a wheelsman, the only survivor from the mammoth steel steamer Western Reserve, which foundered Tuesday night about 9 o'clock 60 miles above White Fish Point, on the course to Keewenaw. The Western Reserve, upbound and light, left the Soo Canal Tuesday, having on board as passengers Capt. Peter Minch, her owner; his wife, three children and his wife's sister, besides the regular crew of 22 hands.

The story as told by Stewart is as follows: "Everything went well until about 60 miles above White Fish, when the first warning anyone on board had of impending danger was a terrible crash about 9 a.m., caused by the huge craft breaking in two, halfway up the rigging.

"She took in water fast from the start and the yawl boats were lowered. Capt. Minch, his family and the officers and crew of the boat to the number of 17 got into the wooden yawl, and the others took to the metallic one. The Reserve sank in ten minutes and before she had hardly gone out of sight the metallic yawl capsized. The other went to her assistance, but only succeeded in rescuing two of her occupants, Capt. Myers' son and the steward. The 19 survivors started for White Fish, 60 miles away. The wind was about west when they started, but veered to the north, making considerable sea. But the yawl weathered the breakers all night and until 7 o'clock the next morning, when about 10 miles from Life-saving Station No. 10 and about a mile from the shore, it capsized."

Stewart seen none of the occupants after that. He struck for the shore, but the cries of the children, screams of the women and moaning of men were terrible for a few moments, when all became silent.

Stewart was in the water two hours. He struck shore about 10 miles above the station and had to walk there before reaching any one to render him assistance. A search failed to find trace of any other survivor of the wreck and there is no question that they were all drowned.

A WOMAN IN THE CASE.

While She Talked to a Clerk Thieves Cleaned the Place Out.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—A remarkably clever robbery was committed on one of the most public streets yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock. A well-dressed, fair-complexioned woman, about 35 years of age, drove up to the door of Nichols & Marler, brokers, Notre Dame-street. She was driving the horse and pretended that she could not get out of the rig. She attracted the attention of the clerk in the office by waving in her hand a lot of American bills and money exchanges. Out ran the clerk to attend to her. He was informed by the fine-looking woman that she wanted information as to the percentage charged for changing American bills into Canadian currency. After she had got this information she kept the clerk talking to her for about five minutes about money orders and exchanges. Finally she drove rapidly away, saying that she would return again in a few minutes.

When the clerk got back into the office he was horrified to find that thieves had been there and had practically cleaned out the place.

Detective Gross was at once notified and put several of his men out on the streets watching the depot. It is said that between $5000 and $10,000 in money and bonds have been stolen.

THE TROLLEY CAR.

Causes a Runaway in Hamilton, Which Nearly Kills a Farmer.

HAMILTON, Sept. 2.—John Blain of Blackheath drove into the city yesterday with his wife and daughter and a load of produce. When he was in the city about a month ago his horses took fright at a trolley car and ran away in King-street west and smashed the rig. Mr. Blain was evidently apprehensive that his horses would run away again, for he let his wife and daughter get out at the corner of Hughson and Cannon-streets, and then drove west. As they approached James-street a trolley car was coming along at a low rate of speed, but the moment the horses saw it they ran along Cannon on to James-street and turned south. Blain got rattled and began yelling to the horses at the top of his voice and scared them so that they ran faster. At the corner of Vine-street they turned west and upset the wagon, throwing Blain out on his head with the seats, baskets and produce on top of him. He was picked up and carried into Richter's Hotel and Dr. Mackelcan, Dr. White and other physicians were summoned. It was found that several of his ribs were broken, his left side severely bruised and there was a scalp wound about 5 five inches long on the top of his head. He was removed to the Hospital by the ambulance. He is severely hurt, but his condition is not serious.

The horses were stopped by Detective Doyle at Bay-street.

Death of Mr. Andrew Knox of St. Mary's.

ST. MARY'S, Sept. 2.—Mr. Andrew W. Knox died yesterday after a long and painful illness as a result of the injuries received from an accident this spring in London.

He had been a resident of St. Mary's for over 30 years and always took an active part in civic affairs, having been a member of the town council for some time and of the trustee board for 20 years.

He leaves a widow and five children, Mrs. George E. Williams and Agnes Knox, B.E., of Toronto, A. A. Knox, B.A., of Chatham, R. H. Knox, B.A., and W. J. Knox of Toronto University.

A Schooner Foundered.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Sept. 2.—In the gale of yesterday on Lake Huron the schooner Nettie Woodward foundered while trying to make Southampton harbor for shelter. Two of her crew were drowned. The rest were with some difficulty rescued by the lighthouse keeper. The names of the two men drowned are Mahon and Greathead. The vessel was old and for a number of years has been in the lumber carrying business.

CURES COLD IN HEAD AND CATARRH

The Daily Examiner is delivered to any part of the Town for 10c. a week, 35c. a month, $2.00 for six months.

Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1892.

THE youngest man in the new British House of Commons is 22 years old and the oldest 90.

THE Manitoba Government, through their Attorney-General, deny that they have any intention of making a compromise with the Roman Catholics on the school question.

OF freightage by rail in Canada in 1891 the Grand Trunk system carried the largest share, viz.: thirty five per cent. of the total, a decrease of three per cent. as compared with 1890, and a smaller proportion than in any of the four preceding years. The Canada Southern carried eighteen per cent, and the Canadian Pacific seventeen per cent., increases of four per cent. and two per cent. respectively, as compared with 1890.

THE Empire seems desirous of compassing the injury of Canada under the cover of over-zealous solicitude for its welfare. It has done more to develop latent sentiment in favour of Annexation than any other agency. Its perpetual tirades have elevated the annexation sentiment, which previously lurked obscurely and undefined in the hearts of a few faddists, into the dignity of a political idea, with something like a corporate existence, with several Conservative politicians prominent and obscure as the leading spirits. Not only by such a course, but by the advocacy of a trade policy which Hon. Edward Blake declares is dragging Canada in the direction of political union with the United States, is the Empire assisted the "cause" of annexation, of which Hon. J. J. C Abbott, premier of the Conservative cabinet, and Mr. Sol White, the leading occidental exponent of the fad, are leading lights. The Empire has smashed the windows of the house where the feeble embers of annexation smouldered, and by letting in the gale of disputation has fanned them to something as nearly like a blaze as will ever be seen. Now the Empire is striking a blow at the most important interest of Ontario, the educational system. It is opening its columns to verbose ranters who assume to denounce the evils which politics is working in the management of the Education Department. The vicious suggestiveness of the fact of politics influencing the administration of the Department is the nearest approach to its existence which the facts admit of. Partizan depravity can not go beyond the baseness of assuming a condition that does not exist, with the hope of creating a condition that may make for partizan advantage,

The Northwest Deadlock.

The political crisis at Regina has been further complicated by the resignation of Mr. Ross, the speaker of the Assembly, who is in sympathy with the Haultain party. This places the new Cayley government in a minority, providing a Cayley man is placed in the chair, as the two parties are now of equal strength in the legislature. The overthrow of the late government is generally condemned by the electorate, and should the assembly be dissolved, there is little doubt that Mr. Haultain and his colleagues will be returned to power.—Ottawa Free Press.

It is a Very Sad Thing

To see young and beautiful people die when they might just well live and enjoy health and strength. Many who suffer with coughs, colds and lung troubles, leading to consumption, imagine there is no hope for them, when in reality there is every hope if Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is taken regularly. Spread the news everywhere that this great emulsion will make flesh and blood, cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and lung troubles tending to consumption. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough Drug Store. dw

Interested People

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give bottles to those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Education in Manitoba.

Interest has naturally been aroused throughout Eastern Canada in educational matters in Manitoba by the anti-Separate school agitation. It is deserving of note that the progress of education in Manitoba has been very rapid, as the following figures show :—

Year	Number of Schools	Number of Teachers	School Population	Number of Pupils	Average Attendance
1871.....	16			816
1887.....	481	531	17 600	16 940	9,715
1888.....	496	675	18,350	16,090	9,856
1889.....	524	668	21,471	18 358	11,943
1890.....	537	810	25,077	23,758	11 677

The school age is five to sixteen years inclusive, and from the above table it will be seen that the average attendance is fifty per cent. Very great progress has been made in the past ten years, and the growing requirements of the new province have been fully met.

The control of educational matters in Manitoba was formerly in the hands of a board of education, divided into two sections, one Protestant and one Roman Catholic; but by the act of 1890 this arrangement, together with the separate school system, was abolished, and a department of education established, consisting of the Executive Council and an advisory board of seven members, four appointed by the Department of Education, two by the public and high school teachers and one by the council of the University of Manitoba.

The validity of this act, as our readers are aware, has just been established by the decision of the judicial committee of the Imperial Privy Council.

Cinthy Ann's New House.

I built a house for Cinthy Ann—an' made it red an' rich,
An' rigged it up with cuperlows an' lightnin' rods an' stich,
An' built a wide piazzer roun' ware she could set an' cuss,
An' take her knittin' work an' gab with ol' Keturah Snow.

An' Cinthy Ann was happy for about a week or so,
An' then she foun' the chimbley draft wus workin' rather slow;
For the smoke came in her kitchen an' she couldn't bake her pies,
An' her paddi's' on'y sizzled, an' her johnny-cake wouldn't rise

An' soon she foun' her buttry wus too small to hol' her stuff,
For apple sass and blackb'ry jell it wasn't large enough,
An' all her things were scrooched right in as tight as she could cram,
Her pickles an' her ketchup, an' her elderberry jam.

An' then a dog-day storm came on an' drizzled for a week,
An' the roof aroun' the chimbley had to go an' spring a leak,
An' mildewed four or my w'ite shirts, thet she had made an' biled,
An' her winter muff was roosted an' her weddin' dress wus spiled.

An' then sez I to Cinthy, w'en she sut down to cry,
"There ain't no home upon this side the mansions in the sky
But what has some leak in the roof, some trouble in the flue,
Some mis'ble cluttered buttry—" an' poor Cinthy said, "Boo hoo."

We build our pooty houses thet are tarnal fine to see,
An' we stick 'em up with cuperlows an' sich like filigree,
An' in our dreams they're fair es heaven, but let us wait a week,
This pooty palace of our dreams is sure to spring a leak.

Bronchitis

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P.M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. Store Improvements Delayed!

IT is with a great deal of reluctance that I have to state to my customers and the general public that the alterations and improvements which had been promised to be made in my store have, at the last moment, fallen through. My landlords, the Executors of the Burnham Estate, are unable to undertake any building expenditures at the present time, and although I have done all in my power to induce them to proceed, I have been unsuccessful. Having, in the meantime, rented another new store, to allow the alterations to go on in the old one, I have been obliged to give it up, and, instead of removing, will continue on in our own well-known premises, corner George and Simcoe streets.

My Fall Stock is now constantly arriving, and we are now busily engaged in opening up cases and bales of Sweeping Alterations to Be Made.

A little over two months ago Messrs. Miles & Stabler opened out a hardware store on Hunter street, and in that brief space of time business has increased so greatly both in the matter of customers and stock, that they have decided to enlarge their premises a hundred fold. Mr. Geo. A. Cox, proprietor, has men now engaged at work in raising the front part of the premises, dimensions 23x55, from two stories to three stories, and the structure adjoining the front shop at the rear, size 20x24 will be raised two stories higher on a level with the front elevation, which, as previously stated, is two stories high at present, and will have another added to it. The partition separating the front and rear shops on the main floor will be removed. This will allow Messrs. Miles & Stabler the large flooring space of 43x79 feet for three flights or a total of 11 091 square feet in all, which they will occupy in full. This strong growth in business speaks well for a firm in existence for only a short time. Messrs. Miles & Stabler deal in all kinds of store, shelf hardware, paints, oil, glass, etc., and all doing a rushing business.

Sports Flourishing Around the Collegiate

The boys of the Collegiate Institute held a mass meeting yesterday in the large Assembly Room. There was a large attendance. Mr. W. J. Drope, B.A., occupied the chair. The object was to inquire into the advisability of having a day of sports. After some discussion it was unanimously decided to have such a day, but the date was not definitely set. A sports and programme committee was appointed with Mr. F. Heap, M. A., chairman. This committee will arrange the list of sports and games, and also set the date on which these will be held. A canvassing committee was also appointed, with Mr. W. J. Drope, B. A., chairman, to canvass the merchants of the town and ask them to donate prizes for the different contests in the forthcoming day of sports. Afterwards the meeting resolved itself into an Association foot ball meeting, and elected the following officers for the season amid great enthusiasm:

HON. PRESIDENT — C. Fessenden, B. A., (re-elected).
PRESIDENT—M. O'Brien.
VICE-PRESIDENT—S. Cowan.
SECRETARY—Arthur Laing.
TREASURER—Harry Olde.
CAPTAIN—W. J. Drope.
EX. COMMITTEE—W. J. Drope, Lionel King, F. Heap, E. Grubbe and Charles Halliday.

The committee were instructed to endeavour to get the P. A. A. A. grounds for practice. Practice will be vigorously commenced next week, and now challenges are in order from any town or outside teams by addressing the secretary, Mr. Arthur Laing. The boys are now prepared to meet any association club, and they will doubtless give a good account of themselves before the season is over.

Peterborough People Abroad.

Sheriff Mead, of Auburn, N. Y., is in town to-day. He is a genial and good-looking guardian of the law. He states that there are several Peterborough people in Auburn, and all doing well. Among the number he mentioned Dr. Gowan, V.S., and Dr. John Guerin are old natives of Peterborough county who have lived in Auburn for years. They are enjoying lucrative practices. Messrs Chas. and Geo. Sweeting are two principal contractors in that city and have large jobs on hand.

St Joseph's Lawn Social.

The ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral are arranging for the holding of a delightful social in the grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital, Ashburnham, on Tuesday, Sept. 6th, in the interest of the hospital. It is hoped that all the ladies of the congregation will unite to promote the success of the social. Further particulars hereafter. Admission to the grounds 15c. 1d

Addressing the Electors.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.PP. for West Peterborough, the Lindsay Post says, addressed the electors of Galway at Union Creek school house on Tuesday night and Swamp Lake school house on Wednesday night, and at Foord's school house, Cavendish, on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Stratton is doing what every representative of the people should do—holding annual meetings explaining to his constituents the legislative work of the past session. In this way the electors are kept informed and receive information that it is almost next to impossible to get in any other way. He was accompanied by Mr. R. R. Hall, barrister, Peterborough, who also took part in the meetings.

The Washburn Show.

It is not necessary to write at length concerning the great show which bears the name of Leon Washburn and which is to exhibit in Peterborough Sept. 13th. Performance afternoon and evening at 2 and 8 p.m. Of the circus, to all those who have attended tent shows for years, it is only necessary to remark that the best in every direction has been secured without regard to cost. It is safe to say that Peterborough people will see no better performance than is to be given on September 13th, and the price is so low that no one need stay away. Remember that the Washburn show is a 50c. show for 25c.—something you have never seen before. If you would see the greatest combination of the several and varied elements of instruction, see the great Leon Washburn show. There you will see that which you cannot afford to miss seeing. If you would see that which should be a pleasure and a duty to have your children see, and a source of boundless joy to your little ones. See the Washburn shows. 53-1d

Arrested Charged With Forgery.

Chief of Police Rexsel yesterday arrested Arthur L. Hayward, hailing from Auburn, N.Y., charged with forgery. When found, the prisoner was working for a farmer out in Dummer, about three miles from Hall's Glen. This morning Sheriff Mead, of Cayuga County, N.Y., arrived to take the prisoner home. Hayward waived extradition process and was taken to Auburn to-day by the sheriff. He is charged with forgery and uttering forged papers to the amount of $125 and $75 respectively. He forged the notes and got them cashed at Seward's bank, Syracuse, some five months ago. Shortly afterwards, finding out that he was detected, the prisoner skipped across the border and has been a resident of Canada since March last as correctly as it can be learned. Hayward is a married man with a family and expresses penitence over his crime. He is seeking as light a sentence as possible.

George Clark, who was arrested some months ago here by Chief Rexsel and taken to Auburn, is awaiting his trial along with two others on bail. This crime, it will be remembered, that of taking out insurance policies on dying men. A fourth culprit has also been in the game and there is a warrant out for his arrest.

KEEP UP WITH THE PROCESSION.

T. DOLAN & CO. are selling English, Scotch, and Irish Suitings four and five dollars less than they can be had in Canada, during this month. Take warning. The big bankrupt stock.

Attention is directed to the large four column advertisement in the EXAMINER of the Montreal Clothing House. As the Montreal Clothing House has moved into more commodious and increased quarters in order to accommodate their large number of customers and find room for their immense stock of high class clothing, so they have quadrupled their advertising space—a sure sign of enterprise and increase of business all around.

The Cobourgs Can't Come.

Mr. S. T. Arthur, the manager of the Edison baseball club, to-day received a telegram from the Cobourgs stating that they could not come to play the return match with the Edisons here to-morrow, but arranging no reason for their not being able to get a nine together. Consequently the match, which was to have taken place to-morrow afternoon, has been declared off. It is unfortunate, as the Edisons had gone to considerable expense in advertising the match, engaging the grounds, etc. It was at first hoped that the Peterboroughs would be able to fill the gap, but that is impossible, as some of their best players are out of town and a nine could not be gathered on so short a notice.

The Edison club has received word from the Cobourg club that their three baseman and catcher are unable to get release from employment. The club are willing to pay a forfeit and consider arrangements for a match for another date. A manly action like this of Cobourg is a lesson to the Princess street nine kickers of Kingston.

"When I was a young man," said Jonathan Gray,
"If a fellow took physic he knew it, you bet,
It would cramp him all up in a colicky way,
And, good Lord! what a twisting his insides would get!
But the pills in use now days by sensible folks
Are so easy to take and so pleasant as jokes."

Of course the kind referred to by Mr. Gray was Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the very best liver pill ever made—mild, but sure and effective. The only pills sold by druggists absolutely on trial! Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. e

John S. McMahon's Circus in Town.

McMahon's great New York circus arrived in town at an early hour this morning from Norwood, where they showed yesterday to a large crowd who were well pleased with the performance and the show generally. Four good sized tents were pitched on the market square this morning by a large gang of men, while a crowd of spectators hung around, and watched the proceedings with interest. This afternoon a procession headed by the band waggon with two gray teams in front, the band which discoursed some catchy selections, the actors and two elephants, paraded the principal streets. The procession was viewed by a large crowd. The market square room was inadequate for the show, and one large tent could not be pitched. The two large elephants are named Queen Jumbo and Baldy, the Clown elephant. The former is 11 feet 3 inch, weighs 5½ tons and is 27 years old, and the latter is 11 feet tall, weighs 5 tons and is 25 years old. They are the largest and finest elephants ever seen in Peterborough. Prof. H W Pett is their trainer and performs many clever tricks with them. The performance of Queen Jumbo and Baldy made the clever training of Prof. Pett is a whole show in itself. The American press contains flattering references to him and his elephants. The show will give another performance this evening at 7 o'clock.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

THE GRAND UNION CLOTHING HALL

Has been asked a question, why we can sell our Own-Make Clothing for less money than others sell their factory make? The reason is that we have the latest system to work on. First, the factory clothing has to go through a number of money makers, while the Grand Union Clothing Hall can avoid all this. The second, why our clothing fits better than the factory make; because we do our own cutting for the benefit of the public and to increase our good name.

We beg to notify those who did not come to town and who did not know about our great bargains that were given on the opening day, (Saturday, August) 27th) that we will continue the same bargains until Saturday, Sept. 3rd, in order to give everyone a chance to get the same bargains in our Own-Make Clothing.

Don't forget we will always keep in stock a fine selection of Tweeds and Worsteds which we will make to order in the latest styles.

A fine stock of Gents' Furnishings is always kept on hand.

The Ennismore Picnic.

It was Great Success and Rev. Father McColl is Happy.

The great Ennismore picnic took place yesterday afternoon at Tara Grove and was a great success both financially and in point of attendance. It was Rev. Father McColl's, first picnic and he is to be congratulated on its signal success. The number present could not have possibly been less than five hundred of which a large number were from Peterborough. The visiting clergy were Rev. Fathers Radkins, Scollard and Descuilriers of the Cathedral, and Rev. Father Connolly of Downeyville. The grove selected for the picnic is known as Tara grove, and is situated near the Crost in Ennismore. It is a beautiful spot for picnicing and occupies a fine site of ground. The picnicers began to arrive at 10 o'clock and continued steadily until late in the afternoon. In the morning the party spent the time in various pleasures, many tripping the light fantastic on the large platform erected for the purpose. At noon a choice dinner was served in grand style by the ladies of the parish and hundreds partook thereof with a keen appetite. In the afternoon a splendid programme of sports was run off and proved lots of amusement for those present. The events were all hotly contested and enthusiasm ran high Following is a complete list of the sports and winners:

Long Jump—1 Frank Doran, 2 J. T. Sullivan.

Running Long Jump—1 Frank Doran, 2 Wm. Heffernan, town.

Running Hop, Step and Jump—1 Frank Doran, 2 Wm. Crowley.

Throwing Heavyweight—1 J. C. Scully, 2 David Kennedy.

100 Yards Race, men—1 Wm. Heffernan, town, 2 J. C. Scully.

Tossing Caber—1 P. O'Connor, 2 J C Scully,

Running High Jump—1 Frank Doran, 2 Wm. Heffernan, town.

Clog Dance—1 Frank Doran,

Irish Jig—1 P. M. Twomey.

There was to be an interesting tug of war between Ennismore and "The World," which did not come off owing to the Ennismore boys backing out.

The plough drawing contest was one of those pleasant events of the picnic which made it enjoyable. The valuable plough was won by Mr. P. J. Flood, of Ennismore, he being fortunate enough to hold the lucky number 177.

Rev. Father McColl was here, there and everywhere looking after the comfort and convenience of the picnicers, and made himself a genial host wherever he went. This is the first annual picnic of Rev. Father McColl's and it could not have been a greater success. The first of September is now the established date for the Ennismore picnic, which is to be an annual affair in future.

Women's Rights and Wrongs.

A Woman Can Run a House or a Husband, But Can't Drive a Horse—But They Can Handle a Heifer as Well as the Grand Old Man.

Four young ladies with the indispensence of male assistance and escort that makes the earthly angels of the present age, chartered a livery equipage to drive to the Ennismore picnic. The horse being fresh, here was very little pushing on the lines required to cover the first six miles. Bridgenorth was reached in safety But the horse drew the line at the floating bridge and refused to go more than about fifty feet. He began to prance about and retreat with the result that the horse, carriage and its four shrieking occupants were dumped into the lake. The screams, which are said to have been heard at the Indian Village, attracted the attention of workmen in Kelly's saw mills, who gallantly drew the damp damsels from the dank depths of the drink, uninjured as to their persons, but thoroughly drenched as to their clothes, which, as well as their independence, had the starch taken out completely. The horse was out about the feet, and the vehicle somewhat damaged. The girls will have to contribute considerable pin money to pay for the repairs of the damages. They postponed their visit to the picnic till next year.

THE LADY AND THE HEIFER.

A young lady attending the Ennismore picnic yesterday made a significant experience. In evident sympathy with the Grand Old Man (for all Ennismore girls are ardent Home Rulers) she had a tussle with a heifer similar to that had by the former on the grounds of Hawarden Castle the day before. But she went one better than the G. O. M., for she downed the obstreperous bovine. The young lady was strolling in a field near the picnic grounds, when a heifer, evidently of the landlord's bailiff variety, decided to evict her. The young lady, with a promptitude and energy which presage a lively experience of home rule by a future husband, seized the heifer by the horns in like manner as the G. O. M. has seized the Home Rule bull by the horns, and, it is to be hoped, in happy augury of his success, overcame the refractory heifer and put her to flight.

Successful Sharpshooters.

More Wins for the Rangers' Rifles.

This morning the members of Peterborough contingent to the Dominion Rifle Association meeting at Ottawa, returned home. Capt. Hill and Private D. Cameron, G. Fitzgerald and C. Curtis returned to town. Private Bartlett who has got on with great success, staid over to shoot in the match for the Governor General's prize, competed for by the select hundred, composed of those making the highest scores in the grand aggregate, his excellent shooting throughout the match entitling him to rank with the Bisley hundred. In the Walker cup competition Private Bartlett tied with Captain O'Grady of the Ottawa team. Capt. Hill entered protest against the cup being awarded to Capt. O'Grady. The appeal was allowed, and in the shoot-off Private Bartlett won easily. In reference to this the Mail says:—"Private Bartlett, who won in shooting off his tie with Capt. O'Grady, has extraordinary luck in shooting off ties. He has never lost one yet. Once he won the McDougall cup, and another time he got into the Bisley hundred in the same way." He also won a prize of $10 in the grand aggregate with a score of 320, the highest being 329 Private Bartlett also pulled off a prize of $10 in the Henshaw match. The 57th Battalion team yesterday came fifth in the Gzowski military match, winning $20. The Battalion team also came well up in the Brown Shield competition, but not quite close enough to win a prize. However they may well be proud of their record this year at the Ottawa meet. They brought home a cup and nearly $200 in prize money.

"Noble. I say, Nutsford, if you knew him as I did when we were poor! Let me tell you an incident: One night when we first landed in Montreal he had just ten cents, and I had five. We were hungry as a hyena, and could not get a bun without cash—"

"Jack?"

"Terry, my boy, what is it?"

"Stop your chatter."

The hand was extended to stop the flow of praise, but Jack eluded it and continued:

"We were hungry; it was night, but we, or Terry, decided to save the money for a breakfast. We would walk all night to keep warm. Up and down we went. My hands were deep in the pockets of my coat. Terry never would put his hands in his pockets. Well, all at once a small hand was thrust out from the doorway of an empty store, and a shivering voice said:

"WHAT'S IN YOUR POCKET NOW?"

"'Only a copper, sir. I am so hungry.'

"'So am I,' said I."

"Jack, Mr. Nutsford will miss his train."

"Most happy to do so. Proceed with your story, Mr. Boyd."

"There now, Terry, the law is on my side. Well Nutsford, Terry took the little hand and drew from the darkness a little child. No wraps of any kind, and it winter. Slowly, Terry does all things slowly, he took out his pocket-book in which reposed his one ten-cent piece. He smiled like a cherub, then lay his all in the trembling hand of a hungry child, at the same time apologising that it was not more. I stood watching, holding my five cents with that despicable grip of a selfish schoolboy. Never did I think to add it to the ten, until the child had kissed Terry's hand, and disappeared down the snowy street. Then I fell to and called myself a lot of pretty names, and wound up by asking Terry into a bake shop to have a mutton pie. The girl who sold me the pies, two for five, asked if we would eat them in the back room. Of course we would. We were soon seated, and the warmth and stuffiness of that room surrounds me yet—in dreams. The pies were served hot. I passed the plate to Terry, but would you believe it, he said: 'Not at all hungry, Jack, thank you,' with the air of one who had just dined at a No. 1 club, instead of on the cake smell of a second-rate bake shop. I knew he had not tasted a morsel that day. Mutton-head that I was, I devoured the pies unaided. When finished I looked at Terry and met a smile divinely omnipotently pleased and satisfied, as if he, too, had eaten a pair of pies. Terry Denver, what a sumph you must think me, and for the first time since childhood I lay my head on the table and cried. A hand rested on my head and Terry's soothing influence was more satisfying than a dozen pies."

"'Don't, Jack,' he said, 'we are both twenty-three now. Would you have me break down? That is the way my mother sobbed when I said good-bye to her in our little kitchen years ago. That is what makes me feel sorry. Don't, Jack, my boy.'

"Noble! what insipid language to apply to Terry Denver."

"You are through, are you, Jack?"

"Terry Denver, your lack of enthusiasm is most aggravating. Say, did you ever feel your heart beat? I wish it would go quick to give you a surprise. Yes, I am through for now; but, Nutsford, that is one of a thousand such acts."

The three lunched. Nutsford left and Terry and Jack returned to their rooms. Jack ran lightly up the stairs, opened the door and laughingly bowed the millionaire in. After they were seated the irrepressible Jack began:

"Terry, are you ever going to fall in love?"

"I have, Jack, with you."

"Tut, Terry, I mean with a woman."

"I do not know, I am sure. I sincerely hope so. You know I lack concentration. I like all women too devoutly to center all in one. The effort would be too great. By the way, Jack, it might make that heart of mine beat that you say never beats. I will first have to learn concentration, will I not?"

"If it ever does come to you, Terry, it will be hard on you. Do you think you could tell a woman you loved her, or would you slowly pick her up in your arms and just appropriate her?"

"Dear old Jack."

"Terry, we have only two hours before you start for Peterboro. Will I ever see you again. I have what women call a presentiment that I will never see the old Terry again. You will be no less my friend, though."

The two talked on until the time for parting came. Jack stood holding Terry's hand while he spoke the farewell the story opens with. The train rolled in with a hissing puff. Shortly a whistle sounded that to poor Jack seemed like the triumphant scream of a victorious demon, and the train moved off, taking his only friend.

The trip to Peterboro was uneventful. It was late when the train pulled up at the station. Calling a cabman, Terry asked to be taken to the quietest hotel that he might begin his trip on the morrow, unquestioned. He selected a room and was soon asleep.

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. FIVE MEN WOUNDED.

Non-Union Workers Assailed by Strikers in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—The Northeastern switchmen's strike, which has been on since Aug. 14, resulted last night in four employes and one striker being shot. The shooting occurred near the track in the yard in Press-street, and the wounded were W. R. Smith, foreman of the switch engine gang; George Sprague, night yardmaster; H. R. Mapes, a switchman; J. F. Jones, engineer of switching engine; James Sexton, one of the striking switchmen.

Jones, Sprague, Smith and Mapes, all belonging to the night gang, were seated on the rear of a coach in the centre yard in conversation, when Sexton and a comrade appeared and began abusing them for "scabbing."

Just what followed is not very clear, except that there was some shooting and that the five above named were wounded. When the police arrived they found the four employes lying on the ground, while Sexton was found some distance away with five bullets in his body. All were taken to the hospital.

The strike grew out of the dismissal of a night yardmaster, who had been employed temporarily. When his place was made vacant the company brought one of their old employes from Meridian. The men struck because they wanted one of their number to be given the position.

Electoral Reform in N.S.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 1.—In the Queen's speech yesterday it was announced that the Government would introduce an electoral reform bill providing for a redistribution of seats, by which each district would be given a single member.

The Suspendered Girl.

A few sporadic cases of the suspendered girl, we are told by one learned in the lore of fashion, were reported in America last year, but it was not till the beginning of this summer that the suspender girl became epidemic. When the warm weather came and the projecting jacket was cast aside, the girl with suspenders that did not suspend anything was regnant everywhere. On ferry-boats and cars, at picnics and in the streets, and even at church, the girl with her "galluses" was conspicuous. To show that she had a full appreciation of the many uses to which this article could be put, one young girl in the West hanged herself with hers. Some cruel humorist adduced this sad incident as proof that women were entirely worthy to wear suspenders if they choose. But the saddest news comes from Paris, for we learn from the fashion papers that the great Worth has heard of the decorative value of suspenders, and is using them to ornament even the finest of his creations.

Meantime, in these sultry days, when men cast waistcoats aside and try to be comfortable despite the weather, they have substituted leather belts for suspenders, and thus girded up, they plod along without envy to those who have appropriated what was heretofore an exclusively masculine appendage. A visitor from Mr. Chase's Shinnecock Art School reports that he looked in vain among all the hundred girls and young women in the classes there for a single one who fastened up her belt with suspenders. What do these facts portend? On the one hand, the great majority of girls in America have adopted suspenders, and the great Worth has set the seal of his approval on them; on the other hand, many men have suspended their use, and the girls in Mr. Chase's school—girls who should know what good art was, if any ever did—have never adopted them at all. What does this portend? We do not know, but can only trust that it is nothing serious, and that with the autumn this disturbance of normal conditions will cease, and those who are wrong will see the error of their ways. It is probable, in the language of the sand lots, that "the suspendered girl must go."

GEORGE STEVENS.

THE LETTERS IN THE CASE

THE GLADSTONE-LABOUCHERE CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Labouchere Declines to Accept Gladstone's Denial, Avers That It Was at the Instigation of the Queen That He Was Not Named for Office in the Ministry.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—From an advance copy of Truth the correspondence between Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Labouchere in regard to the latter's taking office in the new Ministry has been obtained.

The correspondence is published by Truth, with the consent of Mr. Gladstone.

It opens with Mr. Gladstone's letter, stating that he alone was responsible for the recommendations submitted to the Queen respecting the question of tenure of politics office, and that while aware of the high position which Mr. Labouchere had created for himself in Parliament he had arrived at the conclusion that there were circumstances in his case which rendered it unfit that he should ask leave to submit Mr. Labouchere's name for political office.

Mr. Labouchere, in reply to this letter, stated that while he thanked Mr. Gladstone for the kindly tone of his letter he had never asked, either directly or indirectly, for any post in the Administration.

He perceived the difficulty of Mr. Gladstone's position, and, while he could not admit that a sovereign had the right to impose any veto on a premier selected to form an administration, he admired Mr. Gladstone's chivalry in covering the royal action by assuming the constitutional responsibility of a proceeding in which he retained the conviction that Mr. Gladstone was not a free agent.

Mr. Gladstone, writing from Hawarden on Aug. 25, states that at no time and in no form has he had from Mr. Labouchere a signification or desire for office.

He agrees with Mr. Labouchere that men in political office are servants of the country as well as of the crown.

The correspondence closed with Mr. Labouchere's formal acknowledgment of Mr. Gladstone's letter.

Commenting on the matter, Mr. Labouchere says that he proved constructively last week the fact of the Queen's interference, and adds:

"I now say in the most unqualified manner that I know she did interfere. Mr. Gladstone is perfectly correct in stating that he did not ask my leave to submit my name to the Queen."

Gladstone's Life in Danger.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Mr. Gladstone was knocked down by a heifer in the park at Hawarden this afternoon, but managed to rise and get behind a tree. He dodged the animal for a while and it finally ran off. Mr. Gladstone was severely shaken but otherwise uninjured.

When Mr. Gladstone reached home and related his story a number of men set out to capture the heifer. It was pursued for some distance, and as it showed fight when overtaken it was shot to death.

The Victory Was the Other Way.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegram Company says that the claim put forward by the Sultan's troops that they were victorious in the fighting that occurred with the Anghera tribesmen yesterday is entirely unfounded. Instead of the Sultan's forces having defeated the rebels, it appears that they were defeated with heavy loss. It is said now that 230 of the Sultan's troops fell into the hands of the tribesmen and that the latter's loss was very small.

The troops are again leaving Tangier and another battle is expected.

The French Government has applied to the Sultan for permission to establish a consulate at Fez.

Murder in a Street Car

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, Tex., Sept. 1.—Among the passengers in a crowded street car to-day was a young girl. A man, appearing to be laboring under strong mental excitement, boarded the car and entered into a conversation with her. It soon developed into an angry altercation.

Suddenly he ordered her to get off the car with him, and on her refusing whipped out a revolver and emptied its six chambers into her body.

The passengers were panic-stricken, and made no effort to save the girl or apprehend the murderer, who, reloading his pistol, dismounted and attempted to escape, discharging his weapon right and left.

He succeeded in putting to flight two mounted policemen, but after a desperate struggle he was overpowered, but not before he had killed one gendarme and seriously wounded another.

Attempt to Rob a Bank.

CAYUGA, Cal., Sept. 1.—A daring attempt to rob the Bank of Cayucos was frustrated yesterday morning early. One of the robbers and Deputy Sheriff A. C. McLeod were shot. The robber will probably die, but McLeod is not seriously hurt.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood diseases.

Diarrhœa and Vomiting.

GENTLEMEN,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhœa and vomiting. The pain was almost unbearable and I thought I could not live till morning, but after I had taken the third dose of Fowler's Wild Strawberry the vomiting ceased, and after the sixth dose the diarrhœa stopped, and I have not had the least symptom of it since.

dw MRS. ALICE HOPKINS, Hamilton, Ont.

Ladies appreciate Anti Dandruff from the fact that it not only thoroughly removes Dandruff with three applications, but stops falling of the hair, restores fading hair to its original color, and makes it soft and pliable without leaving any indication of a dressing being used. Clear as Crystal, clean to use, it is a valuable toilet preparation. dw

The Childrens Friend.

GENTLEMEN,—Last summer our children were very bad with summer complaint, and the only remedy that did them any good was Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. We used twelve bottles during the warm weather and would not be without it at five times the cost.

dw JAS HEALEY, New Edinburgh, Ont.

Baby was Sick.

DEAR SIRS,—My baby was very sick with diarrhœa, and everything we tried failed. But on trying Dr. Fowlers Extract of Wild Strawberry we found it gave prompt relief and very soon cured him completely.

"Dear me, these are the most beautiful photographs I ever saw."

"Yes, they certainly are very fine and elegantly finished, besides, they are permanent."

"Do they cost more than before."

"No, not to us, though the material is much more expensive, yet Mr. Sprouls believes in having the best obtainable. He says nothing is too good for his patrons, and these certainly bear out his statements; and his studio, is so convenient—no stairs to climb yourself, nor have you any fear about the children."

"Yes, I have heard about the ground floor studio being so convenient,—but these photographs."

"Will you come down with me to-morrow to Charlotte street? I must have some."

"Yes, that is the only place where such work is made."

SIR JOHN ABBOTT AILING

HE COMPLAINS OF GREAT MENTAL FATIGUE.

His Excursion Down the St. Lawrence Was Beneficial Bodily, But Otherwise He Derived No Improvement From It —He Will Go to Ottawa in a Day or Two.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Premier Abbott was interviewed at St. Anne, his country residence, yesterday. He had just arrived back from his trip down the St. Lawrence. This trip was intended to have lasted a couple of weeks longer, but on account of the burning of the Metropolitan Iron Mills in this city, in which his family is largely interested, it was suddenly curtailed. Sir John looks well. He has gained in flesh and is looking much ruddier, and apparently in much better health, but, while acknowledging that his bodily health is far from poor, complains of lack of mental force.

"My general health," he said, "is fairly good, but I do not seem to recover from my weakness or regain my capacity for mental work. My general health was benefited by the excursion down the river, but I do not think my capacity for mental or sedentary work was at all improved, but rather the reverse. The least discussion or even ordinary conversation for any length of time not only fatigues me but produces extreme weakness."

He said that he would run up to Ottawa in a day or two to attend to some pressing matters of business.

On account of his absence of three weeks from the Capital he was unable, he said, to say anything about the canal toll question beyond that the Government's late order in council was made out on lines that did not pledge Canada to any definite policy until it was known what steps the American Government proposed taking.

He said that the question of an early session of the House had not yet been discussed, but it would probably be held at a date to prevent its running into the summer, as it has done in the past two years.

RECIPROCITY UNDER DISCUSSION.

There Are Three Hundred Delegates in Attendance.

GRAND FORKS, S.D., Sept. 2.—The Reciprocity Convention was called yesterday with 300 delegates in their seats. George R. Clifford, President of the Grand Forks Chamber of Commerce, delivered the address of welcome. The convention is a representative body of business men. Delegates from Manitoba are present.

THE C.P.R. TAKES HOLD.

A Line of Fast Steamers to Great Britain to Be Established.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The meeting in London this week of Van Horne, Angus and Osler attracts much attention in the city. Mr. Van Horne's visit is officially announced as a short holiday, though it is expected that he will try to put the fast Atlantic service on a sure footing. There is little hope now that the Allans or any other existing lines will take up the matter seriously. Moreover, outsiders here have not shown any desire to embark capital in the scheme.

The impression is that the Canadian Pacific must itself assume the direct auspices of the service.

It is hoped that the British Treasury will give more than the usual war cruiser allowance to the vessels engaged in a fast Atlantic service, owing to the great advantage it would be in the way of completing the now acknowledged new transport route to the east. This belief is strengthened by the fact that the Admiralty has renewed its expression of satisfaction with the Canadian Pacific route for the transport of marines and blue jackets.

The crew of H.M.S. Hyacinthe will recommission at Esquimalt in October. Parties of 170 sailors, with their officers, will be exchanged between England and Esquimalt via the Canadian Pacific. The Allan Line hoped that this use of the route would help the movement for Imperial aid toward the Atlantic service.

YANKEE V. SPANIARD.

The Former Too Grasping in Its Trade Treaty Proposition.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A despatch to The Central News from Madrid says that in the negotiations between Spain and the United States for a commercial treaty Mr. Foster, the American Secretary of State, has asked that there be included among the articles favorably treated on their introduction into Cuba a number of others which are produced in Cuba as well as in the United States. Senor Robledo, the Minister of the Colonies, has refused to grant the request, hence there is a hitch in the negotiations.

THE SITUATION AT THE SOO.

The Retaliatory Law Was Not Enforced Yesterday.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 2.—The order of President Harrison to collect tolls from Canadian tonnage reads that from and after the 1st September tolls are to be collected. Yesterday the Canadian steamer Rosedale was offered a cargo of coal in Buffalo for Fort William, but would not take it on account of the canal toll here. The Macost, an American steam barge, took the load and locked up with the Rosedale yesterday. If the Rosedale had known the tolls were not to be collected on the first she would probably have taken the load. There is little or no interest in the toll question here. The following Canadian boats passed through the canal yesterday: Athabasca, Rosedale, Ark, Myles.

Too Heavy to Float.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Edmund A. Tronton of No. 24 South William-street filed a libel of $34,000 against the North German Lloyd steamship Saale in the United States District Court yesterday. Mr. Tronton was consignee of the Norwegian bark Tordenskjold, which sailed from Dublin on July 5 with 3000 barrels of stout and 300 barrels of ginger ale, shipped by E. & J. Burke. The goods were valued at $34,000. The Tordenskjold was run into and sunk by the steamship Saale, negligence of the officers of the latter vessel being the alleged cause of the accident.

An Aerial Monster.

JOLIETTE, Que., Sept. 2.—While Joseph Lassalle, of Ste. Emilie, a few miles north of this place, was out hunting, he saw a bird of immense size, and with quick aim brought it down. Its wings measured 16 feet from tip to tip. Its head is that of a monkey, while the feet are similar to those of a deer; there are feathers on the lower part of the body, and it has a cat's tail. This monster weighs almost 200 pounds, and is now on exhibition at the residence of Mr. Alf. Charland in this town.

The Captain Went Ashore.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Considerable excitement was occasioned yesterday by the report that the captain of the plague ship Moravia went ashore on Staten Island Wednesday. Health Officer Jenkins acknowledged that such was the fact and said he immediately ordered the captain back to his ship. Dr. Jenkins stated, however, that the captain had had no intercourse with the infected part of the ship.

A Strike Ended.

PALMER, Mass., Sept. 2.—The quarrymen at the Flint Granite Company's works at Monson, who were locked out several months ago and refused to accept the terms offered by the Manufacturers' Association, acknowledged themselves beaten yesterday and applied individually for their old places.

The Unconquerable Juniors.

They Defeat Norwood at Lacrosse Yesterday by a Score of 2 Goals to 1.

The junior lacrosse team of Peterborough went to Norwood yesterday afternoon to play the lacrosse club of that village. The game took place in the Agricultural Park and was witnessed by a large number of spectators. The Juniors maintained their record and in an exciting and well played game won by a score of two goals to one. Following are the names of the players:—

Peterborough.		Norwood.
F Dobbin	goal	S Hendren
J Muir	point	F Stephenson / H Pearse
W Belsap	cover point	J J [illegible]
H Hughes	1st defence	R Hall
J McDonough	2nd defence	W Clare
W Borland	3rd defence	F Henry
J Bagley	centre	L McGregor
E Whitehair	1st home	J Calder
R Glover	2nd home	E Fraser
Geo Lipsett	3rd home	B Hendren
G Heap	outside	T Kirkpatrick
F Long	inside	T Graham
W Minors	field capt	R Paterson
G Strain	umpire	J McCaskey

Referee, W J Stephenson.

The first game was taken in 8½ minutes by Heap, who scored for Peterborough in fine style. The ball was dropped near the flags and was put through in a scrimmage around the goal. This quick work rather took the Norwood boys by surprise, and after a delay of 15 minutes, on account of F. Stephenson becoming ill, play was again resumed. The home boys had the better of it all through, although the grounds were rough and thirsty. It was a contest of clever stick handling, fast playing, close checking and fierce scrimmages. The play grew hotter and more exciting every minute, and at the end of 15 minutes, the Juniors triumphed again by R Glover's clever drop through the flags. The third game was taken by Norwood in a difficult match of 29 minutes' duration. Dobbin stopped an aim for goal but in releasing the rubber from his stick, it caught on the guard and Calder knocked it through for Norwood. In the remaining 23 minutes play, neither side scored, although the struggle was keen and exciting; and thus the game ended two goals to one in the home team's favour. The struggle lasted 1½ hours.

Bridgenorth.

A Successful September Lawn Social.

A decidedly successful lawn social was given on the beautiful grounds of Mr. W. B. Kelly's residence, on Thursday evening, Sept. 1st, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Bridgenorth Methodist church. The finely illuminated grounds attracted a large attendance of pleasure seekers who were well rewarded for their presence. Refreshments of excellent quality and generous quantity were served by the ladies, and an interesting programme of intellectual entertainment carried out under the chairmanship of Rev. Mr. Raley. The programme consisted of a recitation, by Rev. Mr. Beyer, of Harvey; vocal duet, by Misses Glass and Pollard, Peterborough; a reading, by Rev. Mr. Bartlett; an amusing Indian song and chorus, in the Ojibcock language, by members of the Tum-Tum Club camped on Jack's Island; a vocal solo, by Miss Tennie Fitzgerald; an exhibition of clubswinging by Mr. Beavis, of Bridgenorth; a vocal solo, by Rev. Mr. Bartlett; and a recitation, by Mr. Lewis. The social was in every way a gratifying success, and a substantial sum was added to the funds of the church.

CONVENTION OF THE C.M.B.A.

The Next Annual Meeting to Be Held at St. John, N.B.

HAMILTON, Sept. 3.—The Grand Council of Canada of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association brought its labors to a close for this year yesterday, after a busy but tedious all-night session. The balloting for officers took up a lot of time, particularly in the case of trustees and representatives to the Supreme Council. The complete list of officers is:

Archbishop John Walsh, Toronto, Grand Spiritual Advisor.
John A. MacCabe, LL.D., Ottawa, Chancellor.
O. K. Fraser, Brockville, Grand President.
Judge Landry, St. John, N.B., First Vice-President.
J. G. Morrison, Montreal, Second Vice-President.
W. J. McKee, Windsor, Treasurer (re-elected).
Samuel R. Brown, London, Secretary.
Cornelius O'Brien, Montreal, Marshal.
E. J. Reilly, Thorold, Guard.
Trustees—Lasalle Gravelle, Ottawa, elected to fill the place vacated by Mr. O. K. Fraser, for two years: Rev. Father Bardeau, Cayuga, and P. J. O'Keefe, St. John, N.B. elected for four years: T. T. Tansey, Montreal, and Father Tiernan, London, two years yet to serve.
Finance Committee—John Ronan, Hamilton; J. G. Morrison, Quebec City; P. F. Boyle, London.
Representatives to Supreme Council—D. J. O'Connor, Stratford; R. J. Dowdall, Almonte; J. L. Carleton, St. John, N.B.
Committee on Laws—Judge Rouleau, Calgary; Thomas P. Coffee, Guelph; J. L. Carleton, St. John, N.B.

It was decided to hold the next convention in the city of St. John, N.B., in 1894.

Died in Jail.

BRAMPTON, Sept. 3.—William Campbell, who may be described as a traveling tailor, died in jail here yesterday. He informed Jailer Modeland that he conducted a tailoring business in Brampton 40 years ago. He is fairly well known in these parts, having worked with Mr. William Sims at Meadowvale and Norval at different times in the past 15 years. He is described as an honest and inoffensive man, whose only fault was a too frequent indulgence in strong drink, which was the cause of his ruin. He leaves a family of well-to-do sons, who would have provided for him had he been contented to allow them to do so. He was admitted to jail here 15 days ago on account of illness, from the effects of which he never recovered. He was 68 years of age.

The base burner stove, the telephone and other improvements of a like kind have worked a domestic and social revolution within the last few years. Among these improvements it is not unfair to include the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco. The great majority of men smoke tobacco; have done so for centuries past and will continue to do so. It is important, therefore, that they should smoke the best quality of the article. That is what they are supplied with in the "Myrtle Navy." All smokers who have used it know that its flavor cannot be surpassed, that its quality is always uniform and that the only care they have to exercise in its purchase is to see that the trade mark T. & B. is stamped on the plug.

SIR DONALD SMITH HOME

HE WOULD NOT ACCEPT THE DOMINION PREMIERSHIP.

Canadian Affairs, He Says, Are Attracting More Attention in England—Every Confidence is Felt in the Future of the Dominion.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—"Absurd" was Sir Donald Smith's comment on being informed yesterday morning by a reporter that gossip mentioned his name as successor of Sir John Abbott as Premier of Canada, and then he laughed heartily. "I am too old a man to undertake any such responsibility as that, and I am not at all ambitious in that direction."

He had never sought to enter politics of his own free will. There were good men in the Government, such as Sir John Thompson, who would make a far better premier than ever he could.

Canadian affairs, he said, were coming to the front in England and there was every confidence evinced in the future of the country. As evidence of this Sir Donald referred to the avidity with which the recent C.P.R. loan of two millions was taken up. The experiment of transporting troops to and from the East had been acknowledged a grand success in England, and would no doubt be taken full advantage of in the future. Sir Donald regards the canal retaliation as anything but serious. He says it seems to be pretty well understood in the United States what the action of the President is intended for.

Sir Donald will remain in the city for some time, devoting his time to business affairs, of which, as he states, he has still a lot. Lady Smith will remain in Europe for the present.

A BAD MAN'S LAST STAGE.

A Man-killer Put Out of the Way by the Executioner.

WISE COURT HOUSE, W. Va., Sept. 3.—Talton Hall, the slayer of 19 men, slept but little Thursday night, and when the sun rose yesterday he was wakeful and nervous. He was not defiant nor swaggering as yesterday, but a childish petulant coward. A tempting breakfast prepared by his sister was placed before him about 7 o'clock, but he refused to eat and called for whisky. Guards were placed around the jail and in the vicinity of the Court House. All-night outposts of three men were stationed on each road leading into the town during the night, and every man who came in was searched, and if found to carry a Winchester or pistol such weapons were confiscated. The same plan was followed all this morning and before 12 o'clock the guards were in possession of sufficient weapons to equip a regiment. By 10 o'clock this morning there were from 3000 to 4000 people in the village. Father Luckie entered the cell about 8 and remained with the doomed man until the last minute. The drop fell at 12.27 p.m. Hall died in 4.17 minutes from the time the drop fell. He made a speech on the scaffold. His neck was broken. No attempt was made by his friends to rescue him.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—A Church-street electric car at 2.30 yesterday afternoon ran over and fatally injured Miss Hannah Heron, aged 40, daughter of Charles Heron of Scarboro. The accident occurred at the Isabella and Church-street crossing, and diagonally across from the house of the victim's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Heron, which she had just left in order to catch the car.

Mr. S. H. Wheeler, line inspector for the Toronto Electric Light Company, says: "I was coming up the west side of Church-street, south of Isabella, when I saw a lady on the southeast corner start to come across. She walked slowly as if unwell or frightened. Indeed so apparent was this that I noticed it, though I was quite a distance down the street. She had an eye on a south-bound trolley car, and I concluded she wished to board it. She cleared the tracks before the car reached her, but the driver had been ringing the alarm vigorously, and I believe had lessened speed. As soon as the lady got over the last rail she halted as if bewildered or frightened and fell, her feet alighting across the west rail of the track. Before the driver could reverse the car and bring it to a standstill the wheels passed over her."

From another eye-witness it was learned that the woman was not standing on the track, but at the side of it, and as the car passed her she evidently tried to board, not knowing that there was a gate on the front end of the car, and missing her hold fell under the wheels.

The unfortunate woman was found under the centre of the car, only one wheel having passed over her. Both legs were crushed to a pulp, and terribly cut and torn. Dr. Atherton was summoned, and Miss Heron, who was conscious, was removed to her aunt's house, where she died at 8.15 o'clock, six hours after the accident. Dr. Atherton stated that the fact that Miss Heron was in delicate health at the time of the accident precluded the possibility of her recovery from her terrible injuries.

An inquest will be held by Dr. Johnson, coroner, to-day.

Before Mr. Winchester, in chambers yesterday, an application was made for particulars of the statement of claim in the action of Hawthorn v. The St. Clair Tunnel Company. The action is brought by Jane L. Hawthorn, the administratrix of the estate of the late Conductor G. H. Hawthorn, who was killed in the St. Clair Tunnel, and asks $25,000 damages. The plaintiff alleges that the accident was caused by reason of the defective construction of the tunnel which caused trains to break apart at a certain point while passing through. The train on which Conductor Hawthorn was broke and he was left on the hind part, which remained in the tunnel, and was suffocated, it is alleged, by gas before he could be rescued. An order was made directing the delivery of particulars after the examination for discovery of the defendant's officers.

An application was made to Chief Justice Galt for the admission to bail of Frank Wilson, the Keswick man, who is held on the charge of manslaughter. No order was made, the Attorney-General not having been notified.

Sir Henry Tyler, President of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, reached Little York yesterday. He remained there all night in his private car, preferring the quiet of the eastern suburb to the noise and bustle of the city.

Failure of a London Bank.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The London & General Bank (limited) of No. 20, Budge Row, Canon-street, E.C., has suspended payment. The bank was founded in 1862, with a capital of £1,000,000. To Sept. 30, 1891, the sum of £417,770 had been subscribed to the capital. In 1891, the bank paid a dividend of three per cent. The failure has created no excitement here. J. Spencer Balfour, M.P., is chairman of the Board of Directors.

The directors of the bank anticipate that the depositors will receive 15 shillings to the pound.

SYMPATHY FOR THE GIRL

LIZZIE BORDEN SENT ON TO THE GRAND JURY.

Tears in Court When the Commitment Was Announced—She is "Probably Guilty," Says the Court—The Accused Breaks Into Tears—Her Removal to Prison.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 3.—Lizzie Borden stood up before a crowded court room yesterday afternoon and received her commitment to jail to await trial for the murder of her father and stepmother. The venerable Judge Blaisdell was weeping, every person in the judicial chamber was straining his ears to catch His Honor's broken sentences. Women's eyes were suffused with tears. Lizzie Borden alone was calm. Gray-bearded Clerk Leonard read the sentence of the court to the prisoner, who was told to stand up.

"Having been charged with homicide in the killing of Andrew J. Borden on Aug. 4 last, and having entered a plea of not guilty the decision of the court is that you are probably guilty, and that you be confined in the county jail at Taunton until the first Monday in November,"

Those were the words of the clerk. Lizzi looked him steadily in the face as he delivered them. Her face was as impassive as marble. It was a little pale, but not blanched. The color that had mantled her cheek earlier in the day had receded and her complexion was again its natural pallid hue. There was no heaving of the breast. The woman was absolutely emotionless.

Her wonderful nerve was never better shown than as she stood there before that crowded and curious court-room and realized that she must be tried for her life for two of the foulest murders ever committed.

Lizzie Sheds Tears in Court.

That nerve had failed her before to-day, however. For the first time in a week of the most trying situations, she broke down this morning. Lizzie Borden, the sphinx, positively cried in the court-room. There was nothing hysterical about it, and the emotion was soon suppressed.

The tears dried on eyelids, the lips stopped twitching and this marvel of womanhood was her cold, passive self. It was when her counsel, Andrew J. Jennings, was pleading for her release and exculpation from the horrible accusation lodged against her. She gave three distinct evidences of deep emotion, but only once did the tears well up in the eyes and trickle down her cheeks.

The first exhibition was when the lawyer said the murderer must have been insane or a criminal with a heart black as hell. The accused daughter's lips parted, she gasped and fought to master her feelings. She had barely succeeded when the lawyer described the wounds upon her father.

"These wounds speak for themselves," he said.

Lizzie's head fell on her bosom, a sob shook her frame and she placed her handkerchief on her eyes. Her other counsel, Mr. Adams, took a seat by her side and she became composed again with an effort.

Both Men and Women Wept.

When the tears finally came at the peroration of her lawyer, Mr. Adams' eyes were also suffused and many of the women in the court room cried at the close of his speech. Mr. Jennings also shed tears that he had kept back with difficulty when he was pleading.

Mr. Jennings made his strongest points on the absence of a blood-stained weapon and bloody clothes.

Emma Borden did not attend court in the forenoon, but she appeared after recess. She did not sit with Lizzie. Only the Rev. Mr. Buck sat by the prisoner.

Removed to Prison.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 3.—Lizzie Borden was taken from the central station to the Taunton jail yesterday afternoon. She will remain there until the sitting of the grand jury in November. She was accompanied by Marshal Hilliard, Detective Seaver and Rev. Mr. Buck. She was not disturbed in the least by the gaze of a curious crowd, and, if anything, she looked firmer and more contented than she has appeared since the hearing was opened.

Emma to Administer the Estate.

TAUNTON, Mass., Sept. 3.—In the Probate Court Friday Emma Borden was appointed administratrix of the estate of Andrew J. Borden, with a bond of $50,000.

THE FIGHTS AT NEW ORLEANS.

The Betting on the Contests—Sullivan a Favorite.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—The morning trains Friday brought many visitors from the north and east to witness the big prize fights next week, and from now on every train will be crowded. A party of sports came in this morning from Duluth and another train from Albany, N. Y. Steady betting continues at the pool rooms and the two institutions of the kind stand to lose a good deal on the result of the fight. For instance they are ready to pay out $3640 on the Corbett, Skelly and McAuliffe combination, $5000 on the Corbett, Skelly and Meyer combination and $4200 on the Sullivan, Dixon and Meyer combination, which seems to be the favorite. Corbett, Dixon and Meyer will probably go to the post at 4 to 1.

At Lamothe's pool room this morning a new system of betting was started. It was $2 mutuals, which many people are playing. The odds posted at the start at 11 o'clock were 4 to 1 Meyers, 3 to 1 McAuliffe, 5 to 1 Dixon, 6 to 1 Skelly, and even money Sullivan and 2 to 1 Corbett.

A Judge Accused of Theft.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Sept. 3.—Judge William R. Blaine, the ordinary of Glynn County and one of the most popular men in this State, is in a prison cell on a charge of robbery. He was caught stealing money from the safe of Grocer M. J. Michelson to-day. The merchant was absent from the store at the time. He has lost nearly $2000 during the past six months and he set a trap for the thief. A policeman was secreted in the store. The merchant went out, leaving the outer door open. Judge Blaine walked in soon after Michelson left. He went to the safe and took a handful of silver from the cash drawer. He was at once taken into custody by the policeman on watch.

The Wrecked City of Toledo.

MANISTEE, Mich., Sept. 3.—Two tugs with hawsers and a diver are at work on the schooner City of Toledo trying to right her. Her anchor is holding her in a capsized position. The body of Lizzie McMillan, the captain's daughter, was found yesterday morning seven miles north of here. None of the others have been seen.

The Unconquerable Juniors.

They Defeat Norwood at Lacrosse Yesterday by a Score of 2 Goals to 1.

The junior lacrosse team of Peterborough went to Norwood yesterday afternoon to play the lacrosse club of that village. The game took place in the Agricultural Park and was witnessed by a large number of spectators. The Juniors maintained their record and in an exciting and well played game won by a score of two goals to one. Following are the names of the players:—

Peterborough.		Norwood.
F Dobbin	goal	S Hendren
J Mein	point	F Stephenson / H Pearce
W Belnap	cover point	J J [illegible]
H Hughes	1st defence	R Hill
J McDonough	2nd defence	W Cole
W Borland	3rd defence	F Henry
J Bagley	centre	L McGregor
E Whitehair	1st home	J Calder
R Glover	2nd home	E Fraser
Geo Lipsett	3rd home	B Hendren
G Heap	outside	T Kirkpatrick
F Lear	inside	T Graham
W Minore	field capt.	R [illegible]ereon
G Strain	umpire	J McCoskery

Referee, W J Stephenson.

The first game was taken in 8½ minutes by Heap, who scored for Peterborough in fine style. The ball was dropped near the flags and was put through in a scrimmage around the goal. This quick work rather took the Norwood boys by surprise, and after a delay of 15 minutes, on account of F. Stephenson becoming ill, play was again resumed. The home boys had the better of it all through, although the grounds were rough and thirsty. It was a contest of clever stick handling, fast playing, close checking and fierce scrimmages. The play grew hotter and more exciting every minute, and at the end of 15 minutes, the Juniors triumphed again by R Glover's clever drop through the flags. The third game was taken by Norwood in a difficult match of 29 minutes' duration. Dobbin stopped an aim for goal but in releasing the rubber from his stick, it caught on the guard and Calder knocked it through for Norwood. In the remaining 23 minutes play, neither side scored, although the struggle was keen and exciting; and thus the game ended two goals to one in the home team's favour. The struggle lasted 1½ hours.

A Successful September Lawn Social.

A decidedly successful lawn social was given on the beautiful grounds of Mr. W. B. Kelly's residence, on Thursday evening, Sept. 1st, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Bridgenorth Methodist church. The finely illuminated grounds attracted a large attendance of pleasure seekers who were well rewarded for their presence. Refreshments of excellent quality and generous quantity were served by the ladies, and an interesting programme of intellectual entertainment carried out under the chairmanship of Rev. Mr. Raley. The programme consisted of a recitation, by Rev. Mr. Boyce, of Harvey; vocal duet, by Misses Glass and Pollard, Peterborough; a reading, by Rev. Mr. Bartlett; an amusing Indian song and chorus, in the Chicock language, by members of the Tum-Tum Club camped on Jack's Island; a vocal solo, by Miss Tennie Fitzgerald; an exhibition of clubswinging by Mr. Beavis, of Bridgenorth; a vocal solo, by Rev. Mr. Bartlett; and a recitation, by Mr Lewis. The social was in every way a gratifying success, and a substantial sum was added to the funds of the church.

"I am too old a man to undertake any such responsibility as that, and I am not at all ambitious in that direction."

He had never sought to enter politics of his own free will. There were good men in the Government, such as Sir John Thompson, who would make a far better premier than ever he could.

Canadian affairs, he said, were coming to the front in England and there was every confidence evinced in the future of the country. As evidence of this Sir Donald referred to the avidity with which the recent C.P.R. loan of two millions was taken up. The experiment of transporting troops to and from the East had been acknowledged a grand success in England, and would no doubt be taken full advantage of in the future. Sir Donald regards the canal retaliation as anything but serious. He says it seems to be pretty well understood in the United States what the action of the President is intended for.

Sir Donald will remain in the city for some time, devoting his time to business affairs, of which, as he states, he has still a lot. Lady Smith will remain in Europe for the present.

A BAD MAN'S LAST STAGE.

A Man-killer Put Out of the Way by the Executioner.

WISE COURT HOUSE, W. Va., Sept. 3.—Talton Hall, the slayer of 19 men, slept but little Thursday night, and when the sun rose yesterday he was wakeful and nervous. He was not defiant nor swaggering as yesterday, but a childish petulant coward. A tempting breakfast prepared by his sister was placed before him about 7 o'clock, but he refused to eat and called for whisky. Guards were placed around the jail and in the vicinity of the Court House. All-night outposts of three men were stationed on each road leading into the town during the night, and every man who came in was searched, and if found to carry a Winchester or pistol such weapons were confiscated. The same plan was followed all this morning and before 12 o'clock the guards were in possession of sufficient weapons to equip a regiment. By 10 o'clock this morning there were from 3000 to 4000 people in the village. Father Luckie entered the cell about 8 and remained with the doomed man until the last minute. The drop fell at 12.27 p.m. Hall died in 4.17 minutes from the time the drop fell. He made a speech on the scaffold. His neck was broken. No attempt was made by his friends to rescue him.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—A Church-street electric car at 2.30 yesterday afternoon ran over and fatally injured Miss Hannah Heron, aged 40, daughter of Charles Heron of Scarboro. The accident occurred at the Isabella and Church-street crossing, and diagonally across from the house of the victim's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Heron, which she had just left in order to catch the car.

Mr. S. H. Wheeler, line inspector for the Toronto Electric Light Company, says: "I was coming up the west side of Church-street, south of Isabella, when I saw a lady on the southeast corner start to come across. She walked slowly as if unwell or frightened. Indeed so apparent was this that I noticed it, though I was quite a distance down the street. She had an eye on a south-bound trolley car, and I concluded she wished to board it. She cleared the tracks before the car reached her, but the driver had been ringing the alarm vigorously, and I believe had lessened speed. As soon as the lady got over the last rail she halted as if bewildered or frightened and fell, her feet alighting across the west rail of the track. Before the driver could reverse the car and bring it to a standstill the wheels passed over her."

From another eye-witness it was learned that the woman was not standing on the track, but at the side of it, and as the car passed her she evidently tried to board, not knowing that there was a gate on the front end of the car, and missing her hold fell under the wheels.

The unfortunate woman was found under the centre of the car, only one wheel having passed over her. Both legs were crushed to a pulp, and terribly cut and torn. Dr. Atherton was summoned, and Miss Heron, who was conscious, was removed to her aunt's house, where she died at 8.15 o'clock, six hours after the accident. Dr. Atherton stated that the fact that Miss Heron was in delicate health at the time of the accident precluded the possibility of her recovery from her terrible injuries.

An inquest will be held by Dr. Johnson, coroner, to-day.

Before Mr. Winchester, in chambers yesterday, an application was made for particulars of the statement of claim in the action of Hawthorn v. The St. Clair Tunnel Company. The action is brought by Jane L. Hawthorn, the administratrix of the estate of the late Conductor G. H. Hawthorn, who was killed in the St. Clair Tunnel, and asks $25,000 damages. The plaintiff alleges that the accident was caused by reason of the defective construction of the tunnel which caused trains to break apart at a certain point while passing through. The train on which Conductor Hawthorn was broke and he was left on the hind part, which remained in the tunnel, and was suffocated, it is alleged, by gas before he could be rescued. An order was made directing the delivery of particulars after the examination for discovery of the defendant's officers.

An application was made to Chief Justice Galt for the admission to bail of Frank Wilson, the Keswick man, who is held on the charge of manslaughter. No order was made, the Attorney-General not having been notified.

Sir Henry Tyler, President of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, reached Little York yesterday. He remained there all night in his private car, preferring the quiet of the eastern suburb to the noise and bustle of the city.

Failure of a London Bank.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The London & General Bank (limited) of No. 20, Budge Row, Canon-street, E.C., has suspended payment. The bank was founded in 1882, with a capital of £1,000,000. To Sept. 30, 1891, the sum of £477,770 had been subscribed to the capital. In 1891, the bank paid a dividend of three per cent. The failure has created no excitement here. J. Spencer Balfour, M.P., is chairman of the Board of Directors.

The directors of the bank anticipate that the depositors will receive 15 shillings to the pound.

SYMPATHY FOR THE GIRL

LIZZIE BORDEN SENT ON TO THE GRAND JURY.

Tears in Court When the Commitment Was Announced—She is "Probably Guilty," Says the Court—The Accused Breaks Into Tears—Her Removal to Prison.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 3.—Lizzie Borden stood up before a crowded court room yesterday afternoon and received her commitment to jail to await trial for the murder of her father and stepmother. The venerable Judge Blaisdell was weeping, every person in the judicial chamber was straining his ears to catch His Honor's broken sentences. Women's eyes were suffused with tears. Lizzie Borden alone was calm. Gray-bearded Clerk Leonard read the sentence of the court to the prisoner, who was told to stand up.

"Having been charged with homicide in the killing of Andrew J. Borden on Aug. 4 last, and having entered a plea of not guilty the decision of the court is that you are probably guilty, and that you be confined in the county jail at Taunton until the first Monday in November."

Those were the words of the clerk. Lizzi looked him steadily in the face as he delivered them. Her face was as impassive as marble. It was a little pale, but not blanched. The color that had mantled her cheek earlier in the day had receded and her complexion was again its natural pallid hue. There was no heaving of the breast. The woman was absolutely emotionless.

Her wonderful nerve was never better shown than as she stood there before that crowded and curious court-room and realized that she must be tried for her life for two of the foulest murders ever committed.

Lizzie Sheds Tears in Court.

That nerve had failed her before to-day, however. For the first time in a week of the most trying situations, she broke down this morning. Lizzie Borden, the sphinx, positively cried in the court-room. There was nothing hysterical about it, and the emotion was soon suppressed.

The tears dried on eyelids, the lips stopped twitching and this marvel of womanhood was her cold, passive self. It was when her counsel, Andrew J. Jennings, was pleading for her release and exculpation from the horrible accusation lodged against her. She gave three distinct evidences of deep emotion, but only once did the tears well up in the eyes and trickle down her cheeks.

The first exhibition was when the lawyer said the murderer must have been insane or a criminal with a heart black as hell. The accused daughter's lips parted, she gasped and fought to master her feelings. She had barely succeeded when the lawyer described the wounds upon her father.

"These wounds speak for themselves," he said.

Lizzie's head fell on her bosom, a sob shook her frame and she placed her handkerchief on her eyes. Her other counsel, Mr. Adams, took a seat by her side and she became composed again with an effort.

Both Men and Women Wept.

When the tears finally came at the peroration of her lawyer, Mr. Adams' eyes were also suffused and many of the women in the court room cried at the close of his speech. Mr. Jennings also shed tears that he had kept back with difficulty when he was pleading.

Mr. Jennings made his strongest points on the absence of a blood-stained weapon and bloody clothes.

Emma Borden did not attend court in the forenoon, but she appeared after recess. She did not sit with Lizzie. Only the Rev. Mr. Buck sat by the prisoner.

Removed to Prison.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 3.—Lizzie Borden was taken from the central station to the Taunton jail yesterday afternoon. She will remain there until the sitting of the grand jury in November. She was accompanied by Marshal Hilliard, Detective Seaver and Rev. Mr. Buck. She was not disturbed in the least by the gaze of a curious crowd, and, if anything, she looked firmer and more contented than she has appeared since the hearing was opened.

Emma to Administer the Estate.

TAUNTON, Mass., Sept. 3.—In the Probate Court Friday Emma Borden was appointed administratrix of the estate of Andrew J. Borden, with a bond of $50,000.

THE FIGHTS AT NEW ORLEANS.

The Betting on the Contests—Sullivan a Favorite.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—The morning trains Friday brought many visitors from the north and east to witness the big prize fights next week, and from now on every train will be crowded. A party of sports came in this morning from Duluth and another train from Albany, N. Y. Steady betting continues at the pool rooms and the two institutions of the kind stand to lose a good deal on the result of the fight. For instance they are ready to pay out $8640 on the Corbett, Skelly and McAuliffe combination, $5000 on the Corbett, Skelly and Meyer combination and $4200 on the Sullivan, Dixon and Meyer combination, which seems to be the favorite. Corbett, Dixon and Meyer will probably go to the post at 4 to 1.

At Lamothe's pool room this morning a new system of betting was started. It was $2 mutuals, which many people are playing. The odds posted at the start at 11 o'clock were 4 to 1 Meyers, 3 to 1 McAuliffe, 5 to 1 Dixon, 6 to 1 Skelly, and even money Sullivan and 2 to 1 Corbett.

A Judge Accused of Theft.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Sept. 3.—Judge William R. Blaine, the ordinary of Glynn County and one of the most popular men in this State, is in a prison cell on a charge of robbery. He was caught stealing money from the safe of Grocer M. J. Michelson to-day. The merchant was absent from the store at the time. He has lost nearly $2000 during the past six months and he set a trap for the thief. A policeman was secreted in the store. The merchant went out, leaving the outer door open. Judge Blaine walked in soon after Michelson left. He went to the safe and took a handful of silver from the cash drawer. He was at once taken into custody by the policeman on watch.

The Wrecked City of Toledo.

MANISTEE, Mich., Sept. 3.—Two tugs with hawsers and a diver are at work on the schooner City of Toledo trying to right her. Her anchor is holding her in a capsized position. The body of Lizzie McMillan, the captain's daughter, was found yesterday morning seven miles north of here. None of the others have been seen.

The Ontario Apple Crop.

Estimate of Total Quantity.

The following estimate of the quantity of apples upon the trees in the different districts of the Province is based upon the replies of producers from all parts of Ontario, to the Ontario Bureau of Industries. It applies to fall and winter apples only, and does not include the product of town and village orchards:—

District.	Total product, bbls.
Lake Erie	327,870
Lake Huron	395,726
Georgian Bay	304,984
West Midland	729,695
Lake Ontario	1,142,400
St. Lawrence and Ottawa	382,752
East Midland	115,673
Northern	5,079
Total	3,384,179

Most of our informants state that on the whole the apple crop of Ontario is less than one half a full crop, and that owing to spotting the above figures in reality represent too high an estimate of yield.

The Lake Erie counties yield will be far below the average, the greatest deficiency being in Essex; Kent is considerably better; Elgin and Norfolk fair, and Welland very poor. In the Lake Huron counties Huron stand first with a large crop, then Bruce with a good crop, Lambton practically none. Grey promises a very good crop and Simcoe a fair crop in each. In the West Midland counties the prospects are better than in the counties to the south and west, but not so good as in the counties lying farther north; the prospects as to quality are fair, the quality will, however, be below the average. In the Lake Ontario counties a great variation in yield is found: Lincoln, Wentworth, Halton and Peel will give small crops; from York east through Ontario, Durham and Northumberland to Prince Edward the prospects are on the whole fair, in some places good. In the St. Lawrence and Ottawa group the condition is fair, the yield will probably on the whole be below the average, Hastings and Peterborough promise medium crops. The Northern crop is good, but very small in the total. In many sections the product will not meet local demands; our reports indicate that the bulk of the apples available and suitable for export will this year be obtained in the Lake Huron, Georgian Bay and Eastern Lake Ontario divisions. The reports are variable and contradictory as to the quantity of exportable apples, the large majority of opinions inclining to the belief that apples suitable for export will be very limited in quantity, others professing to know are positive that there will be plenty.

For the ten years 1882-1891 the British apple imports averaged $3,035 424, the largest of the decade being 1891, when they amounted to $5 032;119. During the same ten years the United States exports averaged $1.903 612. The apple trade of the United States consists partly of green field, 70 to 80 per cent of which goes to England, and partly of dried or evaporated fruit which goes to Germany, France, Holland and Belgium. The bulk of Canadian exports go to Great Britain.

Lindsay's Police Magistrate.

The public are to be congratulated on the appointment of Mr. D. J. McIntyre, Q.C., to the office of police magistrate for the town of Lindsay. We wish that as much congratulation could be extended to Mr. McIntyre. Though the work is light and the emoluments of the office are $1,000 a year, which he can add to his general law practice, we feel that Mr. McIntyre deserved something better. His political career in the country has been a long one, marked with sterling fidelity and uprightness which is characteristic of him in every other phase of life. We hope that the future has something better in store for him.—Lindsay Post.

It is a Very Sad Thing

To see young and beautiful people die when they might just well live and enjoy health and strength. Many who suffer with coughs, colds and lung troubles, leading to consumption, imagine there is no hope for them, when in reality there is every hope if Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is taken regularly. Spread the news everywhere that this great emulsion will make flesh and blood, cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and lung troubles tending to consumption. Patients Expect Great Results.

Never Disappointed When Lactated Food is Used.

Parents are usually very chary and cautious regarding the introduction of artificial foods in the home for the babies and young children. The large majority of the foods now offered for sale are totally unfit for infantile nutrition, and are often a source of danger.

Thousands of mothers in Canada have discarded the common foods, and are now using the pure Lactated Food, with grand results. No other food has saved so many babies' lives, and no other is so well spoken of in every section.

A recent letter from a Toronto gentleman Mr. H. Lovelock, dealer in badges, regalia, etc, No. 100 Bellevue avenue, says:—

"I desire to substantiate what is said about Lactated Food. Our little baby is one year old, and if ever a child looked the picture of health and contentment, our dear dear little girl does; and she owes it all to your Lactated Food. She has never known the luxury of a mother's breast. For the first three weeks of her existence we were at a loss to know what to give her, as she could keep nothing on her stomach. A kind friend suggested your Food, and from that time to the present, we have constantly used it, and now desire to thank you for your life-giving food.

"I cannot speak too highly of it, and have thought it only just that I should drop you a line or two in appreciation of your efforts on behalf of our darlings.

"Yours very thankfully,
"H. LOVELOCK."

Labour Interests Neglected.

Mr. Powderly the labour leader, gives the reason for the discontent prevailing in American labour circle by saying that the "Government has enacted protective legislation in the interest of labour" and then quiescently allows the manufacturer to absorb the bulk of protection." He points out that the high tariff was not passed to protect labour. Still labour is unprotected.

The Age of Deception is Fast Passing Away.

The age of deception and humbug is fast coming to an end. The men and women who a few years ago were easily hoodwinked and deceived, are now wiser and, we believe, a happier people. Literature has contributed to this increase of wisdom and prudence. The press has nobly done its duty, and all willingly acknowlege this fact.

The time of deception and fraud was very marked as far as the patent medicine trade was concerned; and still we have in our midst worthless and useless remedies which promise to do anything and everything. These nostrums are made to sell; the foolish and simple buy them; the results are increased suffering and waste of money.

Our Canadian people have had good reason to discard the great majority of worthless medicines that have been placed for sale in our country. The demand for an honest and unfailing preparation was great, especially for the cure of rheumatism, nervousness, broken down constitution, sleeplessness and dyspepsia. To meet the wants of thousands, Paine's Celery Compound was introduced as the great healer and deliverer.

The results so far are beyond calculation; the amount of suffering relieved, and cures effected, is beyond computation. Paine's Celery Compound is hailed with delight and gladness in every locality as the true emancipator from disease. It is now the accepted household remedy with Canadians, rich and poor, and is daily adding new victories to its already long list of triumphs. It only requires to be tried in order to convince the most sceptical and unbelieving.

Apsley.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Bunner, brother of Mr. J. A Bunner, Methodist student missionary here, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church next Sunday evening.

Mr. O. A. Marshall, who has been practising dentistry here during the summer, left Sept. 1st for his home in Belleville. He intends entering Toronto Dental College on Oct 1st. His many friends wish him success.

Mr. Jos. Lindsay, one of our merchants, left for Toronto a few days ago, where he intends purchasing his fall stock. No doubt it will be one of the finest ever seen in Apsley, as he is erecting a commodious building opposite the old stand for its reception.

Mrs. W. A Eastland, who has been visiting her parents in Montreal, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hawkins have returned to their homes in Lindsay, after spending a few weeks with their friends in this vicinity.

The Rev. R Hyde, of Warsaw, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church on Aug. 21st. Communion was dispensed. His able and impressive discourse was appreciated by all. He was accompanied by one of the elders of his church, Mr. A. Smith.

Misses Mary Elmbirst and Emma Clegg, who passed the recent entrance examinations at Lakefield very creditably, have been engaged as teachers in schools near the village.

Colonel George, inspector of Crown Lands Department, called on Mr. D Anderson a few days ago. He expressed himself as being highly pleased with Mr. Anderson's work.

The home of Mr. D Anderson was brightened for a few days last week by the presence of his sons, some of whom had not been home for some time, when Mr. J. Anderson, of Wilberforce, Mr. R. M. Anderson, of Tilsonburg, and Dr. H. B Anderson, House Surgeon in Toronto General Hospital, paid a visit to their parents.

The city fathers met to-day in solemn conclave. No business worthy of special mention was transacted.

Mr. A. Mahaffy, Presbyterian student, who has been labouring here during the summer, left for his home at Godrich a few days ago. He went by way of Stony Lake, taking the steamer "Mary Ellen" to Lakefield and the train from there to Peterborough. The sail would be very pleasant. He will soon return to Montreal where he will resume his studies in arts and theology.

Miss Tessie Cameron, of Norwood, who was the guest of Miss M Anderson left for her home on Monday, August 22nd. She went by way of Stony Lake on steamer "Mary Ellen."

Why Japanese Women Look Pleasant

Perhaps the secret of the sweet expression and habitual serenity of the Japanese woman can be found in their freedom from small worries. The fashion of dress never varying saves the wear of mind on that subject, and the bareness of the houses and simplicity of diet makes housekeeping a mere bagatelle. Everything is exquisitely clean, and easily kept so. There is no paint, no drapery, no crowd of little ornaments, no coming into the houses with the footwear worn into the dusty streets. And then the feeling of living in rooms that can be turned into balconies and verandas at a moment's notice, of having walls that slide away as freely as do the scenes on the stage, and let in all out-of-doors or change the suites of rooms to the shape and size that the whim of the day or the hour requires. The Japanese are learning much from us, some things not to their improvement. We might begin, with profit to ourselves, to learn of them.

He Was a Brute.

A brute of a husband off on a business trip of a week recently received a telegram to this effect:

"During the storm to-day your wife was struck by lightning and rendered speechless, but not otherwise severely injured. Physicians think she will be all right in a few days."

Was the man overcome by this shocking news, and did he fly to his wife's side?

Not much.

He sent this telegram in reply:

"Call off the doctors, and let her go at that."

Obfuscated.

Wife—John, the Morning Daily states that you got into a disgraceful fight at your club last night. Who did you fight with? Husband—I am sure I do not know, dear, I haven't seen the Daily yet.—The Club.

Store Improvements Delayed!

IT is with a great deal of reluctance that I have to state to my customers and the general public that the alterations and improvements which had been promised to be made in my store have, at the last moment, fallen through. My landlords, the Executors of the Burnham Estate, are unable to undertake any building expenditures at the present time, and although I have done all in my power to induce them to proceed, I have been unsuccessful. Having, in the meantime, rented another new store, to allow the alterations to go on in the old one, I have been obliged to give it up, and, instead of removing, will continue on in our own well-known premises, corner George and Simcoe streets.

My Fall Stock is now constantly arriving, and we are now busily engaged in opening up cases and bales of

NEW FALL GOODS!

Our importations for this year are unexcelled for variety and good value, and we hope to wait on all our old customers and many new ones during the season in the old and well-known stand, corner George and Simcoe Streets.

A Big Order For Harness.

Mr. B. Shortly has received a practical compliment upon the excellence of his work and the facilities of his establishment in the shape of a large order for heavy harness from an extensive American lumbering firm operating in the Perry Sound District. This company has purchased the old Upyott timber limits on the north shore, and are preparing to develop it on a large scale. This is only one of several orders which Mr. Shortly expects to receive from this firm. The fact of this firm passing all the intervening cities between Parry Sound and this town is a compliment to Mr. Shortly and Peterborough, which proves that the name of the town and the fame of its local industries have become widely known.

McMahon's Shows in Towns.

John L. McMahon's great New York circus arrived in town yesterday and gave two first-class performances, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. Both entertainments were largely patronized, especially in the evening, when the seating capacity of the large tent was tested to its fullest. While the proprietors do not profess to give a gorgeous street parade or make any very great outside pretensions, their inside performance is very good. The whole show from the beginning to the end is marked with a snap and a go. The horses are well trained, the trained elephants can't be beaten and the acrobats are clever. The bareback riding of Archie O'Brien, W. Bennet and Madame Bennett was exceptionally good and the Roman horseback riding elicited great applause. The trapeze work of Silbon and Seegriet and Mlle. Meriadi marked them as stars, and they merited all the applause received. Every act in the ring was first-class. The show left here last night for Pontypool. It is travelling west.

Masonic Relief.

At the regular communication of Peterborough Lodge, No. 155, A. F. & A.M., held in the Masonic Hall last evening, a resolution donating the sum of $25 to assist in the relief of Masonic brethren in St. John, who suffered by the late disastrous fire, was unanimously passed.

Peterborough Boys' Loss in Vancouver.

Report has reached the town of the burning of the Columbia Iron Works this week in Vancouver, B. C. They were owned by Messrs. Wm. Hobbs and Ernest McFarlane, formerly of Peterborough. About 75 hands were employed in the works, a great number of them being Peterborough boys. The many friends of Messrs. Hickey & McFarlane will be sorry to learn of their loss. It is not known whether there was any insurance or not, as particulars of the fire are meagre.

They Will Return to Toronto.

The office employees of the Edison General Electric Company's general office, Toronto, who were removed to the Edison Company's Works, Peterborough, some two months ago, will be removed to Toronto again on Monday morning. Mr. William Fair, Canadian Auditor, and his staff of assistants, will return to their former office and work in the company's general office, Toronto. It is understood that the engineering department will leave later. This will leave the staff of the office the same as before. The newly organized Canadian Electrical Company will, it is said, assume the management of the works this month.

The First to Go and the First to Return.

Messrs. S. Ray, E. B Loucks, M. McFadden and Thos. Rutherford have returned from a duck shooting expedition down the river. They went down in canoes as far as Old Orchard where they camped. They report ducks as very scarce and say they are wild this season. They spied four flocks but were only able to shoot six ducks. The individual records made and what they captured are here recorded. They were all shot on the wing with the unerring aim, the steady nerve and the "eagle" eye of members of the Gun Club: Sam Ray, 1 bittern, 1 kingfisher; E. B. Loucks, 1 crane, 1 sandpiper; T. Rutherford, 2 bats, 2 nigh-holders; M. McFadden, 2 woodpeckers, 3 nigh-holders.

Washburn's Great Railroad Circus.

Leon W. Washburn's enormous railroad shows, circus, hippodrome and Wild West will exhibit in Peterborough on Tuesday, Sept. 13 Speaking of this company, the Worcester (Mass.) Gazette says: The company attracted attention to the show's notable number of horses and performers by a procession through a number of streets and created a favourable impression, which resulted in a generous patronage at their evening exhibition at Agricultural Park. More than 3000 people attended the show during the evening, and barring the lack of pleasant weather, a verdict of satisfaction was gained. The acrobatic corps of the company, including the Brothers Vernon of mid-air celebrity, a slack-wire performer of great experience, and Lowelli, a wonderful contortionist, won special plaudits, notably merited.

The Millinery

Miss Delaney has everything in readiness for the fall and winter millinery campaign. Within a recent period Miss Delaney has visited the millinery openings in all the leading centres of fashion and style in the United States, and Canada, and as a result of the visit is equipped with the very latest ideas in millinery, and will apply them, for the benefit of customers, to the magnificent stock of the latest goods, selected by herself with the greatest care. Besides the standard lines in millinery her stock will be found replete with novelties procured in New York and other large cities. A superb stock of imported mantles and material for mantles to be made to order. The finest stock of trimmings ever placed in her shop. Ladies are expected to call and inspect Miss Delaney's superb stock of millinery and allied goods. 2d1w

Footballers Organize.

A meeting to organize an Association football club was held at Sam Ray's shop on Hunter street last evening. The attendance was not large but very enthusiastic. Mr. R. Day occupied the chair. After some business relative to the team and the prospects for a good season were discussed, the following officers were elected for the season:

CAPTAIN.—Daniel McCabe.
SECRETARY.—Gus Hay.
TREASURER.—R. Day.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—Messrs. Wm. Hendren, E. Wasson, D. McCabe, H. Ball, and A. Kent.

Practice will be begun in earnest on the P. A. A. A. grounds on Monday night. The club will play Lakefield on the P. A. A. A. grounds here on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Games with Warsaw, Norwood and Stirling clubs are under consideration. Address all challenges to the Secretary, Gus Hay, Peterborough.

KEEP UP WITH THE PROCESSION.

—Things were lively on the market square last night, and many were the ructions between the showmen and the crowd. Several exciting scenes occurred and fights were under discussion quite frequently. For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

THE GRAND UNION CLOTHING HALL

Has been asked a question, why we can sell our Own-Make Clothing for less money than others sell their factory make? The reason is that we have the latest system to work on. First, the factory clothing has to go through a number of money makers, while the Grand Union Clothing Hall can avoid all this. The second, why our clothing fits better than the factory make; because we do our own cutting for the benefit of the public and to increase our good name.

We beg to notify those who did not come to town and who did not know about our great bargains that were given on the opening day, (Saturday, August) 27th) that we will continue the same bargains until Saturday, Sept. 3rd, in order to give everyone a chance to get the same bargains in our Own-Make Clothing.

Don't forget we will always keep in stock a fine selection of Tweeds and Worsteds which we will make to order in the latest styles.

A fine stock of Gents' Furnishings is always kept on hand.

Separate School Success.

Presentation of Prizes to Entrance Distinguished by Proficiency.

Yesterday at the Murray street Separate School and at the Convent the laurels were bestowed upon the students who had won distinction at the entrance examinations. In deference to the practical trend of this practical age, the laurels took the form of substantial prizes. In the morning at the Murray street school there were present, besides the trustees and pupils, His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, Rev. Father Rudkins, Rector of the Cathedral and Superintendent of Separate Schools, Rev. Father Collins and Mr. McGuire, theologian, Grand Seminary, Montreal. His Lordship addressed the successful prize winners, heartily congratulating them on the success their industry and application had achieved. He then, with appropriate words, made the presentation of the prizes to the three taking the highest marks, as follows:

The first prize of $10, donated in equal sums by Rev. Father Collins and the Trustees was awarded to Frank Young, son of Mr. Patrick Young, of Young's Point, with 559 marks.

The second prize of $5, donated by his Lordship Bishop O'Connor, was awarded to Louis Potvin, with 514 marks.

The third prize of $5, donated by Rev. Father Rudkins, Superintendent of Separate schools, was awarded to Cornelius Gainey, with 505 marks.

AT THE CONVENT,

At two o'clock a similar ceremony took place at the convent, His Lordship, Rev. Father Rudkins and Rev. Father Dauntere being present.

His Lordship briefly addressed the young ladies, congratulating them upon their success, and giving them kindly admonitions and intimations as to the deportment and accomplishments that constituted the true lady. He then presented the undermentioned prizes:

First prize of $10 in gold, donated by the trustees, awarded to Miss Johanna Conroy, with 453 marks.

The second prize of $5 in gold, donated by his Lordship, awarded to Miss Mary Bogan, with 446 marks.

The third prize, $5 in gold, donated by Rev. Father Dauntere, awarded to Miss Katie McGrath, with 439 marks.

The friends of the Separate school have good reason to be pleased with the record made by the pupils at the entrance examinations. Out of 18 candidates 16 passed successfully, as per the following list of boys:

James Dillon	591
John Morrow	498
James D Rinela	473
John McFadden	473
John McCabe	471
Harry Burns	461
Herbie Carleton	458
Joseph Picard	444
John McNamara	438
Edward Clancy	435
Jas. O'Brien	421
Willie Desmond	401
David Conroy	400

Special credit is due to Masters Herbie Carleton and Louis Potvin, who are only eleven years of age. The feat of their passing the admittedly stiff examination with good marks (Louis Potvin taking the second highest figures) speaks well for their natural ability and their application as well as for the excellent instruction that contributed to such results. Besides, four of the lads in the pass class did the work in only one year from the time of their promotion to the fourth class. These are Herbie Carleton, Willie Desmond, John McFadden and John McNamara.

CHAPTER II.

HE sun shone into Terry's window and wakened him early. For half an hour he lay soliloquizing:

Poor Jack, who will balance him, and—who will balance me. I need ballast too. What little active interest I take in life! This trip is what I have wished for all my days, yet I could not say so. I do not even feel glad. I wonder what it would be like to feel as Jack does, very glad, or very sorry. Well, I cannot know; let it pass. I am medium, and one thing is certain, if I am not capable of feeling joy keenly, neither do I feel sorrow keenly. Compensation there is in all things. My travels begin to-day. Let me see—Lakefield—that will be my resting place to-night. Nine miles—I will walk it, the road they say is good."

Rising, he took from his valise a suit of flannel of darkest hue. This he donned, then took the trouble to view himself in the glass.

"You have an ugly nose, Terry Denver," was his comment.

He took out another suit of the same material, but grey in color, and lay it in a knapsack along with numerous articles for the toilet. Terry was dainty as the ermine. After all arrangements were made he went down to breakfast He ate heartily then sought the clerk.

"Which side of the river is Lakefield on?" he asked.

"On both sides, yer honor. Evenly so."

"On which side of the river is the best road, then?"

"That depends entirely on the kind of road you want. The railroad runs on one side and the wagon road is on the other."

"Well, I guess it is the wagon road I want."

"A good road it is, then. A footpath runs alongside the entire way, and so does the Otonabee. A lovely river it is, too. You will not find another such in all Canada. The people of Peterboro are proud to live by its waters, and well they might be."

Terry sent for his knapsack, slung it over his shoulder, paid his expenses, then started north by way of George street. "Follow George street," had been the directions; "after the turn beyond there, it is the Smithtown road."

The turn was passed; Terry was on the country road. On he went. He strode with increasing buoyancy to the lapping music of the Otonabee. Now between him and the water rose tier after tier of sweet-smelling pine boards. To the left neat houses and carefully kept gardens, backed by the noted Smithtown hill with its crown of sombre pines. The piles of lumber now gave place to mills, beyond again spread the river, almost covered with logs. A small boy paused to look into Terry's kindly eyes; everyone liked to do that, and Terry asked the name of the mills.

"Why! don't you know?" with wide-eyed wonder. "Why! this is Blythe mills."

Terry thanked him, and dropped a a quarter into the little hand. Twenty-five cents of the $2,000 had been spent, and one mile of the two hundred travelled. The river ran close to the road. The board walk was narrower. Soon it dwindled into the width of two boards. For a short distance the two boards went, then one passed over a muddy place, after that the footpath.

What a charming companion the river made! Almost as versatile as Jack. It sobbed, it laughed, it gurgled, and patted the shore lovingly. Now a slight rapid, then another dam that irritated the water into anger, expressed by a sullen roar. Terry now found himself in the country. On past Nassau. Nothing of moment happened. He was walking faster than he thought, and earlier than he expected he saw nestling over in the valley, the little village of Lakefield. At the next concession he turned on to the road that led to the village, and was soon ushered into the best room of the best hotel the place boasted. Lazy Terry! He undressed and tumbled into bed, and fell asleep to travel the nine miles over and over again in dreams.

He wakened in an hour, stiff and sore, dressed carefully, then paced slowly up and down the cool broad verandah, enjoying the quiet of the country. So the day passed. Before going to bed he took from his pocket a writing pad, and wrote:

"DEAR JACK: I am nine miles north, twenty-five cents out, and in Lakefield. Address me here. Yours, as ever, TERRY DENVER."

This he sealed and addressed to Jack, then went to bed.

At breakfast next morning there was a stranger at the table.

"Mr. Denver, this is Mr. Martin, ranger for a lumber firm. He is going north by Buckhorn. If you are out on pleasure you could do worse than take in Buckhorn. It is a wild locality. He will ride, and starts in ten minutes."

"Can you get me a horse in that time, and some one to bring it back; I may wish to continue north."

"I can supply you myself, but it will cost you—well, say ten dollars."

"All right; I am ready when you are

"I DEW LOVE SOCIBILITY."

Mr. Martin. I have only to post a letter. If letters come for me, send them on to Buckhorn."

"German Syrup"

A Throat and Lung Specialty.

Those who have not used Boschee's German Syrup for some severe and chronic trouble of the Throat and Lungs can hardly appreciate what a truly wonderful medicine it is. The delicious sensations of healing, easing, clearing, strength-gathering and recovering are unknown joys. For German Syrup we do not ask easy cases. Sugar and water may smooth a throat or stop a tickling—for a while. This is as far as the ordinary cough medicine goes. Boschee's German Syrup is a discovery, a great Throat and Lung Specialty. Where for years there have been sensitiveness, pain, coughing, spitting, hemorrhage, voice failure, weakness, slipping down hill, where doctors and medicine and advice have been swallowed and followed to the gulf of despair, where there is the sickening conviction that all is over and the end is inevitable, there we place German Syrup. It cures. You are a live man yet if you take it.

THE PERILS OF THE MINE.

An Explosion Causes the Death of Many Miners.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 2.—A terrific explosion of fire damp occurred yesterday in the Agrafee coal mine in Hainant. Many miners were entombed. Rescuing parties recovered the bodies of 10 men. Thirty men are yet in the mine.

The explosion was due to the sudden escape of gas in a gallery of the mine 1900 feet below the surface. Terrible scenes were witnessed at the mouth of the pit after the explosion had occurred and the grief of the stricken women and children who flocked to the scene on the first intimation of the calamity was truly heartrending.

This makes the fourth disaster that has occurred in the same pit since 1848, and the total number of names on the mine's death roll is now 500.

Nearly all the men who were at work in the Agrafee mine at the time of the disaster have been accounted for. Some escaped uninjured. Twenty-five bodies have been recovered, and eight men alive though very seriously injured have been taken from the mine by the rescuing parties.

The work of the expedition consists of exploring the country and collecting specimens of everything of value or interest that can be obtained. Great scientific results have already been achieved. The expedition will return to Greenland at the end of the month.

Sir Charles Returns to England.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Sir Charles Tupper has returned from the Continent. The railway congress at St. Petersburg, which he was deputed to attend, closed yesterday, but Sir Charles Tupper, fearing quarantine on account of the cholera, did not go beyond Berlin. He inquired into emigration matters, keeping carefully within the stringent official anti-emigration regulations.

Ten Deaths in Paris.

Don't buy a blood-purifier because it is "cheap." The best—the Superior Medicine—Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is, in the end, the cheapest blood purifier in the market. The ingredients of which it is composed are the most expensive and medicinally efficacious that can be obtained.

INTENSE SUFFERING!

Mr. William Buchanan, 24 years engineer in the Cunard Steamship Company's service, 8 St. John's Road, Kirkdale, Liverpool, Eng., writes: "I suffered two years of agony from an affection in the head which six physicians pronounced incurable.

They were divided in opinion as to whether it was acute neuralgia of the head or rheumatic affection of the brain, but all agreed that I could never recover. In my paroxysms of pain it needed two and sometimes three men to hold me down in bed. When at death's door, was applied to my head. It acted like magic. It saved my life. I am well and hearty, and have had no return of the trouble."

ST. JACOBS OIL

"ALL RIGHT! ST. JACOBS OIL DID IT."

IN THE MINERAL BELT.

Gold in Paying Quantity in the Sudbury District.

SUDBURY, Sept. 2.—During the past month there has been a large influx of foreign capital into this district. The old companies are improving their plant and increasing their output. The number of men who already receive steady employment through mining enterprises is much larger than is generally supposed. There can be no doubt but that the number will largely increase.

Boston mining capitalists have secured a very valuable nickel property in the Township of Craig, some 50 miles west of Sudbury. A shaft sunk on the property shows that they have struck a rich deposit. Active development work is proceeding in several parts of the district.

The discoveries of gold have excited great interest, and further developments are anxiously looked for. It is now definitely settled that gold occurs in paying quantities in the district.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. Diarrhœa and Vomiting.

GENTLEMEN,—About five weeks ago I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhœa and vomiting. The pain was almost unbearable and I thought I could not live till morning, but after I had taken the third dose of Fowler's Wild Strawberry the vomiting ceased, and after the sixth dose the diarrhœa stopped, and I have not had the least symptom of it since.
dw MRS. ALICE HOPKINS, Hamilton, Ont.

Ladies appreciate Anti Dandruff from the fact that it not only thoroughly removes Dandruff with three applications, but stops falling of the hair, restores fading hair to its original color, and makes it soft and pliable without leaving any indication of a dressing being used. Clear as Crystal, clean to use, it is a valuable toilet preparation. dw

The Children's Friend.

GENTLEMEN,—Last summer our children were very bad with summer complaint, and the only remedy that did them any good was Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. We used twelve bottles during the warm weather and would not be without it at five times the cost.

GOSSIP!

"Dear me, these are the most beautiful photographs I ever saw."

"Yes, they certainly are very fine and elegantly finished, besides, they are permanent."

"Do they cost more than before."

"No, not to us, though the material is much more expensive, yet Mr. Sproule believes in having the best obtainable. He says nothing is too good for his patrons, and these certainly bear out his statements; and his studio, is so convenient—no stairs to climb yourself, nor have you any fear about the children."

"Yes, I have heard about the ground floor studio being so convenient,—but those photographs."

"Will you come down with me to-morrow to Charlotte street? I must have some."

"Yes, that is the only place where such work is made."

U. S. QUARANTINE LAW

IT IS CONSIDERED A WISE AND TIMELY ONE.

Objection Taken to the Slipshod Methods of the British Local Government Board—The Cases in England Confined to the Infected Ones at First Reported.

LONDON, Sept 3.—President Harrison's circular relative to the quarantining of vessels carrying immigrants finds general approval and even admiration here. There is some feeling of envy also that the American law enables the Government to take such prompt and thorough steps to stop the importation of cholera. The halting and imperfect measures of the British Local Government Board directing that what the board's edict calls "filthy, unwholesome persons coming from foreign ports" shall pass unchallenged are questioned by high legal authority as exceeding the powers of the board. The only act existing giving the board the shadow of right to prevent the landing of aliens, either en route to another country or having England as their permanent destination, is the act of 1836 for the registration of aliens. After such registration the power of the board to interfere with aliens vanishes.

The Government in cooping immigrants at Gravesend and elsewhere are acting illegally and they will be obliged to ask Parliament to pass a retrospective act legalizing what they have done. The Local Board of officials and the Board of Trade officials desire to go further.

It is feared that the result of President Harrison's measure will be to stop the stream of alien emigration to America and make England the permanent location of many families who had intended to seek new homes across the water.

The prolonged quarantine declared by the United States is not regarded as in any wise hostile to England, but with a view to counteract the undoubted tendency to throw a crowd of infected immigrants into the States. The officials of both boards urge that the Government make immediate assent to a prohibition of the landing of immigrants from infected ports and to a long quarantine on vessels from such ports. In the absence of an act empowering such measures, it is held that the Privy Council could issue an edict.

Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Fowler, Secretary of State for War, have to-day been communicating with Sir Charles Russell, the Attorney-General, and Mr. Rigby, the Solicitor-General, to obtain their advice with regard to the means to meet the legal difficulties.

The agents of leading steamship companies express the opinion that the President's circular is needlessly severe. It was felt like a thunderbolt. Although prepared to refuse to book any more steerage passengers, the companies could not regard with complacence the order that the circular take immediate effect, the result being to throw three weeks' support of many emigrants upon them or to oblige them to return the unfortunate people whence they smiled.

Despite the circular, however, some vessels are certain to take their full complement of emigrants. Several steamship companies now refuse to book even first and second class passengers hailing from German and other continental ports, but the same companies, having thousands of steerage passengers already booked, are in a quandary how to discontinue this service, having contracted to provide for the booked emigrants until they are landed at their port of destination.

In the meantime the cholera in Great Britain seems to have been fairly mastered. The chief physician of the Local Government Board said to-day that the outlook was entirely satisfactory. He said that although about 30 cases of cholera at all the ports of Great Britain had been dealt with during the last 10 days, there was no single instance of the disease spreading beyond the person first attacked.

Absolute confidence prevails among the people that the perfect sanitary condition of England will secure the country against the ravages of baccilli bred in foreign filth. The noted cholera expert, Robert Hart, speaking before a meeting of the health society last night, urged the adoption of precautions, which summed up are as follows: Careful medical inspection of ports, strict isolation, in chance cases of the disease, pure water and general cleanliness.

The physicians of this city will discuss the proposal of the establishment of an International Cholera Commission to report on the origin of the plague, its line of march through the different countries, where it has made its appearance and the various methods of treatment employed in the cases of persons stricken with the disease.

They May Be Missed at New Orleans.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The City of Rome is due here this evening and will of course be held. Among other distinguished passengers on board the big steamer are Peter Jackson, the negro pugilist; "Parson" Davies, his manager; Joe Choynski, the Californian, and Warren Lewis. These sports are bound for the New Orleans fight, but the cholera regulations may interfere with their plans. It is said several English newspaper correspondents are also on board.

The steamer Island of the Thingvalla Line has been passed by the doctor and allowed to go up to her dock this afternoon. She has no sickness on board, and the emigrants, 557 in number, are all Scandinavian and very clean.

The steamer City of Berlin arrived yesterday with 203 first-class, 232 second cabin and 658 steerage passengers. The passengers aboard had not heard of the arrival of cholera in England or at New York and were very much excited over the news. The City of Berlin has 40 Russian steerage passengers. The cabin passengers will be landed this afternoon.

Heavy Death Rate in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 3.—The official cholera returns for the Empire for Aug. 30 are: New cases, 5273; deaths, 2722. It is estimated that 15,000 persons have already died of cholera in Russia. No one believes that the scourge will disappear through the efforts of the doctors, and when the disease shall have finally died out the death-list will be an appalling one.

Fifty Deaths at Havre.

HAVRE, Sept. 3.—Fifty new cases of cholera and 15 deaths occurred here yesterday.

No Sickness on the City of Rome.

QUARANTINE, N.Y., Sept. 3.—The City of Rome, which arrived last night, has no sickness whatever among her 560 passengers in the steerage.

A Death at Liverpool.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Another of the Russians who were stricken with cholera while waiting at Liverpool for the steamer to New York died yesterday.

Rioting at Hamburg.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Hamburg correspondent of The Standard says: No cases of cholera occurred in Wandsbeck yesterday. The epidemic seems to be abating in the suburbs and increasing in the centre of the city. There have been 315 interments of victims and several hundred bodies are still awaiting burial. A tumultuous crowd assembled yesterday in front of the residence of the president of police in the suburbs of St. Paul's and began rioting. The police were summoned and succeeded in dispersing the mob.

No Heart for Rejoicing.

HAMBURG, Sept. 3.—The anniversary of the victory of Sedan passed here in the gloomiest manner. Except for decorations seen on the postoffice and the railway station not a flag was displayed. The churches were filled with people praying that the cholera epidemic might cease.

No New Cases at Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—No fresh cases of cholera have developed here during the past 24 hours, but precautions and preparations against a possible choleraic outbreak are not relaxed.

SCROFULA 12 YEARS

Always Sore. Burned Like Fire. Ashamed to be Seen. Got Worse Under Four Doctors. Cured by Cuticura.

For about ten or twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula. My head was always sore, my face was dry and scaly, and burned like fire most of the time. My body had big red spots on it, and I did not know what to do. I went to four different doctors and they helped me at first. In the fall I got worse again; then I tried other remedies, but they did me no good. I was ashamed to go into public. I was a sight to look at. Every one would say, "What is the matter, why don't you take something?" Even at my daily labor I had to wear a sort of cap to keep the dirt from getting into the sores. After I would wash, I would be covered with big red pimples all over my neck and face. Some two or three people advised me to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I did try them, and am glad I have done so. Glad to say I am a well man, and in the best of health since. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too highly. I enclose my portrait.

IT THREATENS NEW YORK

SEVERAL CHOLERA INFECTED VESSELS IN PORT.

All Attention is Now Directed to the American Port—The Utmost Precautions Taken to Keep the Plague Out—Several Deaths Yesterday Among the Passengers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Two more cholera-stricken ships have reached the harbor. They are the Rugia and the Normannia, both from Hamburg. The Rugia lost four persons and the Normannia five by death on the voyage. Besides, four steerage passengers on the Normannia and five on the other steamer were sick with the dread disease when quarantine was reached. Both vessels, like the Moravia, belong to the Hamburg-American Line, and like her had clean bills of health.

The Rugia, one of the older boats of the line, sailed from Hamburg on Aug. 21, stopping at Havre two days later. She was in command of Captain Leithauser and carried a number of immigrants. The operator sighted her off Sandy Hook shortly after midnight. Word was at once telegraphed to quarantine and Health Officer Jenkins and his assistants immediately steamed down the bay in a tug to head her off. She was encountered in the Narrows at 2 o'clock.

As soon as the tug came near the big ship, Dr. Jenkins shouted to the man in command to stop and go back to the lower bay. The instructions were not understood at first and the Rugia swept up toward quarantine. Finally, the Health Officer's meaning was made out, and the vessel turned and steamed down the bay, the tug leading the way. When Dr. Jenkins reached a point about half a mile south of Swinburne Island, not far from the Moravia, he told the Rugia's officer to anchor there. This was done.

The Normannia, which is a comparatively new boat and one of the express steamers of the line, sailed from Hamburg on Friday, Aug. 26, and from Southampton the next day. She almost overtook the Rugia. The Normannia steamed up the bay past the Rugia soon after she came to anchor. The quarantine tug alongside the Rugia tooted as a signal for the big express steamer to stop, but the Normannia kept on. She came to anchor at upper quarantine at 5.40 o'clock. In a short time Dr. Tallmadge, assistant to the health officer, came out to her on a tug and ordered her to go back to the lower bay. The big anchor was weighed and the ship returned to a spot near the Rugia and Moravia. There she was boarded by the health officers.

Both ships had tales of sickness and death to tell. Cholera made its dread appearance on the Rugia on Aug. 26, the ship's doctor said. The first person to be attacked was Aaron Peters, a steerage passenger, 69 years old. He did not die, however. On Aug. 28, Sunday, occurred the first deaths. The victims were Bertha Hœnig, 39 years old, and her son Carl, 11 years old. Several new cases were developed on the following Wednesday, when Rosina Stærr, a baby, died. Edward Sterr, 30 years old, died the following day. The others who became ill were Helene Bayneshi, Paul Hœnig, John Buss and Rosina Desplai. The dead were buried at sea.

The Normannia's physician told a similar story. Two days after the departure from Hamburg the disease broke out in the second cabin. Carl Hegert, 57 years old, was the first to show the awful symptoms and death came upon him on Tuesday. The same day cholera showed its hand in the steerage by the death of Ottillie Storm, 11 months old. The following day occurred the death of Jacob Heineman, a first-cabin passenger. The ship's physician said that he died from diabetes, but he admitted the presence of so many indications of cholera that Dr. Jenkins was convinced he died from that and no other sickness.

Then the scourge again appeared in the steerage. On Thursday, Sept. 1, William Storm, 3 years old and the brother of the baby who had died on Tuesday, was also dead, and Adolph Sobatz, 1 year old, died in the steerage the next day and his body was thrown overboard. The sick brought by the Normannia were Heinrich Farke, Rudolph Hormsh, Selina Heen and Marie Boneshi, all steerage passengers.

A third vessel from Hamburg loaded with immigrants arrived at the bar at 1.30 yesterday morning. She was the Stubbenbuk, Captain Rehse, which left Hamburg Aug. 21 with 232 steerage passengers. She made the trip to this port directly. Her captain reported there had been no illness or death on the voyage, but Dr. Jenkins ordered him to anchor in the lower bay near the plague ships. Captain Rehse complied with the order.

The Normannia had an exceedingly large passenger list, as Americans in Germany were naturally anxious to get home as soon as possible after the cholera appeared in Hamburg. She had 495 cabin and 552 steerage passengers.

PASSENGERS TERRIFIED.

They Cry Out Against Being Confined in a Pest Ship.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—8 p.m.—Since yesterday the following named steamers have arrived in the bay:

The North German Lloyd steamer Fulda from Genoa, Aug. 24, with 508 immigrants.

The French steamer LaBourgogne from Havre, Aug. 27, reported with 840 immigrants.

The North German Lloyd steamer Darmstadt from Bremen, Aug. 24, with 380 immigrants.

The Orinoco from Bermuda and the Burley from Cuba.

The Brilliant from Altona, which is a suburb of Hamburg.

The Fulda's passengers upon examination were found to be in perfect health. They are from the Italia Province, where no cholera is supposed to exist. The health officer gave his permission to land the cabin passengers of this steamer, and they were accordingly sent to the city at 4 o'clock this afternoon, very agreeably surprised when they contemplated their surroundings.

The doctors having examined the steamer Darmstadt reported all well on board. One child died on the voyage from inflammation of the lungs and was buried at sea.

The Brilliant is merely an oil tank steamer. She arrived without cargo and is consigned to the Standard Oil Company. She carries a crew of 35 men. They were all closely inspected by the health officer, who found them perfectly well. The Brilliant will go to her pier in the morning.

The steamer Stubbenhuk, which arrived from Hamburg on Saturday, and about which so many contradictory stories of pestilence were told, came up from lower quarantine this afternoon and is anchored off Tomer quarantine. She will be thoroughly fumigated and sent to her pier. All on board are well.

The mails of the steamer La Bourgogne have been fumigated and the passengers' baggage was put through the same process.

This is briefly the condition of the newcomers at this writing. But the Commissioners of the Board of Health report that the cholera claimed a number of victims on the infected steamers during the day. The startling fact was made public that three deaths had occurred on board the Normannia, two on Moravia and one on the Rugia.

It was ascertained that six cases of the disease had been sent to Swinburne Island yesterday. The cabin passengers of the steamer Normannia have been transferred to Hoffman Island. The panic among them yesterday before their removal is described by eye-witnesses as something frightful. They cried out against being confined in a pest ship, and the ladies on board of the vessel were in a state of the greatest terror. Their fears were relieved to a certain extent, however, by their removal to Hoffman Island. The commissioners describe the terror prevailing among the passengers as of a heartrending character. There were some doubts among the cabin passengers as to the presence of the dread disease on board of the steamer, but the deaths and new cases which occurred yesterday brought terror to the bravest hearts on board of the infected vessel, and all now fully recognize that the grim spectre of cholera is really among them.

Supplies were sent to the infected vessels, consisting of 10 tons of ice, 2000 pounds of meat, 5000 eggs and a quantity of linen towels and bedding. The cabin passengers of the City of Rome and Umbria were landed yesterday and also the steerage passengers of the former steamer.

THE MIDNIGHT REPORT.

The Disease at New York is of a Most Virulent Type.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—[Midnight.]—The following is the official list of new cases and deaths on board the Normannia: Emma Horn, steerage, aged 8, died yesterday; five days ill.

Heincher Lammers, aged 47, one of the steerage stewards, died in transit to the hospital. He had been nursing the cholera patients. There were no new cases on board the Normannia.

On board the Rugia: Antonio Herla, aged 17, steerage, died yesterday. Taken ill yesterday.

New cases on Rugia: Christina Hausen, aged 10, and Peter Hausen, aged 8.

On board the Moravia, Abraham Sohneider, aged 8, died in transit. No new cases.

This was a big day at the quarantined steamers and the islands. All the steerage passengers from the Normannia were transferred to the receiving houses on Hoffman Island. The sick from the Normannia, five in number, were sent to Swinburne Island hospital, which is under the charge of Drs. Byron and Abbott.

The bodies of four of the victims were cremated yesterday and the other two will be cremated to-day after Dr. Byron and the other authorities have made autopsies. There was a panic on board the Normannia among the steerage passengers when the new cases and deaths occurred. They begged the Health Commissioners tug, which came alongside, to take them off, and said they could get $3000 together in a minute if it could get them ashore. They were only quieted down and relieved from their terror on being landed on Hoffman Island. There cannot be any doubt of the virulent nature of the disease. Heincher Lammers, who died yesterday at 6, was only taken ill in the morning. Antonio Herla, on board the Rugia, was also only sick for about 30 hours. The last remaining child of the Horn family, an infant of a few months old, is not expected to live through the night. Of the whole family of children, five in number, ten days ago, running from 10 years down to the baby in arms, the little one, which is sure to die, is all that the parents have left.

They All Have Steerage Passengers.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Inman Line steamer City of New York, for New York; the American Line steamer Ohio, for Philadelphia; the White Star Line steamer Britannic, for New York, and the Cunard Line steamer Catalonia, for Boston, all have steerage passengers on board. They boarded the steamer at Queenstown, and are now on their way to the United States. The baggage of the emigrants was disinfected at Queenstown, but the baggage of the first and second-class passengers was subjected to no treatment to kill cholera germs. The ship agents say their instructions relative to the disinfection of baggage referred only to the belongings of steerage passengers. The baggage of the passengers on the Alaska and the Aurania, which carry nobody in the steerage, has not been disinfected.

The steamship companies are making arrangements to dispatch special steamers to convey emigrants to the United States. These plans are being made with the understanding that these emigrant steamers will be subjected to a 20 days' quarantine upon arrival at an American port.

No Steerage Passage.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 5.—All the steamship companies whose vessels sail from here for American ports have, in consequence of President Harrison's circular, ceased carrying steerage passengers. The Cunard Line steamer Aurania, hence yesterday for New York, has on board 420 saloon and 160 second-class passengers. She has nobody in the steerage. The Guion Line steamer Alaska, which also sailed yesterday for New York, has 400 cabin passengers. She carries neither second-class nor steerage passengers on this voyage.

IS SHE OF UNSOUND MIND

AN OFFICIAL THINKS THAT LIZZIE BORDEN IS INSANE.

A Doctor Who Says That The Bodies Were Warm When He Saw Them—Expert Detectives Engaged on the Case—The Dress Pattern Produced in Court is Not Believed to Be the One She Bought.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—A Fall River special to The Globe says that one of the prosecuting officers in the Borden case stated to the correspondent, on condition that his name should be withheld from publication, that he had frequently talked with Lizzie Borden and had watched her closely, and had noticed that her eyes were very unnatural and the way she used them is identical with that of a person mentally deranged. The speaker said he had seen many inmates of Taunton and Worcester asylums and considered himself well qualified to judge of a case of mental irregularity. As firmly as he believed she committed the murder just so firmly does he think it the work of one insane. After she had been locked up a few weeks he shall look for a mental collapse and more definite signs of her trouble. Should his predictions come true on the examination of two doctors an order could be given for her removal to an insane hospital, and that would end the prosecution of the Borden murder case.

The Bodies Were Warm.

TAUNTON, Mass., Sept. 5.—Dr. John H. Abbott of Fall River knew something about the condition of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Borden before he went west, but as he went away before any suspicion was directed towards Lizzie he had expressed no opinion. Now he says he saw the bodies a short time after they were discovered by the daughter and viewed by the police, and both were warm. There was not the slightest indication that one had been dead over an hour before the other. In fact, it is his opinion that Mr. Borden was killed first and Mrs. Borden was followed upstairs by the murderers and stricken down as she was running to the window to call for assistance.

The Missing Dress Pattern.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 5.—Five officers and two special detectives are at work on the Borden case, sifting and verifying old evidence and running down clues and theories submitted by the prisoner's friends. Yesterday when Miss Lizzie Borden bade Marshal Hilliard good-bye in answer to his courteous adieu her response was given in a voice free from noticeable emotion of any kind. She slept uneasily at times in the matron's room, tossing her arms to and fro and talking in her sleep, but when she awoke and dressed she became as rigid and serene as she was when the police first interviewed her. The missing dress pattern of which much was said at the trial, and which was produced by order of the district attorney, is believed in police circles to be a duplicate of the first piece purchased in New Bedford shortly before the tragedy.

EXPLOSION OF A METEOR.

Interesting Events in a New York State Village.

NEWBURG, N.Y., Sept. 5.—Livingston Manor, Sullivan County, was startled a few evenings ago by a loud report as of a cannon or heavy blast. The next day investigation showed that a meteor had struck and shattered a rock about 12 feet square on a mountain near that place. Fragments of the meteor were found 50 feet from the rock. It is believed that the meteoric stone was about 12 inches in diameter.

Buried in the Ruins.

NAPLES, Sept. 5.—The old Palazzo in the Via Taverna collapsed burying many persons in the ruins. The disaster caused the greatest excitement in the city. Large crowds flocked to the scene and numerous persons volunteered their services in the work of recovering the bodies of the victims and soon an extensive force was engaged in the mountainous and almost inextricable mass of debris. The Prince of Naples himself and all the authorities of the city were early on the spot and personally superintended the work of rescue, and by their encouraging words and actions urged the toilers in the ruins to redoubled efforts. Many obstacles had to be overcome, however, and in spite of the earnest work of the willing hands the task proved very laborious and slow. One body terribly crushed and mutilated, and the bodies of three persons still alive, but badly injured, have already been extricated.

Temporal Power of the Pope.

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—A great Catholic congress has been held at Mainze, at which the leaders of the Centre Party, Herren Ballanstrem, Dollenger, Kitteler and Reichensperger spoke. At its final sitting the congress approved a resolution affirming that the restoration of the Pope to temporal power was an essential condition to the independence of the Holy See. Herr Ballanstrem in his closing oration declared that the Catholics of Germany would never consent that the Pope should be subject to any power. The law of guarantee could not suffice to protect the papacy.

Arrival of the Columbus Statue.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The Italian royal naval transport Gargilano arrived Saturday, having on board the Columbus statue that is to be erected at the Central Park plaza at 59th-street and Eighth-avenue. Dr. Sanborn of the health department boarded the ship and found everyone well, so it will be permitted to come up from quarantine to-morrow.

FREIGHT DISCRIMINATION.

The Interstate Commerce Commission After the Railways.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The Interstate Commerce Commission is preparing to shake up the trunk lines again. It has been quietly collecting documentary evidence against several of the fast freight lines, and it will be ready very soon to submit these cases to the grand jury. The guilty roads are connected with the Lehigh and Wabash, Dispatch and Lackawanna fast freight lines.

Action for Seduction.

HAMILTON, Sept. 5.—An action for seduction and breach of promise is brought by Lewis Macadam, this city, on behalf of his daughter, Caroline Macadam, against Joseph Devine, also of this city. Each action is for $2500 damages. The plaintiff claims that his daughter was seduced on promise of marriage. The defendant denies both claims.

THE CHOLERA AND THE GOVERNMENT.

The Dominion Government, singularly prompt in responding to the wail of combinations that that the power of the latter to tax the public is too small, seem to move in the matter of shutting out the cholera with a deliberation, which, in view of the activity of the governments of other civilized countries and of the tremendous consequences involved, which is hardly short of criminal. The imminent danger of the spread of cholera has been called to the government's attention, and the taking of vigorous quarantine precautions have been urged upon them, but they have done so little in preparation for the visit of the cholera, that a ship actually arrived at the Grosse Island Quarantine Station from an infected port, where the cholera was killing its scores daily, and the Government had to send all the way to Toronto to borrow a disinfecting apparatus before anything in this direction could be done. This is no mere rumour, but is warranted by the facts contained in the report of the international delegates, who visited the neglected quarantine station. The report says: The commission, after summing up the present conditions, considers the equipment of the station at present existing wholly inadequate to protect the territory depending upon it against the importation of cholera or other contagious diseases. The chief deficiencies of the station are: (1) No wharf adequate for the safe and speedy landing of passengers and their effects, and at which vessels may be disinfected; (2) no suitable disinfecting apparatus for either baggage cargo or vessels; (3) no proper accommodation for the detention of suspects; (4) no adequate and safe water supply, either for washing, bathing, drinking or other necessary purposes; (5) on account of deficiences existing at this station the commission considers that nothing short of total exclusion of emigrants and of their effects, and of vessels coming from infected ports, will furnish efficient protection against the introduction of cholera or other contagious diseases through this port; (6) the commission expresses its appreciation of the efforts of Dr. Montizambert, the superintendent, who in the past has done so much with the imperfect means at his command to keep smallpox and similar diseases from finding entrance through the port."

To these evidences of criminal negligence and incapacity is added the fact that a steamer came into Montreal, having passed through the Mediterranean within infection distance of the cholera, having been allowed to pass the Government quarantine station without inspection. Seventy bales of rags arrived in Montreal from London and no Government arrangement for their disinfection being provided, the city authorities decided to have the rags, worth $1,000, burned at their own risk. On Friday afternoon the Montreal Chamber of Commerce requested the mayor to call a public meeting "to force the Government to adopt the necessary measures to prevent the invasion of the cholera." One Government organ boldly declares that the Government's preparations were "scandalously inefficient, but the hide-bound partisan Empire in effect justifies the Government's criminal neglect and denounces "the reprehensible sensationalism" which criticises the Government's inaction as "decrying the status of the Dominion." No words can be too strong to condemn the inaction that risks the free entrance of cholera to Canada. The place to stop it is at the mouth of the St. Lawrence.

Hamilton Votes a Bonus By a Large Majority.

HAMILTON, Sept. 3.—The bylaw to grant $275,000 to the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Company, for the purchase of right of way through the city, was voted on yesterday and carried. In order that the bylaw be carried it was necessary that at least one-third of the total number of freeholders should vote for it and also that it should have a majority of all the votes cast. The total number of votes necessary to carry was 1964 and the figures for and against the bylaw were 2168 for and 1655 against; majority for the bylaw 513, majority of votes over the necessary number 204. The bylaw requires that not one cent of the bonus be paid to the company until the road is built and in operation. The friends of the bylaw worked very hard to-day and are jubilating to-night over the result.

For a time the house was in great danger, and the large force of men at hand only succeeded in saving it with great difficulty. Mr. Lynch has an insurance of $800 in the London Mutual on the contents of the barn, and Mr. D. Twohey, the owner of the farm, an insurance of $600 on the barn.—Lindsay Post

The couple left by the mixed train for Kingston, Montreal and other eastern points.

Messrs. John Steel, Hamilton McCartney, Alfred Ainley and George Barnham, all of Millbrook, are camping about two miles below the Otonabee river bridge. They expect to bring back fish enough to supply the village for a week or more.

Rev. Mr. Bloodsworth, the Millbrook Reporter says, delivered his first sermon as pastor of the Presbyterian church here on Sunday last and delighted his hearers with a most excellent discourse. Mr. Bloodsworth is decided acquisition to our town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson left Millbrook Tuesday morning for Peterborough. They went from there down the Otonabee river in a canoe, for ten days' outing.

Store Improvements Delayed!

IT is with a great deal of reluctance that I have to state to my customers and the general public that the alterations and improvements which had been promised to be made in my store have, at the last moment, fallen through. My landlords, the Executors of the Burnham Estate, are unable to undertake any building expenditures at the present time, and although I have done all in my power to induce them to proceed, I have been unsuccessful. Having, in the meantime, rented another new store, to allow the alterations to go on in the old one, I have been obliged to give it up, and, instead of removing, will continue on in our own well-known premises, corner George and Simcoe streets.

My Fall Stock is now constantly arriving, and we are now busily engaged in opening up cases and bales of

The Blythe Mills Change Hands.

The Blythe Mills property, part of the estate of the late Geo. Hilliard, ex-M.P., have passed into the hands of a local syndicate composed of Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, M. P., Eli Ce Keadry and H. A. Mulhern, proprietors of the Otonabee Roller Mills. This property, as is known, is composed of the flour and saw mills and the woollen mills, besides two or three houses, as well as the water power of Hilliard's dam. It is the intention of the syndicate to enlarge the flouring mills building, renew the machinery and increase the capacity to 500 barrels flour per day. These changes are to be pushed, so as to be completed at the beginning of the new year. The remainder of the property will be generally improved. The selling price of the property was in the neighborhood of $36,000.

Washburn's Railroad Show.

Leon W. Washburn's New Railroad Show, Spectacular World's Fair, Royal Roman Hippodrome and Spectacular Wild West, will exhibit in Peterborough on Tuesday, Sept. 13th. Speaking of it in the Newport News, says:—Last evening's performance of Washburn's show drew a crowd that filled every seat in the tent, and many were obliged to stand. The performance given was in every way a first-class one. Among the best performances given with the contortion act by Lowell; which was as good as, if not better than, anything seen here in a long time. The slack wire performance was an exceedingly pleasing exhibition, and the single trapeze performance by Mlle. Monesa and the double trapeze performance by Mlle. Mendera and Maynard. The Vernon Brothers did the swinging trapeze, jumping and catching act from the top of the tent as perfectly as it ever had been done in this city, and added to it some new features. The closing performance, the Wild West, took the place of the stereotyped circus riding, and in the opinion of many was a great improvement, the whole being exceedingly well done. The usual tricks of picking up handkerchiefs, lassoing, racing ponies and pony against man, were all well carried out. The many fakirs who hang onto other like shows were absent. The single side show contained many interesting features and seemed to greatly please all who attended.

Improving the Waterworks System.

The public from whom the town water was shut off from Sunday morning at 1 p.m. till 9 p.m. will bear the inconvenience when they know that it was necessary for the making of improvements in the system. It was done to permit of a 12 inch valve being set at the corner of Smith and George streets. This is done in order to provide an alternative main in case that anything gives way on the long stretch of main between Loudon street and Smith on George street. With the new valve in position should any thing happen the whole town can be supplied with water through the Smith street main, something that was not possible before the new valve was put in. Mr. Henderson the efficient superintendent is doing everything in his power to make the waterworks system as perfect as possible.

By Hood's Sarsaparilla—Blood Poisoned by Canker.

Read the following from a grateful mother: "My little boy had Scarlet Fever when 4 years old, and it left him very weak and with blood poisoned with canker. His eyes became so inflamed that his sufferings were intense, and for seven weeks he Could Not Open His Eyes.

I took him twice during that time to the Eye and Ear Infirmary on Charles street, but their remedies failed to do him the faintest shadow of good. I commenced giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and it soon cured him. I have never doubted that it saved his sight, even if not his very life. You may use this testimonial in any way you choose. I am always ready to sound the praise of

THE GRAND UNION

CLOTHING HALL

Has been asked a question, why we can sell our Own-Make Clothing for less money than others sell their factory make? The reason is that we have the latest system to work on. First, the factory clothing has to go through a number of money makers, while the Grand Union Clothing Hall can avoid all this. The second, why our clothing fits better than the factory make; because we do our own cutting for the benefit of the public and to increase our good name.

We beg to notify those who did not come to town and who did not know about our great bargains that were given on the opening day. (Saturday, August) 27th) that we will continue the same bargains until Saturday, Sept. 3rd, in order to give everyone a chance to get the same bargains in our Own-Make Clothing.

Don't forget we will always keep in stock a fine selection of Tweeds and Worsteds which we will make to order in the latest styles.

Peterborough the Victors.

They Defeat the Well Known Lifford Baseball Team by a Score of 21 Runs to 10 in Saturday's Match.

The Peterborough baseball club drove on Saturday afternoon to Fairmount, which is ten miles southwest of Peterborough where they met the well known Lifford baseball nine and defeated them in an eight innings game by a score of 21 runs to 10. The Lifford's are the champions of the northern counties and have met defeated Lindsay and other crack baseball nines. The grounds on which the game was played was "a pasture field," very rough and uneven. A large picnic was being held at Fairmount and the picnickers witnessed the game with interest. The home boys played a great game which was well fielded, clean and neat in every particular and distinguished by heavy batting. They hit Lifford's pitcher, Neil, so hard that he retired from the box in the seventh innings. The Liffords are good fielders, first-class base runners, careful throwers, but weak at the bat and with a poor battery, Neil and Bradburn. Foster, their short stop, also put up some good ball. For the home team all did well, especially at the bat. Parks made a grand three bagger in the second innings. Anderson at right field played well and batted well. LePage on second bag and Barlow on first were there when wanted, and the former belabored the leather for some great hits. Lipsett on third caught two difficult flies. McCabe pitched the first half of the game and then Lomas went in the box for the last four innings. Between them they struck out altogether 15 men—an excellent record. Landers received them both in A1 form. Tighe succeeded in making 5 runs by his hard hitting and splendid base running. The struggle was a fierce yet friendly one throughout and was either side's game until the 5th innings. The Peterborough's returned home at nine o'clock on Saturday night. They speak in the highest terms of the gentlemanly character of their opponents. Mr. Wm. Watson umpired the game satisfactorily. Following is the score:—

The Cholera Epidemic.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—Your excellent article on, and your history of, cholera in Tuesday's paper should be read by everyone, and as one who has passed through several epidemics of the disease, both at home and abroad, I venture to address you. First of all I wish to point out the mistake that people are apt to fall into in supposing that the cold weather puts a stopper upon the spread of epidemics, and in this way they do nothing to prevent the spread of them if an epidemic appears late in the year. In the year 1854 I was selected among others for the important duty of "house to house visitor" at Dundee, Scotland, during the epidemic there, which extended well into the cold weather, and was only arrested by the stringent sanitary measures ordered by the Board of Health. (then existing in London, Eng.) We found an awful state of things; we also overflowing into the wells then in use, people crowded into unsanitary hovels, dirt, filth and sewer odour prevalent everywhere. Remedies were of little avail and the people died by hundreds. The same was the case at Newcastle, Eng., the epidemic extending well into the cold weather. It is quite true, as Dr. Bryce has so ably pointed out, that the cholera germ is in cold than in hot weather, but that is no reason why there should be delay in the adoption of preventive measures. I believe, and my belief is borne out by some of the most able epidemiologists of the day, that the germ may be conveyed by water as well as by the air or that water drawn from wells situated near w.c's., (so called,) used by patients suffering from the disease, is sure to be contaminated by these germs or microbes, and the water taken from such wells is liable, I had almost said sure, to produce an attack of cholera. Space does not permit to cite instances of this nature that have come under my own personal observation while in service in India but I may quote one instance where water from a stream passing through the cholera infected city of Peshawar, India, in 1869, was by mistake introduced into the gaol there and caused a violent outbreak of that disease among the prisoners of whom I had medical charge, that very night. Now, experience has taught us that cholera, typhoid, diphtheria and other diseases of like nature have no better propogating places than decomposing animal matter of whatever kind it be and wherever it is, whether in water, in cesspools or in dirt, and wherever this decomposition takes place then there is danger. In Dundee in 1854, the outbreak of cholera arose from the generation of microbes in the privies and cesspools—in Peshawar gaol from the introduction of the germ, through the water; and on board the Moravia, lately arrived in New York, from the atmosphere contaminated by the plague smitten people from Hamburg. Do not we see, and I believe that this is the correct view to take of the matter, that cholera may find its way into our bodies through these several channels even in the cold weather. But my main object in writing is to point out to the ratepayers of Peterborough for better sanitary measures in the town. We are all aware of the unsavoury odours that meet us as we walk along the streets—we know there are no sewerage works—that many of our streets are dependent on the pumps which draw their supply of (so called) spring water from the ground in close contact with the w. c.'s—we can see for ourselves the George street sewer empties itself into an almost stagnant part of the river, and are we to be content and let this go on? The Board of Health is alive to the necessity for a better state of things and I hope will see their way to enforce improvement. The town council must prepare some definite plan for the disposal of the sewage, and no better way than by some scheme for utilising it upon the land. Give the ratepayers some such scheme at this and I will venture to say that they will vote for a sewerage system almost to a man. In the meantime let a water supply drawn from the centre of the river above the town be made available for every house, close up water privies, using dry earth or ashes instead of sending them away to the States, as a disinfectant; use no well water if you can avoid it that has not been boiled, and keep every corner of your house and city clean and free from decomposing rubbish. There are, I regret to see, many filthy places in this prosperous town, the death rate is above the average percentage of other large towns (will some one correct me if I am wrong?), and you may yet have to fight against a dangerous and insidious foe. I do not wish to be a prophet of ill, but with a city in an unsanitary condition the fight may be a bad one, and who is to be responsible for the havoc such a fight will make?

LESS READILY PROPAGATED

THE URGENT NECESSITY THAT EXISTS

Yours truly,
GEORGE K. POOLE, M.D.,
Surgeon-Major H.M.S.

The annual meeting of the Murray street church Mission Band will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The children are requested to be present. An entertainment will be provided for them.

From letters received the intelligence is learned that Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's, is benefiting greatly in health by his sojourn in England. He is expected to return to town about the middle of October.

A quartette composed of Messrs W. H. Manning, 1st tenor, E. McKee, 2nd tenor, S. F. Hill, 1st base and A. I. Gould, 2nd base, sang an excellent quartette, "Jesus Saves," in the George street Methodist church last evening. It was finely rendered.

The musical part of the service in the Charlotte street Methodist church was especially good last evening. In the anthem "Nearer My God to Thee" Mr. Steers and Miss Fawcett took the duet part splendidly. Mr. A. L. Davis and Miss Fawcett took the duet part in the anthem "Jerusalem" sung during the offertory.

Rev. Joseph H. Locke, pastor of the George street Methodist church read a letter signed by Bishop Carmens, D.D., and all the superintendents of the eastern conference, asking for aid towards the Methodist sufferers in the recent great St. John's fire. Mr. Locke announced that a collection would be taken up next Sunday in the interests of St. John relief fund.

The afternoon Y.M.C.A. service in the Central Park was led by Mr. Albert Hamilton; Mr. Distin gave the address. In the evening the monthly missionary service, had a large attendance. The Rev. J. E. Trotter gave an earnest and practical address on missionary work. A letter from the China Inland Mission was read by President G. J. Early, containing the latest particulars of Mr. Fred Saunder's illness from malarial fever and of his death.

Rev. Prof. Symonds, M.A., conducted the services in St. Luke's church yesterday. Both services were numerously attended. Mr. Symonds was assisted by Mr. C. W. Hedley who has been supplying for him during the summer months. The new rector announced that he intended calling upon all his parishioners as soon as possible. He informed the congregation that the Sunday afternoon Bible class would begin yesterday and the Friday night Bible class on a week from next Friday.

At the Y.M.C.A. meeting last night Mr. G. J. Early read letters from Mr. H. W. Frost, China Inland Mission agent, Toronto, and Mr. J. W. Stevenson, director of China Inland Mission, Shanghai, in reference to the lamented death of Mr. Fred Saunders, missionary, formerly of Peterborough. Deceased was chaplain at one time of the Landsdowne Sons of England Lodge here and was highly respected for his many noble qualities. He died of malarial fever, after a short illness on July 29 h last.

In ten minutes three horses were ready. The hostler was going to bring them back. The horses were in excellent trim, and so were the riders. Away they went, out over the bridge, up the hill, then turned north. For some time they kept up a rattling pace; then all drew rein and brought up three abreast.

"A wild country back here, but beautiful. This is excellent farming land, but further on the place is barren, with only an occasional streak of verdure. But where growth is, it can't be beat even in the tropics. I often wonder how nature can be so fickle laying such barrenness and such growth side by side."

Enthusiasm, thought Terry; but of a different kind than Jack's. Enthusiasm for one's country is not so boring as for one's friends, especially if the volley of words is directed at one's self. Not even for this fair Canada can I feel my heart stir. I like things collectively.

The old trouble, Terry Denver, deficient in concentration.

"This is new to you. I mean the locality?"

"Yes, I am from Montreal."

"Ah!"

"I think I will enjoy the trip."

"Yes?"

"He thinks me stupid. Perhaps I am. Can it be that I bore people with my lack of words as much as if I talked them to death. I would feel silly, though, to talk as dear old Jack does, even if I could. I like to listen."

The conversation proving languid they rode on. They struck rock after an hour and a half, so Terry suggested a slower gait, for the benefit of the horses.

"We will soon be there," said Martin, and the road taking an abrupt turn they came into Buckhorn.

"There is only one public house in the place, but this the nearest house, is always open to strangers. We will not cross the water just now."

They vaulted from the saddle and gave orders to have the horses cared for. An elevation of rock formed the foundation of the house where the two sought hospitality. Ere they reached the door a woman appeared in it, completely filling it with her two hundred pounds of physique.

"How-de-you-dew, Martin. Hungry as usual?"

"Yes, and here is another just the same."

"Della, here girl two gentlemen hungry as politeness will let 'em be. Supper right off, child. Ike, you hurry off and catch a bass for Martin's tea, a two pounder, mind, and the rest of you children make yourself scarce. Quick, now."

Terry watched with amusement the orders given.

"Are fish so plentiful here that you can order what you want and be sure you will get it?"

"That's just it, stranger. Any kind of a fish from the mud-cat and eel, up to the top of fishdom. Isabella, fetch the chairs. Now, Martin, have a pipe."

From her pocket she drew pipe and tobacco. The two cut, rolled, smelled and filled, then lit. Terry looked on, and the nose he had called ugly twitched ominously. Never before had he seen the pipe used by woman. Yet why not, when so many men use it.

"Don't you smoke, stranger?"

"No."

"Well now."

A look of genuine pity flitted over her kindly face.

"Well now, to be sure. How old are you?"

"Thirty-six."

"Every one of my boys smoked at sixteen. Didn't it agree with you?"

"I never tried the experiment."

"Fedora, get some of them berries for this gentleman, he hain't learned to smoke yet. I dew love sociability," she continued, with a most expansive smile. A plate of berries, large and luscious, was brought. Terry had never seen their equal. Buckhorn boasts of its berries. Terry thoroughly enjoyed the fruit in defiance of the fumes of rank tobacco. His thoughts flitted between Jack and the small talk of this smoking woman. A sentence now held his traveling thoughts. The woman had said, "He never came back; his canoe was found tied up in Deer Bay."

"Who never came back?"

"Oh! a young fellow what came this way with Martin on his last trip. Guess it must have been four years back. He took our boat and went for a ride down Deer Bay way. After the third day we sent two of the boys after him, but he couldn't be found nowhere. Queer, ain't it, he was the first of four young men who disappeared just so, down that way. Outside the rapids beyond, there isn't a spot to be feared in them waters."

"Supper's ready."

They followed the waddling woman into the house, everything was clean. Even Terry was satisfied to eat of that repast of fresh bass, fresh berries, fresh bread and butter. They were too hungry to talk, but the old woman talked for the three. When satisfaction set in Terry left the table and went out to the chairs on the stoop, as Mrs. Jones called the broad verandah. He was joined shortly by Martin, Mrs. Jones and a tall lanky Indian.

"Nosey wants to sell his canoe. He says he will let it go cheap, and teach the buyer how to paddle. He is going down to the Rice Lake reserve, and don't want to take his boat."

"How much does he want for it? I have made up my mind to go down to this land of disappearance you call Deer Bay, just to see what enchanted ground looks like. Of course I will want a boat of my own; we both might vanish."

"Twenty-five dollars he asks, but don't you give it. The Indians always ask a backdown price."

"I will take it if it suits me. Where is it?"

"Above the bridge. Nosey, you go up and shoot the rapids; we will wait below for you. This gentleman will give you twenty dollars if your boat suits him."

Many people, not aware of the dangers of constipation, neglect the proper remedy till the habit becomes chronic, or inflammation or stoppage results. A dose or two of Ayer's Pills in the beginning would have prevented all this.

Freeman's Worm Powders destroy and remove worms without injury to adults or infant. dw Consumptives!

Do not give up until you have tried Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which makes flesh and blood, is a positive cure for coughs and colds, bronchitis, sore throats, and all lung troubles tending to consumption. Persons have been known to gain from five to ten pounds in weight by taking one bottle of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which contains hypophosphites of lime and soda. In big bottles 50c and $1 at Peterborough Drug Stores. dw

Think For Yourself.

Don't you think a medicine which cures others will cure you? Don't you think you need Burdock Blood Bitters to help you to health and happiness? We know BBB cures dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache and bad blood. Don't you think it is time you tried it? dw

A Great Surprise

is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free; It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50 cents and $1. dw

As a healing, cooling application for cuts, wounds, bruises and sores, there is nothing better than Victoria Carbolic Salve. dw

Local Option

This term should be applied to the choice every intelligent person has between Burdock Blood Bitters the natural and certain remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache, and bad blood, and the various imitations offered by unscrupulous parties as being "just as good." There is nothing else as good as B.B.B. It is an honest medicine and has made remarkable cures right in our own town. dw

"August Flower"

Biliousness, Constipation, Stomach Pains.

"I have been afflicted with biliousness and constipation for fifteen years; first one and then another preparation was suggested to me and tried but to no purpose. At last a friend recommended August Flower. I took it according to directions and its effects were wonderful, relieving me of those disagreeable stomach pains which I had been troubled with so long. Words cannot describe the admiration in which I hold your August Flower—it has given me a new lease of life, which before was a burden. Such a medicine is a benefaction to humanity, and its good qualities and wonderful merits should be made known to everyone suffering with dyspepsia or biliousness

Will Come by Way of Canada.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The official cholera figures for yesterday show there were 15 cases and 3 deaths.

The Russian Jews who were exported from Odessa, who have been waiting for two weeks for the arrival of funds to permit of their proceeding to America, have been supplied with money and to-day they started for Dieppe, where they will board a vessel that will convey them to Canada. Their ultimate destination is the United States, and their object in sailing for Canada is simply to escape the quarantine regulations at United States seaports.

Defining the Law.

QUARANTINE, N.Y., Sept. 3.—At 4 p.m. yesterday the steamer Island of Thingvalla line was give her clearance from Quarantine by Dr. Tallmadge. She had arrived from Copenhagen and had 68 cabin and 557 steerage passengers. The latter were all Scandinavians and had not been near any infected port. So, after their fumigation on board the ship, she was allowed to proceed At 5.45 she returned, having only reached Liberty Island where she was stopped by the revenue cutter and returned to quarantine. Dr. Jenkins was absent and shortly before his return to quarantine the revenue cutter returned to quarantine and released the Island and placed officers on board the Gallia with orders to allow the cabin passengers to declare their baggage and land in a barge that would be sent down last night. The rescinding of the port collector's order was done, report said owing to a communication from Assistant Secretary Spaulding to that effect. There was great dismay at the idea of being subject to 20 days' quarantine as specified by the presidential circular and much discussion as to the action that Dr. Jenkins would have taken had the Island and Gallia not been released. On his return to quarantine an Associated Press reporter asked him if he intended to clear incoming vessels, using his own judgment, as heretofore, regardless of the presidential circular. Dr. Jenkins unhesitatingly replied "yes."

In answer to a number of questions he said that having once granted a vessel pratique he should not grant her her a second and that if the collector chose to return a vessel to quarantine for 20 days it was the duty of the Federal Government to look after them and take charge of them. They had nothing more to do with them. He said he though, however, that the circular of the President had been misconceived by the collector and many others. It specifically stated that it was not to conflict with the state regulations, and that it was chiefly meant for certain ports where there were no state authorities and where the ports were in charge of the marine hospital force.

Called to Washington.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—John B. Hamilton, ex-Surgeon-General of the United States Marine Hospital Service, left hurriedly for Washington yesterday in response to a despatch from Secretary Foster. Dr. Hamilton has been through one epidemic of cholera and several of yellow fever.

THE LABOUCHERE AFFAIR.

Lord Rosebery Adds an Important Denial to Gladstone's.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—As Mr. Labouchere has brought Lord Rosebery into his discussion with Mr. Gladstone to support his allegations that the Queen interfered with the Cabinet's appointments, Lord Rosebery was asked to confirm or deny the truth of the reports. He authorized the statement that the report that the Queen wrote urging him to accept the Foreign Office is utterly unfounded. This explicit denial settles the worst insinuation against the Queen, that blaming her for overruling Mr. Gladstone's foreign policy. Mr. Labouchere has gone to Italy, but his clique at the National Liberal Club proclaim their determination to raise in Parliament the question of the Queen's right to influence the selection of ministers, but they seem likely to be deprived of all ground for protest.

The court is now at Balmoral to remain three months.

ENGLISH CHURCHMEN EXCITED.

The Recent Ritualistic Victory Threatens to Disrupt the Church.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The agitation among English churchmen over the effects of the judgment in the case of the ritualistic Bishop of Lincoln grows apace. At a demonstration representative of the Evangelical section of the church at which the decision of the Privy Council was denounced the speakers even predicted the disruption of the church.

A few doses occasionally will keep the system so healthy, and the blood so pure, that diseases cannot enter the body. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are sold by all medicine dealers.

MUSIC FOR THE SICK.

THE PATIENTS IN HOSPITALS TO BE LULLED TO SLEEP.

Sick People May Also Turn on the Tap in Their Own Bedchamber and Undulating Dreamy Music Will Flow Forth—The Telephone to Play a New Role.

THE Guild of St. Cecilia, according to the London Globe, is embarking on a new enterprise. It is no less a one than to establish a central hall in London, in which are to be gathered various musical instruments and musicians to play upon them, and by telephone to connect this hall with the different wards in the chief hospitals in the city, thus bringing the patients under the immediate influence of music whenever it is thought desirable by the attending physicians. Soft, dreamy, soothing music will be played or sung continuously, day and night, and may thus be utilized at any desired moment.

For the private sick-room with which there is no telephonic communication the scheme will be different. There will be a central office and twenty smaller district offices throughout London with sleeping-rooms attached. In these, paid officials will reside, and be able to communicate by postal messenger with trained musicians living in the neighborhood, so that these latter may repair, without loss of time, to the place indicated by the physician.

The scheme originated, we believe, with the Rev. F. K. Harford, Honorary Secretary of the Guild, who has great faith in its success. He has made many converts among the members of the medical profession; the Queen has taken great interest in the project, and Mr. Harford is convinced that it will grow and spread. He agrees with the Russian Professor, Terschuow, who, lecturing in St. Petersburg, declared that music will be in the future the great therapeutic method. The Guild of St. Cecelia proposes to bring it within reach of the masses. Of course, it was ridiculed at first, but investigation and statistics have convinced many of the sceptical that the movement is neither a fad nor a mere idle attempt to gain a little notoriety. Such names as Sir Andrew Clarke and Sir Richard Quain, both of whom have not only taken great interest in the work of the Guild, but have attributed to the funds, assure the genuineness of the enterprize, and Royal interest and sympathy, a contribution from Miss Florence Nightingale, and a long list of other benefactors, including the Earl of Mar, the Rev. Viscount Molesworth and Professor Wendell Holmes, serve to show that the movement is one which is attracting widespread support.

The Globe continues: "Everyone who knows anything of the Guild of St. Cecelia, knows that Mr. Harford is its moving spirit. Whatever popularity it has achieved is due to his indomitable perseverance. And he has plenty to say in support of its raison d'etre. He does not believe that music can cure disease; though he will instance the case of Shakespeare's 'King Lear' in support of his general argument. What he claims is that music of the right kind diverts the mind from the cause of the pain until the patient forgets it. Fatigue, really, he believes, has as much to do with it as anything, and so is composing the music which the guild performers play upon their muted violins, harps, and pianettes, he contrives that it shall be of a monotonous, undulating, dreamy kind that shall weary while it lulls. Burton remarked ages ago that music makes some melancholy, but it is a pleasing melancholy. Mr. Harford's idea is to provide music that shall fatigue with a pleasant fatigue. To do this you must have music in which there is no modulation, because monotony is a necessity. Bacon suggested that the humming of bees or the falling of water was a good thing to produce sleep, but music, it is argued, does it in a more pleasureable way. It is the monotony that does it—besides you cannot command 'the drowsy hum of the vagrant bee' in London hospitals, and the constant dropping of water—the pit-pat of the rain, for instance—may be monotonous, but it is not always soothing. Music, however, can always be obtained, and so great has been the success attending the experiments that Mr. Harford has every hope of the success of the new departure.

"So far the efforts of the Guild have been confined to the hospitals, and Mr. Harford had much to say of success achieved both in the surgical and medical wards. Particularly delighted was he with the conversation of Dr. Collins, of the Temperance Hospital, who, having rather pooh-poohed the idea when first suggested to him, witnessed a trial in one of the wards, and then declared that he had found it an effort to keep awake under the music, and that after an operation it would be a luxury to awake to such music. The tribute of the patients to the soothing effect of the music was even more encouraging. Many went fast asleep; others declared that it made them drowsy, and that they had only kept awake by an effort because they liked the music.

One declared it made her forget she was ill and fancy she was getting better. To the suggestion that the effect of the music could only be temporary, Mr. Harford replied that that was equally the case with narcotics; but unlike drugs there were no after effects. There is nothing to intoxicate, nothing to paralyse the nerve centre; and therefore there is no reaction or unpleasant result. What is aimed at is to draw the mind away from present circumstances; and any rest must be of use, just as a basin of soup in an hour of extremity may save the life of one starving from cold or lack of nourishment, where a heavy meal could not be given.—Arcadia (Montreal)

"Dear me, these are the most beautiful photographs I ever saw."

"Yes, they certainly are very fine and elegantly finished, besides, they are permanent."

"Do they cost more than before."

"No, not to us, though the material is much more expensive, yet Mr. Sproule believes in having the best obtainable. He says nothing is too good for his patrons, and these certainly bear out his statements; and his studio, is so convenient—no stairs to climb yourself, nor have you any fear about the children."

"Yes, I have heard about the ground floor studio being so convenient,—but these photographs."

GILBERT ISLANDS' SEIZURE.

England Intends to Rule in the South Seas.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The Australian steamer from Butaritari, Gilbert Islands, brings news of the seizure of the islands in June by Great Britain. The story is given in private letters under the date of June 20, and contains full details of the seizure of the islands by the British ship Royalist, on June 12, the reading of a proclamation of annexation, the pulling down of the King's flag and the hoisting of the British colors.

This, following on the seizure of Johnson Islands and the purchase of Niihan Island, indicates that England intends to rule in the South Seas.

The King of Butaritari has only recently returned from a trip to San Francisco, undertaken, it was thought, to induce the United States to extend a protectorate over the Gilbert Islands. While in San Francisco the King talked of going to Washington, but he received no encouragement and ill-health forced him to return home.

The Butaritari correspondent, who witnessed the annexation ceremonies, sends the following account:

June 12.—On Sunday the British man-of-war Royalist appeared in the harbor. Her captain landed in a steam-launch, and with several officers and an interpreter called on the King. There, in public audience, with all the foreign and native residents of Butaritari gathered about, he read this proclamation: 'Her Majesty Victoria, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain, having this day assumed a protectorate over the Gilbert Islands, I would remind all residents in the group other than natives, that it is contrary to law to supply firearms, ammunition or intoxicating liquors to any natives. Given under my hand at Apamama, the 27th of May. Signed, E. D. H. M. Davis, Captain of H.M.S. Royalist and Deputy Commissioner.'

Then Commander Davis stepped forward and said in loud tones: If you will now have your flag hauled down I will give you a nice new one to put up.

So the old King, who seemed dazed, ordered his flag, which has floated from the royal pole for several years, hauled down and the British flag was run up in its place. As soon as the English colors were shown the Royalist fired a salute, but there was no enthusiasm on shore.

The Americans here, who attribute this action of England to the King's recent American trip, are furious, but they can do nothing.

A SHIP DESTROYED.

A Bark Laden With Gunpowder Blows Up.

GREENOCK, Sept. 5.—The people of this city and neighborhood were startled Saturday by a deafening roar that was subsequently ascertained to have been caused by a powder explosion. The new bark Auchmountain, with 20 tons of gunpowder on board, had been lying at anchor in the Firth of Clyde, off Greenock. Those persons who happened to be looking in the direction of the bark say they saw a blinding flash of light, which was followed by a concussion that shook the earth. Then a dense smoke arose and when it lifted a little it was seen the bark had been blown to pieces. Her poop deck, hatches and deckhouses were blown to an immense height, while her masts were broken off, falling alongside the wreck. The topgallant forecastle was blown out and the whole forward part of the vessel was torn to pieces. Aft, the destruction was as complete. Above the water line the planking was blown out, leaving huge holes, while below many of the butts were started and the water poured in in torrents.

On shore the effects of the explosion were extensive. The windows of houses and shops along the water front were shattered, and some of the houses swayed to and fro as though moved by an earthquake. A particular feature of the accident is that nobody aboard the bark was killed, although some of the crew were badly burned and others were thrown into the water. No explanation of the accident has yet been advanced.

A despatch from Glasgow, which is 22½ miles from this port, says that the explosion was heard there. The people of Glasgow thought it was an earthquake. Reports from various places near here say that windows were shattered in a great number of houses within a radius of five miles.

SOLD HIS SON.

An Old Negro's Plan to Save Himself from Prison.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 5.—Ben Daniels, a negro, 83 years old, is confined in the station house waiting for guards to take him to the coal mines, where he is to spend the balance of his life. Daniels was sent up for life from Forsyth on a charge of arson. When he was tried he had no money with which to pay lawyer's fees, and the manner in which he secured the services of a lawyer was novel. He has six children—three boys and three girls. One of the boys is 9 years old. Daniels agreed to bind this son to the lawyer until he was 21 years old provided the lawyer would defend him. The papers were signed and the boy delivered to the lawyer. The lawyer did all he could to clear the old negro, but the evidence was too conclusive and Daniels was sent up for life.

A Dominion Surplus.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—A statement just published shows that the revenue of the Dominion for the fiscal year ending on June 30 was $36,903,202 and the expenditure $36,829,803, leaving a surplus of $73,459. The surplus is not as large as that of the last three or four years owing to Parliament having lopped off duties last year, thereby reducing the revenue by £3,000,000 at one stroke.

Freezing Out Canadian Vessels.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 5.—It is believed that the new regulation will freeze out many of the Canadian boats. The Algonquin and other vessels are already on the way to Chicago to go into the grain-carrying trade. This is taken as a sure indication that the talk of the Canadian Government about returning to vessel-owners all the tolls collected by the United States at the Soo is merely for effect.

Action for Libel.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 5.—Mr. Mowat, one of the members of the new Executive of the Northwest Assembly, has entered suit against Ex-Premier Haultain for libel, claiming $5000 damages. Haultain is alleged to have stated that Mowat tried to bribe certain members to accept the speakership.

Sullivan at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—The special train bearing Sullivan, the pugilist, arrived here at 5 Sunday morning 60½ hours from New York. Sullivan was driven to a boarding house in Rampart-street. He attended church during the day, and was cheered and run after whenever he appeared on the street.

Corbett En Route.

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Sept. 5.—The special train with Corbett, the pugilist, and party on board reached here Sunday. It remained an hour, and Corbett left the train and exercised in the open air, to the gratification of many spectators for miles around.

The Cowardly Life Boat Crew.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The Lake Seaman's Benevolent Association has offered a reward of $10 for the recovery of any of the bodies from the schooner City of Toledo recently lost in Lake Michigan. The Association charges that the life-saving crew acted with great cowardice. It is stated in the communication that the Association can prove that two-thirds of the crews of all the life-saving stations on the lakes are not fit for the position that they hold.

Killed By a Blow.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—During a row in front of No. 4 Baxter-street Isaac Barnett, who lives somewhere in East 73rd-st., struck Thomas Cowes under the ear. He died before the ambulance arrived. Barnett was arrested. Cowes' residence is unknown.

M'AULIFFE THE VICTOR.

MYER KNOCKED OUT IN THE FIFTEENTH ROUND.

McAuliffe Had the Best of It All the Way Through. He Drew First Blood in the Seventh Round, and After Repeated Knock-Downs Was Declared the Winner in the Fifteenth.

OLYMPIC CLUB, NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—Jack McAuliffe and Billy Myer fought in the Arena here last night at 138 pounds for the lightweight championship of the world, a purse of $10,000 and stakes of $5000 a side. McAuliffe had all the best of the battle and won in 15 rounds. He secured the first knock-down in the second round and drew the first blood in the seventh. In the 15th, after receiving repeated stinging blows, Myer was knocked to the ropes, failed to respond, and McAuliffe was declared the winner.

M'AULIFFE.

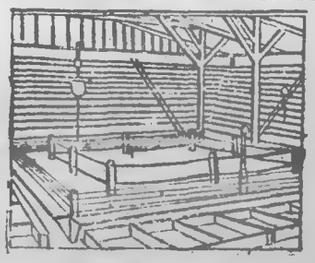
BESEIGED BY HUNDREDS.

Crowds Anxious to Enter the Olympic Club—Officials and Seconds.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—Although the first fight of the carnival was not to begin until after 9 o'clock the Olympic club house was besieged before 5 this afternoon by hundreds of men who live in this city and all parts of the Union.

It was not an agreeable day by any means, for the rain came down in torrents at frequent intervals. But that little thing had very little effect on the enthusiasm of the visitors to the city or residents thereof.

All day up to supper time the streets in the central part of the city were lined with people who had but one topic to talk about. The fights and fighters alone constituted the subject of discussion. While the fight of to-night caused the chief interest of to-day there was also a good deal said about the biggest of them all, that of Wednesday night. It was considered, nevertheless, that the battle of to-night would be the longest and most stubbornly contested of the series.



The Olympic Arena.

Before 9 o'clock the arena was uncomfortably full of men, who paid $15 for box seats, $10 for lower seats and $7.50 for seats in the gallery as shown in the diagram, and when ex-Mayor Guillotte made the formal announcement that a contest for the lightweight championship of the world was about to take place he received a rousing cheer.

As the ex-mayor finished his brief speech and Prof. John Duffy, the official referee, climbed through the padded ropes there was a howl of pleasure. Police Captain Barrett weighed the gloves personally on the stage, and on finding that they pressed the scale down at full five ounces tossed them into the centre of the ring. He then warned the crowd that order must be maintained and that persons who made too much noise or in any way misconducted themselves would be ejected from the building.

The men weighed in a few minutes before 9 o'clock. The limit was 138 pounds. Myer scaled at 137½ and McAuliffe at 137¾.

When this proceeding was told by Prof. Duffy it was made known that the timekeeper would be R. M. Fraser, while Jimmy Colville of Boston would hold the watch for McAuliffe and George B. Clarke for Myer.

It was 9.10 p.m. when McAuliffe entered the ring, accompanied by his handlers and was only moderately applauded. Myer, who followed a minute later, was loudly cheered, showing that he was the favorite with the large majority. McAuliffe's seconds were Joe Choynski, Jack Sheehan, Jimmy Nelson and Prof. James Robertson of Bay St. Louis. Myer was looked after by his brother Ed, John Eckert, Frank Hoxwell and Alf Kennedy. Myer took his seat in the corner occupied by Jack Dempsey, Peter Maher and other lovers, and it is called the unlucky corner.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

How McAuliffe Generally Forced the Battle and Won in 15 Rounds.

The men, wearing only trunks, shoes and stockings, shook hands at 9.15 and returned to their corners. At 9.33 time was called.

FIRST ROUND—McAuliffe looks pale, he leads for the stomach, twice slips and falls and Myer lands his left lightly. Both spar carefully. McAuliffe leads with his right and Myer counters on McAuliffe's nose. Mac misses again. Myer backs him to his corner. A clinch in the middle of the ring follows. Myer lands lightly with his right. The gong finds both sparring with no advantage to either.

SECOND ROUND—McAuliffe forced the fighting and landed his right heavily. McAuliffe feints with his right and lands the left and right. Myer counters with his right. Both clinch. Myer lands his right on McAuliffe's body. McAuliffe smashes Myer in the nose with his left and then lands the right and left on Myer with a heavy right-hand swing, knocks Myer clearly off his feet to the floor. Severe fighting followed. McAuliffe lands his left again and staggers Myer. The round ends with McAuliffe punishing Myer severely. It's all McAuliffe's way in this round.

THIRD ROUND—McAuliffe rushes again, but Myer meets him gamely. They clinch, when McAuliffe lands a wicked left-hander on Myer. He attempted to return, but misses and McAuliffe leads and smashes Myer again. They clinch and Myer hits McAuliffe several times while they are clinched. Both are slightly weakened now and spar for wind. McAuliffe again rushes, but Myer clinches. They break again. Myer is freshening slightly. They are sparring as the round ends with honors even.

FOURTH ROUND—McAuliffe gets in with his left and lands lightly with his right on Myer. He gets in a clever blow on McAuliffe's head and staggers McAuliffe. A clinch saved him from falling. McAuliffe landed a right and slipped. After a few exchanges McAuliffe rushes, smashing Myer with his right and left and knocks Myer down again. The fighting was fast and furious.

FIFTH ROUND—Mac landed on Myer's head. Myer fell short with both. Both appear exhausted.

SIXTH ROUND—Mac hit hard in the face. Both landed on the stomach and clinched. Both are tired.

SEVENTH ROUND—Mac led three times and missed. Myer landed on his opponent's head. A clinch followed. Each landed on the body.

EIGHTH ROUND—It was still anybody's fight. McAuliffe rushed and landed a wicked left, but Myer returned two good ones. Mac got in on Myer's cheek, which started the claret, first blood claimed and allowed for McAuliffe. McAuliffe rushed again, but was met with a straight right, which floored him. When he got to his feet it was only to be rushed viciously by Myer, who landed right and left. Both men are very tired, although at this point Myer seems to be in the better shape.

TENTH ROUND—Myer landed with his right on McAuliffe's chin, and again landed a straight right on Mac's jaw. The effect was to thoroughly madden McAuliffe, who rushed and landed the right twice in succession on Myer.

McAuliffe Forces the Fighting.

ELEVENTH ROUND—McAuliffe forced the fighting and forced Myer into his corner. In the ensuing rally Myer got a trifle the best of it. McAuliffe then led, smashing Myer on the cheek and starting blood again.

TWELFTH ROUND—McAuliffe complained of Myer's gloves. The referee pronounced them all right. Myer landed with his right. McAuliffe rushed and landed a left-handed blow on Myer's stomach. Myer was forced to the ropes again, but McAuliffe kept away.

THIRTEENTH ROUND—Mac landed two face blows.

FOURTEENTH ROUND—Myer stepped quickly to the centre of the ring and landed on Mac's neck with his left, but got a heavy right swing on the jaw in return. Another clinch, and McAuliffe followed it by driving Myer to the ropes.

FIFTEENTH ROUND—McAuliffe led off as usual, rushing Myer and smashing him right and left. He forced Myer all over the ring. McAuliffe fought like a tiger, smashing Myer everywhere and giving him no rest. He kept this up and drove Myer to the ropes and knocked him down cleanly. Myer got up and was smashed in the jaw, going down again. He rose again and was hit a heavy right swing blow, which knocked him to the floor again. Another attempt to rise was followed by a drive, which sent him on the ropes as limp as a rag. The referee began to count, and Myer not recovering he decided Myer knocked out, and McAuliffe was declared the winner.

Myer Was Clearly Outclassed.

The crowd gave a great yell as Referee Duffy gave the decision and McAuliffe stood ready to shake his opponent's hand. Myer's seconds had to lift the Streator lad to his feet and take him to his corner. McAuliffe ran over to him and grasped the defeated man's hand. Then the happy victor shook hands with everybody. On the whole McAuliffe put up a great fight. He did almost all the leading from the start, but fought warily withal, as he was of the opinion that Myer's right hand was to be feared.

Myer was clearly outclassed, and he had to depend altogether on his right. McAuliffe had him too weak too early in the fight to permit him to get in with effect. The fight was for $5000 a side and $10,000 added by the club.

After the battle Dick Roche challenged any man in the world to fight McAuliffe at 126 pounds, weigh in at the ringside, for $10,000 a side.

To Night's Programme.

To-night the program will be: George R. Dixon (colored) of Boston v. John J. Skelly of Brooklyn. Weight, 118 pounds. Purse, $750. Stakes, $3000 a side and the world's featherweight championship.

To-morrow Sullivan and Corbett meet. London despatches give the views of sporting men on the Sullivan-Corbett fight. Peter Jackson and Frank Slavin are among those who express their opinions.

The victor, it is generally believed, will be Sullivan, if he is in prime condition. If the Boston fighter is not at his best Corbett will win. Even if defeated the Californian will furnish John L. the hardest bit of work he has ever undertaken.
